House approves aid package for MN farmers

The House of Representatives voted overwhelmingly to approve a measure that will provide $70 million for immediate relief for Minnesota family farmers on Monday. The measure passed 126 to 4. Rep. Tim Finseth, R-Angus and Chair of the House Agriculture and Rural Development Committee expressed how pleased he was with the bill.

"Everywhere you look farmers are suffering," Finseth said. "I authored this legislation because I have seen what is going on out there, we need to support the farmers during these times. Since the beginning of the session one of our main goals was to help the farmers this spring. While this money is not a solution to the problem, it is needed relief for farmers in this time of crisis."

Farmers with at least 40 acres of F.S.A. certifiable land will benefit from one of two different rebate packages. Operating farmers that own and or rent 160 or more certifiable acres of crop land in 1998 will receive $4 cash per acre to assist them in their operating expenses this year. The state will pay the first half of the property tax for farmers that own 160 or less acres and participate in animal agriculture production with hogs, cattle, sheep, or poultry except the property tax owed on the house, garage and one acre.

"We worked very hard to get this money to the people who needed it the most, the producers," Finseth continued.

The measure was originally passed by the House in early February as part of the rebate package. However, discussions over the rebate have taken longer than expected. The House and Senate came to an agreement to separate out the farm portion of the package in an attempt to help the farmers before spring planting begins and their property taxes are due. Farmers could see checks from the state as early as June if Governor Ventura acts quickly and signs the bill.

"This measure was overwhelmingly supported by both sides of the isle," Finseth continued. "I hope the strong support of the measure sends a message to the farmers that we know and understand their current problems and we will continue to work to improve their situations."

Green manure crops worth another look in farm rotations

Perhaps now is the time to take another look at raising cover and green manure crops for ground protection and organic matter improvement, according to Gene Krause, Lake of the Woods county extension educator.

"Remember when green manure crops were a common management practice in the area?" Krause asks. "This practice provided improved control of weeds, insects and diseases. Cover crops and green manure crops also enhance soil fertility and soil quality and can help nutrients cycle more efficiently."

Krause said that in recent years farmers have pulled away from this practice for many reasons, including market demands, government farm programs and synthetic fertilizers.

Many of these issues have faced structural changes in the last few years, Krause adds. Expenses on many of the fertilizers and seeds have increased, and the return decreased. Farm programs are becoming more flexible and placing more risk back on the producer. Farm equipment and practices have become more specialized and focused toward each crop independently.

"Perhaps now we should take another look at raising cover and green manure crops," Krause said.

"A cover crop (i.e. alfalfa, field pea and vetch) is used to protect the ground, especially during winter, while a green-manure crop is used for turning into the soil and is planted to improve the soil's organic matter and increase available nitrogen.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Edith, is a registered nurse who lives in Grand Forks, and her son, Sig Jr., lives in rural Warren. Eight grandchildren and 14 great-grand children complete the family tree.

Driving since she was 13 years old, Florence continues to drive and says, "I'm happiest when I'm in my car."

At home, she does some knitting and crocheting "for the fun of it," and when asked if she enjoys television, she replies,"Too much!" Currently, Florence is "cat sitting" for a couple of weeks and comments that the tom isn't too happy to be there. "He growls," she says.

Throughout her life, Florence has been active in the Warren community. She's a member of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, the hospital and American Legion auxiliaries and Warren's Senior Citizens. When her children were young, she volunteered in the Boy and Girl Scout programs.

Florence is a 50-year member of the Eastern Star and Rebekahs, active in Grand Forks since the organizations dissolved in Warren. She's also sports a lapel pin boasting her 25-year TOPS membership. In 1991 she was named an Outstanding Senior Citizen for Marshall county.

To look at Florence one would think she had discovered the fountain of youth. Her face belies her age, and women half her age might have trouble keeping up with her perky gait.

For the past few months Florence has been recovering from a December heart attack. Obviously, however, you can't keep a good woman down long. She's on the mend and ready to resume her volunteer duties at the Senior Nutrition site on Monday. "That's if they haven't kicked me out. I've been gone so long!" she says.

Dining manager Lori Wendt assures Florence that the program can still use her help. Meals are prepared and served five days a week at the senior center. The noon meals on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday attract up to around 30 diners, and the evening meal on Wednesday evening brings in between 40 and 60 seniors. Meals are also delivered to shut-ins and congregate sites.

Meals are prepared by a cook and assistant, and volunteers help in a variety of ways — setting tables, serving food, doing dishes, putting things away and cleaning up.

While towns and cities are comprised of houses, businesses, schools and churches, it is often the contributions of volunteers that cause them to be desirable places to live.

Volunteerism is a way for seniors to stay active, often giving them a sense of purpose as others benefit from the many talents they have to offer.

Florence is a shining example of the hundreds of wonderful volunteers in our communities. Many of them are seniors who would agree with Florence when she says, "I feel better when I'm busy!"

Minnesota Volunteer Recognition Week is the time for all of the givers like Florence to take a little credit. Our hats are off to you!

MEC project

Mason explained that a committee should be formed consisting of two to four appointees from the joint powers board, and ex-officio members. Riddle said once the committee is formed she would provide examples of work to help the committee decide.

The board is also required to make the art available in an area generally accessible by the public. Riddle said she had looked at the facility and had two areas in mind — the concourse in the building and the outside concourse. Initially, she said, she thought the best area to begin would be the outside concrete concourse with something like benches.

The board is expected to make appointments for the committee by the next meeting of the joint powers board.

Construction Update

Despite the fact that the general contractor initially hired for the project is no longer working on the project, construction is expected to start up again this month with a different contractor. Representatives of THA provided board members with a general timeline for the miscellaneous projects to be completed this summer. Projects to be completed include the press box, grass seeding, access road construction, concrete sidewalks, fencing and final surfacing for the track.

Reimbursement to S.D. 564

The board approved a motion reimbursing School District 564 in Thief River Falls for the cost of purchasing the bleachers for the Multi-Events Center project. The purchase was made through the district for financial reasons. The bleachers cost $81,509.

Dedication Ceremony

Board members have been asked to find individuals willing to serve on a dedication committee. Each board member was asked to appoint an individual who would represent their constituency.

The next meeting of the Multi-Events Center Joint Powers board has been scheduled for 11 a.m. on May 17 at Northland Community and Technical College.

Bagley grocery store robbed April 26

Bagley - An estimated $5,500 was stolen by a thief or thieves at Kubiak's Foods in Bagley on Monday, April 26.

According to the store owner and a Bagley police officer, the thief may have hid inside the store before it closed for the evening. While inside, they got into the safe and stole an undetermined amount of cash. The incident remains under investigation.

Kubiak said this is the third robbery he can remember in all the years his family has owned the store. The other burglaries happened 10 to 12 years ago and involved the theft of cigarettes. Farmers Independent

Day of Service to involve many projects

Crookston - Crookston will hold its third annual Day of Service today (Saturday, May 1) with volunteers from several community organizations taking part in a citywide cleanup and a variety of beautification projects.

Also, University of Minnesota-Crookston Collegiate members in the Animal Science and Dairy Industries clubs will host a 4-H animal science workshop on the UMC campus. The event is open to 4-H members from northwestern Minnesota and will focus on raising animals for 4-H projects. Crookston Daily Times

Locking keys in your car will cost

Warroad - Until recently, the Warroad Police Department had been doing car unlocks on a donation basis. In March, officers unlocked 37 cars with a return of $25 in donation.

That policy changed at a recent city council meeting when it was decided that the car unlocks would be referred to local locksmiths, unless it is an extreme emergency, or a locksmith cannot be located.

When it is necessary for police to provide the service, $35 will be charged to help cover the cost of equipment and damages. Warroad Pioneer

Mattsons are GMR Friends of Education

Greenbush - Dr. Lylo and Corrine Mattson have been named Friends of Education for the 1998-99 school year by the Greenbush/Middle River Education Association.

Dr. Mattson is a veterinarian and Corrine works as his secretary/assistant. The Mattsons have encouraged teachers to bring students to their clinic for field trips and have participated in [illegible] activities. They have also shown their support for extra curricular activities.

The Mattsons have four children, and two are students at Greenbush/Middle River School. The Tribune

Stauss to seek one more term as mayor

East Grand Forks - According to a Grand Forks Herald survey, the popularity of East Grand Forks city officials is sky high with both the mayor and the city council receiving outstanding marks for the job they have been doing.

Mayor Lynn Stauss, who is up for reelection in November, says that he will run for the office of mayor again, probably for the last time. The Exponent

First place team in the Area I Envirothon competition Wednesday at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge east of Holt was this entry from Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls. From left are (front), Sam Kezar and Dewey Workar; (back) Patti Johnson, science instructor and coach; Brent Nelson, Allen Bolar and Zach Olson. They will represent this section of Area I at the state Envirothon to be held May 18.

USDA rejects request for CRP acreage extension

Request for extension of the Conservation Reserve Program acreage to 30 per cent of cropland in Pennington, Roseau and Marshall counties has been rejected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, DC.

Minnesota office of the federal Farm Service Agency was notified by letter received today from Patricia W. Garamendi, assistant deputy administrator for farm programs, that its request for a waiver of the statutory 25 percent cropland limitation was not approved.

Tracy Beckman, state executive director of FSA, told the Northern Watch that he was extremely disappointed in the federal decision. He said the request made by the state FSA board was not without basis, but followed requests from county FSA committees and his own two visits to northwest Minnesota in the short time he has been state director.

"This would have been an opportunity to get some more dollars into an economically distressed farm area of the state," Beckman said. "We felt our request for extension of the cropland limit to 30 percent was the best decision to be made, and it was decided on the basis of existing conditions and outlook for the foreseeable future.

Area director Karen Fredrickson of Thief River Falls echoed the state director's disappointment, saying "I feel bad for the farmers who needed this program. Our surveys showed strong local support for the increase."

In the most recent CRP sign-up, Pennington, Roseau and Marshall counties all had eligible acreage offered for contract well in excess of the 25 percent acreage limit. A survey was conducted in each county to determine support for or opposition to extending the limit. All showed a substantial majority of support for the extension. This was noted in the request made by counties to the state committee.

In her letter to State Director Beckman, Assistant Deputy Administrator Garamendi wrote, as follows:

"Based on our review of the information submitted, it is unclear upon what basis the State committee determined that waiving the statutory 25 percent cropland limitation would not adversely effect the local economy of the county and that producers in the counties are having difficulty complying with conservation plans.

"Several local agriculture-related businesses and organizations, nonagriculture businesses and the Minnesota Department of Agriculture recommended that that the waiver be denied because enrollment of the additional acreage would have an adverse economic impact in the counties.

"Further, we have noted there is no land in the counties with an erodibility index (EI) of 15 or greater and the average EI for cropland in Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties is 6.2, 5.6 and 4.6 respectively, leading us to conclude that producers in Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties are not having difficulty complying with conservation plans.

"Accordingly, your request for an additional acreage allocation to approve waivers of the 25 percent cropland limitation for the subject counties for CRP and WRP enrollment is not approved. Further, the State committee shall reconsider its determination taking into account the issues outlined in this memorandum. The State committee shall not use any of the acreage allocation provided in Notice CRP-336 to approve any waiver of the 25 percent cropland limitation in Marshall, Pennington or Roseau county.

"Because your request for additional acreage is not approved, errors, omissions and appeals shall continue to be handled according to Notice CRP-336. Also, Notice CRP-336, paragraph 4, provides that State offices shall not increase the acreage allocation when producers determine to withdraw an offer or acreage is determined ineligible. In addition, county committees are not authorized to accept rejected offers when "slippage" occurs because producers determine to withdraw an offer or acreage is determined ineligible..."

Edith, is a registered nurse who lives in Grand Forks and her son, Sig Jr., lives in rural Warren. Eight grandchildren and 14 great-grand children complete the family tree.

Driving since she was 13 years old, Florence continues to drive and says, "I'm happiest when I'm in my car."

At home, she does some knitting and crocheting "for the fun of it," and when asked if she enjoys television, she replies,"Too much!" Currently, Florence is "cat sitting" for a couple of weeks and comments that the tom isn't too happy to be there. "He growls," she says.

Throughout her life, Florence has been active in the Warren community. She's a member of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, the hospital and American Legion auxiliaries and Warren's Senior Citizens. When her children were young, she volunteered in the Boy and Girl Scout programs.

Florence is a 50-year member of the Eastern Star and Rebekahs, active in Grand Forks since the organizations dissolved in Warren. She's also sports a lapel pin boasting her 25-year TOPS membership. In 1991 she was named an Outstanding Senior Citizen for Marshall county.

To look at Florence one would think she had discovered the fountain of youth. Her face belies her age, and women half her age might have trouble keeping up with her perky gait.

For the past few months Florence has been recovering from a December heart attack. Obviously, however, you can't keep a good woman down long. She's on the mend and ready to resume her volunteer duties at the Senior Nutrition site on Monday. "That's if they haven't kicked me out. I've been gone so long!" she says.

Dining manager Lori Wendt assures Florence that the program can still use her help. Meals are prepared and served five days a week at the senior center. The noon meals on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday attract up to around 30 diners, and the evening meal on Wednesday evening brings in between 40 and 60 seniors. Meals are also delivered to shut-ins and congregate sites.

Meals are prepared by a cook and assistant, and volunteers help in a variety of ways — setting tables, serving food, doing dishes, putting things away and cleaning up.

While towns and cities are comprised of homes, businesses, schools and churches, it is often the contributions of volunteers that cause them to be desirable places to live.

Volunteerism is a way for seniors to stay active, often giving them a sense of purpose as others benefit from the many talents they have to offer.

Florence is a shining example of the hundreds of wonderful volunteers in our communities. Many of them are seniors who would agree with Florence when she says, "I feel better when I'm busy."

Minnesota Volunteer Recognition Week is the time for all of the givers like Florence to take a little credit. Our hats are off to you!

Mason explained that a committee should be formed consisting of two to four appointees from the joint powers board, and ex-officio members. Riddle said once the committee is formed she would provide examples of work to help the committee decide.

The board is also required to make the art available in an area generally accessible by the public. Riddle said she had looked at the facility and had two areas in mind — the concourse in the building and the outside concourse. Initially, she said, she thought the best area to begin would be the outside concrete concourse with something like benches.

The board is expected to make appointments for the committee by the next meeting of the joint powers board.

Construction Update

Despite the fact that the general contractor initially hired for the project is no longer working on the project, construction is expected to start up again this month with a different contractor. Representatives of THA provided board members with a general timeline for the miscellaneous projects to be completed this summer. Projects to be completed include the press box, grass seeding, access road construction, concrete sidewalks, fencing and final surfacing for the track.

Reimbursement to S.D. 564

The board approved a motion reimbursing School District 564 in Thief River Falls for the cost of purchasing the bleachers for the Multi-Events Center project. The purchase was made through the district for financial reasons. The bleachers cost $81,509.

Dedication Ceremony

Board members have been asked to find individuals willing to serve on a dedication committee. Each board member was asked to appoint an individual who would represent their constituency.

The next meeting of the Multi-Events Center Joint Powers board has been scheduled for 11 a.m. on May 17 at Northland Community and Technical College.

Bagley grocery store robbed April 26

Bagley - An estimated $5,500 was stolen by a thief or thieves at Kubiak's Foods in Bagley on Monday, April 26.

According to the store owner and a Bagley police officer, the thief may have hid inside the store before it closed for the evening. While inside, they got into the safe and stole an undetermined amount of cash. The incident remains under investigation.

Kubiak said this is the third robbery he can remember in all the years his family has owned the store. The other burglaries happened 10 to 12 years ago and involved the theft of cigarettes. Farmers Independent

Locking keys in your car will cost

Warroad - Until recently, the Warroad Police Department had been doing car unlocks on a donation basis. In March, officers unlocked 37 cars with a return of $25 in donation.

That policy changed at a recent city council meeting when it was decided that the car unlocks would be referred to local locksmiths, unless it is an extreme emergency, or a locksmith cannot be located.

When it is necessary for police to provide the service, $35 will be charged to help cover the cost of equipment and damages. Warroad Pioneer

USDA rejects request for CRP acreage extension

Request for extension of the Conservation Reserve Program acreage to 30 percent of cropland in Pennington, Roseau and Marshall counties has been rejected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, DC.

In case you just can't wait, maybe you can find enough rhubarb in your garden right now to make at least one of these delicious desserts:

This is a lighter rhubarb pie, delicate and tasty:

RHUBARB CREAM PIE

2 tablespoons butter
2 cups diced rhubarb
2 eggs, separated
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn starch
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup light cream
1/8 cup sugar
Baked pie shell

Melt butter. Add 1 cup sugar and rhubarb. Cook slowly until rhubarb is tender.

Combine corn starch, 1/4 cup sugar, egg yolks (slightly beaten), cream and salt. Add to rhubarb and cook thick. Cool slightly.

Beat egg whites into meringue, sweetening with about 1/8 cup of sugar.

Pour into baked pie shell and cover with meringue. Brown in oven.

RHUBARB CRUMBLE PIE

1/2 cup butter, melted
1 1/2 cups rolled oats
1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
2/3 cup brown sugar
3 cups raw rhubarb
1/2 cup white sugar

Combine butter, oats, 1/2 cup flour and brown sugar. Blend together and spread 3/4 of the mixture in pie pan. Cover with rhubarb.

Combine 1/2 cup white sugar and 1 1/2 tablespoons flour and sprinkle over rhubarb. Place reserved oat mixture over top. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes.

And then we have one more different rhubarb pie with an easy-to-make crust:

RHUBARB PIE

Crust
1 cup flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

Mix together and pat in pie pan. Bake 20 minutes.

Filling
3 beaten eggs
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 1/4 cups chopped rhubarb
Vanilla
2 tablespoons flour
1/3 cup evaporated milk
Meringue

Beat eggs. Add sugar, vanilla, flour and evaporated milk and mix. Add rhubarb. Cook together until thickened and rhubarb is softened.

Pour into baked crust. Top with meringue and brown in oven. If you don't want to make meringue, top with whipped cream or ice cream after cooled.

RHUBARB CRISP

1 egg
3/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups rhubarb
1/2 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar

Mix egg, sugar and flour together. Add rhubarb which has been cut into 1 inch pieces. Place in 9 inch square pan.

Mix butter and brown sugar crumbly and spread over rhubarb. Bake at 350 degrees for 40-45 minutes until lightly brown on top.

This is a pretty fancy dessert, but it makes up great for a bunch:

RHUBARB BAR DESSERT

Crust
1 3/4 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
2/3 cup butter
1/2 cup nuts
2 egg yolks, beaten (reserve whites)

Filling
2 egg yolks, beaten (reserve whites)
5 tablespoons flour
1 3/4 cups sugar
3 to 4 cups rhubarb, cut fine
3/4 cup sugar for meringue

Mix crust ingredients crumbly. Press into 9x13 inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

Mix egg yolks, flour and sugar for filling and add rhubarb. Place over crust.

Make meringue from 4 egg whites, adding 3/4 cup sugar.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

NW Minnesota Foundation awards several area grants

Northwest Minnesota Foundation recently awarded more than $110,000 in grants for projects which met the foundation's specific interests in research and development of new products or new technologies and/or joint ventures leading to increased effectiveness and efficiency of services to the general public or the disadvantaged.

To help local communities take greater ownership of housing issues effecting their economic and social wellbeing, $15,000 was awarded to the Headwaters Regional Development Commission, $8,000 to the Northwest Minnesota Multi-County Housing and Redevelopment Authority, $10,000 to the Northwest Regional Development Commission and $12,000 to the Tri-Valley Opportunity Council.

The above agencies are part of the Northwest Minnesota Housing Coalition which has focused on increasing the number of affordable single-family housing units in the 12-county region, the use of quality modular homes manufactured in northwest Minnesota for affordable single-family home and mobile home park development, capacity within the region to develop, own and manage housing projects, capacity within communities to develop multi-family rental housing, and opportunities for low-income working families to access quality affordable housing.

The foundation serves as a funder and facilitator of the coalition activities and foundation grants have leveraged an additional $300,000 in financing and in-kind support from local and state sources.

In a collaborative effort with a paint manufacturer, the foundation will provide free paint to nine projects including exterior painting at Goodridge Retirement Homes, exterior painting of senior citizen housing by the Newfolden Lions Club and interior painting of a safe house and transitional housing project for the Violence Intervention Project in Thief River Falls.

The foundation has also noted the hiring of Susan Kozojed as business developer. Susan is married to Tom Kozojed, formerly of Thief River Falls. They have two daughters and have lived in Bemidji for the past seven years.

Commodity council members include several from area

Several northwestern Minnesota residents are among members elected recently to farm commodity research and promotion councils, according to the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

Norma Hanson of Goodridge in Marshall county was reelected for a two-year term to the Dairy Research and Promotion Council from Region 1.

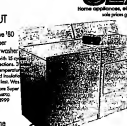
Greg Hilgeman of Oklee in Pennington county was reelected from District 1 to the Beef Research and Promotion Council.

Ellsworth Danielson of Polk county was reelected from Area 1 to the Wheat Research and Promotion Council.



In total, producers elected 30 members to serve on six research and promotion councils. Except for the two-year terms on the dairy council, board members serve three-year terms.

Goodridge selected to host NW Region Arbor Day ceremonies

Minnesota Arbor Month Partnership has announced the winners of a statewide competition to host official Arbor Day ceremonies in six regions of the state. These winners will receive a ceremonial tree to plant and a visit from a representative of the Arbor Month Partnership, who will present a recognition plaque. Arbor Month Partnership is an alliance of public agencies, private corporations and individuals that promotes tree planting and care.

The last Friday in April is Arbor Day and May is Arbor Month in Minnesota, by proclamation of the governor.

Arbor Day winner in the Northwest Region is the Goodridge Area Historical Society. Activity will take place in the Goodridge City Park across from Tveit Park, Friday, May 14, at 1 p.m. The theme is "Turning Over A New Leaf for the Millennium." City of Goodridge and Goodridge Public School third and fourth grade students will plant trees, shrubs and flowers to landscape around the old country school. THE LYON'S SHARE

Tim Lyon

What's In A Name?

Given the rare chance to mention both fishing and Wayne Gretzky in the same northern Minnesota paragraph, I'd be a fool to decline. Aren't walleyes, hockey sticks and the undeniable right to eat cod soaked in lye the three motivating themes that pull us from our stubborn beds each morning?

Or is it windows? Yeah, that's it! Walleyes, windows and hockey sticks! What was I thinking of? (Lutefisk is somewhere down the line, lagging behind our passions for cold beer and redundant country music.)

So as "The Great One" slowly fades into the hockey sunset like a Warroad-bound launch at the end of another successful day of walleye fishing, we have to ask ourselves, how could a mess of urban sprawl like Detroit reach through the window of opportunity (you were wondering how I was going to get all three in the same line, weren't you?) and grab the legal copyright to Warroad's hard-earned title of "Hockeytown, USA?" Something's just not right.

Gretzky, like any good walleye fisherman, made a living out of being in the right place at the right time. As endless superlative praise for the legend poured in across media lines, the notion of his "going not where the puck is but where it is going to be" became a tombstone-like inscription across his retirement chapter. In a comparable, if fishier fashion, guides like Warroad's Larry Jaycox, for example, have crafted a reputation for being on top of the walleye action today, not heading to yesterday's hot spot and offering grandiose tales and trite apologies. Heck, if you want to be where the fishing was yesterday, you can always hop in my boat.

Nor is such an everlasting reputation founded on isolated "moments in time" experiences. Gretzky's amazing numbers repeated themselves annually for his nearly two decades of NHL experience. Similarly, a Lake of the Woods fishing guide can't expect to develop a loyal clientele with a lucky day or two. The numbers have to remain consistently good or the fickle fishing world will dump him harder than an Ulf Samuelsson check.

I can't catch a 10-pounder in July and another in September and expect to spend the next 10 years of my walleye fishing career basking in titled glory. It's only through day-in and day-out, year after year success that a name becomes carved in stone.

Which brings us to this Detroit-Warroad question: Where exactly is Hockeytown USA? The U.S. Copyright Office will tell you that such a place legally exists somewhere in southeastern Michigan, but does that monicker really belong on a publicity-starved city that's been fortunate enough to have purchased its way into the Stanley Cup limelight after decades of hockey frustration? Their last Cup victory came over 40 years ago. That kind of consistency might be an acceptable level of productivity for comets or cicadas, but not for staking a claim to the breadbasket of hockey!

Shouldn't the "Hockeytown" name be applied to a small, northern Minnesota town that has contributed generations of successful sweat and passion to the sport? It's practically a genetic trait identifiable in the area newborns. Ask any member of a neighboring hockey community and they'll tell you, teeth clenched in spiteful envy, that as much as they'd like to see Warroad lose any form of hockey contest, the name certainly fits there better than the awkward, illegitimate way it hangs on Detroit.

Wayne Gretzky, current ambassador for all that is good and right in the NHL, would allow or little discussion on this topic. He modestly accepts the title of "The Great One," well aware of the consistency, longevity, sweat and passion that he traded for the right to wear that crown. I wonder if Steve Yzerman is, at this very moment, applying for the "Great One" copyright. I can't believe that Gretzky is anything but embarrassed for his hockey brethren in Detroit.

I do, however, have to acknowledge that what might seem "wrong" to the layman is not always "illegal" in the eyes of the courts. Thus, in an effort to cover all the possible angles and not gamble with what might, in the future, be fact, I've taken the liberty of procuring a copyright of my own.

I hope that Larry Jaycox and his guiding brethren understand my logic and will, from here on, refer to me, and only me, in the proper legal terms. According to the U.S. Copyright Office, there is now only one "Best Guide on Lake of the Woods." Royalties for use and infringement can be sent to me in care of this paper. However, I'd be willing to call it even if you want to just phone me at home with some possible hot fishing spots I can use this opener.

Colorado School Deaths Hold Many Meanings

"What are you going to write about the Littleton school thing?" has been a question that we have heard several times in the past few days. The reference, of course, is to the multiple deaths—including their own—caused by two teenagers in their high school in the Colorado suburb. Like most tragic circumstances, the carnage in Colorado creates more questions than it provides answers. What more can be said that might make a difference?

Brutal and shocking and senseless and wanton as the murders were, it turns out they were only the beginning of what the two boys involved had been planning for a year to commit. What can a person say that can make any sense out of such a calculated and vicious act? What can anyone expect to come out of this carnage that will build hope for a better future for our young people and our nation? How can we logically guard against copycat crimes without pandering to a paranoia that is almost impossible to avoid?

Perhaps the most heart-rending thing about the murders is that most of the victims were innocent young people who had the extreme misfortune of being where they were supposed to be, doing what they were supposed to do, but in the wrong place at the wrong time. And they were targeted at least in part because they aspired to being the respected people society wants them to be.

Most parents, we are sure, visualized how such a tragedy would affect them if they sent their child off to school and it would be the last time they would see them alive. How can you give your child or grandchild or neighbor's child guaranteed protection from such an unwarranted and unexpected attack? For that matter, can you imagine your feelings if you not only learned your child was dead, but was one of those who committed such an act?

A public opinion letter in the Thief River Falls Times Wednesday questioned why more people weren't concerned enough about the loss of life of children they didn't know to attend the memorial service at St. Bernard's Catholic Church Sunday evening. It is a question a number of other people attending the service also likely are asking. Attendance and participation was one way of expressing grief and support.

But we don't believe non-attendance necessarily shows a lack of caring. Each person reacts to the situation in his or her own way. Participating may have made those attending feel better—and there is nothing wrong with that—but others may deal with their feelings alone. For that matter, the service for local people may not have done as much to show support to grieving parents, other relatives and friends of those killed or injured as a card, a message, a poem or flowers sent to the Littleton community. Many have already made such an effort. Those who want to do so may address items to Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, c/o Victim Services, 200 Jefferson County Parkway, Golden, CO 80401.

Whatever the reasoning and rationalization and finger pointing and head patting that comes from this tragedy, it must be recognized that in spite of everything there are evil people in our world who do cruel things and there is no age limit on evil. We likely can't control an evil mind, but we can do more to prevent people with evil minds from doing vicious acts.

In the case of the Colorado killers, there were many advance indications of potential trouble which went without intervention. Boston Globe columnist Jeff Jacoby, whose column was printed in the Grand Forks Herald this week, summarized the situation as follows:

"They glorified Nazis, wore swastikas and shouted 'Heil Hitler!' when they were pleased. And no teacher, principal, or administrator it seems, did anything about it.

"They talked endlessly about explosives and guns and filled a Web page with details on how to make a bomb. 'Shrapnel is very important,' it said, 'if you want to kill and injure a lot of people.' And no teacher, principal, or administrator, it seems, did anything about it.

For a class last fall, they made a video showing themselves walking down the hallways of Columbine High School, weapons in hand, shooting 'jocks' dead. It was literally a rehearsal for a massacre—but no teacher, principal, or administrator, it seems, did anything about it.

"The adults of Columbine High School were not alone in ignoring students' nastiness and brutality.

"When (Eric) Harris and (Dylan) Klebold (the teens who killed 12 students, an instructor and themselves) were convicted of breaking into a van and trying to steal its contents, they were sentenced not to prison but to counseling. When a Columbine parent twice went to the sheriff last year to report that Harris had threatened his son—and supplied 15 pages of Harris' frightful Internet writings to substantiate his accusation— nobody acted. 'You all better hide in your houses,' Harris had written, 'because I'm coming for everyone and I will shoot to kill and I will kill everything.'"

Jacoby writes that "the slaughter in Colorado has unloosed the usual gush of therapy talk. The solution to student rampages is better mental health services, earlier detection of depression, more counselors, you name it.....Bill Clinton, the nation's therapist-in-chief, solemnly intoned that 'we must do more to reach out to our children and teach them to express their anger and to resolve their conflicts with words, not weapons.'"

(This, from the President who had just asked Congress for six billion dollars to blast to bits parts of Yugoslavia with the end result of untold deaths, injuries, homelessness, impoverishment and misery to hundreds of thousands of people, including children we don't know and don't seem to have the time to mourn. What does this madness teach our children about resolving conflicts with words instead of weapons?)

Columnist Jacoby rightly bemoans a lack of responsibility training in today's America.

"More of the same, in other words," he writes. "More handholding. More narcissism; More worship of self-esteem. More refusal to enforce standards of right and wrong. More of the flight from discipline and character....What the killers of Littleton needed was not more reassurance. Their problem wasn't a failure to express themselves. It was a failure to control themselves. No wonder: Their lives were filled with adults who never set limits, never imposed rules, never made it clear that certain kinds of behavior would not be tolerated."

And he makes another interesting point when he notes that, "In parochial schools like the one I attended, children are taught that they may not say and do anything they please. They learn that their deeds have consequences, and that their demands are less important than their obligations. They are not indulged when they behave badly. They are not surrounded by grown-ups who shrug at Hitler salutes or Web pages full of bloodthirsty fantasies. They are instructed from Day One in the difference between right and wrong and in the values they are expected to uphold.

"Maybe that is why none of these atrocities has happened in a parochial school—and why every public school in America has to fear that it may be next."

Farm families may not receive adequate funds

Without the requested supplemental funds now before Congress, as many as 800 farmers will not be able to secure adequate credit needed to operate this year, according to Tracy Beckman, state executive director of the Minnesota Farm Service Agency.

"It is estimated that we lack $100 million to meet the needs of Minnesota farm families this year," Beckman said. "Many will not be able to restructure debt to enhance their chance of success. In addition, if the supplemental appropriation is not approved, the backlog of applications will greatly reduce the amount of fiscal year 2000 funds available for next year's needs.

"As of April 20, Minnesota FSA has loaned $127,087,882 for approximately 1,100 loans," the director added. "Indicators are that farmers and lenders will be seeking access to agency loans throughout the summer due to the current agricultural crisis. Without the supplemental appropriation, the Minnesota Farm Service Agency will be forced to lay off temporary staff in our county offices."

Scores improving, but TRF girls still finishing behind area golf teams

Thief River Falls girls, after competing in successive quadrangular meets hosted by East Grand Forks Thursday (April 22), Crookston Friday (April 23) and Warren-Alvarado-Oslo Monday (April 26), faced a larger field Tuesday (April 27) when the Prowlers were part of the seven team Roseau Invitational girls high school golf tournament.

"We're shooting what we should be shooting at this time of the year," reported Thief River Falls coach Bruce Jean. "We're shooting better scores than we did last year at this time. But the teams in the south were on their courses a couple of weeks before we were, and they're still ahead of us."

Annual Prowler Invitational will be held Friday, May 7, at the Thief River Golf Club starting at 9:30 a.m.

Fergus Falls catcher Pat Lisko was waiting for Northland runner Ryan Halvorson on an attempted steal of home during the fifth inning of Tuesday's Minnesota Community College Conference baseball doubleheader opener in Thief River Falls. Halvorson was tagged out on the play. The Spartans won the game 10-9.

Fergus Falls takes two from Pioneers

Fergus Falls survived a first-game Northland rally to win 10-9, then completed the Tuesday Minnesota Community College Conference baseball doubleheader sweep with a 9-4 second game victory that pushed the Spartans' record to 16-3 and extended the Pioneers' season-opening losing streak to 14 games.

The visitors flexed their muscle in the Spartans' first at-bat of the afternoon when they scored seven times. The first five batters all reached base and scored, with Rick Schlieman drilling a two-run double to left field and Kirk Henchen clearing the right-center field fence with a two-run home run. An RBI single by Chad Ruzek and a run-scoring error added up to a quick one-touchdown lead.

But after giving up six first-inning hits, Thief River Falls pitcher Andy Harbott limited the Spartans to two hits and two runs over the next five innings, giving the Pioneers an opportunity to chop away at the lead.

And they did. With the bases loaded in the first inning, the Pioneers got three runs out of a walk, hit-batsman and a balk.

A two-out walk issued to Ryan Halvorson, a stolen base and RBI single to right by Luke Hagness made it 7-4 in the fourth.

Northland caught Fergus Falls in the fifth when Pete Mooney and Chris Cairns lead off with singles and Harbott homered over the left field fence. With two out, Anthony Ryan reached base on an error, Eric Reinbold singled to left and Halvorson beat out an infield hit. A fly ball off the bat of Hagness found a hole in short left field for a two-run double to tie it 9-9.

But with Halvorson at third, Northland coach John Ott signaled for a steal of home. It wasn't close. Rally ends, and Fergus Falls wins it in the top of the seventh with a walk, passed ball and RBI single by Jason Scherr.

Ott figured the gamble on the steal attempt with worth the risk. "I was just trying to get something going," he said. "I wanted to take the lead and put some pressure on them in the seventh. With all the losses, we've really been down. I wanted to give them something to get excited about. When you haven't won a game, why play conservative?"

Fergus Falls pitcher Eric Conkins stopped Northland on six hits in Game 2 to finish the sweep.

"We couldn't hit that kid," said Ott. "He threw slow, breaking stuff and we couldn't touch it. With our record, teams haven't been throwing their best pitchers against us. We haven't seen a lot of hard-throwing pitchers, but sometimes those guys are harder to hit. I think we'd do better against the kids with the hard fast ball."

Weather helps TRF track teams efforts

Nice weather played a part in improved performances, according to Thief River Falls head coach Tim Olson, as the Prowlers took part in the Crookston VFW Invitational high school track meet Tuesday.

"We had a lot of personal-bests," pointed out Olson. "Some of those don't show up in the scoring, but we had some excellent throws, excellent times and excellent jumps. I was pretty pleased with what I saw."

Park Rapids Area boys won a team title with 109 1/2 points, followed by Crookston with 99 1/2, Warroad 63, Stephen-Argyle 55, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Tri-County 54, Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton 49 1/2, Fisher/East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 38, East Grand Forks 37, Thief River Falls 36 1/2, Roseau 29, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 26, Lake of the Woods 26, Fertile-Beltrami 12, Win-E-Mac 12, Marshall County Central 11, and Kittson Central/Kittson County North 3.

Crookston won the girls' portion of the meet with 176 points, followed by Roseau with 109, East Grand Forks 84, Thief River Falls 66, Park Rapids Area 55, Warroad 32 1/2, Red Lake County 30, Badger/Greenbush-Middle/Tri-County River 27, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 22, Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton 19, Fisher/East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 19, Fertile-Beltrami 17 1/2, Marshall County Central 15, Stephen-Argyle 11, Lake of the Woods 3, Win-E-Mac 3.

Highlights for the Thief River Falls girls included a school record 5:13.48 in the 1600 meter run by freshman Chelsea Haviland and another sweep of the shot put/discus competition by senior Nicole Kopari, who is unbeaten in those two events this spring.

Olson said the biggest improvement among the Thief River Falls boys came from sophomore Ben Owen with his 44-0 effort in the shot put – a six-foot boost in his previous season high.

Prowlers stop Crookston 6-1

Hitting, pitching and defense all came through for Thief River Falls Tuesday in a 6-1 high school softball win over Crookston at the fairgrounds diamond.

Lacey Huschle turned in a four-hit pitching performance. Kylie Rogalla was 3-for-3 at the plate and the Prowlers had an error-free defensive effort. Huschle struck out three and walked just two. Rogalla had a double and drove in two runs.

Thief River Falls struck for a pair of unearned runs in the bottom of the first after Erika Hudson and Becca Leach both reached base on errors. Rogalla followed with an RBI single, and the second run crossed the plate on a wild pitch.

Ahead 2-1, the Prowlers broke it open by scoring four times with two out in the fifth. Rogalla and Amy Christensen had RBI doubles, while Jacki Hoglo and Andrea Stinson had run-scoring singles.

Pioneers beat Cards to end losing streak

Northland watched a 5-2 lead turn into a 7-6 first-game loss, but came back to beat Hibbing 4-3 in the second half of a Thursday Minnesota Community College Conference baseball doubleheader in Thief River Falls.

The win snapped a season-opening 15-game losing streak for the Pioneers, and was the first victory for the Northland men's athletic program since an Oct. 1 football win over Vermilion. The football team lost the final two games of the 1998 season, and the men's basketball team was 0-22 this winter.

Northland spotted Hibbing a 1-0 head start in Game 1, but scored three times in the bottom of the second on a bases-loaded single to center by Anthony Ryan. He got two RBI's out of it, with the third run crossing the plate on an error.

A fielder's choice produced another RBI for Ryan in the fourth, and a balk brought in a run that made it 5-2.

A two-run home run by Dan Leritz, Hibbing's No. 9 hitter, in the fifth inning and a lead-off homer by Pat Davy, the Cardinals' No. 4 hitter, in the sixth tied it 5-5. They won it in the seventh on a one-out RBI single to right by Mark Stupar and a sacrifice foul-out by Nick Hanson.

Northland got one run back in the bottom of the inning when back-to-back one-out singles by Andy Harbott and Pete Mooney were followed by a wild pitch.

In Game 2, Harbott drove in a first inning run and Dan Niebuhr hit a second inning two-run home run to provide the Pioneers with an early 3-0 edge that stood up behind the complete-game pitching by Chris Cairns, who stranded two runners in scoring position in the sixth, then got out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh.

"It was an adventure getting out of the last two innings," said first-year Northland coach John Ott. "It feels really great to finally win a game. We should have won both games. We were trying some different things, and some things worked and some didn't."

Northland, after hosting Itasca today (Saturday), will finish the 1999 season with doubleheaders Wednesday at home against Mesabi and Saturday, May 15, against Central Lakes in Brainerd.

Friday is 1999 DNR bear hunting permit application deadline

Department of Natural Resources reminds hunters that applications for the 1999 black bear hunting season will be accepted through Friday, May 7. A record 21,840 permits are available in 11 quota areas for the season, which will run from Sept. 1 to Oct. 17.

Each hunter who entered the 1998 lottery has been sent a peel-off label for use on the application form for this year's drawing, according to DNR officials. Bear licenses cost $35 for residents and $166 for non-residents. Hunters are not required to send money with their applications.

In 1998, bear hunters harvested 4,110 bears. There were approximately 30,000 applicants for 18,210 quota area licenses that were available. An additional 1,600 "No-Quota" licenses were purchased for the area outside of the 11 quota areas, where the number of licenses is not limited and licenses can be purchased over-the-counter.

State results from Grade 8 testing become available

Area schools are now examining the results of the 1999 State Basic Standards Tests in reading and mathematics for Grade 8. Overall, Minnesota students' achievement improved over 1998 levels.

According to Dr. Christine Jax, Minnesota education commissioner, the percentage of state public school eighth graders scoring 75 percent or more on the reading test increased by 7.1 points from last year. On the mathematics test, the change was statistically stable, declining one-half point.

"Our students continue to make progress in learning basic skills as our schools improve the teaching of those skills," said Jax. "We still need to make more progress, particularly on math skills. But these results are very encouraging, especially since reading gains are happening across all gender, ethnic and other lines. If the Legislature approves Governor Jesse Ventura's initiatives, including increasing funds to lower class sizes in early grades, I would expect further strides in the coming years."

Students in the state's two largest districts met or exceeded the statewide improvements on these tests. The number of Minneapolis eighth graders scoring 75 percent or more on the reading test increased seven percentage points, to 48 percent from 41 percent last year. Minneapolis math test figures were up one point, to 42 percent from last year's 41 percent. In St. Paul, reading scores rose eight points, from 41 percent last year to 49 percent in 1999, while math scores went up four points to 44 percent from 1998's 40 percent.

"Both Minneapolis and St. Paul have done a lot to strengthen delivery of basic skills to their students," Jax noted. "I am delighted but not surprised to see these impressive gains in their scores."

In Minnesota, 65,405 eighth graders took the Basic Standards Test in reading last February. Of those, 49,180, or 75.2 percent, met the state's passing mark of 75 percent on the reading test, up from 68.1 percent in 1998. For the mathematics test, 45,911 out of 65,362 tested, or 70.2 percent, scored at least 75 percent. The figure for last year's mathematics test was 70.7 percent. All state public high school students who entered ninth grade in 1997 or later must pass these tests before graduation. Those in the class of 2000 need 70 percent to pass, while others need 75 percent. Local public school districts may set higher passing scores for their students.

Jax pointed out that just as the statewide Basic Standards have led to improved basic reading and math abilities, Minnesota needs statewide high standards to ensure its public high school graduates get the knowledge and skills they need for the future. "We do not want to tell teachers how to teach or what topics to cover," she said. "But we can use the same approach that have given us such good results with basic skills to raise student performance on more advanced subjects. We can set high statewide standards and expect that districts and schools will meet them."

Farm Business Management offers help to area farmers

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Many farmers in northwest Minnesota believe the last thing they need is to enroll in a program leading to a college diploma. In truth, however, it could be one of the things they should first consider.

Farming, perhaps moreso than many other businesses, is affected by multiple factors which change from day to day as well as week to week, month to month and year to year. Assistance in keeping up with change as well as maintaining accurate individual records is available through the Farm Business Management program headquartered at Northland Community and Technical College.

Farm business management has been offered in Thief River Falls since 1954, but also has been subject to a number of changes over the years. Since 1991 the program has been offered for college credit which leads to a diploma after six years of 10 credits per year.

Instructors in the program are quick to point out, however, that the program is more about individual help than it is about earning a diploma. And they are not the only ones who have that opinion.

Jon Evert, coordinator of Rural Life Outreach of Northwest Minnesota in Moorhead, and his staff deal with farmers in crisis in a 21-county area. They look at a formal farm management program as an essential for decision-making in any farm situation.

"When we receive a referral—whether it is a self-referral or comes to us in another manner—our outreach workers make a farm visit to determine the family needs," Evert said. "After the most acute needs are defined and addressed, we strongly suggest that they get involved with a farm management program. We believe there is nothing better to help them get an accurate picture of their finances so they can determine their options and make informed choices. And if they don't think they can afford it, we have means within our program to assist with tuition."

If Farm Business Management instruction is valuable to farmers considering how to get out of farming, it certainly must have value to those who want to continue farming.

What does a farmer have to gain from enrollment in the program?

Perhaps most important is the individual contact with an instructor who can assist with not only accurate record-keeping but analysis of operations and application of sound business principles. This includes financial, enterprise and marketing management information, suggestions and advice which can reduce costs and/or increase income.

Participants in the program also have access to accounting assistance, informational seminars on such topics as finance, legal issues, determining break-even costs of production, figuring farm financial ratios, cash flow budgeting, tax planning and year-end financial analysis.

"Our instructors build an individual text book for each farmer in the program," says Bob Bollesen, director. "It gives the farmer increased management tools and skills that help him and his family take control over the aspects of farming that they can control and provides an analytical basis for decision-making."

While farmers may be experts at producing crops or livestock, many lack the time, expertise or experience to deal effectively with cost management or marketing options. In effect, farm management instruction allows the tractor driver to keep his eye on the furrow while someone else helps watch for the end of the row.

Farm Business Management program at Northland covers an area ranging approximately from the Canadian boundary south to Fergus Falls and the North Dakota border east to Bemidji. There are currently about 720 students enrolled in the program in that area.

Nineteen instructors are included in the program, which includes one in small business management and two in specialty crops. Their offices are located in Baudette, Bemidji, Barnesville, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Fertile, Fosston, Frazee, Hawley, Karlstad, Mahnomen, Moorhead, Red Lake Falls, Roseau, Thief River Falls and Ulen.

Farm Business Management instructors in this area include Greg Dvergsten and Danie Packard in Thief River Falls, Doug Fjerstad in Fosston, Duane Jaenicke in Roseau, Carol Kleppe in Gonvick and Greg Kallnaski in Red Lake Falls. Dennis Sevigny is the small business management instructor in Thief River Falls.

From a structural standpoint, the program is divided into two semesters (approximately late in August through December and January through mid-May) and a summer session. Most of the formal sessions are arranged during the times of the year when the farm pace is least hectic.

Net cost of the program annually to each farmer presently enrolled is $620. Legislation is currently pending in the state legislature which could reduce that cost to about $500 per year, but it has not yet been approved. A subsidy in place since the 1989 ag crisis has been $135 per student annually, and is applied to reduce program cost to the $620 total.

Following the six-year program graduation, an advanced course for three additional years is offered.

Further information on the program including course offerings, scheduling and enrollment is available by calling 681-0800 or 1-800-959-6282, extension 0800.

AUCTION

SATURDAY, MAY 8

COMMENCING PROMPTLY AT 10:30 A.M.

LUNCH BY MANECKE'S CONCESSIONS

A FEW WORDS ABOUT THIS OUTSTANDING SALE!

After over 40 years of an extremely successful partnership, the Gunderson brothers have each sold their beautiful farms and are headed for a much deserved retirement. Most major pieces spent their off months in the shed. The brothers were not grease guns and wrenches on a regular basis, good equipment was purchased and then taken care of. Farming is tough today as it always has been, but you can make it easier on yourself with a piece or two of the Gunderson brothers' farm machinery.

The final tally of pledges and donations made during Daffodil Days in Thief River Falls, shows that over $11,000 was raised this year.

The total tops last year's Daffodil Days total by about $1,000. Local Chairperson for the American Cancer Society, Julie Desrocher, was thrilled and credited the success of the fundraiser to the organizational abilities of Carl and Polly Reed, who chaired this year's campaign. She also thanked the many volunteers who assisted with this year's campaign.

On-site and business pre-sales totaled 1,573 bunches. The total raised in this fund-raising campaign was $11,201.

Success locally mirrored another successful year statewide. Statewide, the organization raised over $1 million, which is the first time the organization has actually gone over that $1 million figure.

Currently, the local chapter of the American Cancer Society is gearing up for its annual Community Crusade. Volunteers will be going from house to house in Thief River Falls distributing educational material and requesting donations. These activities will take place May 2-9.

Activities this summer also include a display booth at the Pennington County Fair, and the annual Longest Day of Golf Campaign.

If you have any questions, or require more information about the American Cancer Society, please call Julie Desrocher at 218-681-2315, the District Office at 218-233-6114 or 1-800-ACS-2345.

Master gardeners from the area have formed an organization with a number of new members recently completing the extensive instruction program necessary to receive certification. This year the training was provided in Thief River Falls, making it more convenient for area horticultural enthusiasts to be involved in the program. Master Gardener program meets demand

Home gardeners can receive advice and information from local sources

by Faye Auchenpaugh,
Master Gardener

The Master Gardener program was created by the University of Minnesota Extension Service to meet an enormous increase in requests from home gardeners for horticultural information. This increase derives primarily from the urban and transient nature of modern American life. Fifty years ago, an Extension agent dealt with the questions of a few hundred farm families. In many regions, however, land that once constituted a single farm now encompasses several subdivisions, increasing the number of families an Extension office must serve–by the hundreds. In addition, many of these new families are recent arrivals to the area, and are unfamiliar with the grasses, shrubs, trees, insects and diseases which comprise the micro environment of their new home. They often call their local Extension office for home horticultural advice.

Consequently, the Master Gardener program was created in 1972 in the state of Washington. Today, in most states, Master Gardeners have become a vital part of Extension's ability to provide consumers with up-to-date, reliable knowledge so they can enjoy and protect the value of horticulture around their homes. In Minnesota, the Master Gardener program began in 1977. Since that time, over 3,000 people have taken the Master Gardener training and most counties have an active group of Master Gardeners who fulfill the mission of the Extension Service. Pennington County has 18 Master Gardeners.

WHO ARE MASTER GARDENERS?

Master Gardeners are individuals who take an active interest in gardening and have received professional training in horticulture from the University of Minnesota Extension Service. To become a Master Gardener, you are required to complete a 48-hour classroom Core Course covering best management practices of lawn care, trees and shrubs, pest and weed control, soil science and plant nutrition, fruits and vegetables, flowers and other horticultural subjects. After completing this Core Course, your training continues with an internship consisting of 50 hours of volunteer time, which should be completed within the first year of participation in the Master Gardener program.

Upon completion of the Core Course and the internship within the first year, you become certified Master Gardeners. To continue as a Master Gardener, you must perform 25 hours of volunteer time and receive five hours of additional training each year.

WHAT ARE OUR COMMITMENTS AS MASTER GARDENERS?

In return for the specialized training, Master Gardeners are asked to volunteer in activities including: responding to telephone requests for gardening information, working with community groups and holding plant clinics. Master Gardeners can also give lectures and slide presentations at garden clubs, civic groups and church groups, set up horticultural displays, write articles for local newspapers, be involved with community gardening programs and teach community education classes.

Master Gardeners function as resource individuals for horticultural questions in their local Extension offices. Our efforts serve to multiply the capabilities of county educators to achieve the University of Minnesota Extension Service objective of "involving people in improving their quality of life."

Common shade tree problems reviewed

by John Johnson,
Master Gardener

Leaves tightly curled and black sticky material on objects under the tree –

This problem is generally caused by aphids. Uncurl the leaf and look for tiny white or light green bugs on the underside of the leaf. The sticky material is called honeydew and is secretions from the aphids. While the feeding activity of the aphids can be a nuisance, chemical control is not generally recommended. Mature, healthy trees will survive an aphid attack. Aphids may be present for two or more seasons, but weather conditions and natural predators will keep the aphids from doing permanent damage. If chemical control is desired, such as for small trees, one tablespoon of acephate (Orthene) per gallon of water or two teaspoons of malathion per gallon of water may be applied to the tree.

Small red bumps or growths on maple leaves –

These bumps or growths on maple leaves, particularly soft or silver maple, are plant galls. Plant galls are abnormal plant growths caused by the feeding activity on insects and mites. Because of their unusual shapes and forms, homeowners become concerned. However, plant galls seldom threaten a tree's health and their numbers are highly variable from season to season. For these reasons control is not recommended in most causes. If control is desired, an application of a dormant oil just before bud break is recommended.

Worms hanging by a thread from the trees –

Cankerworm attacks can leave a community's trees looking heavily damaged. Soon after the leaves of our trees begin to open, cankerworms can move in. By the end of May the leaves appear lacy. Heavily infested trees may be completely defoliated. A tree that is completely defoliated usually leafs out again two to three weeks after the worms have stopped feeding. If the tree is in good condition, one such defoliation doesn't kill it. However, several complete defoliations in successive years cause dead branches and possible death of the tree. It is very difficult to control cankerworms on a tree-by-tree basis. As they hang by the silken thread, the wind can blow them from one tree to the next. One of the best ways to control cankerworms is on a community-wide basis by a commercial aerial applicator. Another way is to let nature take its course, making sure the trees are well watered during this stressful time. The cankerworms will soon consume all of the food sources and die of starvation.

Ash tree leaves are curled and dropping off the tree –

This could be aphids, but when only ash trees are affected it most likely is the ash plant bug. As with aphids, the trees should survive this attack. The problem will dissipate within a two to three-week period. If chemical control is desired, one tablespoon of carbaryl (Sevin) per gallon of water is recommended.

Birch leaves turning brown in June –

If the discolored leaves are scattered throughout the tree, look at the leaves closely. Carefully open the brown or tan spot on the leaf and shake the contents into the palm of your hand. If what comes out looks like pepper, this is probably the work of the birch leafminer. Chemical control is recommended as an unchecked infestation of the birch leafminer can lead to the introduction of the bronze birch borer which can kill the tree. One and one-half tablespoons of acephate (Orthene) per gallon of water or two teaspoons of malathion per gallon of water applied to the trees, as soon as the symptoms appear, should help. A follow-up treatment may be needed one week later.

Elm leaves turning brown and falling off the tree –

A classic symptom of Dutch Elm Disease. Pruning out the infected branches may help, but by the time these symptoms are present, death of the tree is imminent. The tree should be removed as soon as possible (within 30 days) to prevent the fungus from spreading to other healthy elms.

Remember when applying pesticides to read and follow the label. For more information on these and other shade tree problems contact your county extension office.

Little Bluestem

by Tom Schafer,
Master Gardener

Little Bluestem is a native grass which is gaining in popularity as an ornamental grass due to its appearance and ease of care. It is a clump-forming grass and certainly is not invasive.

Because it is a native, it has no pests or diseases. It is drought tolerant due to a root system that will reach a depth of eight feet or more. As with all native grasses, having roots which run so deep will not allow weeds to compete and they will soon be choked out.

Coloration of the leaves are blue and green. In the fall they will turn reddish-orange with fluffy, whitish seeds on top of an 18-24 inch stalk.

Final tally shows Daffodil Days successful

The final tally of pledges and donations made during Daffodil Days in Thief River Falls shows that over $11,000 was raised this year.

The total tops last year's Daffodil Days total by about $1,000. Local Chairperson for the American Cancer Society, Julie Desrocher, was thrilled and credited the success of the fundraiser to the organizational abilities of Carl and Polly Reed, who chaired this year's campaign. She also thanked the many volunteers who assisted with this year's campaign.

On-site and business pre-sales totaled 1,573 bunches. The total raised in this fund-raising campaign was $11,201.

Success locally mirrored another successful year statewide. Statewide, the organization raised over $1 million, which is the first time the organization has actually gone over that $1 million figure.

Currently, the local chapter of the American Cancer Society is gearing up for its annual Community Crusade. Volunteers will be going from house to house in Thief River Falls distributing educational material and requesting donations. These activities will take place May 2-9.

Activities this summer also include a display booth at the Pennington County Fair, and the annual Longest Day of Golf Campaign.

If you have any questions, or require more information about the American Cancer Society, please call Julie Desrocher at 218-681-2315, the District Office at 218-233-6114 or 1-800-ACS-2345.

Thief River Falls, represented by Madelyn Vigen (center), parks and recreation director, and John Johnson (right), city forester and Headwater Agassiz Shade Tree Advisory committee president, received a Tree City USA award for the 11th year in a row. Bob Fogel (left), West Central Shade Tree Advisory Committee president and director of parks for Moorhead, presented the award.

Thief River Falls named Tree City USA for 11th year

Thief River Falls was named Tree City USA for the 11th year at the Northwest Urban Forestry workshop held recently at the University of Minnesota at Crookston (UMC). Tree City USA is an annual program that recognizes communities for their urban forestry programs and activities. It is sponsored by the National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with state foresters and the USDA Forest Service.

To be recognized as a Tree City USA, a community must have a legally constituted tree board or tree department, have a tree ordinance specifying who in the community is responsible for public tree care, have a comprehensive community forestry program supported by a minimum annual expenditure of $2 per capita and annually proclaim Arbor Day and hold an Arbor Day observance.

The awards were given by Don Mueller with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Forestry division, and Mike Max representing the Minnesota Shade Tree Advisory committee.

Tree City USA Growth awards are also given annually to communities that have new or significantly improve urban and community forestry activities. Currently, Minnesota has nine communities that received Growth Awards for their 1997 tree activities.

A TOUGH SHRUB FOR FOUR SEASONS.
The native red-twig dogwood have long been appreciated for the bright red color of their branches during winter.
The Bergeson Compact Dogwood was discovered in a native stand near Gary, MN by Melvin Bergeson. He chose it for its deep-red winter branch color, its compact growth and for its prolific white spring bloom.
The most spectacular feature of the Bergeson Compact Dogwood is the color of the leaves in autumn. Changing from green to deep maroon and finally to a cherry red, the Bergeson Compact has better fall color than any dogwood on the market.
Although some dogwood get long and leggy, the Bergeson compact grows thick and dense.
Its growth can be easily controlled by cutting the shrub back to the ground once every couple of years. In fact, cutting dogwood back encourages new shoots which have an even brighter red winter color than the old stalks.
Dogwood are native and are perfectly hardy. They work well on the corners of a house or out in the yard.
Fall color, winter color, spring bloom, summer foliage—the Bergeson Compact dogwood contributes to the landscape all four seasons.
Nursery Hours: Extended Hours May 1-June 13: 8:30 a.m. - 8 p.m. Mon. - Sat. Noon to 6 p.m. Sundays
Bergeson Compact dogwood as well as all bare root trees and shrubs, can be purchased out of the cold storage building at Bergeson Nursery. Bare root trees and shrubs can be planted as soon as you can dig a hole in the ground.

Don't rush planting most plants

by Mike Phillips,
Master Gardener

One of the most oft-heard questions about gardening in our area is "When can I set my plants out...without worrying about them freezing!" Those of us who are master gardeners or nursery operators always have a ready answer that is predictably obscure. This is because the truth of the matter is that we really don't know when it is ABSOLUTELY safe (some would venture that it is never absolutely safe since deer and rabbits seem to take over when fear of frost ends).

With this up-front admission of ignorance made, let me proceed to lay out some general guidelines to setting out a garden in our cooler climate. As a general guideline, we can use the USDA plant hardiness map to help us schedule our garden plantings. The USDA and other publications as well, state that the average last frost date in hardiness zone three (which extends from about Fargo-Moorhead north to Winnipeg) is May 25.

This means that any plant that may be damaged by frost must either be planted after this date or protected from frost if planted prior to this date. Some plants can tolerate quite a bit of cool temperature while others wilt at the mere mention of cooler temperature, so great care must be taken to know your plants.

Another issue worthy of consideration is the actual ground temperature. Many an impatient gardener has planted annual flowers and vegetables in late April or early May, only to watch them struggle to hold onto life. While cole crops (cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower) can tolerate cool soil, most other plants cannot. It is better to wait until late May to plant in most cases because the improved soil temperature will encourage plant growth more than the cool wet ground. Another thought: cool wet soil contributes to fungus growth, so many plants may "damp" off under these conditions.

Even as we experience higher temperatures in late April (60-70 degrees F.) the ground temperature is not warm enough to sustain good plant vigor. My experience has been that smaller, younger plants planted later in warmer soil will quickly overtake older, larger plants planted earlier in cool soil.

Trees and shrubs can be planted during the early spring, but be sure to choose those specimens that are not fully leafed out if purchasing them from a garden center. Those specimens grown in other climates may look nice fully leafed out, but a late frost will damage and perhaps even kill them if they are planted alongside their still dormant cousins here in the north!

All in all, there are many things that can be done around the yard and in the garden in the early spring, but setting out tender plants is not one of them. We may be in a hurry to get things done, but Mother Nature is in no hurry and experience tells us that she still knows what she is doing!

The oldest advice is still the best; don't set your garden plants out until the new leaves on the oak tree are the size of a squirrel's ear.

When you eat'em, plant'em

by Richard Kruse,
Master Gardener

If you have complained that there aren't as many berries to pick as there were when you were a child, consider making your own patch. Just follow the rule of thumb, "when you eat them, plant them." This rule, which means put the seeds in the ground a couple of months before the ground freezes, is true for all our native plants except highbush cranberry.

Collect your berries. Eat them and save the seeds if they are large, or mash them up with some water in a container to help separate the seed from the pulp. You can then either pour the mixture into a row or strain, pick out the seeds and then plant them. In the case of wild strawberry, the berry will dry and you can then scrape the seeds off and plant them. Wait a couple of years until the plants are large enough to transplant during a dormant period.

Consider collecting and planting seeds when berries are scarce. They may be the survivors of the fittest. Likewise, do not use seed from berries not good enough to eat in a good year's crop. You may be propagating a weakness. In the case of Juneberries, try to pick some Canadian Saskatoons. Any further elaboration can be obtained from your Pennington County Master Gardeners.

Annuals offer abundant color

by David Race,
Master Gardener

The first thoughts of planting begin when the seed catalogs arrive during our long Minnesota winters. It's a great treat to make plans for an annual flower garden. Annuals offer a wonderful display of color that can be enjoyed all summer until a hard frost.

Some people do a mass planting of all colors, some do all red or yellow and I have seen a garden of all pink blooms. Red, white and blue is another color scheme and will probably be popular this end-of-a-millennium summer. A few bold people plant an all white flower garden, which is getting to be more popular.

Always keep in mind that you share your back yard with your neighbors. With a little weeding, water and fertilizer you will have a beautiful flower garden for all to enjoy.

Arbor Day can be every day!

by Meg Hunisch
MN DNR
division of forestry

To everyone concerned with the conservation of tree resources, Arbor Day is a day to celebrate! It's a special day when people learn about, plant, and care for trees.

Today all 50 states observe Arbor Day on various dates, and all plant trees on their Arbor Days. Minnesotans celebrate Arbor Day the last Friday in April — this year it's April 30 — along with most other states in the region. Since 1978, May has been Arbor month in Minnesota. By then, the ground has thawed to allow planting and weather is warm enough to get young trees off to a good start, and people have an entire month to celebrate planting instead of just a day.

Although we Minnesotans do have a confirmed date for Arbor Day, remember that every day can be Arbor Day. Plant, care for, or just enjoy trees, shrubs, flowers, and any other associated plant material every day of the year.

Do you know that it's possible for us to create harmony between living things and their environment — right in our back yards? Imagine yourself at ground level: a young rabbit, searching for tall grass or a pile of brush for cover; a monarch butterfly, lighting on the goldenrod that offers the sweetness of nectar; a northern cardinal seeking berries from an elderberry shrub. Is there a trail for safe passage through open areas? A place to water or find companionship with one's own kind? Our lawns and city lots are little ecosystems in themselves, providing places where creatures like butterflies, birds, robbits, fox, and plants make their homes and live their lives.

Most plants thrive in groups, or what we call plant "communities." Hundreds of plant and animal interactions occur there every day, functioning as a kind of self-sufficient, interacting living system. By planting a tree in combination with shrubs, flowers, and native grasses, your backyard plant community will flourish. You will need fewer chemicals to maintain it — and spend less time mowing the lawn.

If we keep the milkweed, we keep the butterflies. If we nurture the growth of the wild flowering plant, we provide the honeybee with flowers. Ecology can begin by setting aside even a portion of our yards to develop places that will support a living, functioning ecosystem. You can select fruiting shrubs and plants that attract birds, butterflies, and small mammals; grow thickets and hedgerows that offer cover to ground animals; create beds of native grasses and wild flowers.

Even from ground level we can think of the bigger picture by linking our efforts to those who live next door. As we refashion our own yards, we can work cooperatively across the property lines of our neighbors to provide larger habitats and traveling lanes for wildlife. Don't think "small!" Deer, fox, pheasants, and raccoons are likely travelers through, if not inhabitants of, the environment you nurture. The urban forest can truly begin in your backyard.

If you live in an apartment or town house, you are not out of the picture. Backyard feeding can take place on a deck railing in homemade or commercially purchased feeders. Plant flowers in pots and window boxes. Birds, squirrels, chipmunks — even moths can be served habitat from your home.

Arbor Day is an American tradition. Arbor celebrations began in Nebraska in 1872. Nebraska, along with other Great Plains states, had almost no trees. Still, the region grew flourishing agricultural crops and the climate was suitable for growing trees.

A man named J. Sterling Morton believed Nebraska needed more trees. He sponsored a campaign for tree planting in the state, setting aside April 10 for just that purpose. The idea spread. In 1876, Minnesota became the fourth state to adopt the tradition.

Now Arbor Day and Month ceremonies and tree plantings take place across the state and in many communities and school districts. Tree planting is the focus. However, the goal of the Arbor Day awareness is to instill respect for land and to prompt a consciousness of earth in Minnesota's young and older citizens alike.

In fact, we have become quite a leader in helping our citizenry "know trees" — the smell of pines, the sound of wind-rustled leaves, the how and the why of their growth and regeneration. Much of this leadership has been provided by Minnesota's Arbor Month Partnership — individuals who come together as a consortium of public and private organizations and individuals to meet regularly throughout the year to create and publish educational materials for all of the state's young people, and to assist one another in planning and celebrating Arbor Day and Month in communities throughout the state.

This year, the Minnesota Arbor Month Partnership and the Star Tribune Newspaper bring you a "Virtual Arbor Fair". You can enter this world of trees from the comfort of your home or classroom by going to www.startribune.com/education. More information on the Minnesota Arbor Month Partnership and on trees in general, can be obtained by writing: Minnesota Arbor Month Partnership, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4044.

Compost provides nutrients for growth in garden

Gardeners have been composting for centuries to increase organic matter in the soil as well as to provide essential nutrients for plant growth. With the ban on outdoor burning in many communities and the limits on dumping leaves and grass clippings in landfills, composting has become popular again as a logical alternative for the disposal of yard waste.

Many people mistakenly assume that the same benefits can be gained by placing uncomposted leaves and grass on the garden. However, when this is done the leaves and grass compete with the plant roots for available nitrogen. The garden plants can actually become weakened as available nutrients are tied up in the decomposition of the green material rather than feeding the plants' root systems.

Aeration, moisture, particle size and fertilizer are the four main requirements needed for proper composting.

• Aeration: A loose, well-mixed pile of compost will reach high internal temperatures that are necessary for destroying weed seeds and other undesirable pathogens. The absence of oxygen will create a foul smelling compost pile as well as slow down the process of decomposition.

• Moisture: If adequate rainfall is not received, a few minutes with the garden hose to moisten a compost pile are all that is needed. Do not over-water because a soggy compost pile will not decompose properly and will emit unwanted odors.

• Particle size: Putting branches and large stems, such as those from broccoli plants, into a compost pile will slow down the process of decomposing. The use of a chopper or shredder is beneficial in reducing the material to be composted into small pieces that will break down quickly. Even a hand pruner can be used to cut larger material into smaller pieces.

• Fertilizer: Nitrogen should be added to a compost pile, because microbes that aid in the decomposition of organic matter use nitrogen for their metabolism.

Grass clippings are generally high in nitrogen and will aid in composting if properly mixed with other materials. Grass clippings from lawns that have had herbicides applied recently should not be used in a compost pile. Kitchen waste, such as eggshells and meat scraps, should not be used as they attract rodents and other unwanted creatures. Pet waste should be avoided because of the possibility of spreading disease.

Compost should be prepared in layers eight to 10 inches deep, with the coarser material placed at the bottom. Each layer should be watered until moist - not soggy. To provide nitrogen for the microbial activity to begin, a cup of lawn or garden fertilizer per 25 square feet or a two-inch layer of livestock manure should be added to each layer of material that is to be composted. A one-inch layer of garden soil or completed compost should be placed next. The purpose of adding garden soil is to provide microbes to aid in the composting process. Repeat this layering until you have filled the compost bin three-quarters full.

An active compost pile will reach internal temperatures of 130-160 degrees. If steam can be seen rising on a cool morning, you will know that proper composting is taking place. The pile should be turned when the temperature begins to cool. The composting process is essentially complete when mixing no longer produces heat in the pile. It will usually take two months for a well managed compost pile to decompose.

Eight Things You Should Know About Caring For TREES

The National Arbor Day Foundation®
www.arborday.org

1 Don't Top Trees!

Never cut main branches back to stubs. Ugly, weakly attached limbs often grow back higher than the original branches. Many arborists say that topping is the worst thing you can do for the health of a tree.

2 Use the 1/3 Rules for Pruning

- Never remove more than 1/3 of a tree's crown
- Where possible try to encourage side branches that form angles that are 1/3 off vertical (10:00 or 2:00 positions).
- For most species, the tree should have a single trunk.
- Ideally, main side branches should be at least 1/3 smaller than the diameter of the trunk
- If removal of main branches is necessary, cut them back to the trunk to avoid leaving stubs
- For most deciduous (broadleaf) trees, don't prune up from the bottom any more than 1/3 of the tree's total height.

3 How to Make a Pruning Cut

Large Limbs:

A: Make a partial cut from beneath.
B: Make a second cut from above several inches out and allow the limb to fall.
C: Complete the job with a final cut just outside the branch collar.

Small Branches:

Make a sharp, clean cut, just beyond a lateral bud or other branch.

Correct Cut · Too Close · Too Long · Too Slanted

The appearance of a properly pruned tree is like a good haircut: hardly noticeable at first glance.

4 The Value of Mulch

A tree's best friend, mulch insulates soil, retains moisture, keeps out weeds, prevents soil compaction, reduces lawnmower damage, and adds an aesthetic touch to a yard or street. Remove any grass within the mulch area, an area from 3 to 10 feet in diameter, depending on tree size. Pour wood chips or bark pieces 2 to 4 inches deep within the circle, but not touching the trunk.

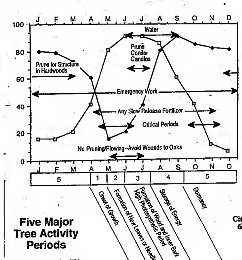
5 Where Roots Really Grow

We don't always appreciate how far roots can extend. Understanding how and where roots grow will help you avoid damage from trenching and construction.

- Because roots need oxygen, they don't normally grow in compacted oxygen-poor soil under paved streets.
- Most of the roots are within 18 inches of the surface.
- Roots often grow outward to a diameter one to two times the height of the tree.

6 Girdling Kills Trees

Girdling is caused by weed trimmers, lawn mowers, chained dogs, etc., that injure the bark of a tree trunk, extending around much of the trunk's circumference. Such injuries destroy the tree's most vital membranes. These layers conduct water and minerals from the roots to the leaves, and return the food produced by the leaves to the rest of the tree.



7 Your Street Trees May Be City Trees

If you live in a town or city, the trees near the street (often between the sidewalk and street), are probably city-owned. The city should have a program for planting and caring for these trees. Support the Tree City USA community forestry program where you live. Respect local ordinances as to what trees can be planted, how to prune, etc. Encourage your town to fully fund a quality tree-planting and tree-care program.

8 Tree Activity Periods vs. Tree Stored Energy

A Guide for Optimum Planning of Tree Care Practices

Five Major Tree Activity Periods

EBERHULETT • KENNEDY • RICK

City Forester 681-1835

Most effective tree treatments match dose and timing to state of tree's stored energy.

How much energy a tree has is dependent on many factors, but given normal health a tree's energy is directly related to what a tree is doing at the time.

We must learn to time our treatments to the advantage of the tree.

Add children to summer gardening fun

by Cheri Benter-Collette, Master Gardener

Gardening with children can be a great way to enjoy summer while spending time with your children. With planning and some preparation beforehand, children will both enjoy and benefit from the experience of growing things.

The first step in planning a child's garden is to designate an area that is small enough for the child so that she/he doesn't become overwhelmed with the project. Consider the amount of sunlight the garden area will receive and the type of soil in that location. Ask your child what they would like to grow – flowers, vegetables or a combination of both. Show them pictures of plants that will grow in the location of their garden, and let them choose what they would like to plant.

Next, prepare the area for planting. Children shouldn't be expected to participate in this part of the project. After the garden area has been prepared for planting, ask your child where she/he would like to place the seeds/plants that were selected. Children will enjoy helping you water and weed as they watch their gardens grow. No vegetables taste better and no flowers look prettier than those grown in one's own garden.

Although it isn't necessary, children enjoy having their own child-sized tools, such as gloves, watering cans and trowels. Teaching a child how to garden can lead to a lifelong hobby of gardening and appreciation of our environment.

Learning about plants a never ending project

I like trees, but they fall down, are messy, get sick, attract insects and are fussy. On the other hand, trees are colorful, provide shade, stop the wind, block snowstorms and support a child's swing. Every year I learn more about trees. The more I learn, the more I learn how ignorant I am.

When we bought the "patch," I couldn't wait to get most of it planted to Colorado Blue spruce; in my mind the most beautiful evergreen we can raise. So we did, and we spaced them about 10 feet apart. Today, these trees, 20 years later, present a dense planting. Over the past few years, we've noticed a definite browning of the lower branches and many bare branches. When I asked the "U" for help, they told me that the Colorado Blue spruce is the most susceptible, least resistant spruce to the needlecast disease and they do not recommend it for shelterbelt plantings. Maybe they would be okay for isolated specimen planting. What a shock! We have 150 Colorado Blues, so what do we do? Experts told us we could spray with a fungicide that may control the disease, so this we have done–with a hand sprayer trying to reach the tops of 20-foot trees! Anyway, knowing what I now know, I would certainly do it differently. The fungicide seems to have helped, but many of our spruce are damaged.

Hallock - Like many other Minnesota students, Kittson Central eighth graders took part in the Minnesota basics skills tests in February.

Ninety-five percent of the Kittson Central eighth graders passed the test, the highest percentage of the over 350 school districts and 450 individual eighth grade level schools taking the annual test.

Eighty-seven percent of the school's eighth graders passed the reading portion of the test. Overall, Kittson Central placed in the top 92 percent of schools involved in the testing. Kittson County Enterprise

Crookston DJ gets into the comics

Crookston - On Monday, Crookston radio announcer Chris Melbye became the first-ever actual person to appear in the comic strip "One Big Happy."

Two years ago Melbye told a radio guest, "See you in the funny papers," a habit he had picked up from his uncle. That led him to muse on the air about how much fun it would be to actually make the comics.

Last month Melbye e-mailed Rick Detorie, the comic's creator and asked if he could be in the comic. To his surprise, Detorie said yes and told him to send a few photos.

"One Big Happy" features the antics of loud-mouth Ruthie and her family. Melbye appeared in the comic as a kid with glasses who had the nerve to call Ruthie a shrimp even though she could look down at the top of his head. In addition to using Melbye's likeness, he also used his name.

Melbye is the son of Allen and Fern of Thief River Falls and the fiancee of ADawn McLean, ag teacher at Lincoln High School. Crookston Daily Times

Miss Stephen to be crowned May 13

Stephen - Last June the reigning Miss Stephen 1998, Holly Kostrzewski, gave up her title when she was crowned Miss Marshall County. On Wednesday, May 13, she will crown Miss Stephen 1999 at the Stephen Community Center.

The event will also include performances by local musicians and dancers, and Holly will present her platform, asthma awareness. The Messenger

Grocery delivery program begins in Kennedy May 13

Kennedy - In a dramatic move to provide its citizens with the essential service of a grocery store, Kennedy's city council will put a grocery delivery program into action on May 13.

On Thursdays, a volunteer driver and assistant will pick up seniors who have signed up and take them to Hallock where they will be able to buy groceries, tend to other errands and appointments, visit at the nursing center or have coffee at a local restaurant. The van will be provided by Kittson Memorial Healthcare Center and is handicap accessible. North Star News

Glenn Peterson was recognized recently by the City of Thief River Falls for 34 years of service on the city's planning commission.

Peterson cited for 34 years on planning commission

Glenn Peterson has been recognized for 34 years of service on the Thief River Falls planning commission by the City of Thief River Falls. He first began his service to the city in February of 1965 under appointment by Mayor Orin Green.

According to Don Stewart, community development director for the City of Thief River Falls, the city established a planning commission by resolution on May 15, 1962. In July, Mayor Green appointed James Parkins, Lowell Swenson and Donald Barron to one-year terms; Les Ihle and Roger Tunberg to two-year terms; and Clarence Stromberg and J. J. Womack to three-year terms.

In November of 1963 Parkins and Barron were reappointed and Edgar Hetteen was appointed to succeed Swenson. In 1965, Ihle and Tunberg were reappointed and Glenn Peterson was added to the commission by appointment.

A consulting firm from Minneapolis—Hodne-Stageberg—was hired in October of 1963 to assist the city with comprehensive long-range planning. When the plan was completed and accepted by the city in 1970, Peterson was chairman of the planning commission.

Don Barron continues as a member of the commission, having served since appointed to the first commission in 1962. He has also served for some time as a member of the city council.

Other current members of the commission include Pam Cwikla, Conrad Holten, Kermit Genereux, Chad Broadwell, Steve Tsukichi, Mike Parker, Richard Sjoberg and Rick Reierson.

Glenn Peterson recently retired from his association with the NAPA auto parts store in Thief River Falls. He started working at Falls Supply in 1960 after 14 years with the local Gamble's store. In partnership with Duane Larson, he purchased that store in 1962.

Peterson and Larson sold the business in June of 1985 to Larry Altringer, Larry Piante and Wes Faul of Crookston and the name of the store was changed to NAPA/Falls Supply. Peterson managed the store until 1991 when ownership changed to another Crookston group. He continued to work for the new owners until his recent retirement.

Ag commissioner explains views on CRP acreage limit

Minnesota's Department of Agriculture was identified by a U.S. Department of Agriculture official last week as an opponent to CRP acreage limit extension in Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties. The reference was made in a letter rejecting an extension request which had been made by the Minnesota Farm Service Agency office.

In today's Public Opinion column on Page 6, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture Gene Hugoson explains his views on the acreage waiver question. The subject is also the topic of today's editorial on the same page.

Band Boosters organization will host a reception for the graduating band members in the high school cafeteria following the concert.

Jo Vigen is "Woman of Distinction"

Jolyn Vigen of Thief River Falls was one of 11 women honored by The Women's Business Institute and KVLY-TV during Women's Showcase recently at the Fargodome in Fargo, ND. The event included an honors luncheon and introduction on the main stage during the Showcase.

Nominations were judged on personal, professional and/or community service experience. The only qualification for nomination was that the women had to live in the eastern half of North Dakota or northwestern Minnesota.

Other women named to receive the award were Becky Rennicke, Perham; Verna LaBounty, Kindred, ND; Barbara McLain, Hatton, ND; Dr. Ellen Chaffee, Valley City, ND; JoNell Moore, Paula Eckman and Tish Kelly, Fargo, ND; Dione Cox and Lauren Fordyce-Hollifield, Grand Forks, ND; and Betty Langseth, Argusville, ND.

Mrs. Vigen was nominated for the recognition by her daughter, Elizabeth Vigen-Plante of Thief River Falls. Information from the nomination letter includes the following:

Prior to marriage and relocation to Thief River Falls, Jo worked as a Registered Nurse and also taught nursing in the Twin Cities area. After moving to Thief River Falls, she served as director of in-service education at Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls. She also helped to develop curriculum for the nursing program at Northland college in Thief River Falls as part of a nursing consortium.

For the past 22 years she has worked with the Head Start program which serves pre-school children and their families and has been director of the program for the past 13 years. While with Head Start she has served on several school district committees in Thief River Falls, including the early education and community education committees.

Jo has been a part of the Pennington County Mental Health Collaborative and is currently serving on the advisory board for the Pennington County Family Preservation Project. She has also been appointed for a second term on the Governor's Council for Early Intervention which meets in St. Paul every other month.

"Despite her busy professional life," Elizabeth wrote in her nomination letter, "Jo has devoted her personal life to raising her six children, which she feels is her greatest accomplishment. I am the oldest of those children with children of my own, and I always know that Mom will have time for all of us.

"Mom will retire in May, but I believe she will always be available to advise any individual or committee if asked. She is one of the most willing and dedicated women that I know."

Nursing home adds cat as resident

By Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Nursing homes and assisted care facilities across the nation will be bustling with activity next week as communities celebrate National Homes for the Aging Week May 9-15.

With a full slate of events planned, Greenbush Community Nursing Home is no exception. One particular resident at the home, however, may or may not take in all of the excitement. It will depend on what kind of mood she's in.

Although she came from humble beginnings, this resident's independent nature gives her an almost haughty air. She's a handsome, well-groomed female who spends hours each day meticulously preening herself.

She has the run of the home even though, at times, she's forgotten her manners and been banned from the dining room. That's fine with her, however, as she enjoys her meals in a private setting.

Some of the residents ignore her while others have developed an affection for her. Some even vie for her attention.

This eccentric resident's name is "Pillow," and she's a cat which took up residency at the home on March 22 as part of a new program being implemented by the facility. "The concept," says activities director Stacy Hahn, "is called 'Edenizing'."

A number of factors are involved in an Edenizing nursing home.

First, administration and staff understand that loneliness, helplessness and boredom account for the majority of suffering in the typical nursing home, and the home commits itself to giving up the institutional point of view and adopting a human habitat model that makes pets, plants and children elements of daily life at the home.

The Edenizing nursing home provides easy access to these elements, promoting close and continuing contact.

Prescription drugs and programmed activities take a back seat to resources which will contribute to the maintenance and growth of the habitat. Residents are encouraged to give as well as receive care by participating in the daily activities necessary to maintain the dwelling place.

In an Edenizing nursing home top-down bureaucratic authority gives way to placing the maximum possible amount of decision-making authority with the residents themselves or those closest to them.

An Edenizing home provides an atmosphere of spontaneity and variety where unexpected and unpredictable interactions take place.

In a nutshell, Edenizing is about residents enjoying life in an environment that feels like home instead of an institution. Plants, visiting children and resident pets are all elements that can help create that feeling.

Albin Miller enjoys spending time with "Pillow," a resident pet at Greenbush Community Nursing Home. The addition of pets at nursing homes is part of a concept called "Edenizing." The Greenbush facility will join nursing homes across the country in celebrating National Homes for the Aged Week May 9-15.

Hallock - Like many other Minnesota students, Kittson Central eighth graders took part in the Minnesota basics skills tests in February.

Ninety-five percent of the Kittson Central eighth graders passed the test, the highest percentage of the over 350 school districts and 450 individual eighth grade level schools taking the annual test.

Eighty-seven percent of the school's eighth graders passed the reading portion of the test. Overall, Kittson Central placed in the top 92 percent of schools involved in the testing. Kittson County Enterprise

Crookston DJ gets into the comics

Crookston - On Monday Crookston radio announcer Chris Melbye became the first-ever actual person to appear in the comic strip "One Big Happy."

Two years ago Melbye told a radio guest, "See you in the funny papers," a habit he had picked up from his uncle. That led him to muse on the air about how much fun it would be to actually make the comics.

Last month Melbye e-mailed Rick Detorie, the comic's creator and asked if he could be in the comic. To his surprise, Detorie said yes and told him to send a few photos.

"One Big Happy" features the antics of loud-mouth Ruthie and her family. Melbye appeared in the comic as a kid with glasses who had the nerve to call Ruthie a shrimp even though she could look down at the top of his head. In addition to using Melbye's likeness he also used his name.

Melbye is the son of Allen and Fern of Thief River Falls, and the fiancee of AOawn McLean, ag teacher at Lincoln High School. Crookston Daily Times

Grocery delivery program begins in Kennedy May 13

Kennedy - In a dramatic move to provide its citizens with the essential service of a grocery store, Kennedy's city council will put a grocery delivery program into action on May 13.

On Thursdays, a volunteer driver and assistant will pick up seniors who have signed up and take them to Hallock where they will be able to buy groceries, tend to other errands and appointments, visit at the nursing center or have coffee at a local restaurant. The van will be provided by Kittson Memorial Healthcare Center and is handicap accessible. North Star News

Glenn Peterson was recognized recently by the City of Thief River Falls for 34 years of service on the city's planning commission.

Peterson cited for 34 years on planning commission

Glenn Peterson has been recognized for 34 years of service on the Thief River Falls planning commission by the City of Thief River Falls. He first began his service to the city in February of 1965 under appointment by Mayor Orin Green.

According to Don Stewart, community development director for the City of Thief River Falls, the city established a planning commission by resolution on May 15, 1962. In July, Mayor Green appointed James Parkins, Lowell Swenson and Donald Barron to one-year terms; Les Ihle and Roger Tunberg to two-year terms; and Clarence Stromberg and J. J. Womack to three-year terms.

In November of 1963 Parkins and Barron were reappointed and Edgar Hetteen was appointed to succeed Swenson. In 1965, Ihle and Tunberg were reappointed and Glenn Peterson was added to the commission by appointment.

A consulting firm from Minneapolis—Hodne-Stageberg—was hired in October of 1963 to assist the city with comprehensive long-range planning. When the plan was completed and accepted by the city in 1970, Peterson was chairman of the planning commission.

Don Barron continues as a member of the commission, having served since appointed to the first commission in 1962. He has also served for some time as a member of the city council.

Other current members of the commission include Pam Cwikla, Conrad Holten, Kermit Genereux, Chad Broadwell, Steve Tsukichi, Mike Parker, Richard Sjoberg and Rick Reierson.

Glenn Peterson recently retired from his association with the NAPA auto parts store in Thief River Falls. He started working at Falls Supply in 1960 after 14 years with the local Gamble's store. In partnership with Duane Larson, he purchased the store in 1962.

Peterson and Larson sold the business in June of 1985 to Larry Altringer, Larry Plante and Wes Faul of Crookston and the name of the store was changed to NAPA/Falls Supply. Peterson managed the store until 1991 when ownership changed to another Crookston group. He continued to work for the new owners until his recent retirement.

Ag commissioner explains views on CRP acreage limit

Minnesota's Department of Agriculture was identified by a U.S. Department of Agriculture official last week as an opponent to CRP acreage limit extension in Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties. The reference was made in a letter rejecting an extension request which had been made by the Minnesota Farm Service Agency office.

Jolyn Vigen of Thief River Falls was one of 11 women honored by The Women's Business Institute and KVLY-TV during Women's Showcase recently at the Fargodome in Fargo, ND. The event included an honors luncheon and introduction on the main stage during the Showcase.

Nominations were judged on personal, professional and/or community service experience. The only qualification for nomination was that the women had to live in the eastern half of North Dakota or northwestern Minnesota.

Other women named to receive the award were Becky Rennicke, Perham; Verna LaBounty, Kindred, ND; Barbara McLain, Hatton, ND; Dr. Ellen Chaffee, Valley City, ND; JoNell Moore, Paula Eckman and Tish Kelly, Fargo, ND; Dione Cox and Lauren Fordyce-Hollifield, Grand Forks, ND; and Betty Langseth, Argusville, ND.

Mrs. Vigen was nominated for the recognition by her daughter, Elizabeth Vigen-Plante of Thief River Falls. Information from the nomination letter includes the following.

Prior to marriage and relocation to Thief River Falls, Jo worked as a Registered Nurse and also taught nursing in the Twin Cities area. After moving to Thief River Falls, she served as director of in-service education at Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls. She also helped to develop curriculum for the nursing program at Northland college in Thief River Falls as part of a nursing consortium.

For the past 22 years she has worked with the Head Start program which serves pre-school children and their families and has been director of the program for the past 13 years. While with Head Start she has served on several school district committees in Thief River Falls, including the early education and community education committees.

Jo has been a part of the Pennington County Mental Health Collaborative and is currently serving on the advisory board for the Pennington County Family Preservation Project. She has also been appointed for a second term on the Governor's Council for Early Intervention which meets in St. Paul every other month.

"Despite her busy professional life," Elizabeth wrote in her nomination letter, "Jo has devoted her personal life to raising her six children, which she feels is her greatest accomplishment. I am the oldest of those children with children of my own, and I always know that Mom will have time for all of us.

"Mom will retire in May, but I believe she will always be available to advise any individual or committee if asked. She is one of the most willing and dedicated women that I know."

Nursing home adds cat as resident

By Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Nursing homes and assisted care facilities across the nation will be hustling with activity next week as communities celebrate National Homes for the Aging Week May 9-15.

With a full slate of events planned, Greenbush Community Nursing Home is no exception. One particular resident at the home, however, may or may not take in all of the excitement. It will depend on what kind of mood she's in.

Although she came from humble beginnings, this resident's independent nature gives her an almost haughty air. She's a handsome, well-groomed female who spends hours each day meticulously preening herself.

She has the run of the home even though, at times, she's forgotten her manners and been banned from the dining room. That's fine with her, however, as she enjoys her meals in a private setting.

Some of the residents ignore her while others have developed an affection for her. Some even vie for her attention.

This eccentric resident's name is "Pillow," and she's a cat which took up residency at the home on March 22 as part of a new program being implemented by the facility. "The concept," says activities director Stacy Hahn, "is called 'Edenizing'."

A number of factors are involved in an Edenizing nursing home.

First, administration and staff understand that loneliness, helplessness and boredom account for the majority of suffering in the typical nursing home, and the home commits itself to giving up the institutional point of view and adopting a human habitat model that makes pets, plants and children elements of daily life at the home.

The Edenizing nursing home provides easy access to these elements, promoting close and continuing contact.

Prescription drugs and programmed activities take a back seat to resources which will contribute to the maintenance and growth of the habitat. Residents are encouraged to give as well as receive care by participating in the daily activities necessary to maintain the dwelling place.

In an Edenizing nursing home top-down bureaucratic authority gives way to placing the maximum possible amount of decision-making authority with the residents themselves or those closest to them.

An Edenizing home provides an atmosphere of spontaneity and variety where unexpected and unpredictable interactions take place.

In a nutshell, Edenizing is about residents enjoying life in an environment that feels like home instead of an institution. Plants, visiting children and resident pets are all elements that can help create that feeling.

Albin Miller enjoys spending time with "Pillow," a resident pet at Greenbush Community Nursing Home. The addition of pets at nursing homes is part of a concept called "Edenizing." The Greenbush facility will join nursing homes across the country in celebrating National Homes for the Aged Week May 9-15.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

"I had a call about the Rhubarb Crisp in last week's Soupcon and something is wrong with it. It appears that the crumble topping is incomplete - In other words, brown sugar and butter do not a crumble topping make. The lady said it turned out more like ice cream topping - rather gloppy. Add 1 cup of flour and 1 teaspoon baking powder to the topping of brown sugar and butter, crumble it over the rhubarb mixture in the pan, and I believe it will be fine. Sorry about that."

We'll have a few more rhubarb recipes and then that will be enough for this year.

RHUBARB BARS

Crust:
1 cup oatmeal
2 cups flour
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup shortening

Combine and work like pie crust. Press 3/4 of the mixture in 9x13 inch pan, reserving the remainder.

Filling:
1 cup orange slice candy, cut up
3 cups rhubarb
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup cold water

Dissolve cornstarch in cold water in saucepan (or micro-safe bowl), then add remaining filling ingredients. Cook until thick, remove from heat and add vanilla (or microwave until thick).

Pour over crust and tap with remaining crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until browned and bubbling all over.

Here's a coffee-type cake that can you can make with pretty much whatever you have in the kitchen - good plain as well as topped:

RHUBARB CAKE

1 1/2 cups sugar (white or brown)
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg
1 cup sour milk, sour cream or buttermilk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cups rhubarb, cut up

Topping:
1/2 cup sugar, either kind
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream shortening, sugar and egg. Add milk and sifted dry ingredients. Fold in vanilla and rhubarb.

Place in 9x13 inch pan and sprinkle with mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes or until tests done. Can serve with whipped topping or ice cream.

Very fancy little treats - especially nice to make for guests:

MINIATURE RHUBARB

SHORTCAKES

1 (1 layer size) yellow cake mix
3 cups finely cut rhubarb
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
Whipped cream

Follow directions on cake mix but use 2 tablespoons less liquid. Fold in 1 cup rhubarb. Bake in greased and floured muffin tins 18-20 minutes at 375 degrees.

Meanwhile, prepare rhubarb-pineapple sauce as follows:

In saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch, pineapple juice and remaining 2 cups rhubarb. Stir constantly until it comes to a full boil, then simmer for 5 minutes.

Cut each cake in half. Pour sauce on bottom half and cap with top half. Pour sauce on top and top with whipped cream or topping.

How about a tasty bread for coffee this afternoon (if your rhubarb's up yet):

RHUBARB NUT BREAD

1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2/3 cup oil
1 egg
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups fresh rhubarb, diced
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Topping:
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon butter

Combine in order given. Place in greased and floured loaf pan and sprinkle topping over the batter. Bake at 325 degrees about 1 hour.

And this final rhubarb recipe is from my Grandma's Muffin Book from Osakis, MN:

RHUBARB MUFFINS

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or oil
1 egg
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 cups finely cut rhubarb
1/2 cup nuts
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt

Topping:
1 teaspoon melted butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine sugar, butter and egg and mix well.

Sift flour and baking powder. Stir soda into sour milk. Alternately add flour and milk mixtures to sugar mixture, stirring well. Add rhubarb and nuts.

To make topping, combine melted butter, sugar and cinnamon. Place on top of muffins before baking.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. (Makes 16-18 large muffins.) (Cranberries can be substituted for rhubarb.)

Agassiz refuge celebrates 7th migratory bird day

Saturday, May 8, has been designated as International Migratory Bird Day. This year's theme is titled "Catch the Migration Sensation." Ornithologists and bird watchers have observed populations of many migratory birds decline due to degradation of their habitat. Habitat loss is occurring in North and South America and worldwide due to man-made causes. "Partners in Flight," a joint government inter-agency and private organization, was initiated eight years ago to call public attention to the plight of these birds and educate people about the needs of birds. "Partners in Flight" serves as a coordinator and facilitator for migratory bird conservation.

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will celebrate this day one week later on Sunday, May 16, 1999 to allow later migrant birds to arrive. The office will be open from 1 to 5:30 p.m., rain or shine. Refreshments and cookies served during the day are provided by the Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Audubon Sanctuary and McDonald's. Several birding videos will be shown throughout the day. Cassette tapes with bird calls and songs will be played during the day. Lost Bay Habitat Drive and the 100 foot Observation Tower will be open to the public. International Migratory Bird Day posters will be available on a first come first serve basis. Other general refuge and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service information will also be available.

Two birding tours will be given on the refuge led by Jeanie Joppru, Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Audubon Sanctuary member and Shelley Steva, National Audubon Society member. Tours will start at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. starting at Headquarters observing warblers and songbirds then driving one of the refuge roads observing waterfowl and other wetland bird species. Tours will last around two hours. Outdoor birding activities will be completed only if weather and road conditions permit.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Originally designed to provide federal dollars to disadvantaged school children, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) of 1965 must be reviewed by Congress every five years. Newly-elected President Bill Clinton used the opportunity to re-write the 1994 version, with several hundred pages of strict federal controls added. Then he enlarged the ESEA budget to $12.5 billion in one year alone to fund Goals 2000. It remains the largest bill for federally funded education.

Prior to this, however, Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton, as vice-chair and later chairman of the Governor's Conference, together with wife Hillary (then on the board of trustees of NCEE), Marc Tucker, president of the National Center in Education and the Economy (NCEE), and Ira Magaziner, among many others, set into place the policies to follow.

Obviously, given the dates above, the learning community of Thief River Falls did not develop any aspect of Goals 2000. Goals 2000 is a federal plan devised by federal bureaucrats long before 1994. For anyone to assert that Goals 2000 is a locally-developed system controlled by local officials is an untruth.

Commonly called "predetermined consensus"—using the "manipulation of various committees, task forces or other groups to give the appearance of group decision-making when the outcome of the group process has been previously established by those who are setting up the group and orchestrating its activities"—it is used by central planners to give the appearance of local decision-making when none exists.

By design, the community of Thief River Falls and the state and nation at large have no idea what was involved in the development and implementation of Goals 2000.

Under the umbrella of Goals 2000 you have the National Agenda of the NCEE. Minnesota's application for Goals 2000 funds states "the centerpiece of Minnesota's education improvement plan [for Goals 2000 money] is the implementation of graduation standards for all students." Minnesota is meeting the guidelines of the national Goals 2000 agenda by means of the Graduation Standards, especially by the Profile of Learning.

The 1996 report to the Legislature by the State Board of Education and the Department of Children, Families and Learning (CFL) explain that Minnesota's new system of education is designed to meet the requirements of the federal plan.

The Profile of Learning consists of two parts. First, all students must pass an eighth grade level competency test to be eligible to graduate from a public high school. Second, the high school level of the Profile of Learning requires by law that students must complete 24 "content standards" to be eligible to graduate from a public high school.

The rules specify that the content standards can only be met by the completion of performance packages. The Profile also requires schools teach 78 content standards from K-12, including the 24 required in high school.

The Profile is primarily Minnesota's way of implementing the National Education agenda, including Goals 2000, School to Work and the Secretary's Commission on Achieving Necessary Skills (SCANS) report. It is the centerpiece of Minnesota's compliance with Goals 2000. All of the basic tenets of the Profile of Learning are outlined in the chart from the SCANS report.

By the NCEE's own admission, the Profile of Learning radically reinvents education, reorganizes work-based learning (School to Work) and restructures educational assessment.

That is exactly why parents, teachers and people concerned enough with educational issues are taking a stand against the Profile.

Although in early February the Minnesota House of Representatives, by a vote of 92-35, voted to repeal the Profile, it is still a hotly debated subject on the Minnesota Senate floor. There are senators, including Senator Roger Moe, who are convinced that the Senate should change only certain aspects of the Profile of Learning. He does not understand just what the Profile is, or what the impact of the radical reinvention of education will be.

What is this "radical reinvention?" The fundamental content of the Profile of Learning promotes an unabashed Socialist World view.

Do we want this?

Sincerely,
Barbara Chervestad
Oklee, Minnesota

To The Editor:

Recent news coverage of a proposal to raise the Conservation Reserve Program acreage limit in northwestern Minnesota mentioned my opposition to this proposal, but did not take the time to explain my views. I would like to take a moment to do so.

In a March 19 letter, USDA's Farm Service Agency State Executive Director Tracy Beckman asked me to comment on the question of increasing CRP acreage limits in Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties. I responded by saying that while I recognize the important benefits CRP offers, I had concerns about what an increase in the acreage limit might mean for the health of agriculture in these counties.

I advised that FSA carefully consider the impact of idling large portions of tillable acreage in a region for 10 years. Such a move could handicap the agricultural industry in that area, and would give local producers very little flexibility to adjust their operations when prices rebound. CRP land idled due to low prices in 1999 would not be available to farmers until 2009, no matter what happened with prices in the interim.

Furthermore, idling large percentages of farm land could severely impact implement dealers and other small-town Minnesota businesses that depend on healthy agricultural activity for sales. With fewer farmers growing fewer crops and buying fewer inputs and implements, the economic balance of the community would be radically affected.

I was also concerned that the CRP payments intended to benefit producers would too often wind up in the hands of absentee landlords. I asked officials if they could tell me whether most of the additional CRP payments would stay in the local communities or if they would be paid to absentee landlords elsewhere. No one could give me an answer.

It is easy to understand why farmers would want to enroll their land in CRP now more than ever. Given current commodity prices, a farmer could quite possibly do better by idling his or her land and collecting the CRP payments than by investing time and money in a crop. However, commodity prices will not stay as low as they are now, and if we idle even larger percentages of ag land today, young farmers looking to enter farming when prices are good may be thwarted by the higher land rents that would come with a reduction in the amount of land available.

Recognizing the bind farmers are in, I suggested that there might be alternatives to simply lifting CRP acreage limits under existing program rules. For one, I told FSA I would be more inclined to support higher acreage limits if there was an alternative CRP format allowing farmers to idle their land for shorter periods—perhaps three to five years rather than the full 10 years. Also, I pointed out that federal farm assistance could be most effectively delivered through programs custom-built to fit the current economic situation.

When I responded to the FSA letter, I assumed they would take my views into account. However, I never expected to see federal officials quoted as saying my opinion swayed their decision. I hope my words carry similar weight next time I talk with them about federal milk pricing reform or international trade issues.

Sincerely,
Gene Hugoson
Commissioner of Agriculture

To The Editor:

On Sunday, April 25, the Heritage Community Center and Senior Nutrition Council held their annual volunteer appreciation banquet. We were fortunate enough to have six members of the Lincoln high school Key Club come and serve the banquet for us. They did an exemplary job and are to be highly commended for a job well done.

In the wake of all the tragedies befalling our country's schools, these kids showed us what the majority of our students are all about. The words I find best to describe these youth are caring, considerate and most definitely an asset to our community. Once again, my thanks go to these kids for helping make our banquet a success.

Also on April 25 the Lincoln Key Club held a senior citizen prom for all area seniors in the school gym which was still decorated from the junior-senior prom the evening before. About 75 people attended and the students putting it on did a fabulous job.

Not only were we able to see the wonderful decorating job the juniors had done for their own prom, but there was a band for the dance, refreshments and numerous door prizes. These kids treated their guests like royalty.

I hope word gets out that the Key Club holds this prom every year on the Sunday following the high school prom. When our youth work so hard to give back to the community like they did with this event it would be great if the community would respond and maybe next year they will have a full gym.

The Heritage Center board would like to say thank you to all those involved in putting on a most successful senior citizen prom.

Sincerely,
Shannon Olson, director

USDA Decision On CRP Shows Where Control Really Is Concentrated

Late last week the U.S. Department of Agriculture informed the Minnesota office of the federal Farm Service Agency that its request for extension of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage to 30 percent of the cropland acres in Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties had not been approved.

Federal regulations in the CRP program historically have restricted the acreage enrolled in CRP in any county to 25 percent of that county's crop acres. The reason is apparently to protect to some extent the agri-business economy of the counties since lands placed under CRP contract are idled from production, require little in the way of maintenance and nothing in the form of production inputs such as fuel, fertilizer, seed or equipment. Over the past decade or so the limitation has been no particular problem, and in most counties that situation is unchanged.

In the last CRP sign-up, however, the qualifying acreage offered for contract in the three counties noted above was well beyond the 25 percent limit. We emphasize qualifying acres because a point system was applied to offers in the last couple of CRP sign-ups to determine eligibility. Therefore, the only reason that the offers were not accepted was that they exceeded the allowable percentage in the county.

A mechanism supposedly exists, however, to have the 25 percent limitation waived, and that procedure was followed in an effort to secure the waiver for Marshall, Pennington and Roseau counties. The request was supported by large majorities in surveys conducted by Farm Service Agency (FSA) offices in the counties and by the state FSA board and State Director Tracy Beckman, who submitted the request to USDA. A new director of the agency, Beckman had made more than one personal visit to this area to assess the situation himself.

Many inside and outside of FSA had expected approval of the request, given the care applied to following the specified procedure and the unique nature of the situation. Boards of county commissioners in all three counties approved making the extension request. Most area people were surprised when the request was denied.

And many were puzzled when Patricia W. Garamendi, assistant deputy administrator for farm programs at USDA, informed Director Beckman in the letter of non-approval that one of the reasons was that "....the Minnesota Department of Agriculture recommended that the waiver be denied because enrollment of the additional acreage would have an adverse economic impact on the counties."

Congressman Collin Peterson was among those to express "deep regret" about the USDA decision. "Our farmers are in a world of hurt already," he said, "and USDA has blocked one way to help some of them keep their farms....The real economic injury will come when these farmers are gone. The rural communities in these counties understand that their own economic futures depend on the survival of these farms.

"It's difficult to understand how USDA and the opponents can be so short-sighted," Rep. Peterson continues. "Our farmers have fought bad weather, disease and low prices for several years now. The waiver would have offered some farms a chance to hold on. They were refused that chance."

We have wondered about the state agriculture department's position in this situation, given the devotion to the state's farm economy which has been demonstrated consistently and emphatically by Commissioner Gene Hugoson throughout his time in office—so we called his office and asked about it. Communications Coordinator Mike Schommer faxed us copies of the letter written by Director Beckman seeking support for the 25 percent waiver and Hugoson's letter of reply.

Schommer was reluctant to say that Hugoson opposed the extension and seemed critical of USDA's statement that its refusal to allow the waiver was based on the commissioner's letter. Did Hugoson oppose the waiver? As President Clinton would probably ask, "What you mean by 'oppose.'"

"While I believe the CRP offers important environmental benefits, I am concerned about what an increase in the prescribed county acreage limit could mean for the future of agriculture in these counties," Hugoson wrote in reply to Beckman.

"First, we must consider the impact of idling large portions of tillable acreage in a region for 10 years. Such a move carries the potential for handicapping the agriculture industry in that area, and gives local producers very little flexibility to adjust their operations when prices rebound. CRP land idled due to low prices in 1999 will not be available to farmers until 2009, no matter what happens to commodity prices in the interim.

"Furthermore," his letter continued, "idling large percentages of farm land will severely impact implement dealers and other small-town businesses that depend on healthy agricultural activity for sales. With fewer farmers growing fewer crops and buying fewer inputs and implements, the economic balance of the area will be significantly altered. This has the potential of placing further stress on the already-suffering economies of northwestern Minnesota communities.

"I am also concerned," he wrote, "that while the CRP payments would be intended to benefit producers, they would too often wind up in the hands of absentee landlords, who carry little of the risk and should receive little of the government support. Simply put, CRP payments are not focused narrowly enough to ensure that the money goes to those who really need it. Direct assistance to struggling farmers could be more effectively delivered through programs structured specifically to suit the current economic situation.

"I understand that in Pennington County, the amount of tillable acreage being bid for CRP is close to 38 percent and the percentages in Marshall and Roseau counties are above 30 percent. As I mentioned, I firmly believe the CRP plays an important role in protecting our natural resources. However, I am apprehensive about idling so much tillable land in a region. For that reason I cannot support lifting the acreage limits under the current conditions. Given my concerns about long-term land idling, I would be more inclined to support higher acreage limits if there was an alternative CRP format allowing farmers to idle their land for shorter periods—perhaps three to five years rather than the full 10 years."

"For that reason I cannot support lifting the acreage limits under the current conditions," Hugoson wrote. To our way of thinking, lack of support as expressed by the commissioner translates to opposing granting of the waiver.

We think Gene Hugoson has been an excellent Commissioner of Agriculture and we appreciated Governor Ventura's reappointment of him to that position. His reservations and reasons regarding the CRP 25 percent waiver would be proper and sound under nearly all situations, and it isn't that those who had requested the waiver were not well aware of all of them. They weighed all the alternatives before deciding the best choice was to make their request, therefore we take issue with the commissioner on this one.

While Hugoson would prefer a three-year or five-year CRP program or other direct assistance to farmers, those alternatives are not available. For a number of farmers in the three counties, there are only two alternatives: CRP or liquidation. In the overall scheme of things, a five percent increase in three counties is minimal. To the individual hanging on to farming by the fingernails, the qualified offer denied by the 25 percent limitation meant everything.

Beyond that, there is a lesson to be learned about where control really lies in citizen/government partnerships. USDA may have county and state citizen committees to do the work of administering and enforcing federal laws and regulations, but their honest work, local knowledge, understanding and best intentions don't mean diddly when it comes to final decision time. All the strings are held in Washington....and don't you forget it!

SPEAKING OF . . .

Sherry LaCoursiere

... Motherhood - It Will Change Your Life

Here is a little story about mothers that will tug at your heartstrings. My daughter who is a mother now too, sent it to me. She got it from friends. The author is, sadly, unknown.

We are sitting at lunch when my very dear friend casually mentions that she and her husband are thinking of "starting a family."

"We're taking a survey," she says, half joking. "Do you think I should have a baby?"

"It will change your life," I say carefully, keeping my tone neutral.

"I know," she says, "no more sleeping in on the weekend, no more spontaneous vacations..."

But that is not what I meant at all. I look at my friend, trying to decide what to tell her. I want her to know what she will never learn in childbirth classes. I want to tell her that the physical wounds of childbearing heal, but that becoming a mother will leave her with an emotional wound so raw that she will be forever vulnerable.

I consider warning her that she will never read a newspaper again without asking, "What if that had been MY child?" That every plane crash, every fire will haunt her. That when she sees pictures of starving children, she will wonder if anything could be worse than watching your child die.

I look at her carefully manicured nails and stylish suit and think that no matter how sophisticated she is, becoming a mother will reduce her to the primitive level of a bear protecting her cub, that an urgent cry of "Mom!" will cause her to drop a soufflé or her best crystal without a moment's hesitation.

I feel I should warn her that no matter how many years she has invested in her career, she will be professionally derailed by motherhood. She might arrange for child care, but one day she will be going into an important business meeting and she will think about her baby's sweet smell. She will have to use every ounce of her discipline to keep from running home, just to make sure her baby is all right.

I want my friend to know that everyday decisions will no longer be routine. That a five-year-old boy's desire to go to the men's room rather than the women's at McDonald's will become a major dilemma. That right there, in the midst of clattering trays and screaming children, issues of independence and gender identity will be weighed against the prospect that a child molester may be lurking in that restroom.

However decisive she may be at the office, she will second-guess herself constantly as a mother. Looking at my attractive friend, I want to assure her that eventually she will shed the pounds of pregnancy, but she will never feel the same about herself. That her life, now so important, will be of less value to her once she has a child. That she would give it up in a moment to save her offspring, but will also begin to hope for more years - not to accomplish her own dreams, but to watch her child accomplish his. I want her to know that a cesarean scar or shiny stretch marks will become badges of honor.

My friend's relationship with her husband will change, but not in the way she thinks. I wish she could understand how much more you can love a man who is always careful to powder the baby or never hesitates to play with his child. I think she should know that she will fall in love with him again for reasons she would now find very unromantic.

I wish my friend could sense the bond she'll feel with women throughout history who have tried desperately to stop war and prejudice and drunk driving. I hope she will understand why I can think rationally about most issues, but become temporarily insane when I discuss the threat of nuclear war to my children's future.

I want to describe to my friend the exhilaration of seeing your child learn to ride a bike. I want to capture for her the belly laugh of a baby who is touching the soft fur of a dog or cat for the first time. I want her to taste the joy that is so real it actually hurts.

My friend's quizzical look makes me realize that tears have formed in my eyes.

"You'll never regret it," I say finally. Then I reach across the table, squeeze my friend's hand, and offer a silent prayer for her, and for me, and for all of the mere mortal women who stumble their way into this most wonderful of callings. The blessed gift of God and that of being a mother.

Workshops set for farmers in transition process

Auctions, equipment sales, land sales, farm sales — as some farmers decide to transition away from farming and turn to other occupations many are finding the process more complicated than anticipated. The road to liquidating a farm enterprise is full of legal twists and financial turns with huge tax implications. To help families through the process, Extension Educators in Northwestern Minnesota will offer two management sessions for farmers who are considering or in the process of transitioning out of farming.

The management sessions will be held Thursday, May 20, at 6 p.m. at the University of Minnesota Crookston Sahlstrom Conference Center, room 131 and Tuesday, May 25, at 6 p.m. at the Evergreen Eating Emporium in Thief River Falls. There is no charge to attend, however, pre-registration is required.

For the Crookston session call the West Polk County Extension office at 1-800-450-1751. For the Thief River Falls session, contact the Pennington County Extension office at 1-800-681-2116.

Kittson County Extension Educator Nathan Johnson says the management sessions will focus on issues farm families transitioning away from production agriculture may encounter. Johnson says farmers liquidating their operations can face unplanned tax complications. He says farmers should be aware of unexpected legal issues and opportunities for mediation with lenders. "We wanted to talk about the whole aspect of liquidating a farm so families who are looking at that possibility can avoid some of the pitfalls and make the right decisions, right from the start."

Speakers will include East Grand Forks attorney, John Jeffery, Certified Public Accountants, Michelle Benton and Ray Safranski, and Mary Nell Preisler, with Rural Life Outreach. A light supper will be served before both sessions. For more information and to pre-register call 1-800-450-1751 (the West Polk County Extension Office) or 1-800-681-2116 (the Pennington County Extension Office). The sessions are free of charge, sponsored through Rural Options, a grant from the University of Minnesota. Everyone is welcome.

"Speaking of" column by Sherry LeCoursiere talks about mothers

"Speaking of...," a column written by Sherry LaCoursiere and regularly published in the Thief River Falls Times, was inadvertently omitted from the May 5 issue. This week's column deals with Mother's Day and is being published in the Northern Watch today because of the timeliness of its content. The column will resume its regular Times publication May 12.

RIDE THE WAVES.
No new plant has made a bigger splash on the garden scene over the past few years than the spectacular Wave petunias.
Available in purple, pink, lavender and now rose, a single plant of the wave petunias grows up to five feet across. In fact, in our gardens last year, one plant reached eight feet across, which means it covered about 56 square feet of garden space!
The Wave petunias have several advantages:
• They will keep blooming even if you don't pull off the old blooms. In fact, Waves bloom so much, you would get nothing else done all summer if you were to try to keep up with deadheading.
• A single Wave petunia plant is all you need to fill a 12-inch hanging basket.
• Wave petunias will trail far over the edges of planters or window boxes.
• Wave petunias, particularly the Pink Wave, show a good ability to stand up to strong winds.
Wave petunias require some extra attention:
• They need plenty of water. In fact, in the late summer, a wave hanging basket may require a couple of waterings per day.
• They need more fertilizer. Put time-release fertilizer in the pot when you plant, then put on water-soluble fertilizer as often as every week.
• Don't let them dry out. Wave petunias will take a couple of weeks to recover from being ignored for a day or two in August.
• Wave petunias require a large pot. Don't plant or buy a Wave petunia in 10" hanging basket. It will require constant watering later in the summer and will go into decline. Use 12" baskets.
WHEN IS IT SAFE TO PLANT?
There is no easy answer to this eternal question. the average last frost around here is about May 20. Perennials and tough annuals such as pansies, geraniums and petunias can go out a little earlier. Tender plants such as tomatoes, impatiens, celosia and most others should probably wait a few days.

THE LYON'S SHARE

Tim Lyon

The Beat of a Different Drum

Doug is an area local from International Falls who has been guiding alongside me for the last 12 years. From a fishing standpoint, he's as good a textbook angler as I've ever encountered. Otherwise, he's a fool.

As I pulled away from the dock one calm Spring morning, Doug flippantly offered to the guests in my boat, "You'll do fine with Tim. He's a little odd, but he's good."

My dislike for him was instantly sealed forever. I shot back with some witty comment about my dog urinating on his family tree (which I think implies I offended nearly 70 percent of the Falls population) and went on about my business. Unfortunately, that weasel had been right on the mark.

Abnormality is the beauty and it is the beast of Lake of the Woods. To take walleye experience from anywhere else and apply it here is a practice which has frustrated many a Midwest angler. This lake fishes funny. Walleyes don't bite at night. Yeah, you hear the occasional success story from the winter sleeper houses, but they are isolated accounts centered around clear winter water, little snow cover and the presence of a full moon.

This is a daytime lake. Look at it. I can see further into the future than I can into Lake of the Woods in July. There is substantial biological benefit to this murky condition, but I'm not going to attempt a limnology lecture here. All that concerns us is that you're far more likely to catch walleyes at high noon than at midnight.

The abnormalities continue. Our tackle is too heavy. Standard sinker size, for example, runs between one and two ounces. Whether that's a reflection of lake size and the "big" conditions that prevail, an indication of the minnow-based forage and the correlating aggressive bite, or a suggestion that the stereotypical user is a heavy-handed weekender with little feel for the bottom is not open to discussion here. Suffice it to say, we use abnormally heavy sinkers.

Hook size, similarly, is big enough to draw skeptical glances from the average Lindy-Rigger. Once again, whether the result of the above-mentioned aggressive bite or an effort at reducing "gut hooks" in the large numbers of released fish is not open to debate. Be it a winter jig or a summertime spinner, hook size is on the large side.

Lake of the Woods peaks when most normal walleye lakes are struggling to put out a few perch. A quick glance at commercial reservation books or the "Fish Tales" columns in the Sunday Minneapolis Tribune makes it obvious that the "dog days" of July and August are a happening time. Big female walleyes, falling prey to rising water temperatures and the accompanying rise in metabolism, are forced to gulp down a meal or two, briefly opening a stubborn window of vulnerability. Sure, there are fish to be caught in May and June, but to miss midsummer up here is to miss what makes this lake famous.

Heck, even the lake itself offers little in the way of "normal" patterns. It's a given that there's current and it flows north, right? Such knowledge should provide us with likely starting points when fishing walleyes off definitive structure. However, the ever-changing combination of dam openings and closings at Kenora and International Falls can wreak havoc with "normal" expectations.

For example, shut the inlet and outlet, factor in the huge volume of water that can be pushed ahead of a 30 mph wind, and you're dealing with little more than the sloshings of a giant bathtub. Piled up in the north end by a strong southerly breeze, this water eventually flows back underneath itself, creating a confusing south flow. As winds subside, this restless surge toward equilibrium can change direction several times a day.

Okay, I know. We're getting dangerously close to the overly detailed dryness of an In-Fisherman article. The point here is that the lake flow is inevitably to the north, but to expect that condition will often throw a monkey wrench into your fishing success.

And the weather. Yes, in stereotypical Minnesota fashion, it's unpredictable. But this lake goes beyond that tired convention, offering indigenous patterns that rival the meteorological impact of a Hudson Bay.

In the spring, we have a million acres of super-cooled water, bumping weak air masses to the north and south. Brisk winds within a mile or so of the lake perimeter often belie a dead calm lake center during May and early June.

Conversely, a seemingly placid day in August might offer imposing on-lake conditions as light breezes encounter less resistance on "loosely" packed warm water. The residual effects of temperature in such a body can also offer late fall thunderstorm potential, delays in Spring and Fall, and the existence of contradictory weather systems within fairly tight geographical quarters.

The schizophrenia is even apparent in the lake's geography, caught somewhere between soft-shouldered Minnesota Prairie pothole and abrupt, rocky Canadian shield lake. Never mind that those distinctions mirror the cultural differences from south to north, that's cannon fodder for another occasion.

There are no predictable generalizations on Lake of the Woods. If you've come here for normalcy, stay in your car with the windows rolled up. The fish are odd, the fishing even stranger, and the lake is unlike any other. And the people who gravitate toward these conditions? Well, let's just say they're right where they belong.

Top 15 DHIA herds listed for Red Lake-Pennington

Todd and Jay Johnston of Angus had the top producing herd in the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) during the month of March, according to supervisors Randy and Margaret Rasmussen.

Johnstons' 68-cow herd, 91 percent of which was in milk, averaged daily production of 76 pounds of milk, 2.6 pounds of butterfat and 2.4 pounds of protein.

Bob Schindler's second place herd of 61 cows at Thief River Falls averaged 74 pounds of milk, 2.4 pounds of butterfat and 2.3 pounds of protein. Ninety-three percent of the herd was in milk.

Large cow herd at the Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station at Crookston was in third place as the 43 cows, 91 percent of which were in milk, averaged 72 pounds of milk, 2.5 pounds of butterfat and 2.4 pounds of protein.

The station's small cow herd of 65 animals, 92 percent of which was in milk, averaged 71 pounds of milk, 2.4 pounds of butterfat and 2.4 pounds of protein to finish the month in fourth place.

Fifth place herd was from Walter Bros. Farm where the 260-cow herd was 90 percent in milk and averaged 70 pounds of milk, 2.3 pounds of butterfat and 2.2 pounds of protein.

Other herds in the top 15 included the following with the number of cows in the herd, percentage in milk and average daily pounds of milk, butterfat and protein produced noted respectively:

Warren Malwitz Dairy, 113, 93%, 67, 2.3 and 2.1; Steve Nelson, 62, 92%, 64, 2.5 and 2.0, Gary and Polly Bukken, 29, 93%, 64, 2.3 and 2.0; Excel Dairy (cows milked three times per day), 1,132, 86%, 64, 2.2 and 2.0; and Wayne Vettleson (cows milked three times per day), 169, 84%, 64, 2.1 and 2.0.

Also Greg Zak, 44, 93%, 63, 2.2 and 1.9; Tom Willett, 49, 82%, 62, 2.3 and 1.9, David Oslund, 243, 92%, 61, 2.4 and 1.9. Leonard and Marge Geske, 44, 91%, 61, 2.0 and 1.9; and Wayne Nelson, 42, 88%, 59, 2.0 and 2.0.

Average production is computed using all cows in the herd, so the average per cow is adversely affected by those cows not in production that month, even if the cows in milk are high producers.

Two NCTC football players are named academic all-state

Two members of the 1998 Northland Community and Technical College football team – Jesse Lunsetter and Ben Hanson – have been named to the Minnesota Community College Conference academic all-state football team, it was announced this week.

Lunsetter, a runningback, and Hanson, an offensive guard, were high school teammates for the Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke cooperative football program.

Northland players receiving MCCC football academic awards were Cody Huschle (Thief River Falls), Sam Schmitz Red Lake Falls), Josh Blomquist (Kittson County North), Cory Waling Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke), Paul Teevens (Grafton, ND), Jason Cummings (Frazee), and Aaron Nelson (Thompson, ND).

Players eligible for academic all-state must be MCCC all-division selections, and must carry a 3.0 or better grade-point average. MCCC academic awards go to players with a 3.0 or better GPA.

Bemidji takes Tuesday softball doubleheader from Thief River Falls

Bemidji pitchers gave up just one run in two games Tuesday as the Lumberjacks swept a 6-0, 13-1 high school softball doubleheader from Thief River Falls.

Bemidji used two walks and a bunt single to load the bases in the first inning of the opener, then scored two runs on a passed ball and a sacrifice fly.

Walks that were later followed by infield ground-outs produced single Bemidji runs in the second and third innings.

Thief River Falls pitcher Kylie Rogalla gave up only three hits, but received no run support from a six-hit attack.

Bemidji completed the twinbill sweep with a 12-run top of the first in Game 2. The Lumberjacks came up with nine singles and drew three walks in an inning that also included three Thief River Falls errors.

The Prowlers' only run of the day came on an RBI infield single by Erica Hudson in the third inning.

Bemidji improved to 7-8 with the two wins. Thief River Falls fell to 5-10. Originally scheduled as a single game in Bemidji, the outing became a doubleheader when a weather-forced postponement of an April 6 meeting in Thief River Falls was rearranged as a twinbill match-up.

Vikings win twice in baseball twinbill vs. Northland Saturday

One bad inning marred an otherwise solid Northland outing against Itasca Saturday (May 1) in a MN Community College Conference baseball doubleheader on the Pioneers' diamond. The Vikings won both games, 17-0 and 8-6. But a 12-run third inning was mostly responsible for the Game 1 gap, while a seventh inning score provided an insurance edge what had been a one-run game in the nightcap.

"I thought we played a pretty good second game," reported Northland coach John Ott. "But sometimes you play well and still lose."

The losses dropped the Pioneers to 1-17. A Wednesday doubleheader against Vermilion was rained out.

Itasca	2012	03	17	15	1

Pitching - (Itasca) Shea 5-W; (NCTC) Andy Harbott 2-L, Cole Young 3.

TRF women's softball meeting date changed

Organizational meeting for the 1999 Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League will be held Thursday, May 13, at 7 p.m. at the Elks Club. That is a change in date from an originally-announced May 12 meeting.

Purpose of the meeting is to finalize where games are to be played, league schedule and league rules.

Team managers or team representatives should attend. If you are unable to attend, or for more information, call Bruce Lawrence at 681-8308.

Katie Block knocked Itasca catcher Amy Johnson off the plate with a slide that produced a Northland run during the first game of Tuesday's Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader in Thief River Falls. The Vikings swept the Pioneers 11-10 and 3-1.

Tuesday softball doubleheader...

Itasca sweeps pair of games vs. Northland

Late-inning scores produced a pair of Itasca wins over Northland Tuesday in Minnesota Community College Conference softball. The Vikings scored three times with two out in the bottom of the seventh to win the doubleheader opener 11-10, then pushed single runs across the plate in the sixth and seventh innings of the nightcap to complete the sweep with a 3-1 victory.

It was the final home appearance of the year for the Pioneers, who finish the regular season with an appearance at the Hibbing Invitational today (Saturday) and a Monday twinbill in Fergus Falls.

"It was a tough day," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We could have easily won two. But we didn't make the plays when we needed them in the first game. Losing the first one hurt. I think it carried over and affected our performance in the second game."

Results put the two teams at the opposite ends of the Northern Division standings as Itasca improved to 18-4 and Northland fell to 4-14.

The Pioneers are capable of doing better, according to Nikunen. "Our pitchers (Jessica Johnson, a freshman from Warroad, and Shanna Keskitalo, a freshman from New York Mills) are doing well," he said, "but we're not giving them a lot of support. If we play good defense, we normally win." Keskitalo, noted Nikunen, has been the tough-luck pitcher on the staff – with Tuesday's second-game results reflecting that observation.

Offensively, Nikunen said Jeni Donner, a freshman from Waubun, has been the team's best weapon. "Jeni's been real consistent at the plate," he said. "She always has good at-bats, even when making outs."

Defending champion Pioneers will finish the year at the MCCC state tournament May 15-16 in Grand Rapids.

Kyle Sanden named Gophers co-captain

Kyle Sanden of Thief River Falls has been selected co-captain of the 1999-2000 University of Minnesota men's basketball team.

Sanden, a forward/center, and John Bickerstaff, a guard/forward, were named captains of the Gophers on Wednesday. Both will be juniors next year.

The 6-11 Sanden, after a redshirt year, played in 34 games as a freshman for the Gophers in 1997-98, starting 32 of them. As a sophomore in 1998-99, he came off the bench to play in 27 games. The former Thief River Falls all-state player averaged 4.4 points per game as a freshman and 2.9 points as a sophomore.

Bickerstaff is a transfer from Oregon State, where he averaged 8.6 points and 4.7 rebounds per game while starting in 23 of 28 games in 1997-98. He sat out last winter under the NCAA transfer rules.

Sponsored by the Minnesota State Track Coaches Association, True Team meets award points for every place finish.

Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson wasn't satisfied with the Prowlers' point production. "I'm a little disappointed," he said. "There are some things we should be doing better. We're just not up to where we should be. Some individuals still had good meets, but overall, we didn't do as well as we had hoped."

The trip to Park Rapids followed a Friday appearance at the Detroit Lakes Eagles Invitational.

Moorhead girls won team honors Friday with 168.75 points, followed by Detroit Lakes with 69.5, Bemidji 68.5, Thief River Falls 61, Breckenridge 60, Frazee 43, Fergus Falls 39.5, House of Faith 20, Park Rapids Area 60, and Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton 10.

■ Finals - (championship) Warroad 12, Red Lake County Central 11, (third place) Red Lake Falls 14, Marshall County Central/Tri-County 2, (fifth place) Thief River Falls 25, Kittson Central/Kittson County North 5

Warroad out-scored Red Lake County Central 12-11 in the finals of the Prowlers Invitational high school softball tournament Saturday (May 1).

The champions lost to Thief River Falls by the same 12-11 margin and defeated Marshall County Central/Tri-County 19-5 in pool play. With Marshall County Central/Tri-County beating Thief River Falls 23-5 in the other pool play match-up, the tournament tie-breaking procedures advanced Warroad into the finals.

Red Lake County Central reached the title game with wins over Red Lake Falls and Kittson Central/ Kittson County North in the other round-robin pool play group.

Thief River Falls was a 27-16 winner over Marshall County Central/Tri-County in a regular season match-up a week earlier, but 15 walks and five errors charged against the Prowlers opened the door for a rematch turnaround. With No. 1 pitcher Lacey Huschle sidelined by a hand injury, senior Jacki Hoglo made her first career start and second appearance of the year as a pitcher. It was the third straight 10-run rule loss for the Prowlers.

Kylie Rogalla, who has taken over most of the pitching duties in Huschle's absence, earned her first win of the year in the Round 2 match-up with Warroad. She won despite issuing 13 walks.

Key defensive plays were instrumental in the Thief River Falls win. Catcher Andrea Stinson threw out two would-be base stealers, and in the sixth inning, the Prowlers cut down a runner at the plate when Hoglo fielded a single to left field and threw to shortstop Erika Hudson, who then relayed the ball to Stinson for an out that helped cut off a six-run, game-tying Warroad rally.

The Prowlers won it in with a final at-bat run in the bottom of the sixth when Stinson drew a one-out walk, stole second, reached third on a single to right by April Schmit and scored on an infield ground ball off the bat of Carolyn Walrath.

A triple and home run by Hudson and a four-hit, five-RBI game by Becca Leach carried the Prowlers to a three-inning, 20-run rule win over Kittson Central/Kittson County North. Six Prowlers had multiple-hit games in their biggest offensive output of the year.

The win over Thief River Falls was the first victory of the year for Marshall County Central/Tri-County. The Newfolden-Karlstad cooperative then gave up 13 first-inning runs in the loss to Warroad. Facing prom time restraints by day's end, Marshall County Central/Tri-County coach Jerald Hagen wound up using a seventh grader, five eighth graders, two freshmen and a junior in a 14-2 third place game loss to Red Lake Falls.

Thief River Falls had a seventh place finish. Dede Dally turned in the Prowlers' top score of the day with a 97.

"Roseau is very talented," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Bruce Jean. "If we could shoot consistent, we could be scoring very well. Dede is coming around."

Lumberjacks pick up second baseball win over Prowlers, 10-3

Shawn Ross had an RBI double in a three-run Bemidji first inning Thursday that jump-started the Lumberjacks to a 10-3 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball win over visiting Thief River Falls.

A run-scoring single by John Marben was part of a game-tying three-run Thief River Falls third, but Bemidji matched that in the bottom of the inning, then clinched by scoring four times in the sixth.

It was the second loss of the year at the hands of the Lumberjacks for the 3-7 Prowlers, who were drubbed 16-0 in the first meeting.

Thief River Falls will make its final 1999 home appearance Tuesday against Moorhead at Irv Wilson Field.

Birding tour brings media to NW Minn.

Minnesota Office of Tourism has organized a bird-watching trip May 17-20 to northwestern Minnesota for four travel and nature writers, in an effort to publicize Minnesota as a destination for birders. The Minnesota Heartland Tourism Association and the Department of Natural Resources are assisting with this tour.

In several other states, wildlife refuges and bird sanctuaries have become travel destinations, with visiting bird watchers contributing significantly to the economies of nearby communities. With its ecological diversity and variety of bird species, Minnesota has the potential to become a birding destination as well.

The tour will visit federal, state and local wildlife areas near Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Warren and Warroad. These areas were selected for the number and variety of their bird populations. Local birding experts and staff from the Department of Natural Resources and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will guide the group.

For additional information on this tour, contact the Minnesota Office of Tourism at 888-563-7777 or 218-681-0997.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

The addition of plants to an environment is relatively easy, and Hahn comments that the community's schools are very good about bringing children to visit. A pet, however, required some thought and research.

After attending several seminars and studying the subject, staff members took turns bringing their own pets to work with them. This went on for several weeks with the residents enjoying it and offering to help care for the animals.

At a seminar, however, a speaker suggested that while visiting pets are beneficial, a permanent pet is best.

Selecting a pet was the next step, and it was decided that the home would start with a cat. They're relatively easy to care for. They don't need to be taken outdoors, and they groom themselves.

According to Hahn, Pillow was found in a pillowcase in a dumpster, thus the name "Pillow." She was rescued by the Crookston Humane Society and ended up in the hands of Bonnie Bates of Badger. When Bates heard that the nursing home was looking for a cat, she offered Pillow.

After being given a clean bill of health by a veterinarian and receiving her shots, Pillow found a "home" at Greenbush Community Nursing Home on March 22. Pillow spends the majority of her time in the upper skilled care level of the facility.

The residents responded to her immediately, and "Here, kitty, kitty!" are familiar words around the home.

The feline has no boundaries unless, of course, she misbehaves. Pillow favors the company of some residents more than others and often sleeps in their rooms. Sometimes she can be found napping in a rocker in the lounge. She also enjoys watching the outside world from a window sill.

Pillow appears to be about a year old and of mixed breed. She's a thin cat, and some of the residents have expressed concern about her weight. They really worried when she spent a couple of days at the veterinarian's hospital recently and were overjoyed when she returned.

With regard to the Edenizing concept, Pillow's presence at the home fits the bill. The residents have a living thing to care about that belongs to them. Her unpredictability makes their environment more interesting. The residents interact with her and more with each other because of her.

Other efforts are also being made to make the nursing home more "homey." The walls are painted in soft colors and are further adorned with coordinating wall paper borders and wall hangings. Personal belongings surround the residents in their rooms. The residents are taken on frequent outings.

A pet committee was formed at the home with representation from all of the various departments. Currently, there is discussion of adding additional pets at the home.

At one time there was an aviary in the dining room, but it was removed because of space limitations. The committee is now considering the placement of individual bird cages in the rooms of residents who don't get out very often. The additional of a dog is also a possibility. Surely, a cat, several birds and a dog would have the potential of creating an even more unpredictable environment!

National Homes for the Aging Week will be celebrated next week. Family, friends and the entire community are invited to join the residents, staff and volunteers in a host of activities.

Mother's Day will be celebrated with an afternoon worship service followed by cake and ice cream. Bingo and a program will be enjoyed on Monday.

"Generations United" is the theme of the program at Bethel Lutheran Church on Tuesday. Root beer floats will be served on Wednesday on "Back to the Fifties Day."

Thursday's carnival will feature games, bingo, prizes, an assortment of food, a bake sale and quilt drawing. Proceeds from the carnival will go to the residents' activity fund.

Popcorn will be served "At the Movies" on Friday afternoon, concluding the week-long celebration.

Pillow may or may not decide to take in the festivities. Nonetheless, she'll be there when all of the excitement is over, helping to make life at Greenbush Community Nursing Home more interesting and a whole lot more like "home."

PSYCHIATRIST, DR. ROGER JUNG, JOINS MENTAL HEALTH DIVISION STAFF

Dr. Roger Jung, Northwest Medical Center's first full-time psychiatrist, is the newest member of the Mental Health Division team. Dr. Jung, who has nearly twenty years of experience in psychiatry, is a native of Crookston and a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School. Before coming to Thief River Falls, Dr. Jung practiced psychiatry at the Human Development Center Duluth, the West Central Community Services Center in Willmar and both the University of Minnesota and the V.A. Medical Center in Minneapolis.

Dr. Jung joins a mental health staff at NWMC that's grown to over sixty employees. Included are six clinical psychologists, a physician assistant specializing in mental health, child specialists, community-based services staff, counselors, mental health nursing staff, and the staff of NWMC's two off-campus residential treatment facilities - Northern Lights and Pathfinder Children's Center. The Mental Health Division offers a wide range of services including inpatient, outpatient, emergency, residential, and community-based mental health services. The Division enjoys a strong reputation throughout the region, and routinely receives service requests from as far away as 150 miles.

Prior to Dr. Jung's arrival, NWMC made psychiatric services available in Thief River Falls by purchasing psychiatric consultation two days a week from the Center for Psychiatric Care (CPC) in Grand Forks. "Demand for psychiatric services had been increasing steadily for the past few years," says Dr. Steve Levinson, director of the Mental Health Division and an employee of NWMC for over 25 years, "and there was growing uncertainty about CPC's ability to meet our future coverage needs. So, when an experienced Minnesota-homegrown psychiatrist came along and expressed a keen interest in joining us, we decided that the time was right to hire our own full-time psychiatrist."

"We're delighted to have Dr. Jung on our staff," says Dr. Levinson. "We're now better-equipped than ever to serve the people of Northwestern Minnesota."

SPEECH PATHOLOGIST MAKES IT EASIER TO TALK, SWALLOW

Paula Clarke, NWMC's Speech Pathologist, wheels a chair into the room that looks like a mauve throne in two pieces: one side as wide as a kitchen chair, one as narrow as the seat in a phone booth. "This is a very special chair," she says proudly. "It's called a Video Imaging Chair, and we're the only one in the area to have it. It's for patients who need video swallow studies, and they really like it, too."

Helps stroke victims and others

Clarke explains that patients who need swallow studies have usually just had a stroke, or suffer from some other physically crippling disease. "The primary function of your pharynx is breathing, but it's also for swallowing," she says. "So if a person has had a stroke, ALS or Cerebral Palsy, the safety of the airway is dependent on the airway lifting up and a little flap of skin flopping over the airway so that it's protected while food goes into the esophagus. If that doesn't work, your food or drink can end up in your lungs. The only way you can really tell how it's working is if you do an x-ray."

The chair reclines fully, which allows patients to transfer from their beds to the chair with a minimum of effort. The chair positions them perfectly for the video study. The end result is greater comfort for the patient, and speed and ease for the radiologist.

Swallowing problems are sometimes hard to explain to relatives. "People don't understand about swallowing disorders until it happens to someone in their family," Clarke says. "It's a real shock to people. They'll say, 'But Mom loves her coffee', and we have to explain that unless she has it thickened to the consistency of honey, she could choke on it."

Works with children, too

Besides supervising swallowing studies, Clarke also sees children with speech problems in Hallock and Thief River Falls.

Clarke, who graduated with her BS from Purdue University, and has her MA from Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, says her practice has given her many proud moments. "I especially like it when the parents call me and say things like, 'Grandpa talked to him on the phone last night and could understand everything he said'. Or, when I can tell an adult patient they can have a big glass of water to drink, after drinking thickened liquids for the past month."

Accepts referrals

Clarke works cooperatively with all other speech pathologists, therapists and doctors in the region, and receives most of her clients by referral. To schedule an appointment with her, see your doctor.

Mother's Day will be celebrated with an afternoon worship service followed by cake and ice cream. Bingo and a program will be enjoyed on Monday.

"Generations United" is the theme of the program at Bethel Lutheran Church on Tuesday. Root beer floats will be served on Wednesday on "Back to the Fifties Day."

Thursday's carnival will feature games, bingo, prizes, an assortment of food, a bake sale and quilt drawing. Proceeds from the carnival will go to the residents' activity fund.

Popcorn will be served "At the Movies" on Friday afternoon, concluding the week-long celebration.

Pillow may or may not decide to take in the festivities. Nonetheless, she'll be there when all of the excitement is over, helping to make life at Greenbush Community Nursing Home more interesting and a whole lot more like "home."

PSYCHIATRIST, DR. ROGER JUNG, JOINS MENTAL HEALTH DIVISION STAFF

Dr. Roger Jung, Northwest Medical Center's first full-time psychiatrist, is the newest member of the Mental Health Division team. Dr. Jung, who has nearly twenty years of experience in psychiatry, is a native of Crookston and a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School. Before coming to Thief River Falls, Dr. Jung practiced psychiatry at the Human Development Center Duluth, the West Central Community Services Center in Willmar and both the University of Minnesota and the V.A. Medical Center in Minneapolis.

Dr. Jung joins a mental health staff at NWMC that's grown to over sixty employees. Included are six clinical psychologists, a physician assistant specializing in mental health, child specialists, community-based services staff, counselors, mental health nursing staff, and the staff of NWMC's two off-campus residential treatment facilities - Northern Lights and Pathfinder Children's Center. The Mental Health Division offers a wide range of services including inpatient, outpatient, emergency, residential and community-based mental health services. The Division enjoys a strong reputation throughout the region, and routinely receives service requests from as far away as 150 miles.

Prior to Dr. Jung's arrival, NWMC made psychiatric services available in Thief River Falls by purchasing psychiatric consultation two days a week from the Center for Psychiatric Care (CPC) in Grand Forks. "Demand for psychiatric services had been increasing steadily for the past few years," says Dr. Steve Levinson, director of the Mental Health Division and an employee of NWMC for over 25 years, "and there was growing uncertainty about CPC's ability to meet our future coverage needs. So, when an experienced Minnesota-home-grown psychiatrist came along and expressed a keen interest in joining us, we decided that the time was right to hire our own full-time psychiatrist."

""We're delighted to have Dr. Jung on our staff," says Dr. Levinson. "We're now better-equipped than ever to serve the people of Northwestern Minnesota."

SPEECH PATHOLOGIST MAKES IT EASIER TO TALK, SWALLOW

Paula Clarke, NWMC's Speech Pathologist, wheels a chair into the room that looks like a mauve throne in two pieces: one side as wide as a kitchen chair, one as narrow as the seat in a phone booth. "This is a very special chair," she says proudly. "It's called a Video Imaging Chair, and we're the only one in the area to have it. It's for patients who need video swallow studies, and they really like it, too."

Helps stroke victims and others

Clarke explains that patients who need swallow studies have usually just had a stroke, or suffer from some other physically crippling disease. "The primary function of your pharynx is breathing, but it's also for swallowing," she says. "So if a person has had a stroke, ALS or Cerebral Palsy, the safety of the airway is dependent on the airway lifting up and a little flap of skin flopping over the airway so that it's protected while food goes into the esophagus. If that doesn't work, your food or drink can end up in your lungs. The only way you can really tell how it's working is if you do an x-ray."

The chair reclines fully, which allows patients to transfer from their beds to the chair with a minimum of effort. The chair positions them perfectly for the video study. The end result is greater comfort for the patient, and speed and ease for the radiologist.

Swallowing problems are sometimes hard to explain to relatives. "People don't understand about swallowing disorders until it happens to someone in their family," Clarke says. "It's a real shock to people. They'll say, 'But Mom loves her coffee', and we have to explain that unless she has it thickened to the consistency of honey, she could choke on it."

Works with children, too

Besides supervising swallowing studies, Clarke also sees children with speech problems in Hallock and Thief River Falls.

Clarke, who graduated with her BS from Purdue University, and has her MA from Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, says her practice has given her many proud moments. "I especially like it when the parents call me and say things like, 'Grandpa talked to him on the phone last night and could understand everything he said'. Or, when I can tell an adult patient they can have a big glass of water to drink, after drinking thickened liquids for the past month."

Accepts referrals

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

NWMC Ready to Help People Manage Pain

You ache. You can't sleep. There are fewer and fewer activities that you can do without causing pain.

You've tried over-the-counter pain killers, and your doctor has prescribed all he can without causing additional harm. Yet the pain persists. What do you do?

Consider calling NWMC and ask for an appointment for pain management. "NWMC offers outpatient pain management services by psychologists and mental health therapists. We look at pain problems from many different angles," says Karen Pietras, PhD, a licensed psychologist and staff clinical psychologist with the Mental Health Division. "We're tenacious. We'll keep looking until you get the relief you need."

"Some people think if they need to go to a psychologist to deal with pain, then their pain isn't 'real'," Pietras says. "The perception of pain--any pain--is really a psychological process. The brain has to interpret what you're experiencing."

"Psychologists have been involved for many years in pain management," Pietras says. "We offer alternative ways of managing pain." Some of the skills psychologists teach patients who have pain problems include biofeedback, relaxation and cognitive restructuring, which is learning to think about pain in a new, less painful way. "For example, when Jane Fonda said, 'No pain, no gain,' many people began perceiving the unpleasant sensations that accompany rigorous exercise differently," Pietras notes. "Instead of, 'This feels awful!' they experienced the same sensations as 'Now I'm really doing myself some good!'"

Pietras says there are many other techniques to try, too. "We use imagery, simple meditation, and breathing techniques. I like progressive muscle relaxation, too, in which muscles are tensed and then relaxed in a systematic fashion. I also use hypnosis and self-hypnosis. Whatever works best for the patient."

NWMC's psychologists and therapists work with the patient's physician. "Medications and other medical interventions can help solve the problems that accompany chronic pain," Pietras says. "People with chronic pain, for example, can struggle with depression. Pain can limit activities, which can make the person feel helpless and hopeless. Sleep deprivation can also be a problem, because it can be hard to get comfortable when you hurt."

"The fear of pain is almost worse than the actual pain itself," Pietras notes. "Pain patients often get the idea that, 'well, if this doesn't help me, then it's hopeless,' which is hardly ever true. There's usually something else you can try. We're hooked up to special databases on the Internet, so if we run out of ideas and resources, locally, we can tap into what others in the field are doing. We want to help people solve their pain problems, so we'll do whatever it takes."

NWMC is working to expand their pain management services in order to better serve the community. "People with chronic pain problems often require special care that's available only in structured pain programs that are far away and expensive," Pietras says. "We're exploring the possibility of developing a specialized program at NWMC."

Pietras recommends that people coping with chronic pain try the following five measures. "But if you do these and that doesn't help, consider calling NWMC at (218)683-4551 to schedule an appointment with a psychologist about pain management."

FIVE WAYS TO CONTROL PAIN:

1) Find the source of strass in your life. Stress causes tension, which causes pain. "Be aware of what stresses you out, what causes you tension," Pietras says. "Find those things, and try to find ways to change them. For example, for many people, coming home from work is a stressful time. You've just finished work, picked up the kids and you're trying to make a meal. The stress starts before you've even got home, because you're anticipating the woes. Instead of barging ahead, try taking a few minutes first to reconnect with your family, to play and talk."

2) Become aware of where and how you hold tension. Watch your body positions and muscle tension when you become stressed. "I have worked with people with TMJ (jaw pain) problems, and I will have them deliberately clench their jaws for brief periods of time so they can see what tension feels like," Pietras says. "Often, they'll come back a week later and say, 'I have tension all the time. I didn't know I was doing that!" By focusing on your muscle tension and really exaggerating it, you become more aware of your bodily sensations and habits which can increase pain.

3) Relax, relax, relax. Use whatever works for you. Once you've become aware of what tension is like for you (see above exercise), learn to relax. "Create short relaxation times. You'll never find the time to listen to music for an hour. Try some instant techniques," Pietras suggests. "Like when you're waiting for the train, or in line at the grocery store. Let your body relax and take a few deep breaths. Find times when you can relax, especially when you're waiting and can't do anything else. Focus on your breathing or any of the major body parts. With each breath, just say 'relax' or whatever relaxing technique works for you."

4) Take care of yourself. Stress and tension can be caused by taking care of everyone else before you make time for yourself. Exercise, eat right, nap, take time outs. If you feel better, you'll also do a better job taking care of others.

5) Let it out. Learn to express your emotions, rather than keeping stress and tension bottled up. Social support is important, too. "Emotional repression not only makes you miserable--it can increase physiological stress and pain," Pietras warns. "You need to be able to talk to others. People who keep things in, emotionally bottled up, aren't as happy and don't live as long as those who express themselves. Women especially want to be seen as nice, and have a hard time expressing anger. But you must, or it will come out in your body."

Sleep Studies Program Helps You Get a Good Night's Rest

America has a serious deficit, but it has nothing to do with money or the treasury. It comes from a lack of sleep.

"People are accustomed to being tired, to muddling through their day," says Tammy Hansen, RRCP. "The average American gets less than 6 hours of sleep a night. But if you turn off the alarm clock and take away the schedules, the body will generally take more than that to fully rest and rejuvenate itself."

Sleep deprivation can be harmful to your health. It has been cited as a cause of high blood pressure, heart problems, bloating and a compromised immune system. Studies have shown that 50% of all truck crashes are fatigue related, and tiredness has caused other accidents, both on and off the job.

Tammy Hansen, RRCP

REM SLEEP IMPORTANT

Contrary to popular belief, boredom does not cause sleepiness. "A bored but well-rested person generally does not fall asleep on the job or at seminars," says Hansen. "Sleepiness at the wrong time and place, concentration problems, forgetfulness and irritability can all be symptoms that indicate that a person is not achieving REM sleep, the most restorative state. In REM sleep, a person's body shuts down everything except the vital organs. It's the stage that not only rests the body, it recuperates it from the week and/or stresses of the day."

There are many reasons a person might not be able to fall or stay asleep, including an over-stressed lifestyle, pain from other medical conditions, bladder problems and more. And many people who have sleep disorders aren't even aware of them. According to Hansen, sleep disorders weren't even formally recognized as a medical problem until 1965, so the field is relatively new. Some studies suggest that as many as 25-40% of all Americans have a sleep disorder, and don't know it.

The most common sleep disorder is Obstructive Sleep Apnea, when a person stops breathing many times during the night. Most people know OSA by its primary symptom: snoring. Other disorders include Restless Legs Syndrome, teeth grinding, or insomnia.

TEST NOW AVAILABLE LOCALLY

To help patients get the sleep they need, NWMC now offers a state-of-the-art test known as polysomnography. "It's the most thorough test available," Hansen says. "It determines what stage of sleep you're in, and can tell if and when you go in and out of these stages. This is important, because there are four main stages of sleep and you may be in stage 1 or 2 throughout most of your sleep and may rarely enter into the REM stage so vital to your health."

Best of all, the test is painless. "You just come to the hospital and go to sleep," Hansen says with a smile. "We offer you all the comforts of home, including a good bed and a TV set." The patient checks in and goes to sleep at the time he/she normally would. They are wired to a monitor throughout the night, but their sleep is uninterrupted by medical personnel. In the morning, the patient awakens as he/she normally would, gets dressed and either goes home or to work. The test is then scored and interpreted by trained personnel, who send it to the patient's doctor for further diagnosis and treatment.

Formerly, patients had to travel to either Grand Forks or Fargo for this test, which often caused them to miss a day of work. But now that NWMC offers it, patients can stay close to home. "You have to be referred by a doctor to have the test, but you don't have to leave town," Hansen notes. "Just tell your doctor that you want the test done at NWMC."

Treatments for sleep disorders vary, but one of the newest for OSA is a small device that the patient wears at night to keep his/her airways open.

Other treatments include dental devices for teeth grinders and medications to help with Restless Legs Syndrome or insomnia. Most health coverage plans include the test, doctor's appointment and treatments for sleep disorders.

By having a sleep disorder treated, "you'll wake up in a much better mood," Hansen says. "One man who had OSA was so thrilled to have a good night of sleep that he refused to leave the study until they gave him the device that kept his airway open."

For more information, call NWMC at (218) 683-4366.

New Program Addresses Eating Disorders

A lava lamp is one of the first things you notice as you walk into the office of NWMC's new Adolescent Issues/Eating Disorders Program. As your focus shifts to the soothing flow of the bubbles, the sound of soft, uplifting music drifts in from an adjoining room. The air is gently scented with stress reducing lavender, and the morning sun brightens the spaces filled with fresh, green plants.

"Welcome," says Alicia Haviland, R.N., B.S., M.S., the Coordinator of the Adolescent Issues/ Eating Disorders Program. "We hope this experience will be soothing for all your senses."

She proudly shows off the tidy office space. "This is where we share our feelings," she says, gesturing towards u small living room setting in a private room. It is furnished with a loveseat covered in a soft corduroy, a couple of comfortable chairs, and plenty of tissues. The shades are drawn for privacy.

Haviland leads the visitor into another room, overflowing with pamphlets, flyers, books and posters. There is a scale in one corner, and an examination chair. "This is the private examination room," she says. "Our library is where you can research all that you want to know about eating disorders. A patient with an eating disorder needs to weigh in, but in this examination room, he or she doesn't need to be exposed by a more public clinical setting. The doctor may screen the patient in a completely private setting with a less threatening approach to the wellness process."

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE AFFECTED

The third room is Haviland's office. On her desk is a calendar pucked with speaking engagements. She is a tireless crusader against eating disorders of all kinds, and has dedicated her days and nights to helping teens, pre-teens and young adults beat the monster that she calls ED (short for Eating Disorder).

"More than 10,000,000 people in this country are affected with eating disorders," she says, "and more than 50,000 will die this year from them. But it really isn't a disease of food; it's more the issue of self-esteem. We all have some kind of an eating misconception or relationship with food. It is when it becomes unhealthy that 'ED' steps in."

"From the minute we're born, people are judging and evaluating us by our weight," she continues. "The first thing we ask after a baby is born is, 'Is it a boy or a girl?' The next question is, 'How much does it weigh?'"

"By the time we go to school, names have been attached to our weight. Kids call each other names like 'Fatso,' 'Stringbean' or 'Thunder Thighs.' Names hurt and leave painful wounds forever."

Her eyes begin to tear. "They come to me when they're lost, scared and in a lot of pain. Almost immobilized. They come to our program when they often have nowhere else to go."

ANOREXIA & BULEMIA BEST KNOWN

Most people think of eating disorders as either anorexia, where the patient restricts his/her food intake almost to the point of starvation, or bulimia, where the patient will binge on food and then force himself/herself to purge. According to Haviland, there are many other eating disorders, including obesity, or any use of food and/or dieting used to cope with painful emotions or as a way to control one's life. Troubled family and other personal relationships can trigger an eating disorder, as can depression, physical or sexual abuse, anxiety, anger or loneliness. In some cases, scientists believe the cause to be biological, where the chemicals in the brain that control hunger, appetite and digestion become unbalanced.

One of the purposes of the clinic is to help patients regain a sense of balance in their lives. "Every one of us needs to BREATHE-EAT-SLEEP-EXERCISE in even proportions," Haviland says. "We try to bring those components into perspective so the patient can function normally." The support program is open to anyone, with or without a doctor's referral. "Although appointments are preferred, they are not necessary," Haviland says. "Anyone can walk in and say, 'I have u problem,' and we'll try to help them." The program can also be reached by phone at (218) 683-4380. Email: ahaviland@nwmc.org. There is also a website on the internet: http://www.nwmc.org.

PRIVACY AND PEACEFULNESS IMPORTANT

What happens when a client visits the clinic? The treatment is individual to the client's need. In most cases, the patient is networked to a doctor, if he or she does not have one already. Then a customized program for wellness is created, based on a physical and psychological diagnosis. Haviland acts as a resource contact to create a network of support and intervention specific to the individual. This often includes referral to a primary care physician, a nutritionist and a psychologist/psychiatrist. She also offers access to the program's library of information, so the patient can build his or her knowledge and base of support for the disorder. The program also offers individual and group counseling sessions, adolescent groups, multi-family groups, and intervention/prevention Outreach Educational Programs for all ages. The overall goal to the treatment is to help the patient learn to live peacefully with food and use food as a healthy life sustaining tool.

The program, which just started in January, has already posted some successes. "We've been working with many young adults who face stress and self-esteem questions. Some are painfully struggling in a tedious, isolating battle against ED. We have been helping them to see themselves through new eyes, and experience some comfort in normalcy, some feelings of self-worth and value."

To Haviland, her most important role isn't on any grant or formal job description. "My job is to attempt to remember that most clients not only see ED as a problem, but also as a solution to the problem. When that solution is questioned, the only line of support that the person has remaining is being questioned. One feels vulnerable and fearful. I must remember to see the world through the window of the client and allow healing to start where they are currently existing.

"Love 'em, love 'em, love 'em," she says emphatically. "I may have to say, 'your thinking worries me, but I will support you in all ways that I have available. I'm going to listen, and not ever pull away. You have a problem with an eating disorder. You are not the problem. Together, we can work to eliminate the fears and pain that come with the problem.'"

...and concrete, more green, growing 'unimproved' nature. I was starved for a sense of timelessness. I was ravenous with the need to say, 'No.'" (from a journal entry of an eating disorders patient, 1998)

TWO-YEAR GRANT

The new Adolescent and Eating Disorders Program has been funded by a two year grant from Northwest Medical Center, the Northwest Service Cooperative, Blue Cross/Blue Shield and the Minnesota Initiative Fund. "My vision is to create u state-wide network of risk management teams to triage patients into existing professional programs," Haviland states. "The risk management teams consist of people like school nurses, pastors, social workers, school psychologists, teachers and professionals. They don't and won't diagnose patients, but they can act as a first line contact to refer them for assistance. The risk management teams will remain current by attending lyceums provided by the program on related and timely adolescent and self-esteem issues."

Thus far, the networking and information services of the program are free. Doctors' fees are covered by personal insurance. For more information, call: (218) 683-4380.

Pathfinder and Little Brother/Little Sister Looking for Mentors

Mark* (name has been changed) is a quiet 14 year old boy who loves to hunt and fish. But these days, those are things he mostly dreams about. His mother does all she can to support Mark and his other siblings, but her responsibilities rarely leave time for anything other than work and caring for her family. Mark had a mentor, but unfortunately, the mentor moved out of the area. "He's u delightful child, he just longs for companionship," says Yvonne Ode, Director of the Little Brother/Little Sister program.

Mentors Needed Now

Unfortunately, in Pennington County, there is a severe shortage of mentors at the moment. "So many kids would like a mentor," says Julie Osmondson of the Pennington County Family Preservation Project. A mentor is a mature, stable and responsible adult volunteer who is willing to take the time to help youth. A mentor is a consistent role model in a young person's life. As of February, 18 children, ages 5-16, were awaiting mentors, and the list continues to grow. "A lot of these children are in desperate need of some outside adult mentoring," Osmondson says.

The need is particularly great for male mentors. Osmondson tells the story of John* (*name changed), u 13 year old boy whose mother isn't well. "He had no adult male or female to spend time with," Osmondson explains. But John had a friend who had a mentor and decided he wanted one for himself. He picked up the application, and had his mother fill it out. Happily, he has now been matched with a mentor.

All Ages Welcome

The qualifications to become a mentor are simple: "You should like kids, and be responsible," Osmondson says. "If you're someone who really cares how our youth turn out, you should apply." Mentors must be 18 years old, but there is no upper age limit, and the Little Brother/Little Sister program has several mentors in their 70s.

People from all walks of life become mentors. The program has one mentor who just graduated from high school, and others who are "empty nest syndrome" couples who have raised their own children and now have the time and desire to work with other children. And some of the local mentors are young couples who are in the midst of raising their own families and have room in their hearts for one more.

Mentors are asked to commit to the program for a minimum of one year, although the average length of most mentoring relationships is four years. Some have even lasted as long as ten. Mentors are asked to spend 2-4 hours every week with their little brother or sister.

Fun with Everyday Activities

Although there is no formal training to become a mentor, the Little Brother/Little Sister program provides a list of suggested activities, many of which surround everyday activities. "Men need to know that this is someone they could take fishing, hunting or even roller blading," Osmondson suys. Other mentors bake cookies, do crafts, go camping, read, shop, go out to eat or take in a show with their little brothers and sisters, depending on the interests of both the child and the adult. As much as possible, the Little Brother/Little Sister program tries to match a child and adult with similar interests.

"We suggest going slowly and getting to know the child," Ode says. "You don't have to try to recreate Disneyworld for them. Do some basic, ordinary things together. Make them a part of your life at home, or show them how to do things and help them. We are looking for consistent individuals who will always be there for the child."

Osmondson points out that a mentor is not supposed to take the place of a parent, but simply to complement and supplement the efforts the parents are making to care for the child. To apply to be a mentor, call Yvonne Ode at 218-681-8711, ext. 241, or you can fill out the form to the right and mail it to her.

Youth Tobacco Intervention Program Aims to Reduce Teenage Smoking

True or false: Tobacco's Joe Camel is as recognizable to six year olds as Mickey Mouse.
(answer at the end of this article)

"Cigarette smoking is not addictive."; "I smoke because I want to, not because of peer pressure."; "I don't have any health problems related to my smoking."

These are all actual comments from teenage smokers participating in Northwest Medical Center's new Youth Tobacco Intervention Program. The goal of the program is to give truthful information to youth offenders who have been caught either smoking, chewing, in possession of or buying tobacco. The program is a cooperative effort between the Thief River Falls Diversion Committee, the Lincoln High School Guidance Councilor, the County Attorney, Thief River Falls Law Enforcement, Pennington County Social Services and Northwest Medical Center.

The program was created in an effort to keep teens out of the courts, if possible. Attendance at the $40 class is mandatory for all first time offenders. It's a one time, 3 hour program that focuses on information, not quitting. Classes are held at the Law Enforcement Center on the second Thursday of the month. There is a minimum of five teens per class.

TEACHING ABOUT TOBACCO

"It's tobacco education," says Tammy Hansen, RRCP, RCP, CPFT, and team leader of the Respiratory Therapy Department at NWMC. "We're hoping to reach the kids something they didn't know, and start them thinking twice about what they're doing, not just the fact that they got caught."

"It's not a cessation program," says Brenda Russ, RN, ADN, CCRN, who assists with Peters Education at NWMC. "Our goal is to plant a few ideas so when they have some quiet time and maybe don't have the peer pressures, they'll decide, 'Hey, I want to quit that.'"

"We do things like ask the kids, 'How long have you been using the drug nicotine?'" Russ says. "That usually surprises them, to consider nicotine a 'drug.' They'll debate that question like crazy, and it makes an effective ice breaker."

"I'm exhausted after 3 hours," Hansen laughs. "Kids don't fear the health consequences, so they don't see the reason to quit," Russ continues. "So we use movies and displays and brochures to help bring them around. We talk about media manipulation and myths about tobacco."

"We respect the kids," Hansen continues. "We give them a voice and a chance to discuss the information we're giving them." One of the things most offenders say, for instance, is that peer pressure has nothing to do with their decision to smoke.

"They say, 'I smoke because I want to.'" Hansen sighs. "But when a survey was done of high school teens two months ago, they asked for a cessation program to be held anywhere but at school, so their friends wouldn't know they were trying to quit."

RESULTS ANTICIPATED

One of the frustrations of the intervention program, Hansen admits, is that there are no immediate results. "This is one of the few hospital programs where you won't see obvious improvement," she says. "The teens are not going to acknowledge that they've had some sort of awakening. We have to have faith that they got what we were trying to say, and that somewhere down the line, it's going to have a positive effect."

Parents are asked to stay for the first 15 minutes of the program, when the legal consequences of teenage smoking are spelled out. The parents are also given resources and information about helping their teen to quit, if that's what they decide to do. "Parents think smoking is a behavior issue, but it isn't," Russ notes. "It's really an addiction issue." Parents have a hard time with the idea of addiction. "Just because you're ready for your child to quit, doesn't mean they're ready to quit" Russ says. "A lot of parents are also addicted, and aren't going to force their kids to quit a habit that they themselves haven't been able to quit."

For youthful offenders, the Youth Tobacco Intervention Program is the intervention for a first offense. Second and third offenses bring penalties, including many hours of community service.

CESSATION PROGRAM OFFERED

For those teens who do wish to give up tobacco, NWMC is offering the American Lung Association's "Tobacco Free Teens" program twice a year, in April and October. The program is based on the American Lung Association's "Freedom From Smoking" class for adults, although the contents of the teen program will be geared more to their level and interests. The class is important because a 1996 survey showed that some children in Pennington County start smoking as young as age 10, and by 9th grade, almost 25% of males and 21% of females are smoking a half pack or more of cigarettes a day.

The Smoke Free Teens Cessation program will be held at NWMC. It's a four week program that meets once to three times a week for a total of 8 sessions. "We wanted to give the kids faster reinforcement," Russ says, although the course has been set for the program, it "will be very inexpensive," Hansen promises. Teens can sign themselves up without a doctor's referral.

For more information or to sign up for the program, call Tammy Hansen at (218) 683-4366, and ask for the "Tobacco Free Teen" program.

National Hospital and Nursing Home Week

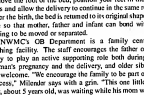
People Care. Miracles Happen.

OB Department Adds Birthing Rooms



Two hundred fifty six babies came into the world at Northwest Medical Center in 1998, and now, with the addition of a second state-of-the-art birthing room, the hospital is ready for more positive birthing experiences in the years to come.

"We're here to make this the most wonderful experience you'll ever have in your life," says Jan Milender, RN, Head Nurse of the Obstetrics Department. "Pregnancy and delivery are not a sickness, they're a wellness. You want to enjoy this as much as you possibly can. We're here to help you think about the positive things."

NWMC's birthing rooms are designed to help keep laboring women and their partners comfortable. The rooms are more spacious than an average hospital room, and feature all the amenities of home, including a TV, music, and cheerful decor. The beds in the birthing rooms are uniquely designed to provide maximum comfort, including lumbar supports that the woman can adjust to her liking. Best of all, the woman does not have to be moved during the most critical stages of labor. Instead, for normal vaginal births, hospital personnel simply remove the foot of the bed, position your feet in the foot rests and allow the delivery to continue in the same room. After the birth, the bed is returned to its original shape and size so that mother, father and infant can bond without having to be moved or separated.

NWMC's OB Department is a family centered birthing facility. The staff encourages the father of the baby to play an active supporting role both during the woman's pregnancy and the delivery, and older siblings are welcome. "We encourage the family to be part of the process," Milender says with a grin. "This one little fellow, about 5 years old, was waiting while his mom was in labor. And he kept saying, 'Can't we have cake now?'"

168 Combined Years of Experience

NWMC OB Department Staff

Milender notes that the OB staff are ready for both the expected and the unexpected events of labor and delivery. "The patients get excellent care here," she says. "Our staff has more than 168 years of combined experience delivering babies. Our goal is healthy moms and healthy babies."

Besides the pleasant surroundings and experienced staff, NWMC has plenty of perks for new moms and their babies. Each family gets a Polaroid picture of their newborn and other keepsakes, including a t-shirt imprinted with, "I was born at NWMC." During the holiday season, each baby gets home in a red stocking, and the staff hopes to soon be able to have the hospital play a lullaby over the intercom every time a baby is born.

Expectant Parent Classes Provided Free

The hospital's support for moms and their babies begins in the earliest weeks of pregnancy. "We advise every pregnant woman to start seeing her doctor as early as possible in the first few weeks," says Milender. Then, the hospital offers Expectant Parent Classes four times a year. Evadell Tanguaid, the instructor of the classes, says that this year's classes will meet in January, April (starting 4/5), July (starting 7/6) and October (starting 10/4). The classes are free, but pre-registration is required.

"This is a good, basic prenatal class, not a LaMaze class," says Tanguaid. She pointed out that for most women, some prepared breathing techniques are too time consuming and confusing to learn. "We teach abdominal breathing, which is easy," she says. "You can learn it in a minute."

"Abdominal breathing helps the discomfort of labor, which comes from several different factors discussed in the prenatal classes. This gives the mother more confidence while laboring," says Milender.

The five classes cover everything a couple needs to know about pregnancy, labor and birth. The first class stresses maternal and fetal development, and describes the discomforts and warning signals pregnant women should know. The mothers also learn posture and strengthening exercises, abdominal breathing and relaxation in the first class.

The second class goes into nutrition. "The mothers love it, and the guys really get into it," Tanguaid notes. Participants also hear about the possibility of unexpected outcomes and how to reduce risk factors in their pregnancy.

In the third class, the facts of labor and birth, including Cesarean births, are presented. Participants get to ask questions about their fears and concerns. Interestingly enough, few women ask about pain. Instead, Tanguaid says, "They mostly want to know about complications or when they should come to the hospital."

By the fourth class, instructors are covering things the couple should bring to the hospital. They also talk about postpartum counseling, long-term family planning, and the advantages of breast feeding versus bottle feeding. In the second hour, participants view infant safety video information. Infant CPR and are given a demonstration on the use of the infant safety seat.

The final class includes a tour of the obstetrics and birthing areas of the hospital. Participants learn about infant safety at home, and see a video about all the things a baby can do immediately after birth.

"For instance, a newborn baby can see, though its focusing ability is poor. The optimal range is about 10 inches, which represents the distance between a nursing baby and its mother's face," Milender notes. "They'll know your voice and your scent right away."

NWMC prides itself on its ability to provide a family centered birthing experience for residents in T.R.F. and the surrounding counties. The OB staff are all certified in CPR and Neonatal Resuscitation skills according to the American Academy of Pediatrics. For more information about birthing services, including Expectant Parent Classes, call (218) 683-4446.

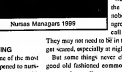
Nurses Documenting History



If you are or have ever been a nurse in the Thief River Falls area, Gail Bergland wants to talk to you. She's putting together the area's first ever history of nursing in Pennington County, and the only way it will be accurate and complete is if nurses come forward.

"I have a great interest in history," Gail says. "I have a historic home, I collect antiques, I'm interested in anything historical. But I realized that there's something missing at NWMC. There's a great deal of written history about the physical plant and the medical community, but there's nothing about the history of nursing.

Haad Nursa Staff Meeting 1952

"So I started looking," she continues," and just about that time, Molly Williamson donated her student nurse's uniform and the garb she wore out at the sanitarium. I thought: 'This is it! We're going to establish our own section out at the Pioneer Village that will be based on nursing history!'"

Gail started her research as far back as she could go, hoping to then come forward to the present, but quickly hit a dead end. Without accurate records, the traditional methods of preparing a data base were frustrating. That's when she tried a more novel approach, to work from the present day backward.

Nursas Managars 1999

"We challenged our nurse managers to try to obtain a history from the person who held their job prior to them, says Jan Milender, RN, who's helping Gail with the project. "We're sending out letters to all the nurses we know." Although the nurses' data base is being compiled at NWMC, it will eventually be available at Pioneer Village so people can access it there.

WONDERFUL STORIES EMERGING

One of the goals of the project is to share some of the most touching or heartwarming stories that have happened to nurses over the years. Lou Hendrickson, RN, now 90 years old, told Gail a story from 1927, when she was a nurse at Physician's Hospital. "In those days, no humor was allowed on the ward. No laughing, no giggling, nothing," Gail says. "Lou was high spirited, and was laughing with one of her girlfriends one day in the bathroom. Across the hall, a young man was dying of a ruptured appendix. And when they came out of the bathroom, this young man said to them, 'You know, O'Hara, if you can laugh like that, then I want to live to laugh like that.' And he recovered."

Nurses often touch their patients' lives more than medically. Sharon Russell, RN, tells this story: "I worked on ICU in the early 1970s. In the fall of the year, we had a frequent admission, a young boy, who had an illness that would not get better. I had three or four admissions that evening, and this young man required a lot of physical care. And all night long, he kept asking me, 'Will you play Yahtzee with me?'

"Well, we had a coronary, we had a post-op and we had several things going on, but I said yes. And finally, even though my charting wasn't done and the place was a mess, I played Yahtzee with him. And I admit that I did it begrudgingly, because I kept thinking about the 10,000 things I had to do. But we played and we had a couple of laughs. Then the night people came on, and I got my work finished and went home a little later than usual. I felt better that I had done it. Then the next day, when I came back to work, I found out that he had died. What I did for him medically probably didn't matter; it was what I did as a person."

Jan Milender, RN, talks about one of her most exciting nights: "First I had two women in labor, then three, then four and finally five, all at once! I went round and round and round doing checks, just in and out from one room to the other. It was so much fun! Everyone was working together, the doctors were happy, and the patients were pleased. We had five healthy babies and happy moms that night."

PROFESSION HAS CHANGED

There have been many changes in nursing practice over the years, not just with the advent of technology, but in philosophy. For example, both husbands and children used to be banned from the maternity ward, which has now become a family inclusive birthing center. Nurses who were never allowed to joke with patients now sit and chat if time allows. And a hug from a nurse formerly taboo is often welcome.

NWMC encourages patients to talk to their nurses. The hospital offers telephone triage so that patients can call any time to get questions answered. "Sometimes they just need someone to talk to." Jan says. "We get patients coming in during the middle of the night because nobody's home, nobody's around," agrees Bonnie Wagner, RN. "They'll call 911 because they'll respond. They may not need to be in the hospital, but they're alone and get scared, especially at night and on weekends."

But some things never change. For Bonnie, that means good old fashioned common sense. "We're taught: look at your patient, talk to your patient. He can be attached to everything that beeps and carries on, but no machine will tell you what your own eyes will."

The history project will continue as long as nurses keep coming forward. To contact Gail Bergland, call (218) 681-4240 or use the form below.

Results listed for area schools in writing tests

Statewide results from the 10th grade written composition test taken on January 20 were released Wednesday.

Statewide, 85 percent of the 63,112 students tested passed with a 3.0 or higher.

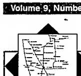
In response to requests from Minnesota's parents, communities, businesses, post-secondary institutions and general public, the Minnesota legislature called for the creation of new state graduation standards. The basic standards in written composition is one part of these new standards.

To pass the written composition test, students must write a clear message in English for an adult reader. Successful compositions must have: a clearly stated message, supporting ideas related to the message, a clear connection among ideas, a logical beginning, middle and end, correct use of grammar, spelling and punctuation. Students must earn a score of 3 or above on a scale of 1-4 to pass the test. Students will be allowed to re-take the test next year.

Students are encouraged to write as neatly as they can. There is no penalty for poor handwriting, but papers need to be legible to be scored.

Each composition is scored independently by two trained readers who assign a 1-4 rating. The scoring criteria includes the following five characteristics: 1) clarity of central idea; 2) coherent focus; 3) organization; 4) detailed support or elaboration of ideas; and 5) language conventions.

Sample questions.



• Name one goal you would like to accomplish and give specific reasons why. Give enough details so that your teacher will understand your ideas.

• Your teacher has asked you to write about one person you would choose to be if you could be someone else for one day. Name that person and give specific reasons why you would like to be that person for one day. Give enough details so your teacher will understand your ideas.

More practice writing essay questions, district and state test results, and more information about Basic Standards can be found at <http://cfl.state.mn.us/GRAD/results.html>.

The contest attracted more than 34,000 entries, and Severson's recipe was among 14 finalists before judges selected it as the grand prize entry.

While Marcia's photograph will be featured in the July/August edition of Taste of Home, her recipe will not be published in the Magazine. RLF youth saves choking first grader

Courtney, a Red Lake Falls first grader, was riding home on the school bus when she took a jaw breaker from her pocket and put it in her mouth. When the bus hit a bump in the road, the candy got stuck in her throat.

Heidi is a sixth grade student who says she learned how to perform the Heimlich maneuver during babysitting classes, Girl Scouts and swimming lessons.

After the incident, Courtney was comforted by Angie Tydlacka, another six grader who has cared for the Eckstein children. The Gazette

Watershed board seeks input about area flooding problems

Residents were given an opportunity Thursday to express concerns about flooding during a Red Lake Watershed District board meeting.

Charts presented by District Consultant Brent Johnson indicated that during the spring of 1996 flows on the Thief River near Thief River Falls approached what is described as a once in 10-year event. Flows during the spring of 1997 approached a once in 25-year event.

Flows from 1998 and 1999 are not available yet, but many residents testified that flooding this year was as bad as 1997 or, in some cases worse.

Judy Lappegard testified that this year she watched as water came within four feet of her home, adding that it didn't drop once it reached its peak, but she watched it for 10 days.

Oscar Breiland a long-time resident of Kratka township, asked the board to recommend that the Army Corps of Engineers install a gage at the Kratka bridge. He said there wasn't much flooding at Highlanding, but there has been at the Krotka bridge. He said it was worse this year than in 1997, and 1950. It was so bad, he said, that the county road washed out and it hasn't done that since 1950, but because there isn't a gage at the bridge, there isn't a record of what has been happening.

Others in the audience were interested in having the watershed board study what was happening at Ditches 20 and 18, instead of at Hillyers, a location a couple of miles north of Thief River Falls, which has been used as a recording site for years.

Trent Stanley a member of a township board, said nearly every road in his township was topped and washed out this year. He explained that the water overflowed the channels and ditches but the roads became saturated with moisture and couldn't handle all the water for that extended period.

District engineer Loren Sanderson noted that last year's high moisture has added to the problem. Water had no where to go, he said.

Sanderson also described some of the many criteria that help determine flood potential, such as depth of existing snow cover, soil moisture, frost depths, river ice, ice jams, and a fast or slow thaw. Back in early February Sanderson recorded four inches of moisture in the 14-inches of snow pack. That led him to conclude, at that time, that "there could be a large run-off event." By comparison, soil moisture recorded at the some time in 1997 was 5.7-inches.

In response to another question, Sanderson noted that there are other factors that contribute to the flood potential such as the strength and depth of ice, and size and width of ditches and calverts.

Tony Rader, a resident of the district who lives along the Thief River, asked about impoundment management practices and who takes responsibility for culverts and enforcement of regulations regarding culverts.

The morel of the story...

There's a (tasty) fungus among us

by Kathl Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

If you know where to look, nature has already provided an abundance of tasty treasures, ripe for the picking and just waiting to be discovered.

Morel mushrooms are currently in season and can be found throughout the area. These edible fungi are characterized by their ridged and pitted heads. The morel's appearance is often compared to that of a pine cone, sponge or honeycomb.

It's mushroom picking season — morel mushrooms, that is — Minnesota's state mushroom.

While some folks in this area are familiar with the morel mushroom, more would be likely to ask, "Are you really gonna eat that?" They are, however, appreciated more in other areas of the state with New Prague in southern Minnesota celebrating Mushroom Days every year.

Mushrooms are the best-known of the plants called fungi, and the morel mushroom is one of hundreds of species of the fungi found in North America. The word mushroom is believed to have been derived from the French word meaning moss. Mushrooms are also called toadstools.

Generally, people give the name mushroom to kinds that can be eaten and toadstools to those that are poisonous. Children commonly think of all mushrooms as toadstools and avoid them all as poisonous, and it is probably just as well.

Only a skilled person can tell which mushrooms are safe for consumption and which contain deadly poison. The old rule that many of us grew up with — If you don't know what it is, don't eat it! — definitely applies to mushrooms.

Since very early times, people have eaten mushrooms, and the Greeks and Romans were fond of them. Today, they are the chief food of the natives of Tiera del Fuego at the tip of South America and the natives of some parts of Australia. They are also more commonly consumed in Europe than they are in the United States.

In most places mushrooms are considered a table delicacy rather than a main food. They are about 88 percent water and half of the rest is bulk that the body cannot digest. While the different species vary, food experts compare the nutritional value of these fungi to that of cabbage.

While thus far they may have escaped the attention of many of us in northwestern Minnesota, true morel are probably the best known and most sought after of all the edible fungi.

The varied species in this group all fruit in the spring and are all edible. Any morel-like species encoun-

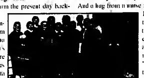
Nurses Documenting History

If you are or have ever been a nurse in the Thief River Falls area, Gail Bergland wants to talk to you. She's putting together the area's first ever history of nursing in Pennington County, and the only way it will be accurate and complete is if nurses come forward.



"I have a great interest in history," Gail says. "I have a historic home, I collect antiques, I'm interested in anything historical. But I realized that there's something missing at NWMC. There's a great deal of written history about the physical plant and the medical community, but there's nothing about the history of nursing.

Head Nurse Staff Meeting 1952

"So I started looking," she continues, "and just about that time, Molly Williamson donated her student nurse's uniform and the garb she wore out at the sanitarium. I thought: This is it! We're going to establish our own section out at the Pioneer Village that will be based on nursing history!"

Gail started her research as far back as she could go, hoping to then come forward to the present, but quickly hit a dead end. Without accurate records, the traditional methods of preparing a data base were frustrating. That's when she tried a more novel approach, to work from the present day backward.

Nurses Managers 1999

"We challenged our nurse managers to try to obtain a history from the person who held their job prior to them," says Jan Milender, RN, who's helping Gail with the project. "We're sending out letters to all the nurses we know." Although the nurses' data base is being compiled at NWMC, it will eventually be available at Pioneer Village so people can access it there.

WONDERFUL STORIES EMERGING

One of the goals of the project is to share some of the most touching or heartwarming stories that have happened to nurses over the years. Lou Hendrickson, RN, now 90 years old, told Gail a story from 1927, when she was a nurse at Physician's Hospital. "In those days, no humor was allowed on the ward. No laughing, no giggling, nothing," Gail says. "Lou was high spirited, and was laughing with one of her girlfriends one day in the bathroom. Across the hall, a young man was dying of a ruptured appendix. And when they came out of the bathroom, this young man said to them, 'You know, O'Hara, if you can laugh like that, then I want to live to laugh like that.' And he recovered."

Nurses often touch their patients' lives more than medically. Sharon Russell, RN, tells this story: "I worked on ICU in the early 1970s. In the fall of the year, we had a frequent admission, a young boy, who had an illness that would not get better. I had three or four admissions that evening, and this young man required a lot of physical care. And all night long, he kept asking me, 'Will you play Yahtzee with me?'

"Well, we had a coronary, we had a post-op and we had several things going on, but I said yes. And finally, even though my charting wasn't done and the place was a mess, I played Yahtzee with him. And I admit that I did it begrudgingly, because I kept thinking about the 10,000 things I had to do. But we played and we had a couple of laughs. Then the night people came on, and I got my work finished and went home a little later than usual. I felt better that I had done it. Then the next day, when I came back to work, I found out that he had died. What I did for him medically probably didn't matter, it was what I did as a person."

Jan Milender, RN, talks about one of her most exciting nights: "First I had two women in labor, then three, then four and finally five, all at once! I went round and round and round doing checks, just in and out from one room to the other. It was so much fun! Everyone was working together, the doctors were happy, and the patients were pleased. We had five healthy babies and happy moms that night."

PROFESSION HAS CHANGED

There have been many changes in nursing practice over the years, not just with the advent of technology, but in philosophy. For example, both husbands and children used to be banned from the maternity ward, which has now become a family inclusive birthing center. Nurses who were never allowed to joke with patients now sit and chat if time allows. And a hug from a nurse formerly taboo is often welcome.

NWMC encourages patients to talk to their nurses. The hospital offers telephone triage so that patients can call any time to get questions answered. "Sometimes they just need someone to talk to," Jan says. "We get patients coming in during the middle of the night because nobody's home, nobody's around," agrees Bonnie Wagner, RN. "They'll call 911 because they'll respond. They may not need to be in the hospital, but they're alone and get scared, especially at night and on weekends."

But some things never change. For Bonnie, that means good old fashioned common sense. "We're taught: look at your patient, talk to your patient. He can be attached to everything that beeps and carries on, but no machine will tell you what your own eyes will."

The history project will continue as long as nurses keep coming forward. To contact Gail Bergland, call (218) 681-4240 or use the form below.

Results listed for area schools in writing tests

Statewide results from the 10th grade written composition test taken on January 20 were released Wednesday.

Statewide, 85 percent of the 63,112 students tested passed with a 3.0 or higher.

In response to requests from Minnesota's parents, communities, businesses, post-secondary institutions and general public, the Minnesota legislature called for the creation of new state graduation standards. The basic standards in written composition is one part of these new standards.

To pass the written composition test, students must write a clear message in English for an adult reader. Successful compositions must have a clearly stated message, supporting ideas related to the message, a clear connection among ideas, a logical beginning, middle and end, correct use of grammar, spelling and punctuation. Students must earn a score of 3 or above on a scale of 1-4 to pass the test. Students will be allowed to re-take the test next year.

Students are encouraged to write as neatly as they can. There is no penalty for poor handwriting, but papers need to be legible to be scored.

Each composition is scored independently by two trained readers who assign a 1-4 rating. The scoring criteria includes the following five characteristics: 1) clarity of central idea; 2) coherent focus; 3) organization; 4) detailed support or elaboration of ideas; and 5) language conventions.

Sample questions.

• Name one goal you would like to accomplish and give specific reasons why. Give enough details so that your teacher will understand your ideas.

• Your teacher has asked you to write about one person you would choose to be if you could be someone else for one day. Name that person and give specific reasons why you would like to be that person for one day. Give enough details so your teacher will understand your ideas.

More practice writing essay questions, district and state test results, and more information about Basic Standards can be found at <http://cfl.state.mn.us/GRAD/results.html>.

Hallock woman wins cookie contest

Hallock - "Mmmminnesota Munchers" is the name of the recipe that netted the grand prize for Marcia Severson of Hallock in the "Cookie of all Cookies" contest sponsored by Taste of Home magazine.

The contest attracted more than 34,000 entries, and Severson's recipe was among 14 finalists before judges selected it as the grand prize entry.

While Marcia's photograph will be featured in the July/August edition of Taste of Home, her recipe will not be published in the Magazine. Instead, it will kept secret by Severson and Reiman Publications, and the cookies will be sold at the company's visitor center near office headquarters in Greendale, WI with Severson receiving a percentage of all sales proceeds. Kittson County Enterprise

RLF youth saves choking first grader

Courtney, a Red Lake Falls first grader, was riding home on the school bus when she took a jaw breaker from her pocket and put it in her mouth. When the bus hit a bump in the road, the candy got stuck in her throat.

Heidi is a sixth grade student who says she learned how to perform the Heimlich maneuver during babysitting classes, Girl Scouts and swimming lessons.

After the incident, Courtney was comforted by Angie Tydlacka, another six grader who has cared for the Eckstein children. The Gazette

Whopper didn't get away on LOW

Williams - Using night crawlers and 30-pound test line, Brian Olson of Wannaska landed a 91-pound sturgeon on May 6 while fishing at the Gap on Lake of the Woods. The fish was 67 inches long, and it took Olson 50 minutes to get it into the boat.

The monster fish was only three pounds shy of the record sturgeon caught in the Kettle River in 1994. The Northern Light

Detroit Lakes police investigate explosions

Detroit Lakes - Detroit Lakes police are investigating a series of small explosions that blew out plate glass windows at two businesses and the window of a parked pickup truck cab in the early morning hours on Wednesday, May 5. Similar explosives were used to blow up several rural mailboxes that same night.

The windows of a bar and local television station were broken by the explosive devices. While no attempt was made to burglarize the bar, compact discs were stolen after the cab window of a 1997 Chevrolet pickup was broken.

According to police, the explosives were not designed to hurt anyone and were not homemade. "They are best described as a large firecracker," said Police Chief Kelvin Keena. Detroit Lakes Tribune

Watershed board seeks input about area flooding problems

Residents were given an opportunity Thursday to express concerns about flooding during a Red Lake Watershed District board meeting.

Charts presented by District Consultant Brent Johnson indicated that during the spring of 1996 flows on the Thief River near Thief River Falls approached what is described as a once in 10-year event. Flows during the spring of 1997 approached a once in 25-year event.

Flows from 1998 and 1999 are not available yet, but many residents testified that flooding this year was as bad as 1997 or, in some cases worse.

Judy Lappegard testified that this year she watched as water came within four feet of her home, adding that it didn't drop once it reached its peak, but she watched it for 10 days.

Oscar Breiland a long-time resident of Kratka township asked the board to recommend that the Army Corps of Engineers install at gage at the Kratka bridge. He said there wasn't much flooding at Highlanding, but there has been at the Kratka bridge. He said it was worse this year than in 1997, and 1950. It was so bad, he said, that the county road washed out and it hasn't done that since 1950, but because there isn't a gage at the bridge, there isn't a record of what has been happening.

Others in the audience were interested in having the watershed board study what was happening at Ditches 20 and 18, instead of at Hillyers, a location a couple of miles north of Thief River Falls, which has been used as a recording site for years.

Trent Stanley a member of a township board, said nearly every road in his township was topped and washed out this year. He explained that the water overflowed the channels and ditches but the roads became saturated with moisture and couldn't handle all the water for that extended period.

District engineer Loren Sanderson noted that last year's high moisture has added to the problem. Water had no where to go, he said.

Sanderson also described some of the many criteria that help determine flood potential, such as depth of existing snow cover, soil moisture, frost depths, river ice, ice jams, and a fast or slow thaw. Back in early February Sanderson recorded four inches of moisture in the 14-inches of snow pack. That led him to conclude, at that time, that "there could be a large run-off event." By comparison, soil moisture recorded at the same time in 1997 was 5.7-inches.

In response to another question, Sanderson noted that there are other factors that contribute to the flood potential such as the strength and depth of ice, and size and width of ditches and culverts.

Tony Rader, a resident of the district who lives along the Thief River, asked about impoundment management practices and who takes responsibility for culverts and enforcement of regulations regarding culverts.

Paperboy retires at 79

Crookston - Somewhat reluctantly 79-year-old Ludvig Johnson has given up his paper route.

Until recently Johnson had a Crookston Daily Times paper route, delivering between 65 and 70 papers each weekday. "I enjoyed seeing the people on my route and on the streets. It was good exercise," he says.

A doctor's orders an end to Johnson's route after he suffered what the physical called "half a stroke."

Johnson insists that he never considered the paper route to be work, but "something to do after I retired." He had the route for about 18 years. Crookston Daily Times

With the chilly weather, this oven meal might be just the thing.

SAVORY PORK ROAST
4 pound pork boneless top loin roast
1 clove garlic, cut in half
1 teaspoon dried sage
1 teaspoon dried marjoram
1/2 teaspoon salt

Heat oven to 325 degrees.

Rub pork roast with cut sides of garlic. Mix remaining ingredients and sprinkle on roast.

Place roast, fat side up, on rack in shallow baking pan. Insert meat thermometer so tip is in center of thickest part of roast and does not rest in fat.

Roast, uncovered, 2 to 2 1/2 hours or until thermometer registers 170 degrees. Let stand 15-20 minutes for easy carving.

And here's a potato dish that is a little different, but would be very good made with some of those new little potatoes they have in the stores:

OVEN-BROWNED POTATOES
6 medium potatoes, pared
1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted

Cut each potato into 1/2 inch slices, being careful not to cut completely through bottom. Repeat in opposite direction to make long cubes, but keep connected.

Heat 1 inch salted water to boiling; add potatoes; and cover and heat to boiling. Reduce heat and cook 10 minutes. Drain.

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Brush potatoes with margarine or butter and place in baking pan. Bake about 1 1/4 hours, turning once, until tender and golden brown. Sprinkle with salt and pepper if desired.

How about a really different side dish - and when the onions in your garden get big enough, you can try it again with those:

BAKED HONEY ONIONS
3 large yellow onions (about 3 inches in diameter)
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup honey
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Peel onions and cut in half crosswise.

Heat butter in square baking dish (8x8) until melted. Stir in honey and allspice and arrange onions, cut sides down, in dish.

Cover and bake about 1 hour or until tender. To serve, turn cut sides up and drizzle with honey mixture.

You can try this when the lettuce is up in your garden, or with the little leaves when you thin it:

WILTED LETTUCE SALAD
4 slices bacon, diced
1/4 cup vinegar
2 bunches leaf lettuce, shredded coarsely
5 green onions, with tops, chopped
2 teaspoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Cook bacon in skillet until crisp. Add vinegar and heat through.

Remove from heat and add lettuce and onions. Sprinkle with sugar, salt and pepper and toss 1-2 minutes or until lettuce is wilted.

SAUCY LEMON PUDDING CAKE
2 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

Heat oven to 350 degrees.

Beat egg whites in medium bowl until stiff peaks form. Beat egg yolks slightly and then beat in milk, lemon peel and lemon juice. Beat in remaining ingredients until smooth. Fold into egg whites.

Pour into ungreased 1 quart casserole. Place casserole in 9x9 inch square pan on oven rack and pour very hot water into pan, about 1 inch deep.

Bake 45-50 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream if desired. Refrigerate leftovers.

Student Writing: Let's Have More Of It!

It was a pleasure Monday evening at the Lincoln high school senior honor banquet to present the Thief River Falls Times and Northern Watch writing award to Teresa Friend. Our publications have been making this award for the past three years, including a $200 scholarship with a personal trophy for the recipient.

We call this acknowledgement the "You Write Real Good" award, with the intentionally poor grammar intended to be a reminder to take better care of the language. Teresa has been one of several high school columnists for the Times this year. We appreciate the efforts of all of them and congratulate Teresa on her award.

Whenever and however we can, we like to encourage the students of today to learn all they can about the skills of communication through writing. There is no better way to learn vocabulary, spelling, grammar, sentence structure and overall use of the language for clarity of communication than to write. Therefore we also appreciate the efforts of other organizations which conduct writing coropetitions, even when the goal is promotion of that organization or its interests.

Today we also congratulate another Lincoln senior, Beth Nelson, who received a first place award of $50 in the student writing contest conducted by the Thief River Falls chapter of the American Association of University Women. Beth also received honorable mention in the state AAUW contest. Topic for the contest this year was Women in the Media: Voicing our Values!

Second place went to Bridgette Stock and honorable mentioo to Kristine Koop. They are also Lincoln seniors and all three are students of Loiell Dyrud, who teaches communications at Lincoln. Loiell is retiring following conclusion of this school year and his passion for writing and his presence in the LHS classroom will be sorely missed.

From time to time we have recognized student writing by publishing winning entries as guest editorials in our papers. We continue that form of recognition by publishing Beth Nelson's winning local entry below. Second and third place entries will be included in a story in the Thief River Falls Times next Wednesday.

CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR
by Beth Nelson

For years, most major television networks have had male journalists working as their foreign correspondents. News from war fronts, situations of conflict and other dangerous areas has been reported by male correspondeots. With the exception of a few remarkable women, this type of journalism has been totally dominated by men. One sueb remarkable women is Christiane Amanpour, a foreign correspondent for the Cable News Network (CNN). She bas crossed the gender boundary in this type of journalism, and in doing so has become a strong voice in the media for women everywhere.

Christiane Amanpour was born in Iran to a British mother and an Iranian father. She was raised in privileged circumstances until the 1979 Iranian Revolution, when her family fled to the United States, leaving everything behind. She attended the Uaiversity of Rhode Island, supporting herself by working in the news departments of local radio and television stations.

Following her graduation in 1983, she began workiog as a news assistant at CNN, the lowest job on the ioternational news desk. After a few years, Amanpour had risen to the position of producer-correspondent in CNN's New York bureau.

Today, after years of hard work, Christiane Amanpour serves as the chief international correspoodent for CNN. Since being named to this positioo in 1989, Amanpour has been among the first to report on the Romanian Revolution, the Persian Gulf War, the break-up and fighting in the former Yugoslavia, the tensions in Haiti and the launching of Operation Restore Hope in Somalia.

Regardless of the often horrible conditions she must witness, Amanpour's dedication to journalism never falters. She has plowed a path for herself in a profession where few women have. Not only has she survived in this field, but she has truly excelled. For her reports, Amanpour has received the George Foster Peabody Award, the George Polk Award, the Courage in Journalism Award, and an Emmy. Time magazine has dubbed her the most influential foreign correspondent since Edward R. Murrow.

Besides being given many journalistic awards, Amanpour was named the 1997 Iranian Woman of the Year. According to Iranian Taher G. Behbehani, "She embodies the spirit of the younger Iranian generation, a bi-cultural upbringing and success in a competitive field. She has shown the entire world that Iranian women, through their hard work, are active, modern, educated and successful." Amanpour has also been credited with playing a crucial part in the opening of a dialogue between the United States and Iran.

Her many accomplishments have sent a message to women everywhere, a message that there are no boundaries they can't overcome. In an almost exclusively male field, Ms. Amanpour has truly carved out a spot for herself, and is showing no signs of giving that spot up. When people hear the voice of Christiane Amanpour, they are hearing the voice of woman.

Tax Freedom Day Ten Days Late In Minnesota

Tax Freedom Day—the day when Americans would begin to work for themselves after giving all of their previous income to pay for federal, state and local taxes—was observed nationally on May 11. At 132 days into the 1999 calendar year, Tax Freedom Day this year was being observed for the latest time ever.

Minnesotans, however, according to U.S. Senator Rod Grams, will have to wait uotil May 21 to start working for themselves. The added 10 days are because Minnesota ranks behind only New York and Connecticut as the state with the nation's highest taxes.

Tax Freedom Day is calculated annually by the nonpartisan Tax Foundation. Over the past 25 years, the foundation has tracked and revealed an ever-increasing tax burden for the American public.

"People today work hard and then are penalized for their work," Sen. Grams said. "With punitive taxes, Washington makes the American dream of working hard for a better life more difficult, and for some, impossible. The only way we can effectively push back Tax Freedom Day is to terminate the tax code and replace it with one that promotes freedom and economic opportunity. We must create a new tax system that's fairer, simpler and friendlier to the taxpayers."

Sounds good, Senator! Let's go for it!

Challenger fifth grade programs at graduation

Music program by fifth graders at Challenger elementary school will be presented during the fifth grade graduation ceremony May 26 rather than individually next week as originally scheduled, according to music teachers at Challenger.

A story in the Wednesday, May 12, issue of the Thief River Falls Times incorrectly listed the original schedule of programs, which included individual fifth grade classes with other grade classes during the coming week of programs.

Fifth grade classes taught by Tom Schafer, Karlyn Norlin, Carol Tranby, Paula Praska, Peter Tri, Barry Liimatainen and Diane Peterson will not present individual programs next week. They will be presented during the May 26 ceremony.

The program by David Peterson's fourth grade class will be at 10:15 a.m. Friday, May 21, rather than at 10:45 as listed in the Times on Wednesday.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Opening Pandora's Box

That long anticipated day is upon us. Having endured the hardships of weeks, perhaps even months, of angling inactivity, those of us who know and care about such things have the chance to fish again.

For those of you who don't know or care about such things, I'm sure there's a mold problem in the back seat of your car that you can work on over the weekend. For the rest of the rational world, it's the "Opener" and as I stand amidst the heaping pile of recently acquired knowledge, tackle, boating gear and debt that inevitably accompanies this event, one question remains glaringly unanswered. Where the heck did we come up with this term "Opener" anyway?

From as far back as I can recall, "Opening" things has not carried with it a host of enjoyable thoughts. Ask Pandora. Oh, sure, you can "open" Christmas gifts and "open" the doors of opportunity, but like a poorly trained gun dog, I remember the pain before the pleasure.

For instance, it may be a standard practice to "open" a can of worms on the fishing "Opener," but if, as a curious and hyperactive eight-year-old, I heard either of my parents suggest that I'd "opened quite a can of worms" I knew some gruesome form of medieval punishment/torture was soon to follow.

Thoughts about "Openers" didn't improve much when, during my adolescence, I managed to summon enough courage for an ascension of the "high dive" at the local community pool. A "can-opener" off the 14-foot board was considered a rite of passage toward manhood for us young teens.

Unfortunately, on my initial attempt, an inability to impact the surface properly sent far more water than falls over Niagara on any given day up a somewhat different passage. I don't recall if it was the physical pain or the public embarrassment that allowed me to stay submerged until the paramedics arrived nearly a half hour later, but apparently I set some sort of local record. On the upside, I never misspelled the word "enema" on any biology test again.

In the years before marriage, I would spend countless lonely evenings in the local singles bars, offering up what I thought were imaginative "openers." You know, one-liners plagiarized from John Travolta on Saturday Night Fever, but mixed with enough local flavor to make them sound at least remotely sincere. However, such well-crafted witticism as "How 'bout them Vikes?" or "Wanna get lucky?" didn't seem to generate much interest with members of the opposite sex.

In fact, my "openers" seemed to prompt little more than abrupt "closure." In an odd twist of fate, however, I continue to use those exact same lines on the mid-May fishing "Opener" each year and get enthusiastic responses from fellow fishermen who mistakenly assume I know something about professional football or have a "hot" lure to share.

And the "Eye-Opener" that is normally such a morning necessity after the over-indulgences of the fishing "Opener" festivities can't be considered anything but a painful reminiscence. Where is the logic in putting a new and vibrant dose of alcohol in your system mere hours after you've come back from a "brink of death" battle with the stuff in the first place?

The simple fear of pouring more rum-soaked Margaritas down an already rebellious throat is plenty adequate to "open my eyes" on any given morning, thank you anyway.

Which brings us to the "letter opener." No, I'm not going to relive the long and painful list of rejection letter openings that I had to endure before stumbling on an editor silly enough to print this drivel. Nor will I rehash the Dear John dump-mail that so regularly graced my post office box years ago.

Rather, I'm simply going to recount my wife's growing unhappiness as her husband, lost in the fishless oblivion of early May, nervously and annoyingly putzes his way toward the building excitement of the "Opener."

I don't recall the exact words she so aggressively spit out as I dumped my tackle box onto the kitchen table for its fourth cleaning and organization since the walleye season closed last month, but the wild, frustrated look in her eye as she waved a particularly lethal looking "letter opener" in my general direction made it clear that the "Fishing Opener" had better come soon or my "personal season" would be closed permanently.

Lincoln DECA students are back from contest in Florida

Adam Haviland, Matt Lutovsky and Duane Wolff recently returned from Orlando, FL, where they competed in the national DECA competition. They qualified for the trip with their placing at the state Distributive Education Clubs of America contest earlier this year.

The students provided the following personal account of their experience:

Hello! We're sorry to say but we have returned from Orlando, Florida. Just kidding! It feels good to be back even though we had a great time! We wanted to thank everyone for the generous donation that you gave toward our DECA trip. Thank you sooo much!

The trip began on Friday, April 23, and ended on Wednesday, April 28. Here are some of the highlights from the trip:

Friday: Arrived in Orlando about 12 midnight, unpacked, explored the (Embassy Suites) hotel and headed to bed.

Saturday: We spent the day at Universal Studios and then attended the opening DECA ceremony where the 1996 Miss America winner gave a speech.

Sunday: This was our free day. We had no plans and spent the entire day walking around Orlando. We went to a few different malls and spent a few hours watching a magic show. It was excellent!

Monday: We spent most of the day at Wet N' Wild, a water park with every water ride imaginable. After a long day of swimming, we ate at the largest McDonald's in the World! They even had a whole corner of the restaurant that made McDonald's pizza. We were going to have the pizza but double cheeseburgers were a dollar and we couldn't pass up that great deal.

This was also the day that we gave our DECA presentation. There were also a few interesting things that night at the DECA hall, like a limbo contest and a dance contest.

Tuesday: This day was dedicated to Disney World. We walked around the entire Magic Kingdom and went on almost all of the rides. It was great —we even got our picture taken with Mickey Mouse! At night there was a DECA awards ceremony.

Wednesday: This day was by far the saddest of the trip because it was the day we had to leave. We basically packed our bags, went for one last swim and headed for the airport.

Overall, the trip was great! We loved every minute of it. Our DECA presentation was by far the best presentation any of us had done. We thought that we were in the finals for sure, but we were wrong.

When they determine who goes to the finals, they average your presentation score with your test score. I guess our test score was our downfall because we did not advance to the final round.

There were 14,000 kids competing in Orlando and our event was the largest at the convention, which is why it would have been an honor to advance. Oh well, now we know what we need to work on for next year!

Thanks again for supporting us on this trip. We had a great time and we really appreciate all that you have done for us.

Sincerely,
Adam Haviland, Matt Lutovsky and Duane Wolff

Weather continues to affect schedules

Weather continues to raise havoc with the spring sports schedules at Lincoln High School and Northland Community and Technical College.

Tuesday postponements and cancelations included high school baseball vs. Moorhead; boys high school tennis vs. Bemidji; high school softball at Kittson Central/Kittson County North, and college softball at Fergus Falls.

Events called off Wednesday were high school girls golf at Park Rapids and college baseball vs. Mesabi Range.

Thursday, college baseball vs. Vermilion and high school softball at Kittson Central/Kittson County North were canceled.

The Prowlers have been weathered out of seven baseball dates (nine games) this spring. Four of those games could not be made up. They were scheduled to play in the Mike Bugliosi Classic at Hibbing this weekend before finishing regular season play Tuesday with a make-up game against Moorhead at Irv Wilson Field. North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play begins Saturday, May 22.

In softball, the Prowlers have lost nine dates (ten games). They added an unscheduled contest against Fertile-Beltrami, but had to cancel seven other games. Weathered out of six straight starts since May 4, the Prowlers now await the start of the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament Monday.

Ten Northland baseball doubleheaders have been put on hold by the weather, with three of them (six games) being canceled. With five straight rain-outs since last playing May 1, the Pioneers' season-ending weekend featured doubleheaders Friday vs. Vermilion and Saturday at Central Lakes.

Northland softball team is at the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament this weekend in Grand Rapids. The Pioneers lost four playing dates to the weather this spring. Two of the doubleheaders could not be made up.

In boys tennis, three duals and the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational were washed out this year. One of the duals and the tournament were not made up. The Prowlers, sidelined by the weather since May 3, were scheduled to host Park Rapids Area Friday before heading to Brainerd for a quadrangular meet today (Saturday). Post-season play starts with the North Sub-Section 8AA team tournament Monday and individual competition Wednesday – both at Alexandria.

Thief River Falls Invitational boys and girls high school golf tournaments were both rained out this year. The girls have also missed three early-season quadrangular meets and the Park Rapids Invitational because of the weather. Regular season schedule continues for the two teams, leading to May 28 Section 8AA meets – the girls at Park Rapids and the boys at Perham.

Track squads finish year with EGF meet

Monday's East Grand Forks Lions Invitational will close out the 1999 regular season schedule for the Thief River Falls boys and girls high school track teams.

The Prowlers will compete in the North Sub-Section meet Thursday at Detroit Lakes.

Thief River Falls ran in the Otter Invitational Tuesday at Fergus Falls, where sun and little wind made up for cool temperatures – a break in a string of rainy days in the area.

"It was good to be running in dry weather again," offered Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson.

Moorhead boys emerged a winner in a close race by scoring 99 points, followed by Fergus Falls with 90, Bemidji 87, Detroit Lakes 64, Fisher/East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 40, Morris Area 36, Thief River Falls 23, and Ashby/Evansville 2.

The Spuds won the girls' title in much easier fashion by accumulating 217 points, followed by Detroit Lakes with 82, Fergus Falls 81, Ottertail Central 67, Thief River Falls 55, Ashby/Evansville 7, and Hillcrest Lutheran Academy 3.

Thief River Falls' Nicole Kopari set meet records for the girls in both the shot put (45-2 1/2) and discus (142-9)

Chelsea Haviland produced a third Thief River Falls first place finish in the girls' competition with a 5:21.57 in the 1600 meter run. Haviland, who has been a double-winner in the 1600 and pole vault on a number of occasions this spring, wasn't given that opportunity this time since the pole vault wasn't part of the meet.

A three-second drop by Rachel Mathson that resulted in a second place showing in the 400 was also one of the meet highlights, mentioned Olson.

Top showings by the Thief River Falls boys, pointed out Olson, came from Brian Loe, who was third with his first 40-foot triple jump of the year (40-2), and Kelly Cota, who matched the winning height in the high jump (6-0), but had to settle for fourth place when the number of misses were used as the tie-breaker.

Illinois player signs at NCTC

Luke Stuckey from Bishop McNamara High School in Martinton, IL, has signed a letter of intent to play basketball at Northland Community and Technical College next year.

The 6-0 shooting guard was a three-year varsity letterman and an IHSA slam dunk contest finalist.

"Luke is a very athletic 2-guard who brings a great attitude and work ethic to our program," said Northland men's basketball coach Rick Nikunen. "He is a tremendous leaper with a 39-inch vertical jump and an excellent jump shot from long range. He should push for a starting spot early."

Pioneers, Spartans split doubleheader

Northland scored five times in the bottom of the seventh inning to overtake Fergus Falls 6-5 in the first game of a Wednesday Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader. The Spartans managed a split by beating the visiting Pioneers 6-4 in Game 2.

Results in the regular season finale sends the defending state champion Pioneers into the MCCC state tournament this weekend in Grand Rapids with a 9-15 record.

Down 5-1 in their final at-bat in the opener, the Pioneers got a bases-loaded double from Terra Lorenson to tie it and a one-out infield single by Jessica Johnson to win it. Three of the Pioneers' five hits off Fergus Falls' Jessica Schwartz, along with three walks, came in the seventh inning rally.

Northland had more trouble offensively in Game 2 when the Spartans' Heather Anderson pitched a three-hitter. A two-run sixth inning home run by Becky Perreault gave the Pioneers a short-lived 4-3 lead that was erased by three Fergus Falls runs in the bottom of the inning. Four of the Spartans' six runs were unearned.

"We had a tough time at the plate," acknowledged Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "They (Spartans) have two of the best pitchers we've faced. But we got some timely hits."

tered in the summer are probably false morel and should be avoided.

The morel does not resemble the common table mushrooms that are canned or sold in the produce departments of supermarkets.

Instead, the head or top of the true morel resembles a pine cone and is composed of ridges and pits. This chambered top is actually the spore-bearing surface. The stalk varies in height and width.

When preparing the morel for consumption, it should be cut in half lengthwise to determine that its hollow center is insect-free.

When examining the halved mushroom, one can also determine if it is a true or false morel. When cut in half, the true morel resembles a Christmas tree — a triangle attached to a stump. The head of the false morel, on the other hand, hangs about the stem in skirt-like fashion and is attached at the top of the stalk.

Also, the head of the false morel is wrinkled and is not composed of the distinct ridges and pits of the true morel.

The taste and texture of the morel ranks among the best of all edible mushrooms.

Virgil and Cathy Erickson of rural Holt savored their special flavor at breakfast on Thursday morning. To prepare them, Cathy dipped the mushrooms in a mixture of beaten eggs and milk, dredged them in flour and then fried them in butter. "Mmmm. They were so good," she says.

John Williams agrees and refers to the mushrooms' flavor as "unique." An employee of the Department of Natural Resources, he and his family have also been enjoying morel mushrooms recently. The Williams reside near Middle River, and John is headquartered in Thief River Falls.

The Williams prepare the mushrooms in much the same way as the Ericksons. John also notes that they are delicious in soups and can be frozen or dried.

A native of Indiana, John is amazed by the fact that so few in northern Minnesota have an appreciation for the morel mushroom. Quite the opposite is true in Indiana. There, John says mushroom hunts are a tradition, and once a patch is found, it is kept secret. "People will go to great lengths to guard their mushroom patch," he says, "and then they brag about them." He also says that a lot of lore surrounds the revered fungi.

Different people have different ideas about where mushrooms are found. Williams says. Since coming to Minnesota in 1991, he has picked them in a variety of areas in Marshall, Pennington and Beltrami counties and says they are plentiful. He believes that the warm nights we enjoyed earlier during this season and the moist conditions have contributed to this year's particularly bountiful supply.

Morel varieties include cinnamon, black, gray and yellow with black being the most common and cinnamon, the "meatiest," as John's favorite.

Interestingly, while numerous attempts have been made to fruit the morel to be sold commercially, and although the spores germinate readily and pure cultures of the mycelium (the part that grows under the ground) are available, no one has been successful so far.

While John is eager to talk about mushrooms, the Indianian in him makes him a bit hesitant when asked specifically where these fungi treasures can be found.

Finally, after a little coaxing, John joined this reporter on a mushroom hunt on Thursday afternoon. I can tell you this much and remain true to my source. After driving for 15 minutes and hunting for 15 minutes, I had enough morel mushrooms to get a taste of what I was going to write about.

John's description was right on the money. The flavor of Minnesota's state mushroom is unique, and Cathy Erickson's got it right, too. Mmmm .... So good!

John Williams, a Minnesota Department of Resources employee, holds several morel mushrooms found Thursday afternoon near Thief River Falls. The edible morel is Minnesota's state mushroom and can be found in abundance in many areas throughout the state during the spring season.

Watershed board seeks input about area flooding explained that in this district, the Red Lake Watershed board takes responsibility for the sizing of culverts seriously. Permits are required before work on culverts and ditches can take place, but in many cases limited resources prevent district representatives from checking on all activities that affect culverts and ditches. it takes the help of citizens, as well. In instances where they have become aware of un-permitted activities, the board has sent letters to the individual responsible for the unpermitted activities, and if the individual fails to respond, the board takes corrective action. As regards, a request to install a gage at Kratka bridge, Sparby said by coincidence the board recently asked the Army Corps of Engineers to do just that.

Some of the residents attending the meeting expressed the opinion that drainage from Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, and from the District's Moose River impoundment, contributed to this year's flooding.

Board Member Leonard Moe explained that there are many players whose actions affect the watershed. He denied the statement made at the meeting that dumping of water from the Moose River impoundment forced Agassiz to dump water into the river. Moe noted that there were many contributing factors to this year's problems, including different management practices.

Moe encouraged those at the meeting to keep asking questions and encouraging those many organizations whose actions affect the watershed, to cooperate. Moe stated that it's pretty obvious that management plans haven't been working.

Many in the audience noted that the recent three to four inches of rain in the area caused water the river and ditches to spill over the banks again.

Moe said that more land was being used in the 1950s. Land will use a lot of water if it can, he said, but when it's in CRP or as saturated as it has become, it can't handle the water. In such situations, even one inch of rain over such a wide area becomes a serious problem. When the land is as flat as it is, and the moisture content as high as it is, the water has no where to go.

Sanderson noted that the area is in a wet cycle.

Not everyone in the audience were critical of the board. One individual said that the board is the best vehicle citizens have for protection and bringing and end to some of this. In earlier days, he said, it was whoever had the money and resources, got what they wanted.

Construction on T.H. 2 to begin

Minnesota Department of Transportation is advising motorists that construction work on the west bound lane of T.H. 2 from the junction of T.H. 220 to Fisher will begin on Monday, May 17.

Anderson cautions motorists that the speed limit is being reduced to 55 miles per hour through the construction zone and will be enforced by the state patrol.

Mn/DOT would like to remind motorists that when you "See Orange", slow down and obey all traffic signing.

Concordia students from area in Seminars Abroad

Several students from the circulation area of the Northern Watch are participating in the 1999 May Seminars Abroad program of Concordia College in Moorhead.

On this seminar students will explore the artistic and musical developments from the Renaissance to the modern era through the contributions of royal, aristocratic and ecclesiastical courts. Participants will tour palaces, ceremonial halls and cathedrals. Cities to be visited include London, Paris, Prague, Salzburg, Vienna, Venice, Urbino, Siena, Florence and Rome.

Jennifer Beisel of Warroad, a junior majoring in food/nutrition and dietetics, will participate in the seminar on Public Health Policy from an International Perspective.

This group will study how history, culture and scientific discoveries impact the health policies of European countries and will focus on community policies and public services. Students will tour Switzerland, Paris, London, Lille, Copenhagen and Stockholm.

Arctic Cat net sales, profits decline for fiscal year 1999

Net earnings for Arctic Cat Inc. for fiscal 1999 declined only $2.3 million despite a drop in net sales of $23.8 million, according to the fourth quarter and year-end report released Thursday, May 13.

During the year the company reduced operating expenses by nearly $8 million and reduced inventories by almost $20 million, according to Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer. These reductions were in part responsible for the significant improvement in the company's cash position during the year, Twomey said.

Fiscal year 1999 net sales were $480,348,000, down $23,858,000 from sales of $504,206,000 for fiscal 1998. Net earnings for the year were $23,115,000, a reduction from $2,334,000 in fiscal 1998. Earnings per diluted share dropped from 88 to 84 cents.

For the fourth quarter of the year, net sales increased eight percent but the net loss also increased slightly. Net sales rose to $88,565,000 from $82,085,000 in 1998 while the net loss from the quarter of $1,731,000 was up from $1,520,000 a year ago.

"During the year we continued to see dramatic growth in sales of our 'best in class' ATVs with retail sales doubling," Twomey said. "Arctic Cat's model line now covers all segments of the ATV market and with exciting new products to be announced in June, we expect to again outpace the industry growth this year.

"After two years of poor snow and warmer than normal weather," the CEO added, "industry-wide snowmobile retail sales again decreased. This is only the second time since 1991, and the third time in 15 years, that the industry has experienced a sales decline."

Twomey said that dealers and consumers were excited with the 2000 model year snowmobile lineup unveiled in February and March, but that dealers are ordering more conservatively for next year because of the past two years of poor snow conditions.

"With the personal watercroft retail sales season just beginning," Twomey said, "our dealer inventories are at historically low levels which we believe is appropriate, given the present market situation. We expect a good retail sell-through this year and anticipate increased orders from our dealers during the 2000 fiscal year.

"Growth of ATV and personal watercraft sales should offset the anticipated decline in snowmobile sales, and as a result, we expect overall revenues to be similar to fiscal 1999."

Twomey said the company also will continue to work aggressively on making operating improvements, reducing product and operating costs while reducing inventories. He said the company also expects to continue to use its balance sheet to aggressively support its stock, which the board considers to be undervalued. The company will also look at acquisition opportunities in the leisure recreation industry, he said.

Arctic Cat Inc. also announced Thursday that its board of directors had authorized the company to repurchase up to $30 million in additional shares of its common stock from time to time in open market transactions.

The authorization represents approximately 3.25 million shares, or about 12 percent of the company's current common shares outstanding. The company currently has a repurchase program in progress after completing two such programs previously. In total, the company has repurchased and canceled nearly four million common shares to date.

Regarding the repurchase, Twomey said that the board has a positive outlook for the near-term growth prospects for Arctic Cat and the industry. "We also continue to think that our shares are undervalued and our board of directors believes that the repurchase of our shares is an excellent use of our cash."

Arctic Cat currently has about 26 million common and Class B common shares outstanding. Approximately 29 percent of all shares are Class B common shares and are held by Suzuki Motor Corporation, a supplier of engines to the company. No Class B common stock will be repurchased.

TRF young man killed in accident at Grygla

Maximilian R. Radniecki, 23, Thief River Falls, was killed in an accident near Grygla Thursday, May 20.

Marshall County Sheriff's department received a report of the accident at 10:05 p.m. on Thursday, May 20. The accident happened about four miles south of Grygla on County road 54. According to the accident report, Radniecki was driving a 1986 Ford pickup south on County road 54 when it left the roadway, struck a field crossing and rolled several times. Radniecki was ejected from the vehicle and was found a short distance from it.

The Grygla Fire and Rescue squad and the Great Plains Ambulance Service out of Thief River Falls were dispatched to the scene. Radniecki was transported by ambulance to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls where doctors pronounced him dead.

The accident remains under investigation by the Marshall County Sheriff's department.

Bleachers and press box are almost ready for the first football games to be played at the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls. The field, however, needs a good growing season before the grass can be played on. The first games are scheduled for late September.

Katy Olson to attend Hugh O'Brien seminar

Katy Olson

Katy Olson, daughter of Myles and Susan Olson and a sophomore at Lincoln high school, has been selected to attend the Minnesota Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership seminar June 18-20 at Hamline University in St. Paul.

Selection is based upon demonstrated leadership and potential for continued leadership growth. Katy will join more than 200 young leaders representing as many high schools from throughout Minnesota at the seminar.

The program brings sophomore students together with groups of leaders in business, government and education. The goal is to provide the participants with a stimulating forum for learning about the American incentive system and democratic process while broadening their understanding of their leadership potential and quest for self-development.

Karlstad seniors show versatility as artists

by Kathi Carlson
Times Reporter

With their last prom behind them and graduation only a few days away, the seniors at Tri-County School in Karlstad are probably feeling a bit melancholy these days.

On Thursday evening, however, many of them were jovial as their work was featured at the school's annual art show.

The show lived up to its reputation as the walls of the hallways and cafeteria and rows of tables displayed hundreds of examples of just about every imaginable visual and dimensional art form.

Examples included pottery, wood carving, wood burning and batik as well as pencil, ink, charcoal and pastel drawings and paintings in oil and watercolors.

While many of the pieces were traditional, others were kid friendly. Trendy cartoon characters were frequently the subjects of batik, an age-old art form. Many of spearing lures that the students had carved and painted had actually been used during a winter field trip to Lake Bronson.

Carvings also included race cars. With the axles and wheels provided, students carved the bodies of the cars. Races continued on Thursday evening during the art show. Launched with power from CO-2 canisters, the cars can reach speeds of up to 70 miles per hour.

Students represented were from the seventh through twelfth grades and all are the students of Bob Johnson.

Bob was the subject of a January story in the Northern Watch. Since that time, he has also been the subject of a WDAZ-TV feature and was selected by his peers as Tri-County's Teacher of the Year for 1999.

About 28 of Tri-County's 32 candidates for graduation have taken art during their senior year with Johnson making every effort to accommodate their schedules.

For the art show, many of these seniors set up tables that included pieces that they had created throughout their years at Tri-County, evidence of how their skills improved and talents emerged.

Armed with a roll of tape, Bob Johnson milled about the school Thursday evening, visiting with parents and bantering with his students.

As the school year draws to a conclusion, Johnson shares the wistful feelings of the senior students as these too are his final days at Tri-County School.

Bob has resigned from his position in Karlstad and accepted a position with the Brainerd school district where he will teach senior high school photography and pottery.

Like many of his students, Bob will leave the familiarity of the small community for something much larger. There are about 1,500 students in the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades at the Brainerd school where Bob will teach.

With fond memories and only good things to say about the school system, students and Karlstad community, Bob Johnson, like his graduating students, looks forward to a new adventure.

Senior Josh Myhrer displayed some of his creations at the annual art show at Tri-County School on Thursday. The works of seventh through twelfth grade students covered the walls of the hallways and cafeteria. Tables included projects that the seniors had made throughout their school career at Tri-County. Bob Johnson is the art instructor at the school and was selected as Tri-County's Teacher of the Year for 1999.

DNR seeking responses to Con-Con land designation

Hearing at NCTC in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, May 25

In a series of five open houses, four of which will be in northwest Minnesota, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will seek responses to proposed management designations on 187,000 acres of state-owned land in northwestern Minnesota.

Consolidated Conservation property, most often referred to as Con-Con lands, include 147,470 acres in Beltrami county, 24,187 acres in Koochiching county, 8,787 acres in Lake of the Woods county, 6,213 acres in Roseau county and 740 acres in Marshall county.

Open houses—all of which are scheduled from 7 to 8:30 p.m.—will be held May 24 at Kelliher high school, May 25 at Northland Community and Technical College cafeteria in Thief River Falls; May 26 at Warroad middle school lunch room; and May 27 at Birchdale community center.

A Twin Cities area session will be held Saturday, May 22, from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the cafeteria of the DNR building in St. Paul.

Interested individuals and groups are encouraged to attend one of the open houses, review maps and information on proposed designations and provide feedback to DNR land managers, according to Wayne Edgerton of the DNR office in St. Paul.

For those unable to attend an open house, viewable maps and other Con-Con information will be available on the DNR website at http://dnr.state.mn.us. Instructions on how to download and comment on the maps are available on the site. Written and mailed comments are also welcomed and should be sent to Wayne Edgerton, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155. Deadline for all comments is June 7, 1999.

For more information on the meetings or background information on the Con-Con issue, contact the DNR Information Center at 1-888-MINNDNR (646-6367).

A list of questions and answers supplied by the DNR regarding the Consolidated Conservation lands and dated May 19, 1999, includes the following:

What are Consolidated Conservation lands?

Con-Con lands, as they are often called, are state-owned property held in the public trust specifically for conservation purposes. The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has the responsibility to manage these lands.

How did Con-Con lands come about?

During the 1920s and '30s, a number of counties in Minnesota issued bonds to pay the cost of ditching for the purpose of creating farm land. Land was sold and ditches were dug. But many efforts failed to create productive farmland, causing land owners to default on their property taxes and putting the counties at risk of defaulting on the ditch bonds. The State of Minnesota interceded, paying off the bonds in exchange for those lands that had gone tax forfeited.

What happened recently to bring renewed attention to this subject?

State law (M.S. CH 282.22) requires the DNR to dedicate Con-Con lands for conservation purposes. Since the early 1930s most of the Con-Con lands have been placed in management units or sold.

There remains, in five counties, 187,397 acres of undedicated land, all of which were included in Commissioner Rod Sando's Jan. 3, 1999 Order. That order was delayed for a period of six months, during which time the DNR, in cooperation

Hazardous spill exercises planned for TRF in August

Thief River Falls Emergency response officials are planning an emergency training exercise near the intersection of Third and Atlantic in August. This specific exercise was a result of problems identified by an emergency training exercise conducted last year with CP Rail and state agencies.

The exercise conducted last year involved a train derailment and spill of toxic chemicals into the river. State agencies indicated that had the emergency exercise been a real emergency, the water treatment plant would have been contaminated.

To address this possibility the city plans to install an emergency shut off valve, along with a turn off switch at the law enforcement center. In addition, following discussions with CP Rail, CP Rail offered the city a "contingency pack", which is a container of special absorbent materials that costs about $21,000. More specifically, they asked if the city would house the container, obtain training to use the equipment at no cost to the city. If the city desired, the city could purchase the contingency pack for $1. The city could also use the equipment for spills other than spills resulting from CP Rail spills, but must replace used equipment.

Officials were enthusiastic about obtaining training on the use of the equipment. City Attorney Paul Ihle, however, warned that he didn't see any benefit to the city to owning the equipment — in view of constantly changing pollution control rules. He also noted that in regards to liability, in any emergency situation, the city would be better off responding with equipment at hand. The city cannot be expected, with its limited budget, to provide the equipment and training to respond to every emergency situation. Providing the city with this emergency equipment is a convenient way for CP Rail to hand off its responsibility, said Ihle.

No action was taken by the city council.

Request. Dave and Marge Griffin of 1505 Meadowlark Court, appeared before the council Tuesday night to request their assistance in resolving a problem. Marge Griffin explained that a large pool of water has formed on their property because a developer had installed improper culverts on neighboring properties in order to provide the neighbors with drainage and larger back yards.

The council referred the matter to committee.

Slow second mortgage. The City of Thief River Falls, through the Community Development Revolving Loan Fund, will have available a set amount of money to be used as a slow second mortgage. Eligible borrowers will be individuals constructing new, single family homes or purchasing previously unsold spec homes within Thief River Falls and must reside in the homes. Loans of up to $10,000 will be available and up to $12,500 if the home is located in areas of the City platted prior to 1960. More specific details of the slow second mortgage program, which was approved by the city council, are available from the community development office (681-2500).

Airport construction. The city's share of reconstruction of a ramp at the airport was expected to cost the city $18,000. Ron Lindberg, public works director asked the council to take the opportunity to thicken the airport ramp so that it could handle larger, heavier aircraft. The project change could increase the city's share of the project cost to as much as $26,500, which is 10 percent of the estimated project cost. Lindberg said he is confident that it is a high estimate.

The request was approved by the council.

Computers. Purchase of three personal computers for the police department at a cost of $4,632 was approved by the city council. Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said the purchase was necessary as some of the computers at the law enforcement center were not Y2k compatible, and "would make good boat anchors."

The purchase will be part of a larger purchase order that will

Arctic Cat net sales, profits decline for fiscal year 1999

Net earnings for Arctic Cat Inc. for fiscal 1999 declined only $2.3 million despite a drop in net sales of $23.8 million, according to the fourth quarter and year-end report released Thursday, May 13.

During the year the company reduced operating expenses by nearly $8 million and reduced inventories by almost $20 million, according to Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer. These reductions were in part responsible for the significant improvement in the company's cash position during the year, Twomey said.

Fiscal year 1999 net sales were $480,348,000, down $23,858,000 from sales of $504,206,000 for fiscal 1998. Net earnings for the year were $23,115,000, a reduction from $2,334,000 in fiscal 1998. Earnings per diluted share dropped from 88 to 84 cents.

For the fourth quarter of the year, net sales increased eight percent but the net loss also increased slightly. Net sales rose to $88,565,000 from $82,085,000 in 1998 while the net loss from the quarter of $1,731,000 was up from $1,520,000 a year ago.

"During the year we continued to see dramatic growth in sales of our 'best in class' ATVs with retail sales doubling," Twomey said. "Arctic Cat's model line now covers all segments of the ATV market and with exciting new products to be announced in June, we expect to again outpace the industry growth this year.

"After two years of poor snow and warmer than normal weather," the CEO added, "industry-wide snowmobile retail sales again decreased. This is only the second time since 1991, and the third time in 15 years, that the industry has experienced a sales decline."

Twomey said that dealers and consumers were excited with the 2000 model year snowmobile lineup unveiled in February and March, but that dealers are ordering more conservatively for next year because of the past two years of poor snow conditions.

"With the personal watercraft retail sales season just beginning," Twomey said, "our dealer inventories are at historically low levels which we believe is appropriate, given the present market situation. We expect a good retail sell-through this year and anticipate increased orders from our dealers during the 2000 fiscal year.

"Growth of ATV and personal watercraft sales should offset the anticipated decline in snowmobile sales, and as a result, we expect overall revenues to be similar to fiscal 1999."

Twomey said the company also will continue to work aggressively on making operating improvements, reducing product and operating costs while reducing inventories. He said the company also expects to continue to use its balance sheet to aggressively support its stock, which the board considers to be undervalued. The company will also look at acquisition opportunities in the leisure recreation industry, he said.

Arctic Cat Inc. also announced Thursday that its board of directors had authorized the company to repurchase up to $30 million in additional shares of its common stock from time to time in open market transactions.

The authorization represents approximately 3.25 million shares, or about 12 percent of the company's current common shares outstanding. The company currently has a repurchase program in progress after completing two such programs previously. In total, the company has repurchased and canceled nearly four million common shares to date.

Regarding the repurchase, Twomey said that the board has a positive outlook for the near-term growth prospects for Arctic Cat and the industry. "We also continue to think that our shares are undervalued and our board of directors believes that the repurchase of our shares is an excellent use of our cash."

Arctic Cat currently has about 26 million common and Class B common shares outstanding. Approximately 29 percent of all shares are Class B common shares and are held by Suzuki Motor Corporation, a supplier of engines to the company. No Class B common stock will be repurchased.

TRF young man killed in accident at Grygla

Maximilian R. Radniecki, 23, Thief River Falls, was killed in an accident near Grygla Thursday, May 20.

Marshall County Sheriff's department received a report of the accident at 10:05 p.m. on Thursday, May 20. The accident happened about four miles south of Grygla on County road 54. According to the accident report, Radniecki was driving a 1986 Ford pickup south on County road 54 when it left the roadway, struck a field crossing and rolled several times. Radniecki was ejected from the vehicle and was found a short distance from it.

The Grygla Fire and Rescue squad and the Great Plains Ambulance Service out of Thief River Falls were dispatched to the scene. Radniecki was transported by ambulance to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls where doctors pronounced him dead.

The accident remains under investigation by the Marshall County Sheriff's department.

Bleachers and press box are almost ready for the first football games to be played at the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls. The field, however, needs a good growing season before the grass can be played on. The first games are scheduled for late September.

Dahle to play in U.S. Women's Open

Red Lake Falls - Amy Dahle of Red Lake Falls will join 149 golfers from around the world as she tees off for the U.S. Women's Open on June 3 at Old Waverly Golf Club in West Point, MS.

Dahle, who turned professional earlier this year, qualified for the U.S. Women's Open at Allegheny Country Club near Pittsburgh, PA, and when it really counted, the 23-year-old shot the first hole-in-one of her career.

Amy's parents, Ed and Joanne Dahle, her four sisters, her longtime boyfriend, Kraig Fontaine, and his mother will attend the tournament at West Point. Greg Mireault, a PGA professional who is a Fosston businessman and owner of the Fosston Golf Club, will be Amy's caddy. The Gazette

Casino a no-go

Bemidji - Due to citizen opposition, the proposal for a Red Lake Band of Chippewa-run casino in Bemidji has been "taken off the table." Tribal chairman Bobby Whitefeather said recently that the casino in Bemidji was only a concept that needed exploring.

In an interview with The Pioneer, Whitefeather said that he would like to look at developing a major casino at Redlake, coupled with tourism promotion to the Red Lake Reservation. Instead, the tribal council wants to expand the River Road Casino located near Thief River Falls. The Pioneer

Dogs on council agenda—again!

Oklee - Once again, frustrating dog problems were brought to the attention of the Oklee City Council at its May 10 meeting. Residents have been complaining about dogs running loose and barking, creating a nuisance in the community. However, there is not a whole lot the city council can do about the problem as there is no pound in Oklee in which to place stray dogs.

Complaints should be directed to the Red Lake County Sheriff's office. It is up to them to follow up on the calls and pick up the dogs and take them to the animal pound in Thief River Falls. Council members did agree, however, that the problem is frustrating and that it should be the responsibility of Oklee residents to take care of their pets. The Oklee Herald

Mentor SD petitions for consolidation

Fertile - A petition signed by about 70 residents of the Mentor school district asks that the Mentor district consolidate with the Fertile-Beltrami and Win-E-Mac districts.

The petition was created by several concerned citizens for the purpose of letting the Mentor School Board know that they wanted their taxes to go to support the district where the majority of the students attend school. Currently about 81 of the students attend school at Fertile-Beltrami, about 39 at Win-E-Mac, 10 in Crookston and about five in Red Lake Falls.

The petitions were delivered to Jerry Amiot, Polk county auditor/treasurer, who will check the signatures of those that signed and then send the results to the State Department of Children, Families and Learning. The Fertile Journal

by Kathi Carlson
Times Reporter

With their last prom behind them and graduation only a few days away, the seniors at Tri-County School in Karlstad are probably feeling a bit melancholy these days.

On Thursday evening, however, many of them were jovial as their work was featured at the school's annual art show.

The show lived up to its reputation as the walls of the hallways and cafeteria and rows of tables displayed hundreds of examples of just about every imaginable visual and dimensional art form.

Examples included pottery, wood carving, wood burning and batik as well as pencil, ink, charcoal and pastel drawings and paintings in oil and watercolors.

While many of the pieces were traditional, others were kid friendly. Trendy cartoon characters were frequently the subjects of batik, an age-old art form. Many of spearing lures that the students had carved and painted had actually been used during a winter field trip to Lake Bronson.

Carvings also included race cars. With the axles and wheels provided, students carved the bodies of the cars. Races continued on Thursday evening during the art show. Launched with power from CO-2 canisters, the cars can reach speeds of up to 70 miles per hour.

The city cannot be expected, with its limited budget, to provide the equipment and training to respond to every emergency situation. Providing the city with this emergency equipment is a convenient way for CP Rail to hand off its responsibility, said Ihle.

No action was taken by the city council.

Request. Dave and Marge Griffin of 1505 Meadowlark Court, appeared before the council Tuesday night to request their assistance in resolving a problem. Marge Griffin explained that a large pool of water has formed on their property because a developer had installed improper culverts on neighboring properties in order to provide the neighbors with drainage and larger back yards.

The council referred the matter to committee.

Slow second mortgage. The City of Thief River Falls, through the Community Development Revolving Loan Fund, will have available a set amount of money to be used as a slow second mortgage. Eligible borrowers will be individuals constructing new, single family homes or purchasing previously unsold spec homes within Thief River Falls and must reside in the homes. Loans of up to $10,000 will be available and up to $12,500 if the home is located in areas of the City platted prior to 1960. More specific details of the slow second mortgage program, which was approved by the city council, are available from the community development office (681-2500).

Airport construction. The city's share of reconstruction of a ramp at the airport was expected to cost the city $18,000. Ron Lindberg, public works director asked the council to take the opportunity to thicken the airport ramp so that it could handle larger, heavier aircraft. The project change could increase the city's share of the project cost to as much as $26,500, which is 10 percent of the estimated project cost. Lindberg said he is confident that it is a high estimate.

The request was approved by the council.

Computers. Purchase of three personal computers for the police department at a cost of $4,632 was approved by the city council. Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said the purchase was necessary as some of the computers at the law enforcement center were not Y2K compatible, and "would make good boat anchors."

The purchase will be part of a larger purchase order that will

GENERAL NOTICE TO CONTROL OR ERADICATE NOXIOUS WEEDS AND GRASSHOPPERS

Notice is hereby given this 22nd day of May, 1999, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, section 18.83, subd. 7, (1992), that all persons in Pennington County, Minnesota, shall control or eradicate all noxious weeds on land they own, occupy or are required to maintain. Control or eradication may be accomplished by any lawful method but the methods may need to be repeated in order to prevent the spread of viable noxious weed seeds and other propagating parts to other lands. Failure to comply with the general notice may mean that an individual notice will be issued. An individual notice may be appealed within two working days of receipt to the appeal committee in the county where the land is located. Failure to comply with the individual notice will mean that the inspector having jurisdiction may either hire the work done or seek a misdemeanor charge against the person(s) who failed to comply. If the work is hired done by the inspector, the cost can be placed as a tax upon the land and collected as other real estate taxes are collected. You may obtain a list of the plants that are designated noxious and of the members of the appeal committee from your County Agricultural Inspector or Local Weed Inspector. The Local Weed Inspectors are township supervisors, city mayors or their appointed assistants.

Notice is also hereby given pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, section 18.0225, (1990), that all persons owning, occupying, or in charge of the maintenance of land shall control grasshoppers by any lawful method on land located in designated control zones. The methods used may need to be repeated to prevent the movement of grasshoppers to adjacent lands. Failure to comply with the general notice may mean the inspector having jurisdiction will issue an individual notice. Failure to comply with the individual notice may mean that the inspector having jurisdiction will hire the control work done and place the cost as a tax lien upon the land. A similar appeal process applies to violations of the grasshopper law as to the noxious weed law. You may obtain lists of the townships that are designated as control zones and of the appeal committee members from the County Agricultural Inspector or a Local Grasshopper Inspector. Local Grasshopper Inspectors are township supervisors or their appointed assistants.

My rhubarb recipe problems continue to haunt me. In case you missed my correction a couple of weeks ago, add 1 cup of flour and 1 teaspoon baking powder to the Rhubarb Crisp recipe from May 1. I made it and it was delicious. Also, grease the pan when you make the Rhubarb Crumble Pie or else it will stick.

Today's recipes are some sweet treats for you to try. Bake them ahead so you can have them while you're enjoying a pleasant weekend.

ANGEL SANDWICHES

Crust:

1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 cup flour

Filling:

1 cup chopped dates
1 cup raisins
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups water

Topping:

1 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 350 degrees. To make crust, mix shortening, butter and 1/2 cup powdered sugar. Mix in flour. Press evenly in ungreased 9x13 inch pan. Bake 15 minutes and cool.

For filling, mix dates, raisins, granulated sugar and water in saucepan. Cook over low heat about 10 minutes, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool.

For topping, beat whipping cream, 1/4 cup powdered sugar and vanilla in chilled bowl until stiff.

Spread date mixture over baked layer. Spread whipped cream mixture over date mixture. Cover and refrigerate until cooled. Store in fridge.

This treat is easy to make and great for a quick snack:

CANDY BAR COOKIES

Softened margarine or butter
1 cup butterscotch-flavored chips
1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 cups round oat cereal
1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 tablespoon shortening
1 package milk chocolate chips

Butter 8x8 or 9x9 inch pan.

Heat chips, corn syrup, butter and vanilla in saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly, until chips are melted and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat.

Stir in cereal and marshmallows until well coated. Press evenly into pan, using buttered back of spoon. Cool.

Heat shortening and chocolate chips in saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth. Spread over cereal layer. Refrigerate until firm, about 1 hour.

Remove from refrigerator for at least 10 minutes before cutting.

CINNAMON COFFEE BARS

1 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups flour
2 tablespoons freeze dried instant coffee
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup raisins
1/4 cup chopped nuts
Glaze (below)

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 9x13 inch pan. Mix brown sugar, shortening and egg in medium bowl. Stir in water. Stir in remaining ingredients except raisins, nuts and glaze.

Stir in raisins and nuts and spread in pan. Bake 18-20 minutes until top springs back when touched in center. Drizzle warm bars with glaze, cool and cut.

Glaze:

1 cup powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
3 teaspoons milk

Mix together, adding milk until thin enough to drizzle.

CHOCOLATE PECAN SQUARES

Crust Layer:

1 cup flour
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter, softened

Caramel Layer:

1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla

Frosting Layer:

1/2 cup chocolate chips

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Beat crust ingredients together on low speed until blended. Beat on medium speed 1-2 minutes until crumbly. Press evenly in ungreased square pan.

To make caramel layer, heat brown sugar and butter in saucepan over medium heat. Stir frequently to boiling. Boil and stir for 1 minute. Remove from heat and add pecans and vanilla. Pour over layer in pan. Bake 18-20 minutes or until bubbly.

Sprinkle chocolate chips over warm layer in pan. Return to oven for 2 minutes to soften chocolate, but do not spread. Cool 10 minutes, then loosen edges with knife. Cool completely and then cut. Store in refrigerator.

These sound delicious, but I will make them normal-sized and bake them less time, just until they are nicely browned and, as stated, almost no indentation remains - bet they would also be good with just orange candies too:

JUMBO JEWELS

1 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup buttermilk or water
1 egg
1 3/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups cut up fruit-flavored gumdrops

Mix brown sugar, shortening, buttermilk and egg in large bowl. Stir in flour, soda and salt. Stir in gumdrops. Cover and refrigerate at least 1 hour.

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Drop dough by 1/4 cupfuls about 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 11-13 minutes or until almost no indentation remains when touched. Immediately remove from cookie sheet and cool on racks. Makes about 13 really large cookies.

Hugoson Unfairly Made Scapegoat for CRP

Hey, guys, have a little understanding for Gene. The way Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture Gene Hugoson has been maligned lately is unbefitting his meritorious service in a position which can hardly be considered enviable in today's agricultural situation.

Most recently Hugoson received the back of the hand from State Senators LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and Roger Moe of Erskine who spoke against his confirmation as Commissioner by the Senate last Saturday. That shin-kicking was uncalled for, especially when the senators chose to publicize their action by sending out news releases citing their testimony. The attempt to capitalize politically on an unpopular action by Commissioner Hugoson is obvious.

Hugoson, folks in the area will recall, wrote a letter to the Minnesota director of the federal Farm Service Agency in which he cited reasons he didn't think it was a good idea to extend CRP acreage to 30 percent of cropland in Pennington, Roseau and Marshall counties. Minnesota FSA was requesting the extension from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and included the letter from Hugoson with the request sent to Washington.

In denying the request for extension, USDA cited the letter from Minnesota's Commissioner of Agriculture as one of its reasons for denial. Folks who had been counting on the additional five percent of CRP acreage in the three counties were angry with the decision, and particularly with the Hugoson letter. They thought he should have been more in tune to the special needs of the three counties.

That was the point made by Senators Stumpf and Moe when Hugoson's reappointment by Gov. Jesse Ventura came up in the Senate Saturday. Under Minnesota's Constitution, the State Senate must confirm the Governor's appointments of state agency commissioners. Hugoson, who had originally been appointed by Gov. Arne Carlson, had his reappointment confirmed on a voice vote.

"It's outrageous that the Commissioner isn't supporting farmers in our state every chance he gets," Sen. Stumpf said during the debate (according to his news release). "His action shows a lack of commitment to helping farmers in their time of need."

"The Commissioner said he was worried that adding CRP acres would limit the availability of land for young farmers some time in the future," Sen. Moe was quoted as testifying. "But because of his action, these farmers who can't get in CRP may not have a future."

The senators' testimony smacks of the old "What have you done for me lately?" theme, and it is patently unfair. If there has been a Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture who has expended half as much effort on behalf of this state's farmers as Commissioner Hugoson has, it had to be decades ago. In 45 years of newspaper work, we haven't seen one.

We may have been a party to criticism of the Commissioner in our news reports and editorial comment regarding denial of the CRP extension, and we stand by our contention that Hugoson did not give sufficient consideration to the dire straits of CRP applicants in Pennington, Marshall and Roseau counties. But our criticism is confined to that point alone, and it is not sufficient to justify jeopardizing the office of someone who has an extensive record of being a friend to farmers on a statewide basis.

If Senators Moe and Stumpf want to take someone to task for denial of the CRP extension, it should be the representatives of the Clinton Administration in Washington who did the deed. It wasn't the Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture who nixed the increase. To fail to give Hugoson credit for influencing positive actions in USDA while blaming him for a single perceived negative one is totally improper.

And farmers in this area who may be upset with the Commissioner's letter would be well advised to temper their animosity. They have a hard-working representative in the commissioner's office and they shouldn't condemn him to being a scapegoat for a federal decision.

Writers Take A Peek At Cargill Profits

"Cargill profits from decline in farm prices" claimed a headline in the business section of the Minneapolis Tribune recently. It's the kind of headline that increases farmers' heartbeats a little bit and causes some more wear on the rear molars. Cargill is big business, so that must mean it's bad for farmers.

"Cargill, Inc., benefiting from low prices of livestock and grain, will report next week that earnings for its third quarter climbed about 53 percent to $192 million," the article under the headline stated. "The closely held commodity processing and financial services giant earned $125 million in the same period last year."

The information reportedly came from a confidential document that the nation's largest privately-owned company sent to a small group of investors interested in buying $250 million of its 10-year notes.

The tendency for farmers mired in depressed markets is to look for someone to blame, and one handy entity is Cargill. If one company is that big, the reasoning goes, it must be able to control the market, and if it wants cheap grain and livestock, it keeps the price down. We imagine Cargill executives would like to have things that simple.

Fact of the matter is, Cargill is successful because it is diversified enough to capitalize on either end of market fluctuations. When grain markets are high, it makes money on buying and selling. When grain markets are low, it makes more money on processing. When livestock prices are high, it makes money on feed lots. When livestock prices are low, it makes money on its packing plants.

Big as it is, Cargill is subject to economic trends well beyond its control. Persons who read the entire article under the headline mentioned above will note that for the nine-month period including that third quarter, Cargill earned $94 million from continuing operations—down 62 percent from the $249 million earned during the com[illegible] months ending Feb. [illegible] That's not small change, but on annual revenues of over $50 billion, it's not an exceptional profit.

It is also deceptive to look at one phase and one time span of a company as diversified as Cargill. There are too many significant business dealings within the company but outside the markets that affect profits and losses to hang a label on any one part.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am writing you concerning the CRP acreage limit extension in Marshall county. In the earlier CRP signup (17th) the eastern one-fourth of the county was not eligible to sign up. The rest of the county was eligible and put in about 21 percent of the allowable acres. In the 18th signup the Congress opened up the eastern end of the county to the priority area, but by then there was only about three to four percent of the eligible maximum acres left in the county.

The eastern side of the county is flat, poorly drained, lower quality land where a lot of farmers are having great hardship right now due to weather, low prices, scab, etc. That is why we needed, so much, the five per cent extension of the allowable acres to 30 percent.

If the acreage had been extended to 30 percent, it would have held back water during the spring flooding and heavy rainfall as flood control for Thief River Falls, Crookston, Grand Forks and the Red River of the North. It would also affect water quality and wildlife enhancement, which are the main objects of CRP.

I feel the small towns, schools, ag-related businesses, etc., are going to be hurt much more now than if five percent more of the land would have been put in the CRP. I think it is better for the community to lose the business from five percent of the acres than to lose 100 percent of the business from all the family farms that this decision is going to put out of business.

CRP may not have been the answer, but it was the only thing offered, right now, that might keep some of us from having to liquidate. If we would be getting a fair price for our crops and livestock we wouldn't be in this position.

Sincerely,
Rodney Wayne

Arne Carlson, had his reappointment confirmed on a voice vote.

"It's outrageous that the Commissioner isn't supporting farmers in our state every chance he gets," Sen. Stumpf said during the debate (according to his news release). "His action shows a lack of commitment to helping farmers in their time of need."

"The Commissioner said he was worried that adding CRP acres would limit the availability of land for young farmers some time in the future," Sen. Moe was quoted as testifying. "But because of his action, these farmers who can't get in CRP may not have a future."

The senators' testimony smacks of the old "What have you done for me lately?" theme, and it is patently unfair. If there has been a Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture who has expended half as much effort on behalf of this state's farmers as Commissioner Hugoson has, it had to be decades ago. In 45 years of newspaper work, we haven't seen one.

We may have been a party to criticism of the Commissioner in our news reports and editorial comment regarding denial of the CRP extension, and we stand by our contention that Hugoson did not give sufficient consideration to the dire straits of CRP applicants in Pennington, Marshall and Roseau counties. But our criticism is confined to that point alone, and it is not sufficient to justify jeopardizing the office of someone who has an extensive record of being a friend to farmers on a statewide basis.

If Senators Moe and Stumpf want to take someone to task for denial of the CRP extension, it should be the representatives of the Clinton Administration in Washington who did the deed. It wasn't the Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture who nixed the increase. To fail to give Hugoson credit for influencing positive actions in USDA while blaming him for a single perceived negative one is totally improper.

And farmers in this area who may be upset with the Commissioner's letter would be well advised to temper their animosity. They have a hard-working representative in the commissioner's office and they shouldn't condemn him to being a scapegoat for a federal decision.

Writers Take A Peek At Cargill Profits

"Cargill profits from decline in farm prices" claimed a headline in the business section of the Minneapolis Tribune recently. It's the kind of headline that increases farmers' heartbeats a little bit and causes some more wear on the rear molars. Cargill is big business, so that must mean it's had for farmers.

"Cargill, Inc., benefiting from low prices of livestock and grain, will report next week that earnings for its third quarter climbed about 53 percent to $192 million," the article under the headline stated. "The closely held commodity processing and financial services giant earned $125 million in the same period last year."

The information reportedly came from a confidential document that the nation's largest privately-owned company sent to a small group of investors interested in buying $250 million of its 10-year notes.

The tendency for farmers mired in depressed markets is to look for someone to blame, and one handy entity is Cargill. If one company is that big, the reasoning goes, it must be able to control the market, and if it wants cheap grain and livestock, it keeps the price down. We imagine Cargill executives would like to have things that simple.

Fact of the matter is, Cargill is successful because it is diversified enough to capitalize on either end of market fluctuations. When grain markets are high, it makes money on buying and selling. When grain markets are low, it makes more money on processing. When livestock prices are high, it makes money on feed lots. When livestock prices are low, it makes money on its packing plants.

Big as it is, Cargill is subject to economic trends well beyond its control. Persons who read the entire article under the headline mentioned above will note that for the nine-month period including that third quarter, Cargill earned $94 million from continuing operations—down 62 percent from the $249 million earned during the comparable nine months ending Feb. 28, 1998. That's not small change, but on annual revenues of over $50 billion, it's not an exceptional profit.

It is also deceptive to look at one phase and one time span of a company as diversified as Cargill. There are too many significant business dealings within the company but outside the markets that affect profits and losses to hang a label on any one part.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am writing you concerning the CRP acreage limit extension in Marshall county. In the earlier CRP signup (17th) the eastern one-fourth of the county was not eligible to sign up. The rest of the county was eligible and put in about 21 percent of the allowable acres. In the 18th signup the Congress opened up the eastern end of the county to the priority area, but by then there was only about three to four percent of the eligible maximum acres left in the county.

The eastern side of the county is flat, poorly drained, lower quality land where a lot of farmers are having great hardship right now due to weather, low prices, scab, etc. That is why we needed, so much, the five per cent extension of the allowable acres to 30 percent.

If the acreage had been extended to 30 percent, it would have held back water during the spring flooding and heavy rainfall as flood control for Thief River Falls, Crookston, Grand Forks and the Red River of the North. It would also affect water quality and wildlife enhancement, which are the main objects of CRP.

I feel the small towns, schools, ag-related businesses, etc., are going to be hurt much more now than if five percent more of the land would have been put in the CRP. I think it is better for the community to lose the business from five percent of the acres than to lose 100 percent of the business from all the family farms that this decision is going to put out of business.

CRP may not have been the answer, but it was the only thing offered, right now, that might keep some of us from having to liquidate. If we would be getting a fair price for our crops and livestock we wouldn't be in this position.

Sincerely,
Rodney Wayne

Spuds clobber Prowlers 18-3

It didn't take long for the tone to be set in Tuesday's regular season-ending Thief River Falls vs. Moorhead high school baseball game at Irv Wilson Field. The Spuds' first five batters reached base, and four of them scored to begin what would wind up as an 18-3 five-inning blow-out.

Moorhead went home with a 12-4 record. Thief River Falls finished just the opposite at 4-12.

The Spuds' first-inning start in the make-up game from a May 11 postponement included a double to right by Gus Groshe, walks issued to Cody Wang and Justin Coste to load the bases, an RBI bloop single into short center field by Stew Nigg, and a two-run double into the left-center field gap by Joe Svir. A sacrifice fly by Justin Dahnke was the first out of the game, but it still made it 4-0.

Moorhead increased the difference to 6-0 in the third when Coste walked, Nigg was hit by a pitch and Svir bounced a single through the right side to load the bases. Another ground ball to the right, this one by Tom Edmister, plated two runs.

Thief River Falls came up with a pair of runs in the bottom of the third when Brett Johnson, Jarod Reierson and Mike Dowers had consecutive one-out singles. Both runs scored on Dowers' drive to left. He got an RBI on the first one. The second run scored off an errant throw to third on the play.

Moorhead took firm control of things in the fourth by scoring five times – on just one hit. Five walks and three errors did the trick for the Spuds as they opened up an 11-2 scoreboard spread. Wang walked, ended up at third on a stolen base/throwing error combination and scored off a sacrifice fly to right by Coste. Two more walks and a Dahnke single to left made it 8-2. Another set of walks forced in a run, and an error allowed the final two runs of the inning to score.

Singles by Joey Pribula and Jeff Rislov were followed by a Derek Berg sacrifice fly for a run in the Prowlers' half of the fourth.

Moorhead made it an official rout by combing seven hits with a walk and two Thief River Falls errors in a seven-run fifth inning. Big blow was a bases-loaded triple to right by John Andersen.

TRF boys nearing end of regular season schedule

Meets at Roseau today (Saturday) and at Detroit Lakes Tuesday will close out the 1999 regular season for the Dick Tyler-coached Thief River Falls boys high school golf team.

State tournament-qualifying Section 8AA meet will be played Friday at Perham.

Thief River Falls placed tenth in a 21-team tournament Wednesday that featured play at two courses – nine holes each at Red Lake Falls and Fertile. Fosston won team honors and Nick Riupelle of Crookston was the individual medalist.

With the Prowlers in the midst of a busy end-of-the-year schedule, guidelines that determine how many days of school can be missed to compete in meets affected the Prowlers' regular varsity line-up for the Wednesday tournament, explained Tyler.

TRF is 1-2 in weekend Mike Bugliosi Classic

Thief River Falls opened with a 3-2 win over Hibbing, but then lost to Roseau 10-6 and fell to Duluth Central 7-2 in the Mike Bugliosi Classic round-robin high school baseball tournament played May 14-15 at Hibbing and Virginia.

The first round game against Hibbing went eight innings. The Prowlers' Joey Pribula homered to lead off the third inning, then opened the fifth with a double and scored on a two-out single by Derek Berg for a 2-0 Thief River Falls lead.

Thief River Falls pitcher Andrew Solem held Hibbing hitless through five innings and carried a one-hit shutout into the bottom of the seventh before three hits, a walk and an error led to a pair of game-tying runs.

The Prowlers won it in the eighth when Berg drew a one-out walk, Brett Johnson singled and Mike Dowers came through with a two-out, game-winning hit.

Thief River Falls led Roseau 5-4 before the Rams rallied with a six-run bottom of the sixth when the first four batters all reached base and scored. Mark Fabian and Josh Olson homered during the game-winning outburst.

Only Thief River Falls offense against Duluth Central came from Johnson, who had three of the Prowlers' five hits, including a two-run fifth inning home run.

It was a solid tournament performance, according to Thief River Falls coach Brent Polum, who said the Prowlers played some of their best baseball of the year during the six-team event that also included Virginia and Cloquet.

Spuds clobber Prowlers 18-3

It didn't take long for the tone to be set in Tuesday's regular season-ending Thief River Falls vs. Moorhead high school baseball game at Irv Wilson Field. The Spuds' first five batters reached base, and four of them scored to begin what would wind up as an 18-3 five-inning blow-out.

Moorhead went home with a 12-4 record. Thief River Falls finished just the opposite at 4-12.

The Spuds' first-inning start in the make-up game from a May 11 postponement included a double to right by Gus Groshe, walks issued to Cody Wang and Justin Coste to load the bases, an RBI bloop single into short center field by Steve Nigg, and a two-run double into the left-center field gap by Joe Svir. A sacrifice fly by Justin Dahnke was the first out of the game, but it still made it 4-0.

Moorhead increased the difference to 6-0 in the third when Coste walked, Nigg was hit by a pitch and Svir bounced a single through the right side to load the bases. Another ground ball to the right, this one by Tom Edmister, plated two runs.

Thief River Falls came up with a pair of runs in the bottom of the third when Brett Johnson, Jarod Reierson and Mike Dowers had consecutive one-out singles. Both runs scored on Dowers' drive to left. He got an RBI on the first one. The second run scored off an errant throw to third on the play.

Moorhead took firm control of things in the fourth by scoring five runs — on just one hit. Five walks and three errors did the trick for the Spuds as they opened up an 11-2 scoreboard spread. Wang walked, ended up at third on a stolen base/throwing error combination and scored off a sacrifice fly to right by Coste. Two more walks and a Dahnke single to left made it 8-2. Another set of walks forced in a run, and an error allowed the final two runs of the inning to score.

Singles by Joey Pribula and Jeff Rislov were followed by a Derek Berg sacrifice fly for a run in the Prowlers' half of the fourth.

Moorhead made it an official rout by combining seven hits with a walk and two Thief River Falls errors in a seven-run fifth inning. Big blow was a bases-loaded triple to right by John Andersen.

Scoring/Innings

Moorhead	402	57 -	18	13	1
Thief River Falls	002	10	3	7	5

Pitching - (Moorhead) Tom Edmister 4-W, Josh Wendt 1. (TRF) Andrew Solem 3 2/3-L, Brett Johnson 2/3, Derek Kaisness 2/3.

Offensive highlights - (Moorhead) Joe Svir 2/2, double, 2 RBI; Justin Dahnke 2/4; John Andersen triple, 3 RBI; Sean Woodbury double; Tom Edmister 2 RBI. (TRF) Joey Pribula 2/2.

Moorhead runner Tom Edmister stepped across the plate ahead of a sweeping tag attempt by Thief River Falls catcher Joey Pribula Tuesday in the fourth inning of the high school baseball game played at Irv Wilson Field. It was the 1999 regular season finale for the Prowlers, who lost a one-sided 18-3 decision.

TRF boys nearing end of regular season schedule

Meets at Roseau today (Saturday) and at Detroit Lakes Tuesday will close out the 1999 regular season for the Dick Tyler-coached Thief River Falls boys high school golf team.

State tournament-qualifying Section 8AA meet will be played Friday at Perham.

Thief River Falls placed ninth in a 21-team tournament Wednesday that featured play at two courses — nine holes each at Red Lake Falls and Fertile. Fosston won team honors and Nick Riopelle of Crookston was the individual medalist.

With the Prowlers in the midst of a busy end-of-the-year schedule, guidelines that determine how many days of school can be missed to compete in meets affected the Prowlers' regular varsity line-up for the Wednesday tournament, explained Tyler.

Red Lake County Central limited Marshall County Central/Tri-County to just two hits in a 13-3 six-inning victory.

Kittson Central/Kittson County North drew eight walks and scored 14 times in the first two innings and went on to win the second half of the split doubleheader arrangement at Newfolden by a 17-12 margin.

The final part of the late-season make-up session found Kittson Central/Kittson County North beating Red Lake County Central 9-5.

TRF is 1-2 in weekend Mike Bugliosi Classic

Thief River Falls opened with a 3-2 win over Hibbing, but then lost to Roseau 10-6 and fell to Duluth Central 7-2 in the Mike Bugliosi Classic round-robin high school baseball tournament played May 14-15 at Hibbing and Virginia.

The first round game against Hibbing went eight innings. The Prowlers' Joey Pribula homered to lead off the third inning, then opened the fifth with a double and scored on a two-out single by Derek Berg for a 2-0 Thief River Falls lead.

Thief River Falls pitcher Andrew Solem held Hibbing hitless through five innings and carried a one-hit shutout into the bottom of the seventh before three hits, a walk and an error led to a pair of game-tying runs.

The Prowlers won it in the eighth when Berg drew a one-out walk, Brett Johnson singled and Mike Dowers came through with a two-out, game-winning hit.

Thief River Falls led Roseau 5-4 before the Rams rallied with a six-run bottom of the sixth when the first four batters all reached base and scored. Mark Fabian and Josh Olson homered during the game-winning outburst.

Only Thief River Falls offense against Duluth Central came from Johnson, who had three of the Prowlers' five hits, including a two-run fifth inning home run.

It was a solid tournament performance, according to Thief River Falls coach Brent Polum, who said the Prowlers played some of their best baseball of the year during the six-team event that also included Virginia and Cloquet.

DNR seeking responses to Con-Con land designation

with local officials and residents, and other stakeholders will discuss the designation of these lands.

(Editor's Note: Sando's order, issued on his last day in office, designated the entire Con Con acreage in Beltrami, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Marshall and Roseau counties as wildlife management area. His order was delayed by his successor as DNR commissioner.)

How will these lands be designated?

Over the next six months the DNR will be working with interested stakeholders in reaching agreement on the proposed designations for each of the parcels included in the Jan. 3, 1999 Commissioner's Order.

Why designate these lands?

The law requires that these lands be designated as to suitability for various conservation purposes. The designations will allow appropriate rules to be applied to protect the natural resources, and allow for more effective management of these lands. No additional acres will become public land as a result of this designation process.

Does this designation process have anything to do with the debate and mediation over county ditch assessments?

No, the ditch debate is over how the benefits of ditching are determined, and how much money the State owes each county for the costs of maintaining and improving county ditches for the years 1993-1998. The designation of these lands into management units will not change the requirement of paying the appropriate share of ditch assessments.

Will this process revisit designations made on Con-Con land during the last 60 years?

No, this effort will focus on the remaining 187,397 Con-Con acres that have not been designated or sold in these counties.

Will these designations affect timber harvesting or hunting or...?

No substantial changes in timber harvesting or hunting, or other recreational opportunities will occur. Current use patterns will be considered during the designation process. The Permitted Activities on DNR Management Units fact sheet shows a range of activities that are generally permitted in each of the kinds of units.

Could any of this land be exchanged or sold?

The law allows Con-Con land that is classified as agricultural to be sold, as determined by the Commissioner of Natural Resources. Over the years, thousands of acres of Con-Con lands have been sold. During the designation process, those parcels where the best public purpose is agricultural production will be considered for exchange or sale.

What are the financial impacts of designating these lands?

No change. Counties will continue to receive 50 percent of the gross revenues the State collects from timber sales, mineral leases and other sources. Counties will also continue to receive in-lieu-of-taxes equivalent to 37 1/2 cents per acre, and state aid to school districts will remain the same.

How can I have my say about the designation of these lands?

Your comments, and any information that you think will assist this process, are welcome at any time. project staff welcome and will give serious consideration to all constructive advice and information. Please contact project coordinator Wayne Edgerton by phone at 651-297-8341; by fax at 651-215-0025, or by e-mail at: wayne.edgerton@dnr.state.mn.us

Mn/DOT to hold meeting on Hwy. 2 project in EGF

A public meeting to discuss project issues related to proposed reconstruction of Highway 2 in East Grand Forks will be held Tuesday, June 1, in an open house format from 4 to 7 p.m. at the city hall council chambers, 211 DeMers Avenue.

Proposed for reconstruction is the eastbound lane from 320 feet east of the west junction of Highway 220 to the junction of Business Route 2. The project will also include three-tenths of a mile of the westbound lane near Fifth Avenue NE. Plans are to let bids in the spring of 2000 with construction beginning that summer.

Presently in its design stage, the project includes new curb and gutter from Highway 220 to 7th Avenue NE. An eight-inch unbonded concrete overlay is planned from 7th Avenue NE to Business Route 2. Culverts will also be replaced and edge drains added. The profile grade at the 5th Avenue NE intersection will be revised to attain a smoother ride. Total proposed cost of the project is $2,500,000.

At the June 1 information meeting, information sheets, color layouts, profiles, cross-sections and other information will be available for public review and discussion with project personnel. Persons unable to attend but who have questions about the project may contact Duane Hill, design engineer, at P.O. Box 490, Bemidji, MN 56601 or call him at 218-755-4521.

Tree planting Wednesday at Goodridge park

Postponed from Friday, May 14, due to wet grounds and bad weather, a regional Arbor Day program has been rescheduled for Wednesday, May 26, at 1 p.m. in the city park in Goodridge.

Silver maple and Black Hills spruce trees will be planted in memory of the late Dr. David Brown, long-time superintendent of schools in Goodridge and a past mayor of the community. A plaque to be hung in the Goodridge Historical Society country school on the site will be presented to present Mayor David Brown by John Johnson, Thief River Falls city forester.

The public is invited to attend the program. Cookies and lemonade will be served following the program.

Robert Finstad succeeds father on RLEC board

Robert "Robbie" Finstad was elected to fill the unexpired term of his late father, Kermit, during a special meeting of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative members in Rocksbury township May 18.

The cooperative's bylaws call for a special district meeting at which the members must elect a new director if a directorship is vacated more than six months prior to completion of the term.

Robert Finstad operates the family beef and grain farm and is also a self-employed carpenter. He and his wife Stephanie have a 10-month-old son, Dylan. They are members of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

DNR hosting meeting concerning Con-Con land Tuesday in TRF

A Tuesday, May 25, meeting in Thief River Falls will be included in a series of open houses planned by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources designed to seek responses to proposed management designations of 187,000 acres of state-owned land in northwestern Minnesota.

These lands, known as Consolidated Conservation (Con-Con) lands, are located in Beltrami, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Marshall and Roseau counties.

Interested individuals and groups are encouraged by the DNR to attend one of the open houses, review maps and information about proposed designations, and provide feedback to DNR land managers.

A Twin Cities area session was scheduled in the cafeteria of the DNR Building at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul today (Saturday) from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Four sessions scheduled for northwestern Minnesota that will run from 7 to 8:30 p.m. include:

- Monday, May 24 – Kelliher High School.
- Tuesday, May 25 – Northland Community and Technical College cafeteria in Thief River Falls.
- Wednesday, May 26 – Warroad Middle School lunchroom
- Thursday, May 27 – Birchdale Community Center (near Franz Jevne State Park).

Those unable to attend an open house may view maps and other Con-Con information on the DNR website at www.dnr.state.mn.us.

Scratch and Sniff

Recently I had the good fortune (or misfortune, depending on how strong a stomach you might possess) to hear a grisly tale about an animal trainer who accidentally got his head stuck in an elephant's rectum. I don't think I'm crossing the bounds of social decency here by relating the episode, as the video of the event was publicly available on some prime time Can You Believe It? type show.

Actually, to gauge what is "acceptable" by the early evening offerings of network TV might be as big a mistake as I've made since my last Vikings wager, but that's another discussion. For now, we'll content ourselves with the barely palatable mental image of a fully-grown Indian elephant's sphincter chock full of human head.

Apparently the trainer wasn't actually looking for anything specific, like a picture-taking event, he was simply in the wrong place at a very inopportune moment. Compounding the problem was the strength of the animal's anal muscles which, accustomed to retaining huge volumes of pachyderm scat, had little trouble holding onto the insignificant addition of a bowling-ball-sized human skull.

A co-worker quickly identified the problem and rectified (or is it de-rectified?) the situation, extracting his fellow keeper with a cork-like "pop." And while I make it a daily point to keep my head as far away as possible from the outlets" of large mammals, I think I can truly empathize with this guy.

Most days I wake up and am very glad to find out that I still live up here. I really think we have it good. But while the emotional roller-coaster seems to ride high for the vast majority of the time, the few low spots in a year become exaggerated points of near depression. When times are tough in northern Minnesota, they're really tough. The last week or two has been a particularly bitter pill to swallow.

Start with the rain. Yes, I know it's Spring and it's supposed to rain in the Spring, but something extreme is definitely going on when the local lumber company begins taking wood orders in cubits instead of feet. Not only has the deluge washed out any intentions I might have held for establishing a lawn around my house this year, but the muddy runoff into the Rainy River also skews plans for using a lot of traditional early Spring fishing spots.

Historical value takes a back seat to clearer water in post-opener walleye quests this year. A mild and dry Spring that had originally set us up for a clustered, fishy bonanza on the edges of available current now promises to be a painstaking labor of pick and move around the main, less muddied body of the lake.

The traditional border problems, too, have reared their ugly head. And if it's not enough that our guarded optimism for a Canadian fishing settlement has to be tabled for 60-90 days while Ontario gets its political agenda in order, we are now being subjected to weekly, uninformed tirades on these issues in the op-ed pages of local papers.

Is the possibility, however remote, of a solution or compromise with Ontario the driving force that brings these people out of the closet? The only thanks I can give on this front is that each time one of these misguided individuals serves up some humanitarian plea about what's wrong with our Canadian efforts, they begin with the line, "Now I might be wrong...." or "I could be missing something here...." Exactly. Thanks for pointing that out very early on in your letter so I can move on to something more engaging.

But the kicker came last week when two gargantuan sturgeon were caught and kept out of the Rainy River. Now, this may sound a little envious coming from someone whose biggest all time fish was used for Tetra food at the local Ben Franklin, but shouldn't those fish be back in the water?

The 91-pounder, a near record, was apparently kept for a mount and I can understand some of that motivation, but considering the fish's age and relative closeness to our own position on the evolutionary ladder, isn't that like putting a great-grandparent on the wall? Heck, the protruding mouth, funky whiskers and dry, abrasive skin make it a near-match for an aunt of mine still living in Florida.

And the 97-pound estimated weight for fish number two might actually have broken some hook and line records—that is if the lucky angler had decided to order out for pizza instead of cutting up and eating the behemoth that same night!

Which brings us back to our zookeeper friend. What with the oppressive nature of the weather, the questionable motives of the political climate, and the apparent death of the catch and release ethic up here, I feel somewhat akin to his anal plight. Like that poor, trapped, videoed fellow, all I can do is scratch my head in wonder, and every time I do, things don't smell quite right. Could someone either order a sunny day or simply grab me by the legs and pull?

Art instructor Bob Johnson explained the spearing lures carved by his students to curious parents at the annual art show at Tri-County School in Karlstad on Thursday evening. Tri-County's 1999 Teacher of the Year, Johnson will leave the school at the end of this year to continue his career at the senior high school in Brainard.

Hwy. 2 construction work in Crookston started May 19

Construction on U.S. Highway 2 in Crookston from 500 feet east of the bridge over the Red Lake river to 1.2 kilometers east began Wednesday, May 19, according to Bennie Stinson, project supervisor for the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT).

The project will consist of grading, concrete pavement reconstruction, curb, gutter and sidewalk work, including utility work, Stinson said. Completion of the project is expected by September 24.

Stinson said traffic control will be in place with traffic diverted to one lane in each direction. Drivers are asked to be extremely alert when driving in this construction area.

Chappelle Music Studio students to hold first recital

Violin, guitar, piano and voice students of Chappelle Music Studio in Thief River Falls will be presented in the studio's first recital on Sunday, May 23, at 2 p.m. in New Life Assembly of God church.

Studio owner Judy Chappelle says the public is invited to the free recital and that most of her students are beginners making their first recital appearance. Refreshments will be served following the music program.

Senior Kelly Gustafson added the detail painting to a carved spearing lure at the annual art show at Tri-County School on Thursday evening. The show featured the works of the seventh through twelfth grade students of art instructor Bob Johnson.

Resignation. The city council accepted the resignation of Jane Doan, secretary/word processor in the city administration department effective May 18.

Plan at dam. The city council approved an agreement to develop a "cultural resource management plan" for the Thief River Falls Dam. The project will cost about $2,200 and is required by the federal government.

Airport rules. By a vote of 5 to 2, the city council approved local rules for temporary agriculture aircraft operations from the Thief River Falls Airport to supplement the Minnesota Airport Guidebook. The plan establishes a set of guidelines and a fee structure. Basically, the plan allows temporary agricultural aircraft operations, but does not allow storage of chemicals on airport property.

Population estimate. State demographers have issued their 1998 population estimate for Thief River Falls. According to the new figures, 1998 population estimate is 8,334 compared to 8,333 in 1997. They estimate that there are 3,594 households in the community.

Franchise fee. During the council meeting it was noted that, the city has received $28,052 from Sjoberg's Cable TV covering the franchise fee for 1998.

Grass clippings. Residents are being asked that if they don't use a mower that mulches grass, that they place grass clippings in open containers light enough for employees to lift. If residents choose to use bags, the bags have to be left behind because they cannot be dumped with grass clippings into the compost pile.

The City Council accepted the following items from the Consent Agenda: the resignation of Matt Reberg, public works/maintenance airport (part-time); called for administration to post the position with the Teamster bargaining unit; approved a salary progression for Mark Bieganek, HEO/engineering technician; approved extending the probation period and salary progression for the public works/custodian position for three months; declared a one-ton truck at Greenwood Cemetery as surplus property; accepted a quote from Timberline Tree Trimming for the 1999 Boulevard/park stump removal services; approved a salary progression for Shoan Nelson, park maintenance/arena; approved a temporary beer license for the Pennington County Fair board; approved a parade permit for the American Festival on June 27.

The meeting was adjourned until 4:45 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25, for a public hearing on the St. Francis Health Services project and industrial revenue bonds issued by the City of Chisholm. The next regular meeting of the city council is scheduled for 5 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25, in city council chambers at the Soo Depot.

with local officials and residents, and other stakeholders will discuss the designation of these lands.

(Editor's Note: Sando's order, issued on his last day in office, designated the entire Con-Con acreage in Beltrami, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Marshall and Roseau counties as wildlife management area. His order was delayed by his successor as DNR commissioner.)

How will these lands be designated?

Over the next six months the DNR will be working with interested stakeholders in reaching agreement on the proposed designations for each of the parcels included in the Jan. 3, 1999 Commissioner's Order.

Why designate these lands?

The law requires that these lands be designated as to suitability for various conservation purposes. The designations will allow appropriate rules to be applied to protect the natural resources, and allow for more effective management of these lands. No additional acres will become public land as a result of this designation process.

Does this designation process have anything to do with the debate and mediation over county ditch assessments?

No, the ditch debate is over how the benefits of ditching are determined, and how much money the State owes each county for the costs of maintaining and improving county ditches for the years 1993-1998. The designation of these lands into management units will not change the requirement of paying the appropriate share of ditch assessments.

Will this process revisit designations made on Con-Con land during the last 60 years?

No, this effort will focus on the remaining 187,397 Con-Con acres that have not been designated or sold in these counties.

Will these designations affect timber harvesting or hunting or....?

No substantial changes in timber harvesting or hunting, or other recreational opportunities will occur. Current use patterns will be considered during the designation process. The Permitted Activities on DNR Management Units fact sheet shows a range of activities that are generally permitted in each of the kinds of units.

Could any of this land be exchanged or sold?

The law allows Con-Con land that is classified as agricultural to be sold, as determined by the Commissioner of Natural Resources. Over the years, thousands of acres of Con-Con lands have been sold. During the designation process, those parcels where the best public purpose is agricultural production will be considered for exchange or sale.

What are the financial impacts of designating these lands?

No change. Counties will continue to receive 50 percent of the gross revenues the State collects from timber sales, mineral leases and other sources. Counties will also continue to receive in-lieu-of-taxes equivalent to 37 1/2 cents per acre, and state aid to school districts will remain the same.

How can I have my say about the designation of these lands?

Your comments, and any information that you think will assist this process, are welcome at any time; project staff welcome and will give serious consideration to all constructive advice and information. Please contact project coordinator Wayne Edgerton by phone at 651-297-8341, by fax at 651-215-0025, or by e-mail at: wayne.edgerton@dnr.state.mn.us.

Mn/DOT to hold meeting on Hwy. 2 project in EGF

A public meeting to discuss project issues related to proposed reconstruction of Highway 2 in East Grand Forks will be held Tuesday, June 1, in an open house format from 4 to 7 p.m. at the city hall council chambers, 211 DeMers Avenue.

Proposed for reconstruction is the eastbound lane from 320 feet east of the west junction of Highway 220 to the junction of Business Route 2. The project will also include three-tenths of a mile of the westbound lane near Fifth Avenue NE. Plans are to let bids in the spring of 2000 with construction beginning that summer.

Presently in its design stage, the project includes new curb and gutter from Highway 220 to 7th Avenue NE. An eight-inch unbonded concrete overlay is planned from 7th Avenue NE to Business Route 2. Culverts will also be replaced and edge drains added. The profile grade at the 5th Avenue NE intersection will be revised to attain a smoother ride. Total proposed cost of the project is $2,500,000.

At the June 1 information meeting, information sheets, color layouts, profiles, cross-sections and other information will be available for public review and discussion with project personnel. Persons unable to attend but who have questions about the project may contact Duane Hill, design engineer, at P.O. Box 490, Bemidji, MN 56601 or call him at 218-755-4521.

Scratch and Sniff

Recently I had the good fortune (or misfortune, depending on how strong a stomach you might possess) to hear a grisly tale about an animal trainer who accidentally got his head stuck in an elephant's rectum. I don't think I'm crossing the bounds of social decency here by relating the episode, as the video of the event was publicly available on some prime time Can You Believe It? type show.

Actually, to gauge what is "acceptable" by the early evening offerings of network TV might be as big a mistake as I've made since my last Vikings wager, but that's another discussion. For now, we'll content ourselves with the barely palatable mental image of a fully-grown Indian elephant's sphincter chock full of human head.

Apparently the trainer wasn't actually looking for anything specific, like a picture-taking event, he was simply in the wrong place at a very inopportune moment. Compounding the problem was the strength of the animal's anal muscles which, accustomed to retaining huge volumes of pachyderm scat, had little trouble holding onto the insignificant addition of a bowling-ball-sized human skull.

A co-worker quickly identified the problem and rectified (or is it de-rectified?) the situation, extracting his fellow keeper with a cork-like "pop." And while I make it a daily point to keep my head as far away as possible from the outlets of large mammals, I think I can truly empathize with this guy.

Most days I wake up and am very glad to find out that I still live up here. I really think we have it good. But while the emotional roller-coaster seems to ride high for the vast majority of the time, the few low spots in a year become exaggerated points of near depression. When times are tough in northern Minnesota, they're really tough. The last week or two has been a particularly bitter pill to swallow.

Start with the rain. Yes, I know it's Spring and it's supposed to rain in the Spring, but something extreme is definitely going on when the local lumber company begins taking wood orders in cubits instead of feet. Not only has the deluge washed out any intentions I might have held for establishing a lawn around my house this year, but the muddy runoff into the Rainy River also skews plans for using a lot of traditional early Spring fishing spots.

Historical value takes a back seat to clearer water in post-opener walleye quests this year. A mild and dry Spring that had originally set us up for a clustered, fishy bonanza on the edges of available current now promises to be a painstaking labor of pick and move around the main, less muddied body of the lake.

The traditional border problems, too, have reared their ugly head. And if it's not enough that our guarded optimism for a Canadian fishing settlement has to be tabled for 60-90 days while Ontario gets its political agenda in order, we are now being subjected to weekly, uninformed tirades on these issues in the op-ed pages of local papers.

Is the possibility, however remote, of a solution or compromise with Ontario the driving force that brings these people out of the closet? The only thanks I can give on this front is that each time one of these misguided individuals serves up some humanitarian plea about what's wrong with our Canadian efforts, they begin with the line, "Now I might be wrong..." or "I could be missing something here...." Exactly. Thanks for pointing that out very early on in your letter so I can move on to something more engaging.

But the kicker came last week when two gargantuan sturgeon were caught and kept out of the Rainy River. Now, this may sound a little envious coming from someone whose biggest all time fish was used for Tetra food at the local Ben Franklin, but shouldn't those fish be back in the water?

The 91-pounder, a near record, was apparently kept for a mount and I can understand some of that motivation, but considering the fish's age and relative closeness to our own position on the evolutionary ladder, isn't that like putting a great-grandparent on the wall? Heck, the protruding mouth, funky whiskers and dry, abrasive skin make it a near-match for an aunt of mine still living in Florida.

And the 97-pound estimated weight for fish number two might actually have broken some hook and line records—that is if the lucky angler had decided to order out for pizza instead of cutting up and eating the behemoth that same night!

Which brings us back to our zookeeper friend. What with the oppressive nature of the weather, the questionable motives of the political climate, and the apparent death of the catch and release ethic up here, I feel somewhat akin to his anal plight. Like that poor, trapped, videoed fellow, all I can do is scratch my head in wonder, and every time I do, things don't smell quite right. Could someone either order a sunny day or simply grab me by the legs and pull?

Tree planting Wednesday at Goodridge park

Postponed from Friday, May 14, due to wet grounds and bad weather, a regional Arbor Day program has been rescheduled for Wednesday, May 26, at 1 p.m. in the city park in Goodridge.

Silver maple and Black Hills spruce trees will be planted in memory of the late Dr. David Brown, long-time superintendent of schools in Goodridge and a past mayor of the community. A plaque to be hung in the Goodridge Historical Society country school on the site will be presented to present Mayor David Brown by John Johnson, Thief River Falls city forester.

The public is invited to attend the program. Cookies and lemonade will be served following the program.

Robert Finstad succeeds father on RLEC board

Robert "Robbie" Finstad was elected to fill the unexpired term of his late father, Kermit, during a special meeting of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative members in Rocksbury township May 18.

The cooperative's bylaws call for a special district meeting at which the members must elect a new director if a directorship is vacated more than six months prior to completion of the term.

Robert Finstad operates the family beef and grain farm and is also a self-employed carpenter. He and his wife Stephanie have a 10-month-old son, Dylan. They are members of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

DNR hosting meeting concerning Con-Con land Tuesday in TRF

A Tuesday, May 25, meeting in Thief River Falls will be included in a series of open houses planned by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources designed to seek responses to proposed management designations of 187,000 acres of state-owned land in northwestern Minnesota.

These lands, known as Consolidated Conservation (Con-Con) lands, are located in Beltrami, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Marshall and Roseau counties.

Interested individuals and groups are encouraged by the DNR to attend one of the open houses, review maps and information about proposed designations, and provide feedback to DNR land managers.

A Twin Cities area session was scheduled in the cafeteria of the DNR Building at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul today (Saturday) from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Four sessions scheduled for northwestern Minnesota that will run from 7 to 8:30 p.m. include:

■ Monday, May 24 – Kelliher High School.
■ Tuesday, May 25 – Northland Community and Technical College cafeteria in Thief River Falls.
■ Wednesday, May 26 – Warroad Middle School lunchroom.
■ Thursday, May 27 – Birchdale Community Center (near Franz Jevne State Park).

Those unable to attend an open house may view maps and other Con-Con information on the DNR website at www.dnr.state.mn.us.

Art instructor Bob Johnson explained the spearing lures carved by his students to curious parents at the annual art show at Tri-County School in Karlstad on Thursday evening. Tri-County's 1999 Teacher of the Year, Johnson will leave the school at the end of this year to continue his career at the senior high school in Brainerd.

Hwy. 2 construction work in Crookston started May 19

Construction on U.S. Highway 2 in Crookston from 500 feet east of the bridge over the Red Lake river to 1.2 kilometers east began Wednesday, May 19, according to Bernie Stinson, project supervisor for the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT).

The project will consist of grading, concrete pavement reconstruction, curb, gutter and sidewalk work, including utility work, Stinson said. Completion of the project is expected by September 24.

Stinson said traffic control will be in place with traffic diverted to one lane in each direction. Drivers are asked to be extremely alert when driving in this construction area.

Chappelle Music Studio students to hold first recital

Violin, guitar, piano and voice students of Chappelle Music Studio in Thief River Falls will be presented in the studio's first recital on Sunday, May 23, at 2 p.m. in New Life Assembly of God church.

Studio owner Judy Chappelle says the public is invited to the free recital and that most of her students are beginners making their first recital appearance. Refreshments will be served following the music program.

include computers for the law enforcement center. Funds for the city's share of the cost will be borrowed from the city's revolving capital fund.

Resignation. The city council accepted the resignation of Jane Doan, secretary/word processor in the city administration department effective May 18.

Plan at dam. The city council approved an agreement to develop a "cultural resource management plan" for the Thief River Falls Dam. The project will cost about $2,200 and is required by the federal government.

Airport rules. By a vote of 5 to 2, the city council approved local rules for temporary agriculture aircraft operations from the Thief River Falls Airport to supplement the Minnesota Airport Guidebook. The plan establishes a set of guidelines and a fee structure. Basically, the plan allows temporary agricultural aircraft operations, but does not allow storage of chemicals on airport property.

Population estimate. State demographers have issued their 1998 population estimate for Thief River Falls. According to the new figures, 1998 population estimate is 8,334 compared to 8,333 in 1997. They estimate that there are 3,594 households in the community.

Franchise fee. During the council meeting it was noted that the city has received $28,052 from Sjoberg's Cable TV covering the franchise fee for 1998.

Grass clippings. Residents are being asked that if they don't use a mower that mulches grass, that they place grass clippings in open containers light enough for employees to lift. If residents choose to use bags, the bags have to be left behind because they cannot be dumped with grass clippings into the compost pile.

The City Council accepted the following items from the Consent Agenda: the resignation of Matt Reberg, public works/maintenance airport (part-time); called for administration to post the position with the Teamster bargaining unit; approved a salary progression for Mark Bieganek, HEO/engineering technician; approved extending the probation period and salary progression for the public works/custodian position for three months; declared a one-ton truck at Greenwood Cemetery as surplus property; accepted a quote from Timberline Tree Trimming for the 1999 Boulevard/park stump removal services; approved a salary progression for Shoan Nelson, park maintenance/arena; approved a temporary beer license for the Pennington County Fair board; approved a parade permit for the American Festival on June 27.

The meeting was adjourned until 4:45 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25, for a public hearing on the St. Francis Health Services project and Industrial revenue bonds issued by the City of Chisholm. The next regular meeting of the city council is scheduled for 5 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25, in city council chambers at the Soo Depot.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew... saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone who visited me, brought gifts, flowers and cards and prayed for me while I was in the hospital, and since I've been home recovering from my leg injury. Special thanks to Dr. Allard whose skilled hands performed both surgeries, and the nurses who assisted him, and cared for me while I was in the hospital. Special thanks, too, to the 2nd grade class at Goodridge for making cards for me. They're treasures! Please continue to pray for me, as my leg is not completely healed yet.

Love,
Sabine Fredrick

Area cities receive insurance dividends

Cities across Minnesota have worked hard to improve employee safety. The payoff has come not only in the wellness of city employees, but also in the form of a $5 million dividend returned to members of the League of Minnesota Cities Insurance Trust (LMCIT).

Eighty-five percent of Minnesota cities participate in the LMCIT workers' compensation program. LMCIT is a cooperative, self-insurance risk pool through which cities combine their funds in a joint pool and use those pooled funds to cover their losses. If the funds aren't needed to cover losses, the excess funds are returned to cities as a dividend.

Jim Antonen, Chair of the LMCIT Board of Trustees and City Manager of Moorhead, says, "Cities know the value of safety in the workplace, and this dividend reflects that. City employees often are required to perform physically demanding and inherently dangerous work. The elected and appointed officials of Minnesota's cities certainly see employee safety as an important priority."

This is the 13th consecutive year in which dividends have been returned to LMCIT member cities. Adding in this year's $5 million work comp dividend and $10 million property/casualty dividend, LMCIT has returned a total of over $120 million since 1987.

The amount each member receives as its portion of the $5 million dividend was determined by the total amount of premiums the city has paid into LMCIT and the losses it has claimed for all its years of participation. The longer each city participates and the more successful it is in controlling losses, the greater the city's share of the dividend.

Area cities received the following dividends: Kittson County — Hallock $3,243, Karlstad $9,833, Kennedy $77, Lake Bronson $496, Lancaster $1,361, Tri-County Emergency Medical Services Distribution, Inc. $167; Marshall County — Alvarado $712, Argyle $1,682, Middle River $656, Newfolden $263, Oslo $690, Stephen $3,262, Strandquist $20, Viking $18, Warren $4,130; Pennington County — St. Hilaire $124, Thief River Falls $28,767; Polk County — Beltrami $107, Climax $430, Crookston $19,473, East Grand Forks $43,773, Erskine $1,077, Fertile $3,910, Fisher $252, Fosston $5,126, Lengby $11, McIntosh $1,565, Mentor $103, Nielsville $166, Winger $365; Red Lake County — Brooks $7, Oklee $1,107, Plummer $929, Red Lake Falls $2,983; Roseau County — Badger $653, Greenbush $2,628, Roseau $9,186, Warroad $6,829.

Tuesday night, Thief River Falls City Council approved a request to add a center left turn lane on Pennington Avenue. The turn lane is seen as a possible solution to traffic congestion.

According to Lou Tasa, Minnesota Department of Transportation, the street is 45-feet wide from curb to curb, which is adequate room for a center turn lane. However, it would require a no parking zone on both sides of the road.

Ron Lindberg, city public works director, explained that the center left turn lane on Pennington Avenue was precipitated by a request last year for a four-lane stop at Nora and Pennington. One of the options discussed was a center turn lane. The lane would start at about Hugo's tapering to its full width before Nora Avenue and continuing to the school bus loading area. The reason a center left turn lane would not be continued to the turn into Challenger, he explained, is that there are bus stops along the road. At those locations, a center left turn lane would create unsafe conditions for children getting on and off buses.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser agreed with the recommendation. A center turn lane would have really helped, he said, last year when First Avenue was under construction. He added that regardless of the council's decision, he would even prefer to see a no parking zone established throughout that area because parked vehicles create Regional director Paul Swenson of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Bemidji, encourages long-time Marshall county commissioner Marcella Gonsorowski of Newfolden and others at Tuesday night's meeting on Con-Con lands to inspect maps on display and talk to representatives about their ideas and concerns. Although the meeting had been set up for a 90-minute "open house" format with no formal speaking program, Mrs. Gonsorowski had asked for a DNR explanation of its proposals.

Feedback session on Con-Con lands held at Northland Tues.

Arnold Stanley of Grygla read from 1939 law during the meeting on Consolidated Conservation area (Con-Con) lands at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls Tuesday evening. At right is Paul Swenson, regional director of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Bemidji.

What had been arranged as an "open house" type meeting for interested parties to ask questions and receive information individually on Con-Con land designation in five northwestern Minnesota counties did not prevent some public discussion at Northland Community and Technical College cafeteria Tuesday evening, May 25.

The meeting had been arranged by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) as one of several similar sessions in affected counties and in St. Paul to obtain comments from area people regarding the most appropriate management designations for state-owned Consolidated Conservation Area (Con-Con) lands.

The lands in question are a portion of those that were obtained by the State of Minnesota more than half a century ago as a result of the State's payment of drainage bonds which had been the obligation of the counties and were in danger of default.

The Con-Con lands not in management units total 24,18 acres in Koochiching county, 6,213 acres in Roseau county, 147,470 acres in Beltrami county, 740 acres in Marshall county and 8,787 acres in Lake of the Woods county, according to information provided by the DNR at Tuesday's meeting.

About half an hour into the "open house" format, Marcella Gonsorowski of Newfolden, a long-time Marshall county commissioner, got the attention of the approximately 90 people in attendance and asked for an overall summary or explanation to be given by a DNR representative in attendance.

Regional director Paul Swenson of Bemidji responded by briefly summarizing the background leading up to the meeting and encouraging those present to follow the meeting format and visit with representatives at tables containing maps of Con-Con lands in each county, discuss the proposed designations and fill out feedback sheets with concerns or questions along with suggestions for specific tracts of land.

Swenson said that Commissioner of Natural Resources Allen Garber had told him that day to emphasize that the decisions to be made on use of Con-Con lands remained completely open and that comments by the public were important to the outcome of the process.

Arnold Stanley of Grygla took the floor and read from 1939 law about how Con-Con land classification is to be accomplished and emphasized his opinion that the DNR has no authority under the law to designate land use. He questioned why the legislature should have such difficulty in getting a state agency to obey the law.

Stanley pointed out that three former commissioners of the department had issued orders on their last days in office declaring parcels of Con-Con lands as wildlife management area. The first two were Commissioners Selke and Alexander, and the most recent was former Commissioner Rod Sando who declared the entire 187,000 acres as wildlife management area when he left office earlier this year.

Commissioner Sando's order was subsequently stayed for a six-month period by the acting com-

20-mile detour affects Hwy. 59 south of Winger

Motorists accustomed to using Highway 59 as a travel route from Thief River Falls to Mahnomen, Detroit Lakes and points south will have a 20-mile detour to contend with from June 1 until approximately mid-October, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT) in Bemidji.

Work will begin June 1 on raising the grade and replacing the bridge over the Sand Hill river south of Winger in Polk county and bituminous surfacing of approximately one-half mile of Highway 59 on the north and south ends of the bridge. J. T. Anderson is the project engineer.

Motorists traveling south on Highway 59 will be detoured west in Winger on Polk County Highway 1 for 7.16 miles, then south on Polk County Highway 10 and Norman County Highway 36 for 6.1 miles, then east on Norman County Highway 9 and Mahnomen County Highway 1 for 7.1 miles back to Highway 59 at Bejou.

Motorists traveling north on Highway 59 will be detoured at Bejou along the same route. The detour will effectively extend length of travel by about 14 miles.

Mn/DOT is asking motorists to watch for the detour signing information and "slow down when you See Orange."

Warroad Care Center celebrates anniversary

Warroad - Warroad Care Center, in conjunction with Homes for the Aged Week, celebrated its 20th anniversary with an open house on Sunday, May 16.

The center also celebrated the numerous remodeling projects and changes that have occurred in recent years as a result of the $1 million capital improvement project. Aptly, the afternoon began with a family picnic, the first official use of the new courtyard/gazebo area. Warroad Pioneer

Former resident returns for art show

East Grand Forks - The Empire Arts Center is currently displaying the works of Minnesota water color artists as well as one Californian who is returning to her roots.

Peggy Sundin Fletcher, an alumna for East Grand Forks High School and the University of North Dakota, is a professional water color artist in California and has shows in galleries on the West Coast. Prior to becoming deeply involved in painting, Fletcher was a graphic designer. The Exponent

Youth subject of Middle River meetings

Middle River - A community meeting was held in Middle River last week to discuss the concerns many have about the youth in the community.

The largest problem cited by citizens was an issue of unsupervised children. Principal Eldon Sparby noted a growing discipline problem with a very small percentage of the school's students.

At its meeting on Thursday, May 20, the Greenbush-Middle River school board heard Reverend Jorgenson, a representative of the Badger, Middle River and Greenbush ministeriums, about the possibility of working a security/police officer into the staff of the schools. New River Record

River threatens Fisher cemetery

Fisher - For many years, the Fisher Cemetery has been a serene resting place.

The cemetery is located just west of the little prairie town of Fisher, and on its north side the Red Lake River curves around the cemetery, causing a problem.

According to West Polk County Soil and Water Conservation District manager Nedra Hoberg the south bank next to the cemetery is experiencing "rotation bank failure." The river is undercutting the bank, and the graves in the northern section of the cemetery nearest to the river bank are in jeopardy.

More than 250 graves are involved, and although attempts are being made to locate relatives of people known to be buried in the northern section, Fisher Lutheran Church members are running into many unknowns. The earliest known burial in the cemetery was in 1875, five years before the Fisher Lutheran Church was founded. Crookston Daily Times

Cities across Minnesota have worked hard to improve employee safety. The payoff has come not only in the wellness of city employees, but also in the form of a $5 million dividend returned to members of the League of Minnesota Cities Insurance Trust (LMCIT).

Eighty-five percent of Minnesota cities participate in the LMCIT workers' compensation program. LMCIT is a cooperative, self-insurance risk pool through which cities combine their funds in a joint pool and use those pooled funds to cover their losses. If the funds aren't needed to cover losses, the excess funds are returned to cities as a dividend.

Jim Antonen, Chair of the LMCIT Board of Trustees and City Manager of Moorhead, says, "Cities know the value of safety in the workplace, and this dividend reflects that. City employees often are required to perform physically demanding and inherently dangerous work. The elected and appointed officials of Minnesota's cities certainly see employee safety as an important priority."

This is the 13th consecutive year in which dividends have been returned to LMCIT member cities. Adding in this year's $5 million work comp dividend and $10 million property/casualty dividend, LMCIT has returned a total of over $120 million since 1987.

The amount each member receives as its portion of the $5 million dividend was determined by the total amount of premiums the city has paid into LMCIT and the losses it has claimed for all its years of participation. The longer each city participates and the more successful it is in controlling losses, the greater the city's share of the dividend.

Area cities received the following dividends: Kittson County — Hallock $3,243, Karlstad $9,833, Kennedy $77, Lake Bronson $496, Lancaster $1,361, Tri-County Emergency Medical Services Distribution Inc. $167; Marshall County — Alvarado $712, Argyle $1,682, Middle River $656, Newfolden $263, Oslo $698, Stephen $3,262, Strandquist $20, Viking $18, Warren $4,130; Pennington County — St. Hilaire $124, Thief River Falls $28,767; Polk County — Beltrami $107, Climax $430, Crookston $19,473, East Grand Forks $43,773, Erskine $1,077, Fertile $3,910, Fisher $252, Fosston $5,126, Lengby $11, McIntosh $1,565, Mentor $103, Nielsville $166, Winger $365; Red Lake County — Brooks $7, Oklee $1,107, Plummer $929, Red Lake Falls $2,983; Roseau County — Badger $653, Greenbush $2,628, Roseau $9,186, Warroad $6,829.

Tuesday night, Thief River Falls City Council approved a request to add a center left turn lane on Pennington Avenue. The turn lane is seen as a possible solution to traffic congestion.

According to Lou Tasa, Minnesota Department of Transportation, the street is 45-feet wide from curb to curb, which is adequate room for a center turn lane. However, it would require a no parking zone on both sides of the road.

Ron Lindberg, city public works director, explained that the center left turn lane on Pennington Avenue was precipitated by a request last year for a four-lane stop at Nora and Pennington. One of the options discussed was a center turn lane. The lane would start at about Hugo's tapering to its full width before Nora Avenue and continuing to the school bus loading area. The reason a center left turn lane would not be continued to the turn into Challenger, he explained, is that there are bus stops along the road. At those locations, a center left turn lane would create unsafe conditions for children getting on and off buses.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser agreed with the recommendation. A center turn lane would have really helped, he said, last year when First Avenue was under construction. He added that regardless of the council's decision, he would even prefer to see a no parking zone established throughout that area because parked vehicles create

Arnold Stanley of Grygla read from 1939 law during the meeting on Consolidated Conservation area (Con-Con) lands at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls Tuesday evening. At right is Paul Swenson, regional director of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Bemidji.

What had been arranged as an "open house" type meeting for interested parties to ask questions and receive information individually on Con-Con land designation in five northwestern Minnesota counties did not prevent some public discussion at Northland Community and Technical College cafeteria Tuesday evening, May 25.

The meeting had been arranged by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) as one of several similar sessions in affected counties and in St. Paul to obtain comments from area people regarding the most appropriate management designations for state-owned Consolidated Conservation Area (Con-Con) lands.

The lands in question are a portion of those that were obtained by the State of Minnesota more than half a century ago as a result of the State's payment of drainage bonds which had been the obligation of the counties and were in danger of default.

The Con-Con lands not in management units total 24,18 acres in Koochiching county, 6,213 acres in Roseau county, 147,470 acres in Beltrami county, 740 acres in Marshall county and 8,787 acres in Lake of the Woods county, according to information provided by the DNR at Tuesday's meeting.

About half an hour into the "open house" format, Marcella Gonsorowski of Newfolden, a long-time Marshall county commissioner, got the attention of the approximately 90 people in attendance and asked for an overall summary or explanation to be given by a DNR representative in attendance.

Regional director Paul Swenson of Bemidji responded by briefly summarizing the background leading up to the meeting and encouraging those present to follow the meeting format and visit with representatives at tables containing maps of Con-Con lands in each county, discuss the proposed designations and fill out feedback sheets with concerns or questions along with suggestions for specific tracts of land.

Swenson said that Commissioner of Natural Resources Allen Garber had told him that day to emphasize that the decisions to be made on use of Con-Con lands remained completely open and that comments by the public were important to the outcome of the process.

Arnold Stanley of Grygla took the floor and read from 1939 law about how Con-Con land classification is to be accomplished and emphasized his opinion that the DNR has no authority under the law to designate land use. He questioned why the legislature should have such difficulty in getting a state agency to obey the law.

Stanley pointed out that three former commissioners of the department had issued orders on their last days in office declaring parcels of Con-Con lands as wildlife management area. The first two were Commissioners Selke and Alexander, and the most recent was former Commissioner Rod Sando who declared the entire 187,000 acres as wildlife management area when he left office earlier this year.

Commissioner Sando's order was subsequently stayed for a six-month period by the acting com-

20-mile detour affects Hwy. 59 south of Winger

Motorists accustomed to using Highway 59 as a travel route from Thief River Falls to Mahnomen, Detroit Lakes and points south will have a 20-mile detour to contend with from June 1 until approximately mid October, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT) in Bemidji.

Work will begin June 1 on raising the grade and replacing the bridge over the Sand Hill river south of Winger in Polk county and bituminous surfacing of approximately one half mile of Highway 59 on the north and south ends of the bridge. J. J. Anderson is the project engineer.

Motorists traveling south on Highway 59 will be detoured west in Winger on Polk County Highway 1 for 7.16 miles, then south on Polk County Highway 10 and Norman County Highway 36 for 6.1 miles, then east on Norman County Highway 9 and Mahnomen County Highway 1 for 7.1 miles back to Highway 59 at Bejou.

Motorists traveling north on Highway 59 will be detoured at Bejou along the same route. The detour will effectively extend length of travel by about 14 miles.

Mn/DOT is asking motorists to watch for the detour signing information and "slow down when you See Orange."

Senior citizen nominations being accepted

Nominations from county residents are being solicited for the Outstanding Senior Citizens of Pennington county program, according to the selection committee chaired by Clifford Larson of Thief River Falls.

One man and one woman who are age 70 by August 1 and whose outstanding community involvement can serve as an example to others in the county, will be selected to be honored at the Pennington County Fair on Friday, July 23.

Those selected will receive special certificates of commendation from the Governor and their names will be submitted to the Minnesota Board on Aging for the state selection process for Minnesota Outstanding Senior Citizens. The winners are announced at senior day on the second Thursday of the Minnesota State Fair.

Persons wishing to make nominations for the county awards can obtain official nomination blanks by writing to Clifford Larson at 102 Spruce Avenue North, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Entry forms can also be picked up at the Heritage Community Center. Deadline for acceptance of nomination forms is June 16.

Judging will be based primarily on the number and variety of contributions nominees have made to their communities after age 65.

Nominees must be residents of Minnesota. Previous county winners, not selected as a state winner, are now eligible to participate again at the county level. This is a change from previous years.

Selection of Minnesota's Outstanding Senior Citizens is a joint effort of the Minnesota Board on Aging, State Fair Board and the Minnesota Federation of County Fair Officers.

Beware of Y2K Scam Artists

Fortunately, Y2K is being addressed by creative minds here in Minnesota. The State of Minnesota and private businesses are investing millions to help make sure that this pesky little bug does not cause any widespread, prolonged computer, banking or service problems. Unfortunately, there are scam artists trying to ring in the millennium with fear. Watch out for scam artists trying to celebrate the new year with your money.

For more information, check out the Y2K Hot Web Button-of-the-Week on the Minnesota Y2K Information and Referral Web Site, co-sponsored by the Minnesota Office of Technology and the Minnesota Year 2000 Project Office at the Minnesota Department of Administration. Here are some recipes you might like to try for your holiday get-together this weekend.

I tasted this recipe at a relative's shower and it is so refreshing and tasty, I'm making it for our holiday this year and thought you might like to try it too:

DEB'S PUNCH

1 (4 ounce) package orange gelatin
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 cups boiling water
46 ounce can pineapple juice
2 cups real lemon juice (bottled or squeezed)
1 quart orange sherbet
32 ounces club soda
Ice

Chill soda, pineapple juice and lemon juice.

Combine gelatin, sugar and boiling water and stir until dissolved. Set aside (but do not refrigerate).

Combine pineapple juice and lemon juice and then add gelatin mixture.

When ready to serve, place mixture in punch bowl and add slightly softened sherbet, club soda and ice.

These biscuits sound a lot like those we get at the famous lobster place, except for a tablespoon of parsley flakes added to the butter and garlic powder brush-on mixture - add the parsley flakes if you like:

QUICK CHEESE BISCUITS

2 cups buttermilk baking mix
2/3 cup milk
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

In bowl, stir biscuit mix, milk and cheese just until moistened. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto ungreased baking sheet.

Mix butter and garlic powder and brush over biscuits. Bake at 475 degrees for 8-10 minutes, or until golden. Serve warm.

PORK SPEEDIES

4 pounds pork tenderloin, cut into 1 inch chunks
2 cups tomato juice
2 large onions, finely chopped
4-5 garlic cloves, minced
2 tablespoons Worcestershire souce
2 teaspoons fresh basil or 1 teaspoon of dried
Pepper to taste
12 slices Italian bread,

In large bowl, combine all ingredients except bread. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Drain, discarding marinade. Thread pork on small skewers and grill or broil for 15-20 minutes, turning occasionally, until the meat is no longer pink and pulls away from skewers easily.

To serve, wrap a slice of bread around about 5 pork cubes and pull off skewer.

Lovely cucumbers will soon be growing in your garden, but you can buy some to make this delicious salad for this holiday:

CUCUMBER SALAD

1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 cup sugar
4 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 medium cucumbers, peeled and thinly sliced
3 green onions, chopped

In large bowl, combine mayonnaise, sugar, vinegar, dill and salt. Mix well.

Add cucumbers and onions and toss. Cover and chill for at least 1 hour.

Instead of the same old, same old, make this different potato salad this year:

SPECIAL POTATO SALAD

2 1/2 pounds red potatoes
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 tablespoon olive or vegetable
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup plain yogurt
1/4 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon garlic salt
3/4 cup chopped red onion
1/2 cup diced celery
4 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped

In saucepan, cook potatoes in boiling salted water until tender.

Meanwhile, in a large bowl, combine vinegar, oil, mustard, basil, pepper and salt. Mix well.

Drain potatoes and cut into 1 inch chunks. Add to vinegar and oil mixture while still warm and toss to coat. Cool completely.

In another bowl, combine yogurt, sour cream and garlic salt. Add onion, celery, bacon and eggs. Mix well. Add to potato mixture and toss gently. Cover and chill for several hours.

Easy to make, easy to take, and just the perfect finish to the holiday meal:

CHOCOLATE CHIP BROWNIES

1 cup butter or margarine, softened
3 cups sugar
6 eggs
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 1/4 cups flour
1/2 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (6 ounce) semisweet chocolate chips
1 (6 ounce) vanilla-flavored baking chips
1 cup chopped walnuts

In a mixing bowl, cream butter and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla and mix well. Combine flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Stir into creamed mixture just until blended - do not overmix.

Pour into greased 15x10 inch (jell roll-size) pan. Sprinkle with chips and nuts.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes or until brownies test done.

Horse killed in accident south of TRF Wednesday

A horse was killed in a two vehicle accident south of Thief River Falls Wednesday on Highway 32, about two miles south of Thief River Falls.

Minnesota State Patrol received a report of the accident at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, May 26. According to the accident report, Lavonne Thune, 73, St. Hilaire, was driving a Blazer which was pulling a trailer with a horse in it. Thune had turned south onto Highway 32, as Jason Swanson, 21, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup north on Highway 32. Swanson didn't see the Thune vehicle until it was too late. The vehicles collided and the trailer unhooked and went into the ditch. The horse was killed in the accident. Neither of the drivers were injured. There was moderate damage to the Thune vehicle, and minor damage to the Swanson pickup. Both drivers were wearing seat belts.

The accident remains under investigation.

Sign-up forms for Minnesota Farm Assistance Program

Hans Kandel, Ph.D.
Red Lake County
Extension Educator

Most Minnesota farmers will receive sign-up forms and information for the Minnesota "Farm Assistance Program" the week of May 24-29. This program is the result of the $70 million farm relief package passed by the state legislature in April, says Kent Thiesse, educator with the University of Minnesota Extension Service and the Minnesota Association of Counties. The program is being administered through the Minnesota Department of Revenue. "This is a state program and not a federal farm program," Thiesse says. This means county Farm Service Agency (FSA) offices will not provide information or answer questions about it.

The Farm Assistance Program is for farm operators and not for landlords. The mailing that farm operators receive will contain the application form (Form AG-1), application instructions and a return envelope. The mailing will also include a letter from the FSA office that verifies "effective agricultural use acreage" for the 1998 crop year. This is the acreage that will be eligible for the program. This is the only available letter with farm acre information, no copies can be obtained. Therefore producers are advised to keep this letter carefully. Applications will be accepted after May 31, 1999, and payment can be expected within 30 days. Thiesse says farm operators may be eligible for one of two types of assistance under the Farm Assistance Program: Option A is a refund of property tax for livestock facilities on 160 acres or less. The refund is on property taxes due and payable on May 31, 1999, on qualified agricultural homestead property.

Option B is a per acre payment of $4 per eligible 1998 crop acre, based on the "effective agricultural use acreage" in the FSA letter. The maximum payment per farm operator or per farm is $5,600. Thiesse says most farm operators will qualify under Option B, the $4 per acre payment. This application process will be fairly simple for most farmers, Thiesse says. They will need to complete one Form AG-1 and attach a copy of the FSA letter for each farm number listed in the FSA letter. The completed application is then mailed to the Department of Revenue. The deadline to apply for Option B is Sept. 30, 1999.

For Option A, the livestock operation must be on agricultural homestead property and must have produced at least $10,000 in sales of unprocessed livestock or dairy products, according to income tax records for 1997 or 1998. The property tax refund is on taxes that were due and payable May 15, 1999. Any leased or rented acres do not qualify for Option A. To apply for Option A, farmers need to obtain Form AG-2, "Certification For Agricultural Assistance," from the county auditor's office.

The farmer completes the top portion of Form AG-2, then returns it to the county auditor to complete the form and determine the amount of the property tax refund. The completed form and all other necessary documentation is then sent to the Department of Revenue. The deadline to apply for Option A is Nov. 30, 1999.

All University of Minnesota Extension Service offices have information sheets available to assist farm operators with the Farm Assistance Program. Technical questions about the program should be referred to the Minnesota Department of Revenue (1-800-652-9094). Specific County auditor's offices can handle questions about property tax refund eligibility. But remember-county FSA offices are not administering the program and can't answer questions about it.

USDA announces flood compensation program

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced $42 million in relief for farmers and livestock producers in parts of the country damaged by long-term flooding.

"This Administration is committed to providing a safety net for farmers threatened financially by natural disasters and market forces that are beyond their control," said Glickman. "This new assistance is just one example of how we intend to fulfill that commitment to America's farmers and ranchers."

The Flood Compensation Program will compensate farmers in certain eligible counties, particularly in the Day County, SD, Devil's Lake, ND, and Red River Valley areas, for loss of the use of cropland or pastureland due to flood during the period from October 1, 1997, through September 30, 1998. Sign-up for the Flood Compensation Program began on May 17, 1999, and will end on July 2, 1999. Applications for assistance are available at Farm Service Agency county offices.

Farmers can receive payment for the loss of the use of cropland or pastureland in eligible counties from October 1, 1997, through September 30, 1998. The county must have been declared a disaster area under a Presidential Declaration or Secretarial Designation during January 1, 1997, through August 1, 1998, and land on at least one farm in the county must be cropland or pastureland that has been subject to continuous flooding since no later than October 1, 1992. Applicants for assistance must own or have a cash lease with respect to the property and must have owned it or leased it since October 1, 1997.

At least $12 million of the total $42 million will be reserved for livestock producers.

Business Groups Say: Terminate Death Taxes

"The estate and gift tax should be killed. It discourages savings, investment and job growth. It unfairly penalizes small businesses, it fails to redistribute wealth in any meaningful way and it raises little revenue for the federal government."

So says Cecelia Adams, director for congressional and public affairs at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce office, in commenting on the federal estate tax. This tax is often referred to as the "death tax," because it is applied to the assets of persons after they die.

Adams was affirming the comments of a number of business group leaders who are putting the pressure on Congress to do away with this tax from which the government nets little but private citizens can suffer a lot.

There has been some modification in what was once a most punitive tax for heirs, but enough of the problem remains so that the nation would be well served to do away with the idea altogether.

The "death tax" is levied against the government-assessed value of the deceased's estate. Death taxes contribute scarcely more than one percent of federal revenue, and of each dollar collected, 65 cents is spent on collection. Rates start at 35 percent and climb to 55 percent. That means that in some cases, more than half of the value of the estate is claimed by the government. That is scandalous.

Prime complainants about the "death tax" are "small" family-owned businesses. In fact, a White House Conference on Small Business identified estate taxes as one of the most pressing challenges facing small businesses. Not incidentally, those small businesses include farms. It has not been uncommon over the years for heirs of farmers to find it necessary to sell so much of a farm to satisfy the estate tax that there is not enough left to sustain a farming operation.

Leonard L. Harris is a first-generation owner of Chatham Food Center on Chicago's South Side, one of the fewer than 20 black-owned supermarket companies in the United States.

"My focus has been putting my earnings back in to grow the business," Harris says. "For this reason, cash resources to pay federal estate taxes, based on the way valuation is made, would force my family to sell the store in order to pay the IRS within nine months of my death. Our yearly earnings would not cover the payment of such a high tax. I should know; I started my career as a Certified Public Accountant."

With at least one of his sons, now ages 15 and 12, interested in continuing in the business, Harris has already been taking resources from his store to start planning a living trust. It is a step that shouldn't have to be necessary.

"It's incredible that the government would continue to levy a tax that brings in just over one percent of total federal revenues, yet each year literally wipes out a considerable number of family-owned businesses—the lifeblood of our economy," notes Alejandro Aguirre, a member of the board of the Newspaper Association of America. "Repeal of this tax is important to our nation's newspapers and to their advertisers, be they local car dealers, real estate agents, bakeries, florists or shopkeepers."

There is interest in Congress to repeal or phase out the death tax. Bills to repeal have generated 200 co-sponsors in the House and 24 in the Senate while bills to phase out the tax have collected 185 co-sponsors in the House and 14 in the Senate. Our Representatives and Senators from Minnesota need all the encouragement we can give them to rid our nation of this tax scourge. Getting the job done this session will not be too soon, and repeal is better than phase-out. Let Sen. Rod Grams, Sen. Paul Wellstone and Rep. Collin Peterson know you want the death tax killed. It would be a welcome demise.

If you're an Internet browser, more about the death tax can be found at www.deathtax.com, a website created and maintained by the Seattle Times, one of the last family-owned and operated metropolitan newspapers in America.

U.S. Environment Better Than It Has Ever Been

"Our environment has never been cleaner or safer in man's history," observes Dr. Jay Lehr of Environmental Education Enterprises. "Cancer rates are declining, life expectancy continues to increase and there are clearly no global environmental disasters on the horizon."

Who is this Dr. Lehr anyway? Some kook with his head in the sand most of the time and a wearer of rose-colored glasses the rest of the time? Doesn't he know that there are all kinds of environmental disasters waiting to happen— tottering on the brink, just a hair's breadth from destroying life as we know it? Doesn't he watch TV or read the daily papers?

Dr. Lehr has his doctorate in ground water hydrology and 25 years of experience as head of the Association of Ground Water Scientists and Engineers. He has written 12 books and more than 400 journal articles and he doesn't subscribe to the doom and gloom theory of impending disaster to the environment.

"Most of our goals to improve our environment either have been achieved or are well on their way to being achieved," Dr. Lehr adds. Sixty-five percent of our surface waters can be considered swimmable and fishable as defined by the Clean Water Act and the remainder improve yearly. There are virtually no pollutant outfalls entering our streams. Our air is of excellent quality in nearly every metropolitan area, where smog was once the order of the day."

He made his statements in Environment News, a monthly publication by Heartland Institute.

"Today's farmer, once a threat to these groundwaters through his misapplication of agricultural chemicals, is today the best steward of the land," he says. "Municipal, industrial and domestic waste disposal, once feared for their pollution potential, are now managed through advanced technologies in recycling, reuse and leak-free storage in modern landfills. Our national environmental protection program is moving extremely well at the state level. The role of the federal government, however, has become onerous, costly and inefficient."

Dr. Lehr said he is "appalled but no longer surprised" at the misuse of science to justify politically-determined environmental policy. "Both science and the environment," he laments, "are being used in unbiased, flawed and often fraudulent manner to pursue political agendas with little real concern for either the environment or science—or, for that matter, people's welfare."

Urging government regulators to halt the attempt to remove parts per trillion of compounds from the environment. A part per trillion is analogous to one second in 32,000 years, he says, and can have virtually no impact on human health regardless of the nature of the chemical, "yet we continue to spend billions of dollars trying to eliminate compounds in our environment this small and innocuous."

He cautions against "the tyranny of over-zealous environmental oppression, which is eroding many of our freedoms [guaranteed] by the Constitution," and recommends moving environmental authority away from the federal government.

"At the state and local level," he explains, "regulation is performed eye to eye, neighbor to neighbor, and the results will be far more reasonable."

Cloaked In Love

Don Palmquist, Northwest Angle and Islands UPS driver, maintains that you can always tell a guy who truly loves his wife because he'll be wearing a life-vest during his early Spring boat travels across Lake of the Woods.

At temperatures of 45 degrees F and less, Don explains, you can't really expect to survive a plunge into the frigid lake waters unless, of course, you perform the event in front of a nearby, well-equipped crowd that can undertake immediate rescue efforts. Chances are good you'll die of embarrassment at this point anyway, so what's the difference?

The guy who loves his wife wears that life-jacket not because it's going to protect him from the inevitably icy grip of death by exposure, but because he's aware that the insurance company will pay out spousal benefits shortly after recovering the body. An unlocated body can delay the payment of benefits for years, pending actual proof of death. Don always wears a life-vest.

I like spending time on Lake of the Woods; I don't like spending time in Lake of the Woods before the water warms up enough to—if not actually support human life—at least not threaten it. I seem to find the opportunity, however, so enjoy a few frosty moments in the basin each year.

I'm a strong swimmer and am extremely macho on at least five out of seven days each week, but despite these seemingly rock solid survival qualifications, I have required assistance extricating myself from the lake on several different occasions. Once, during a mid-May dock-building process, I'll acknowledge it was a matter of life and death.

The worst part of that episode was not the near fatal character of the situation, but that my rescuer, who simply had to take a single step into chest-deep water and grab me by the arm, has not let me forget the debt and to this day still insists on the privilege of looking over my shoulder during Math and Science tests.

Which brings us to the "Gasp Reflex" or "Torso Reflex," the body's involuntary and immediate response to sudden immersion in cold water. Not necessarily even super cold water, but just your average, north of Highway 2 kind of cold water. In an effort to begin the warming process, your body will instinctively suck in (gasp) a mouthful of oxygenated air even before the slower processes of your conscious brain tell it to do so.

This is a great benefit if your nose and mouth are still above water, as the immediacy of the warming can be a vital component of comfort, if not survival. It's not so good if you're submerged and the "gasp" fills your lungs with a gallon or two of liquid lake.

Unable to overcome the initial setback of the watery ingestion, even the most capable of swimmers will go down in an irretrievable hurry. Rescue crews have been aware of this phenomenon for years and actually take precautions to address the "gasp" by covering their mouth and nose tightly before entering even marginally cool waters. The advantages of flotation in this instance are obvious, giving the surprised and floundering swimmer a chance to exchange water for air and turn a potentially fatal situation into a laughable one.

Yes, summer's coming and the warming lake basin will probably give you a little bit of time now before the ravages of hypothermia set in. And another three sun-filled weeks from now might even be enough to discount the possibility of the "Gasp Reflex." And if the summer holds true to traditional form, it will probably be early September before you have to face such threatening temperatures again.

So, let's see, that gives you the unencumbered freedom of nearly nine weeks of life-jacketless bliss this summer. A whole two months to stand on the bow of your boat in a Speedo and beat your chest in ape-like fashion proclaiming to the world just how unfettered and carefree your boating life is. That is, of course, providing that you don't plan on bonking your head on a dock post or boat gunwale during the tumble that comes halfway through this beer-induced, vocal celebration.

And do I wear a life-jacket every time I encounter the inherent dangers of the water? What?! Do you think I'm some kind of sissy? Be real!

But, if by some chance I do meet an untimely end during my travels across Lake of the Woods and it's several long years before some lucky fisherman stumbles across a chunk of my identifiable, if loosely assembled, remains bobbing around the western bays of Big Island, could somebody reassure my poverty-stricken wife that I really did love her?

Mn/DOT to replace bridge over creek west of Mahnomen

Minnesota Department of Transportation will start work June 1 to replace the bridge over Mashaug Creek on Highway 200, west of Mahnomen and 1.8 miles east of the junction with Highway 32.

Beginning June 7 a seven-mile detour is scheduled to go into effect. Persons traveling from the west on Highway 220 will detour north on Highway 32 to Norman County Highway 19, east on County 19 for four miles, then south on Norman County 34 to Highway 200. For those traveling from the east the route would be reversed.

Project work is expected to be completed by mid-September, says Larry Randall, Mn/DOT project supervisor. He also reminds drivers in the area to slow down and remember "we're in the work zone together."

visibility problems.

Lindberg said they were making the recommendation to the council now because it would give people an opportunity to get used to it before the start of another school year.

■ The council gave its approval to creation of two programs regarding generator and meter/generator disconnects. Under the first program a resident could purchase a meter/generator disconnect from the city, which could be paid over 12 monthly payments applied to the customer's electric bill.

Under the second program, the customer would purchase a generator and meter/generator disconnect with financing by the city electric department. They are foreseeing a five percent loan paid, subject to approved credit rating, back over a maximum of five years to pay for this option. Other conditions would apply and anyone interested in this option should contact the city electric department for more information.

During power outages, for example, customers with an auto disconnect and generator, would be able to disconnect their home from the electric utility and re-establish power at their residence with the use of an approved generator.

River Dredging

River dredging in the Thief River Falls reservoir is expected to begin this summer. The contractor will begin setting up the disposal site in late June and begin excavation near the end of July.

The council has been informed that legislation providing additional matching funds was approved. The funds will make it possible for the project to extend up the Thief River and further along the Red Lake river. Council representatives are waiting to hear if the bill was signed by Governor Ventura.

The city council approved the following items from the Consent Agenda: a five-year lease with Shaw Advertising Company for the site of a billboard on the Corner of Highway 32 and Davidson Drive at $250 per year plus one month free advertising; approved a request to advertise for a public works maintenance airport position; a progression raise for Matt Reberg, public works maintenance airport; a request by Greenwood Cemetery Commission to plat lots for sale along the north side of Eastwood Drive.

■ The council approved a request to allow the consumption of beer during the Thief River Falls Men's and Women's Softball Association 1999 season.

■ The council approved the issuance of private activity bond for St. Francis Health Care Facilities of Mom's.

■ The council approved a zoning amendment request changing the Gilbert Industrial Addition from Ag to I-2.

■ The council approved a zoning amendment request by Tsukichi, Dondelinger, Northern Motors and Halverson in Oaken's First Addition, changing it from UR (Urban Residential) to R-1 (Suburban-Residential).

■ The council approved a zoning amendment request by C. and M. Mickelson, 2009 Nelson Drive, changing property from UR to R-1.

■ The council approved a recommendation awarding the low bid of the 1999 Street Improvement Project to Davidson Construction for $515,196.60.

■ The council approved a reimbursement agreement with the state for a cross-wind runway justification study. Under terms of the agreement, the state's share of the project cost will be 60 percent of the $11,694 cost.

■ Class B gambling licenses for TRFAHA at Swede's Place and at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center were approved by the council.

English riding clinics will be presented by Tina Holte of Grygla at 9:30 a.m. for beginners and 2 p.m. for intermediate riders. Participants are required to have English tack.

Equine veterinarian Tracey Hagen, a former Roseau resident now practicing in Colorado, will present clinics at 10 a.m. on basic care, feeding and nutrition; at 12 noon on dentistry; and at 2 p.m. on reproduction.

Experienced showman Jimmy Lee of Warroad will conduct showmanship and grooming clinics at 2 and 4 p.m.

In addition to the educational clinics, entertainment will also be provided. The Zuhrah Shrine horse group from Minneapolis will bring a dozen horses and riders to present a brief performance at 1 p.m. and a full performance at 6 p.m. in front of the grandstand at the fairgrounds. One of the top performing horse groups in the country, the Zuhrah Shriners have appeared at the Minnesota State Fair and the Minnesota Horse Exposition in St. Paul and the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, CA.

Also on the evening entertainment program will be a parade of breeds with nearly 25 breeds represented and a cutting horse demonstration presented by riders from the Mahnomen and Brooks areas.

Time will be provided following the show for persons attending the event to meet and talk with the Shriner group members. A dance will be held in the main barn at the fairgrounds with music by The Undertakers.

On Sunday morning Traci Grondahl will repeat her Western Horsemanship riding clinic at 8 a.m. and Gail Haynes will conduct round pen training at 10 a.m. The Zuhrah Shriners will present a final performance at 10:30 a.m.

Beginning at 11 a.m. Sunday will be the open games competition with trophy buckles, halters and lead ropes for prizes. The $5 entry fee qualifies riders to compete in as many games as they like.

National Barrel Horse Association barrel racing will start at 12 noon. This is also an open event with NBHA members competing for points and prize money.

Persons bringing horses to any of the activities must present a negative Coggins test for inspection upon arrival.

In addition to the clinics and entertainment, the Extravaganza will have feed and tack vendors, apparel vendors, food concessions, pony rides and a petting zoo.

"We started the Extravaganza two years ago as a one-day event and expanded it to two days last year," notes Mary Cole of the Roseau Range Riders club. "This year we went to a three-day event, and that is as long as it's going to get, but we try to improve on the program we offer year by year. I think all horse people, but especially young riders, will get a lot out of this year's event."

For further information or to check on possible openings to take part in the riding clinics, contact Mary at 218-463-1810.

Motorists cautioned to slow down in area east of Baudette

Motorists are cautioned by the Minnesota Department of Transportation to slow down when approaching the construction zone on Highway 72 from the junction of Highway 11 east of Baudette.

A 13-mile section of Highway 72 is being milled off in preparation for a new bituminous overlay and the process leaves the highway with a very rough surface. The work is expected to be completed by the end of July.

Timothy Sigdahl pleads guilty to vehicular homicide

Eighteen-year-old Timothy Sigdahl, Red Lake Falls, pled guilty last week to a charge of criminal vehicular homicide. The charge stems from an incident last summer during which Davis Gustafson of Aneta, ND, fell from the roof of a vehicle driven by Sigdahl and later died from the injuries.

Sigdahl was originally charged with murder in the second degree and criminal vehicular homicide. The charge of murder in the second degree was dismissed.

A pre-sentence investigation has been ordered and sentencing will take place in approximately six weeks.

Irv Anderson, a state legislator from International Falls, commented on the possibility of returning Consolidated Conservation lands to jurisdiction of the counties at the meeting held Tuesday evening in Thief River Falls.

Feedback session on Con-Con lands held at Northland Tues.

missioner who succeeded him and later rescinded by this year's session of the state legislature.

Delray Larson of Gatzke, a Marshall county commissioner and chair of the Joint Powers Natural Resources Board (comprised of the counties containing Con-Con lands), distributed the board's opinion piece on the Con-Con land situation. It challenges the DNR authority to classify Con-Con lands, charges the DNR with publishing and distributing misinformation on the lands and notes that such activity will not be tolerated.

The board also calls for returning the Con-Con lands to county jurisdiction—a plan also suggested as a possibility by Rep. Irv Anderson of International Falls, one of a number of legislators attending the meeting—and gives its own review of the history of the land.

"...state drainage ditches were commissioned by the predecessor Commissioner of the DNR," the opinion piece says. "The drainage law was amended so that as few as one petitioner could file a petition with a judge to order the construction of a ditch with the counties directed to issue bonds to pay for the construction of the ditch. Land speculators abused this law and judges ordered the largest ditch system in the state to be constructed over the protest of the counties.

"As the agricultural depression of the early 1920s turned into the general depression of the late 1920s and 1930s, more and more landowners defaulted on their ditch taxes, leaving the counties with the burden of funding the bonds from fewer and fewer landholders....."

Among other persons speaking at the meeting were Steve Morse, Deputy Commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources and Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls.

Many of the people in attendance took advantage of the meeting to visit with DNR representatives about proposed designation in the various counties in which they have an interest.

Donner is all-state, all-region

■ Northland softball player earns honors

Jenni Donner, a Northland Community and Technical College freshman from Waubun, has been rewarded for an outstanding 1999 softball season that included a .531 batting average by being named Minnesota Community College Conference First Team All-State and National Junior College Athletic Association First Team All-Region 13.

Donner finished with five doubles, a triple and a home run while driving in 19 runs during the Pioneers' 13-19 season. She also had a .900 fielding percentage at third base.

All-State and All-Region honors were preceded by MCCC All-Northern Division recognition.

Northland's Amber Carpenter, a freshman catcher from Warroad, was an All-Division Second Team pick. She hit .350 this spring while driving in 25 runs.

The Pioneers, hit hard by graduation after winning the 1998 MCCC state tournament title, started slow this season, winning just one of their first 12 games. Inexperience, preseason personnel losses and a wet spring that delayed development of the young team, all factored into the lack of early-season wins.

However, the Pioneers made strides down the stretch by winning eight of their final 12 regular season starts. That run included a championship effort at the Hibbing Invitational that was followed by a four-game split in the double-elimination state tournament.

"We had a slow start," acknowledged Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We had so many new starters, and with the weather the way it was early in the season, it was tough getting going. But I think we improved as the season went along. I was pleased with where we were at the end of the season. By tournament time we were playing at the level I thought we would be playing this year."

With six regulars scheduled to return next spring, Nikunen said his goal is to try to balance his roster with a mixture of freshmen and sophomores so the Pioneers don't have to go through the up-and-down cycle produced when graduation hits a sophomore-dominated team.

FSA clarifies compensation to farmers from flooding

Several provisions of the Flood Compensation Program which began May 17 and ends July 2 have been clarified by Tracy Beckman, state executive director of the federal Farm Service Agency.

Qualifying farmers could receive payment for the loss of the use of cropland or pastureland in eligible counties if the loss occurred during the period from Oct. 1, 1997 through Sept. 30, 1998.

In order for a county to qualify for the program, the county must have been declared a disaster area under a Presidential declaration or Secretarial designation during the period from Jan. 1, 1997 through Aug. 1, 1998. In addition, cropland or pastureland on at least one farm in the county must have the criteria to implement the Flood Compensation Program. Individual producers within each county could qualify for assistance, based on the following criteria:

Producers must have owned or cash-leased land that was inaccessible at all times for crop production or haying during the fiscal year 1998 because of flooding. Eligible acres will be further reduced by subtracting the farm's flooded acres in 1992 from those flooded in 1998.

Additional requirements are: The acres are physically located in a county approved for the Flood Compensation Program; is an area no less than one acre in size; was owned or leased by an applicant since Oct. 1, 1997. Producers cannot receive Flood Compensation Program benefits for land that also receives fiscal year 1998 benefits under any other federal program including, but not limited to, Multiple Peril Crop Insurance prevented planting, Non-Insured Crop Assistance Disaster program, Crop Loss Disaster Assistance Program and land covered by easements that restrict agricultural usage.

"At this time there is not a lot of documented continuous flooding in Minnesota since 1992," Beckman said. "There are some areas in the state that may qualify and would benefit from the Flood Compensation Program. Producers who believe they may be eligible, based on the criteria presented, should contact their county office for details."

Farmers reminded to report '99 crop acreage by July 15

Producers are reminded that the deadline for certifying their 1999 crop acreage is Thursday, July 15. Maps have been mailed to all operators and producers are asked to fill in the maps with crops and acres and bring them to their county Farm Service Agency office.

Producers are asked to use colored pen or colored pencil so that the crop and acres can be easily identified. Producers are required to bring one set of maps to the county FSA office when they certify their acres. To save time, farmers must have fields drawn in with acres prior to coming to the office.

Acreage reported must be actual planted acres. If there is an area that has not been planted due to excess moisture or other reasons, the difference should be reported as idle acres.

If any of the farm has been (not) rented to another producer, this situation should be reported to the FSA office when acres are reported. The county office will need to know the other producer's name and Social Security of Federal Tax ID number. This listing is very important if the producers wish to take out loans or LDPs. If the land is on contract acres, the county office will also have to revise the Production Flexibility contract.

If producers no longer own nor operate any or all of the land they received maps for, or if the land is no longer used for agricultural purposes, producers are asked to please contact the county FSA office so records can be updated.

Even though acreage reports are considered to be voluntary, FSA personnel encourage producers to continue reporting because most future programs, such as CRP, will rely on cropping history being filed to determine a producer's and land eligibility.

Acreage reports are required for land enrolled in CRP, producers with plantings of fruits and vegetables, producers wishing to take out 1999 CCC grain loans and LDPs, and eligibility to receive benefits for non-insured crops.

Acreage reports filed after July 15 will be accepted but at a cost to the producer. The cost for a late-filed acreage report is $20 for the first field and $10 for each additional field.

Questions about acreage reporting should be directed to FSA. Office hours are 8 a.m to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Appointments are necessary.

Second-year soybeans can cause lower yields

Planting soybeans in a field a second straight year may mean lower yields for the 1999 crop. It can also create problems for future years, says Bruce Potter, IPM specialist with the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

"It's not certain that second-year soybeans will yield poorly," says Potter, who is stationed at the Southwest Research and Outreach Center at Lamberton. "However, the problems of white mold, brown stem rot, and soybean cyst nematode are well documented to be greater in continuous soybeans. White mold and soybean cyst nematode persist in the soil. Brown stem rot overwinters and can live on soybean residue."

Other organisms that survive the winter on residue include those causing bacterial blight, bacterial pustule, anthracnose, stem canker, pod and stem blight, and brown spot.

"The first year of soybeans allows reproduction and buildup of disease organisms and nematode populations," says Potter. "The second year of soybeans is planted into the elevated disease or nematode levels. Without a non-host year, reduction of plant parasitic organisms from exposure, natural enemies, and old age is minimized."

Potter notes that the right environmental conditions are necessary for diseases to develop. However, the higher the level of a disease organism in the soil, the greater the potential for yield loss.

"Yield problems from a second year of soybeans can continue beyond 1999. "White mold and soybean cyst nematode are engineered to survive for long periods without a host," says Potter. "Weed problems have similar long-term implications. You have increased your chances of a problem in future years if these populations are allowed to increase in the second year of soybeans."

Weed species shifts can be another result of second-year soybeans. These involve the increase of a particular weed species in the population of a field due to herbicide tolerance or time of emergence. "By planting the second year of soybeans and applying the same herbicide or cultural practices, you are helping speed the process along," says Potter. "You are providing a weed species that escaped the first year another chance to out-compete the competition. You are doing an efficient job of selecting for weeds that like the way you farm."

If you have no choice but to plant soybeans a second year, choose varieties carefully for resistance to the most likely problems, says Potter. Rotate the source of resistance if using soybean cyst nematode resistance both years. Try to use a different weed control program the second year, rotating chemical families and modes of action.

"Moldboard plowing may help control some, but not all, of the organisms that survive on soybean residue," says Potter. "Unfortunately, heavy tillage of soybean residue has other negative impacts, and spring moldboard plowing is not advisable in most of Minnesota."

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your job at no obligation to you.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

Dry edible beans qualify as vegetable crop planting

It is very important that producers check their Fruits and Vegetables (FAV) acreage before planting to avoid strict penalties, according to Glenn Schafer, executive director of the Pennington County Farm Service Agency.

Included as a vegetable crop are all varieties of dry edible beans—the most common "vegetable" crop in Pennington and other nearby counties.

"More area farmers are considering alternative crops such as fruits and vegetables," Schafer said, "and the FAV planting restrictions should not be taken lightly. If a producer plants FAVs in excess of the farm's non-base acres, strict penalties will be assessed and the farm could be terminated from the farm program."

If the non-base acres are not known, FSA will provide farmers with their allowable FAV acreage upon request. Merely planting a FAV in excess of the allowable acreage will constitute a violation, even if the producer destroys the acreage to be in compliance with the rule.

Schafer pointed out that, under the Production Flexibility program, FAV plantings are restricted to non-contract acres (formerly known as non-base acres) on each farm. Or if the farm or producer has a history of planting FAVs, prior to 1996, planting can exceed the non-base acres with an acre-for-acre reduction in the farm program payment. He invited farmers to contact the county office if they have questions.

Dairy Market Loss Assistance Program

The dairy program that will provide payments to dairy farmers based on total milk production from either 1997 or 1998 ended on Friday, May 21, Schafer said.

Under this program eligible producers had to be in business in the last quarter of 1998 and indicate the higher year's milk production from 1997 or 1998. Payment is based on up to 26,000 hundredweight at a rate of approximately 15 cents per hundredweight. Payments should be issued in early June.

Pennington county sent informational letters to all known dairy producers in April.

Farm Reconstitution Deadline

Farmers are also reminded that the deadline to combine or divide farm units for the 1999 crop year is June 1. This process is commonly referred to as a farm reconstitution.

Farms can only be reconstituted prior to the program payments being issued. Consequently, if a farm changes hands after the payments have been issued and is in need of a reconstitution, payments would have to be refunded to allow the reconstitution to occur. Payments then would be reissued immediately following the reconstitution, provided all eligibility requirements are met by the operators.

CRP Acreage Limitation

As the public has already been informed, the CRP acreage limitation waiver request has been rejected by the national office of the Farm Service Agency. Consequently, the CRP enrollment notification previously issued to producers will be the final notice of acceptance or rejection.

As of Oct. 1, 1999, Pennington county will have 25 percent of its cropland in CRP. No additional acreage can be accepted in the county until CRP contracts expire or acreage is voluntarily withdrawn from CRP. However, the continuous CRP enrollment for smaller acreage, such as field windbreaks and grass filter strips, is still available. Call the FSA office for answers to questions.

Technology consortium in area cited for improving education

United Northwest Minnesota INFOCON, a technology consortium of 12 private and public schools in northwest Minnesota, has been recognized by the National Catholic Education Association (NCEA) and named one of 12 selected programs nationally for improving Catholic education by forming innovative learning environments through technology.

According to Regina Haney of NCEA in Washington, DC, the INFOCON is a unique collaboration of non-public and public schools formed to increase educational excellence through engaging and improving student learning through technology.

The consortium members include St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls public schools and St. Joseph's school in Red Lake Falls, Shelly and Win-E-Mac public schools, St. Philip's school in Bemidji, Sacred Heart elementary and high schools in East Grand Forks, Cathedral school in Crookston, Holy Rosary school in Detroit Lakes, St. Michael's school in Mahnomen, St. Joseph's school in Moorhead and St. Mary's Mission school at Red Lake.

As part of the national recognition, a team of three persons from the INFOCON will represent the consortium at "Conversations in Excellence 1999: Forming Innovative Learning Environments through Technology" at the University of Dayton July 8-11.

The INFOCON received a $5,000 strategic planning grant from the Northwest Minnesota Foundation and recently was awarded a $250,000 technology challenge grant for teacher technology training in participating schools that will begin in 1999-2000 at the University of Minnesota, Crookston. The INFOCON's mission is to provide a forum for sharing information and developing human and financial resources to build and maximize the use of technology in member schools.

Senator Moe explains farm relief bill assistance plan

In the next few weeks, most farm operators will be receiving an application packet from the Minnesota Department of Revenue, reports Sen. Roger Moe of Erskine.

The one-time relief directed at crop and livestock producers who operate on 40 acres or more is the result of a $70 million appropriation passed by the legislature and signed by the governor. The application packet will be send to farm operators registered with the USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) as of Dec. 31, 1998.

The maximum assistance available is $5,600, Sen. Moe said. The payment is $4 an acre for crop production acreage. Generally, all tillable acres qualify, not including land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) or the Waterbank program. Crop producers who fall under the FSA's definition of producers at risk qualify by filing Form AG 1 and the farm's FSA letter. Deadline for crop farmers to apply is Sept. 30, 1999.

The refund for livestock producers, which is in lieu of the per acre crop payment, is based on the property tax payment due on May 15, including the portion of the tax attributable to the house, garage and one acre. If any portion of the property was leased in 1998 for cash rent or share cropping, only the portion not leased qualifies for the refund.

To qualify for the livestock payment, the facility must be operated on 160 acres or less, produce at least $10,000 in sales of unprocessed livestock or dairy products in either 1997 or 1998, and the property must be classified as agricultural homestead, which includes relative homesteads. Livestock producers qualify by filing Form AG 1 and AG 2 which can be requested from their county auditor. The deadline for livestock producers to qualify is Nov. 30, 1999.

In certain instances, alternative qualification criteria can be used to qualify either crop or livestock producers.

In late May, forms and instructions will be available at county extension offices, county auditor offices, FSA offices and the Department of Revenue. Those who have questions about the emergency agricultural assistance program, or want to request an application form and instructions, may call the Department of Revenue toll-free at 1-800-652-9094. RLF workshop speaker willl discuss products from paper

Stanley Shetka, associate professor of art at Gustavus Adolphus College and the inventor and patent holder of ShetkaBoard and Shetka-Stone, will keynote the Minnesota Arts eXperience (MAX) workshop Monday, June 14, at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls.

The products are the result of layering waste paper and water under pressure into blocks that can be sliced or fashioned into a variety of useful products.

Paper is reported to made up about 40 percent of solid waste in the United States, and Shetka can use most of it in his products—everything from cereal boxes and junk mail to newspapers, milk cartons and old books. It does not have to be presorted or de-inked.

Shetka's company, All paper Recycling, Inc., is "dedicated to reducing preconsumer and postconsumer waste through the creation of environmentally responsible products and building materials made from wastepaper," he says. His patented paper-wood "performs pretty similar to pine but at one-fifth the cost."

Why hasn't someone thought of the process before? "It's too easy," Shetka says. "I talk to paper engineers who have 10 degrees and they don't get it. Architects don't understand it, either. But you send them a few blocks and they get excited."

Shetka will talk about his process at the June 14 dinner program. An exhibit opens at 6 p.m., dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with Shetka speaking and demonstrating at 8 p.m. Tickets for the dinner and talk are $10 and for the talk only are $5. They may be purchased at Center Drug and Thompson Hardware in Red Lake Falls. Pre-register for dinner by calling 218-253-4302.

Birth mother of Lafayette grad meets daughter for graduation

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

For 18-year-old Beth Coenen, commencement day brought more than its usual amount of excitement and emotion.

Beth is the daughter of Russell and Inez Coenen and was one of the graduates at Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls on Friday, May 28. Among those sharing the occasion with Beth were three special people that she had met only the day before — her birth mother, 17-year-old brother and grandmother.

Beth has always known that she was adopted and after she and her birth mother, Judy Pena of Faribault, made contact for the first time recently, the Coenens graciously suggested that Beth invite her birth mother to her high school graduation.

For Judy, the invitation was a dream come true, and she and her son, Shannon, and mother, Joyce Walker of Cannon Falls, traveled to Thief River Falls on Thursday, May 27.

While Beth, of course, had no memory of the woman who had given birth to her, Judy had never forgotten the little girl she'd said goodbye to 18 years ago.

Judy's story is somewhat typical. Pregnant at 17, she was "sent to a home for unwed mothers" in Minneapolis. The facility was located across the street from Lutheran Social Services, and nearly all of the young women who were there gave their babies up for adoption.

After giving birth to a baby girl on January 15, 1981, Judy returned to her hometown of Cannon Falls, and the infant was placed in foster care.

Judy had the opportunity to say what kind of home she wanted her baby to grow up in, and she requested that the adoptive parents be over the age of 30, have another child, be Lutheran and live in a rural setting. Before the baby was placed in her adoptive home at the age of three months, Judy was allowed to say goodbye to the little girl that she had named Angela Christine.

In the spring of 1981, the infant became the child of Russell and Inez Coenen of Red Lake Falls and was given the name Elizabeth. Beth grew up in exactly the kind of home that her birth mother had wanted for her.

After Judy returned to Cannon Falls she resumed her relationship with Beth's birth father, became pregnant again and kept her second child, Shannon. After the relationship with her children's father ended, Judy married Jose Pena and had three more sons.

Judy says that whenever she's

Rolling cookie dough, family and consumer science teacher Linda Ueland shows students in her gourmet cooking class at Marshall County Central high school what size cookies to make. Mrs. Ueland, who has spent all 18 years of her teaching career at MCC, has been selected as 1999 Teacher of the Year by the MCC chapter of Education Minnesota. Students in the photo are (from left) David Brown, Chris Donarski and Nick Baito.

Linda Ueland is Teacher of the Year at Newfolden

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

"I'll never forget Miss Ketchum, my third grade teacher, although I never did know her first name," says Linda Ueland, 1999 Teacher of the Year at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. "Miss Ketchum opened my eyes to the idea of becoming a teacher.

"She taught me a rather hard lesson, but one that I really needed to learn, which was that it was perfectly fine to finish second in the spelling bee—even if I did have to lose to Tim Fieldson! She had no family and she gave her life to teaching. On the last day of classes each year, when the students left, she cried."

A Year of Two Desks

Ueland has another memory of her school year spent in Miss Ketchum's classroom. It was the year of two desks for Linda—one at the front of the room and another at the back—an intervention effort by Miss Ketchum who recognized her restlessness and tried to make it easier for her to pay attention in class.

"She told me that when I got tired of sitting at one desk I could go and sit at the other," Linda said. "I was a pretty active child and that opportunity to move from one desk to another, simple as it was, really seemed to help me. And as a result, it probably helped her as well."

Linda is a 1977 graduate of Park Rapids area high school and received her Bachelor of Science degree in 1981 from North Dakota State University with a major in home economics education and a minor in child development. Her first teaching job was at Marshall County Central and she has been a member of the faculty there for the past 18 years.

Teaching and employment stability run in the family for Linda. Her father, Darrill Larison, taught in the Park Rapids school system for more than 30 years prior to his retirement. Her husband, Ron, who she married Oct. 21, 1989, is retiring from teaching this year after 32 years in the classroom and as a coach in the Newfolden schools.

Teaches Varied Classes

This year at MCC she has taught junior high Career Exploration, Study Skills and Life Skills classes, ninth grade Child Development and Parenting, eighth grade Nutrition Education and senior high Basic Sewing, Advanced Sewing, Independent Living Skills, Gourmet Cooking and Professional Cooking.

Marshall County Central high school was rebuilt the year following a fire which burned the former high school in November of 1991, and Mrs. Ueland has a modern classroom in the new building with five kitchen areas, eight standard sewing machines which swing into storage cabinets, and two sergers. In addition to basic clothing items, her sewing classes turn out such specialties as gun cases, sweat pants, quilts and gym and duffel bags.

Cooking Class Popular

One of the popular classes for MCC students is Mrs. Ueland's Gourmet Cooking class. On our visit to the classroom recently, the class was deep into a unit on baking from scratch and students were working in groups of two or three to make cakes and cookies. Previous class sessions involved making cream and fruit pies and even yeast bread—which required an early arrival at school to mix the dough and separate appearances during the school day to knead it, put it in pans and do the baking.

Almost 10 years ago Linda began taking classes in special education and learning disabilities at Bemidji State University. All of her classes have been taken on campus, either as night classes or during summer sessions. She has been granted her K-12 license in that field and is considering continuing her work toward a Master's degree.

Deadline for CRP seeding has extension

A two-week extension for spring seeding of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage has been announced by the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), according to Mike Ratzlaff, director of the Pennington county NRCS office.

Previous seeding dates were April 1-June 15 for introduced grasses and legumes. Due to the excessive moisture this spring, the deadline has been extended to June 30.

Seeding dates to establish native grasses had been set for May 15-July 1, and no change has been made in the deadline for that planting. Landowners with CRP contracts may contact their local NRCS office for more information.

Safety Camp registration open; event set June 9-10

Registrations are now being taken for the Thief River Falls and Pennington County Safety Camp. The event will be held June 9 and 10 at Franklin Middle School.

This two-day event is targeted at second and third graders in Pennington County. During this event, children will be provided with two full days of exciting, hands-on learning experiences regarding safety.

The entire community of Thief River Falls as well as county and state organizations have come together to develop an excellent camp for children. During the camp children will learn about playground safety, in-line and skateboard safety, electrical safety, choking, poison control, lawn mower safety, stranger danger, how to use 911, camping safety, motor sports safety, fire truck/rescue, fire safety, participate in a bike rodeo, learn about seat belt safety, the No Zone, Operation Lifesaver, construction safety, and safety on our streets and highways. Children also get to ride on a train from Thief River Falls to Plummer.

This program has been so successful and fun for the children that each year Safety Camp has been filled to capacity (120 children) within days of opening the registrations.

Activities On Wednesday, June 9, begin with welcoming children to Safety Camp and assigning them to counselors. They receive colored caps and participate in opening ceremonies with various dignitaries, such as the mayors of Thief River Falls, Goodridge, and St. Hilaire, Safety Pup, Smokey Bear, and others. From then on, its two days of fun-filled, safe activities.

Thanks to the contributions of many volunteers, various organizations and many local businesses, Safety Camp has been very successful.

For more information about safety camp call 218-681-4210 or 218-681-2519.

Dry edible beans qualify as vegetable crop planting

It is very important that producers check their Fruits and Vegetables (FAV) acreage before planting to avoid strict penalties, according to Glenn Schafer, executive director of the Pennington County Farm Service Agency.

Included as a vegetable crop are all varieties of dry edible beans, the most common "vegetable" crop in Pennington and other nearby counties.

"More area farmers are considering alternative crops such as fruits and vegetables," Schafer said, "and the FAV planting restrictions should not be taken lightly. If a producer plants FAVs in excess of the farm's non-base acres, strict penalties will be assessed and the farm could be terminated from the farm program."

If the non-base acres are not known, FSA will provide farmers with their allowable FAV acreage upon request. Merely planting a FAV in excess of the allowable acreage will constitute a violation, even if the producer destroys the acreage to be in compliance with the rule.

Schafer pointed out that, under the Production Flexibility program, FAV plantings are restricted to non-contract acres (formerly known as non-base acres) on each farm. Or if the farm or producer has a history of planting FAVs prior to 1996, planting can exceed the non-base acres with an acre-for-acre reduction in the farm program payment. He invited farmers to contact the county office if they have questions.

Dairy Market Loss Assistance Program

The dairy program that will provide payments to dairy farmers based on total milk production from either 1997 or 1998 ended on Friday, May 21, Schafer said.

Under this program eligible producers had to be in business in the last quarter of 1998 and indicate the higher year's milk production from 1997 or 1998. Payment is based on up to 26,000 hundredweight at a rate of approximately 15 cents per hundredweight. Payments should be issued in early June.

Pennington county sent informational letters to all known dairy producers in April.

Farm Reconstitution Deadline

Farmers are also reminded that the deadline to combine or divide farm units for the 1999 crop year is June 1. This process is commonly referred to as a farm reconstitution.

Farms can only be reconstituted prior to the program payments being issued. Consequently, if a farm changes hands after the payments have been issued and is in need of a reconstitution, payments would have to be refunded to allow the reconstitution to occur. Payments then would be reissued immediately following the reconstitution, provided all eligibility requirements are met by the operators.

CRP Acreage Limitation

As the public has already been informed, the CRP acreage limitation waiver request has been rejected by the national office of the Farm Service Agency. Consequently, the CRP enrollment notification previously issued to producers will be the final notice of acceptance or rejection.

As of Oct. 1, 1999, Pennington county will have 25 percent of its cropland in CRP. No additional acreage can be accepted in the county until CRP contracts expire or acreage is voluntarily withdrawn from CRP. However, the continuous CRP enrollment for smaller acreage, such as field windbreaks and grass filter strips, is still available. Call the FSA office for answers to questions.

Ramsey County Medical Examiners office has positively identified the body found in the Red Lake River on June 2 as that of Mark John Prenevost, 38, Red Lake Falls.

Red Lake County Sheriff's department reported last week that Prenevost was missing. Prenevost was last seen at an ABATE meeting on May 22 at Voyageur's View Campground. On the afternoon of June 2, a body was found in the Red Lake River just west of Red Lake Falls. Assisting the Red Lake County Sheriff's office in the recovery of the body was the Red Lake Falls fire department, Minnesota DNR, Pennington County Dive Team, and Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension. The body was then sent to the Ramsey County Medical Examiners office.

Red Lake County Sheriff's department is continuing its investigation into the disappearance and death of Prenevost.

Registration open for 50th NW Dairy Day cattle show

Registration is now being accepted from persons interested in competing in the cattle show for the 50th annual Northwest Dairy Day to be held Saturday, June 26, at the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

The dairy show is open to all young people from kindergarten age through one year past high school graduation. Showmen do not need to be members of 4-H or FFA nor do they need to own the animal they will be showing.

Showmen who register by June 11 will receive a free 50th anniversary Northwest Dairy Day t-shirt in addition to prizes given in accordance with the number of years of showing at Northwest Dairy Day.

Registration blanks are available from county extension offices in the 16-county American Dairy Association of Minnesota Region 1, including Becker, Beltrami, Cass, Clay, Clearwater, Hubbard, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau and Wadena.

Registration blanks and answers to questions may also be received by calling Janice Larson at 218-459-3435 or Rhoda Gust at 218-528-3621.

Showing at Northwest Dairy Day will combine all dairy breeds in age classes from calves through aged cows with separate prizes awarded for registered and grade cattle. Junior and senior showmanship contests will also be held, with a special showmanship competition open this year to persons of any age who have shown at Northwest Dairy Day at any time during its 50-year history.

Registration at the county fairgrounds on June 26 will be conducted from 10 to 11 a.m. with a showmanship demonstration to open the show at 11 a.m. The public is invited to visit the Dairy Day show as it is conducted throughout the day.

RLF workshop speaker willl discuss products from paper

Stanley Shetka, associate professor of art at Gustavus Adolphus College and the inventor and patent holder of ShetkaBoard and ShetkaStone, will keynote the Minnesota Arts eXperience (MAX) workshop Monday, June 14, at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls.

The products are the result of layering waste paper and water under pressure into blocks that can be sliced or fashioned into a variety of useful products.

Paper is reported to make up about 40 percent of solid waste in the United States, and Shetka can use most of it in his products—everything from cereal boxes and junk mail to newspapers, milk cartons and old books. It does not have to be presorted or de-inked.

Shetka's company, All paper Recycling, Inc., is "dedicated to reducing preconsumer and postconsumer waste through the creation of environmentally responsible products and building materials made from wastepaper," he says. His patented paper-wood "performs pretty similar to pine but at one-fifth the cost."

Why hasn't someone thought of the process before? "It's too easy," Shetka says. "I talk to paper engineers who have 10 degrees and they don't get it. Architects don't understand it, either. But you send them a few blocks and they get excited."

Shetka will talk about his process at the June 14 dinner program. An exhibit opens at 6 p.m., dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with Shetka speaking and demonstrating at 8 p.m. Tickets for the dinner and talk are $10 and for the talk only are $5. They may be purchased at Center Drug and Thompson Hardware in Red Lake Falls. Pre-register for dinner by calling 218-253-4302.

Rolling cookie dough, family and consumer science teacher Linda Ueland shows students in her gourmet cooking class at Marshall County Central high school what size cookies to make. Mrs. Ueland, who has spent all 18 years of her teaching career at MCC, has been selected as 1999 Teacher of the Year by the MCC chapter of Education Minnesota. Students in the photo are (from left) David Brown, Chris Donarski and Nick Baito.

Linda Ueland is Teacher of the Year at Newfolden

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

"I'll never forget Miss Ketchum, my third grade teacher, although I never did know her first name," says Linda Ueland, 1999 Teacher of the Year at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. "Miss Ketchum opened my eyes to the idea of becoming a teacher.

"She taught me a rather hard lesson, but one that I really needed to learn, which was that it was perfectly fine to finish second in the spelling bee—even if I did have to lose to Tim Fieldson! She had no family and she gave her life to teaching. On the last day of classes each year, when the students left, she cried."

A Year of Two Desks

Ueland has another memory of her school year spent in Miss Ketchum's classroom. It was the year of two desks for Linda—one at the front of the room and another at the back—an intervention effort by Miss Ketchum who recognized her restlessness and tried to make it easier for her to pay attention in class.

"She told me that when I got tired of sitting at one desk I could go and sit at the other," Linda said. "I was a pretty active child and that opportunity to move from one desk to another, simple as it was, really seemed to help me. And as a result, it probably helped her as well."

Linda is a 1977 graduate of Park Rapids area high school and received her Bachelor of Science degree in 1981 from North Dakota State University with a major in home economics education and a minor in child development. Her first teaching job was at Marshall County Central and she has been a member of the faculty there for the past 18 years.

Teaching and employment stability run in the family for Linda. Her father, Darrell Larson, taught in the Park Rapids school system for more than 30 years prior to his retirement. Her husband, Ron, who she married Oct. 21, 1989, is retiring from teaching this year after 32 years in the classroom and as a coach in the Newfolden schools.

Teaches Varied Classes

This year at MCC she has taught junior high Career Exploration, Study Skills and Life Skills classes, ninth grade Child Development and Parenting, eighth grade Nutrition Education and senior high Basic Sewing, Advanced Sewing, Independent Living Skills, Gourmet Cooking and Professional Cooking.

Marshall County Central high school was rebuilt the year following a fire which burned the former high school in November of 1991, and Mrs. Ueland has a modern classroom in the new building with five kitchen areas, eight standard sewing machines which swing into storage cabinets, and two sergers. In addition to basic clothing items, her sewing classes turn out such specialties as gun cases, sweat pants, quilts and gym and duffel bags.

Cooking Class Popular

One of the popular classes for MCC students is Mrs. Ueland's Gourmet Cooking class. On our visit to the classroom recently, the class was deep into a unit on baking from scratch and students were working in groups of two or three to make cakes and cookies. Previous class sessions involved making cream and fruit pies and even yeast bread—which required an early arrival at school to mix the dough and separate appearances during the school day to knead it, put it in pans and do the baking.

Almost 10 years ago Linda began taking classes in special education and learning disabilities at Bemidji State University. All of her classes have been taken on campus, either as night classes or during summer sessions. She has been granted her K-12 license in that field and is considering continuing her work toward a Master's degree.

Deadline for CRP seeding has extension

A two-week extension for spring seeding of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage has been announced by the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), according to Mike Ratzlaff, director of the Pennington county NRCS office.

Previous seeding dates were April 1-June 15 for introduced grasses and legumes. Due to the excessive moisture this spring, the deadline has been extended to June 30.

Seeding dates to establish native grasses had been set for May 15-July 1, and no change has been made in the deadline for that planting. Landowners with CRP contracts may contact their local NRCS office for more information.

Birth mother of Lafayette grad meets daughter for graduation

by Kuthl Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

For 18-year-old Beth Coenen, commencement day brought more than its usual amount of excitement and emotion.

Beth is the daughter of Russell and Inez Coenen and was one of the graduates at Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls on Friday, May 28. Among those sharing the occasion with Beth were three special people that she had met only the day before — her birth mother, 17-year-old brother and grandmother.

Beth has always known that she was adopted and after she and her birth mother, Judy Pena of Faribault, made contact for the first time recently, the Coenens graciously suggested that Beth invite her birth mother to her high school graduation.

For Judy, the invitation was a dream come true, and she and her son, Shannon, and mother, Joyce Walker of Cannon Falls, traveled to Thief River Falls on Thursday, May 27.

While Beth, of course, had no memory of the woman who had given birth to her, Judy had never forgotten the little girl she'd said goodbye to 18 years ago.

Judy's story is somewhat typical. Pregnant at 17, she was "sent to a home for unwed mothers" in Minneapolis. The facility was located across the street from Lutheran Social Services, and nearly all of the young women who were there gave their babies up for adoption.

After giving birth to a baby girl on January 15, 1981, Judy returned to her hometown of Cannon Falls, and the infant was placed in foster care.

Judy had the opportunity to say what kind of home she wanted her baby to grow up in, and she requested that the adoptive parents be over the age of 30, have another child, be Lutheran and live in a rural setting. Before the baby was placed in her adoptive home at the age of three months, Judy was allowed to say goodbye to the little girl that she had named Angela Christine.

In the spring of 1981, the infant became the child of Russell and Inez Coenen of Red Lake Falls and was given the name Elizabeth. Beth grew up in exactly the kind of home that her birth mother had wanted for her.

After Judy returned to Cannon Falls she resumed her relationship with Beth's birth father, became pregnant again and kept her second child, Shannon. After the relationship with her children's father ended, Judy married Jose Pena and had three more sons.

Judy says that whenever she's

Meeting her birth mother, brother and grandmother added to the excitement of graduation for Beth Coenen. Beth graduated from Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls on Friday, May 28. Safety Camp registration open; event set June 9-10

Registrations are now being taken for the Thief River Falls and Pennington County Safety Camp. The event will be held June 9 and 10 at Franklin Middle School.

This two-day event is targeted at second and third graders in Pennington County. During this event, children will be provided with two full days of exciting, hands-on learning experiences regarding safety.

The entire community of Thief River Falls as well as county and state organizations have come together to develop an excellent camp for children. During the camp children will learn about playground safety, in-line and skateboard safety, electrical safety, choking, poison control, lawn mower safety, stranger danger, how to use 911, camping safety, motor sports safety, fire truck/rescue, fire safety, participate in a bike rodeo, learn about seat belt safety, the No Zone, Operation Lifesaver, construction safety, and safety on our streets and highways. Children also get to ride on a train from Thief River Falls to Plummer.

This program has been so successful and fun for the children that each year Safety Camp has been filled to capacity (120 children) within days of opening the registrations.

Activities On Wednesday, June 9, begin with welcoming children to Safety Camp and assigning them to counselors. They receive colored caps and participate in opening ceremonies with various dignitaries, such as the mayors of Thief River Falls, Goodridge, and St. Hilaire, Safety Pup, Smokey Bear, and others. From then on, its two days of fun-filled, safe activities.

Thanks to the contributions of many volunteers, various organizations and many local businesses, Safety Camp has been very successful.

For more information about safety camp call 218-681-4210 or 218-681-2519.

Floodplain Easement program available in northwest Minnesota

Emergency funds from the U.S. Department of Agriculture will become available to area landowners interested in the Emergency Watershed protection program (EWP). Payments are estimated to be similar to the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) program.

Potentially eligible lands include agricultural lands damaged by flooding that have either been subject to repeated flood damage or are where the flooding can be expected to recur. Agricultural lands are predominantly crop land, grazing land, hay land or forest land adjoining the channel of a river or other watercourse.

Land accepted into the program would have a permanent floodplain easement, which would contain certain use restrictions. Sign-up is open at county Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) offices and will close on June 10.

Friends and Family support group to meet

Friends and Family support group will meet from 10 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, June 7 in the community room at Summerfield Apartments in Warren.

This support group is for family members and friends who provide care and/or support for elderly persons. Many members have loved ones who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Far those busy warm-weather days, here's a meal you can have on the table in minutes because you do your work the night before. The only things you'll have to do before serving are put together the main dish chili dogs and bake the cookies.

So the kids like hot dogs, but you're tired of them the same old way - try them like this - I bet you could add a can of (drained) chili beans to the sauce for an even more interesting main dish:

CHILI DOGS

1 pound ground beef
1 garlic clove, minced
1 cup tomato juice
1 (6 ounce) can tomato paste
2 tablespoons chili powder
1 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
8 hot dogs, cooked (can be grilled, if desired)
8 hot dog buns
Chopped onion (optional)
Shredded cheddar cheese (optional)

In large skillet, brown beef and garlic. Drain.

Stir in tomato juice, paste, chili powder, hot pepper sauce, salt and pepper. Simmer, uncovered, for 20 minutes. (This sauce can now be refrigerated and then reheated when ready to serve.)

Place hot dogs in buns and spoon chili mixture over. Top with onion and cheese, if desired.

Soon there will be some fresh things in the garden - use them (or buy the ingredients) for this fresh side dish - it can also be made a day ahead:

DILLY BROCCOLI SALAD

2 pounds fresh broccoli, cut into florets
1 1/2 pounds fresh cauliflower, cut into florets
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup sour cream
1 small onion, chopped
1 tablespoon fresh dill or 1 1/2 teaspoons dill weed
1/2 teaspoon salt

In large bowl, combine broccoli and cauliflower. Set aside.

Combine mayonnaise, sour cream, onion, dill and salt and mix well. Pour over vegetables, toss to coat. Cover and chill 4 hours or overnight.

CALICO CORN

2 (16 ounces each) packages frozen corn, thawed
4 small zucchini, diced
1 large sweet red pepper, diced
2 (4 ounces each) cans chopped green chilies, drained
1 medium onion, chopped
2/3 cup olive oil or vegetable oil
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 to 2 1/2 teaspoons ground cumin
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

In large bowl, toss corn, zucchini, red pepper, chilies and onion.

In jar, combine remaining ingredients and shake well. Pour over salad and stir gently.

Chill for several hours or overnight.

ICE BOX COOKIES

1 3/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup softened butter
1 cup packed brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2/3 cup chopped pecans or flaked coconut

Combine flour, soda and salt. Set aside.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg and vanilla, mixing well. Gradually add dry ingredients.

Fold in pecans or coconut (dough will be sticky).

Shape into 2 rolls and place on waxed paper, wrapping tightly. Refrigerate overnight or at least 4 hours.

Cut into 1/4 inch slices and place 2 inches apart on baking sheets. Bake at 375 degrees for 7-10 minutes. (Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.)

After you finish mixing up everything else and have it all in the fridge for its overnight chilling, mix up these tart and spicy peaches to be refrigerated overnight too:

SPICY PEACHES

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup vinegar
8-10 whole cloves
1 cinnamon stick
6 fresh peaches, peeled and halved
1/2 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons brown sugar

In large saucepan, bring sugar, water, vinegar, cloves, cinnamon stick and peach halves to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer until heated through, about 10 minutes.

Pour into shallow baking dish. Cover and chill overnight or at least 8 hours.

Drain. Spoon peaches into serving dishes, garnish with a dollop of sour cream and sprinkle with brown sugar. Serve with those delicious cookies.

High Waters

In an urban setting, the threat carried by "high waters" is little more than a bit of social ostracization and the accompanying bruise to the developing adolescent ego. The symptoms are easily corrected by the purchase of a pair of pants that actually reach your ankles. In the rural, more water dominated expanses of the Upper Midwest, "high waters" pose considerably more significant problems.

This Spring's water levels on Lake of the Woods, though high on the historical average chart, are not record-setting. We can expect no emergency funding visits from the Vice President, nor any sympathy trips from the recently elected Governor. We are not experiencing flood conditions that our Red River Valley neighbors saw a couple of years ago. Not even close. But the high waters of 1999, when coupled with the low levels of the past half decade, bring with them some unique obstacles.

The driftwood is probably the most obvious and tangible result of the rise in water levels. Each day of additional rain or river-plugging north wind begins the Rainy parade anew as countless thousands of board feet of rough timber and escaping dock lumber flow through the Gap toward a final resting spot on the shores of some remote Canadian island.

And while this woody onslaught is an annual prop-bending threat to Lake of the Woods boaters, this year's collection of popple and pine is logically five times worse than the average. Remember, the bulk of those beaver chewings and splintered windbreaks have rested harmlessly on some unwatered shoreline through the last several seasons, waiting for a significant rise in the lake and river levels to float them into the active mix. The present load is not a single year's worth, but more likely many years' worth of fallen trees and will probably result in many times the actual boat damage.

The mosquito hatch always seems to be at its peak during any Spring up here, but you can gain a little comfort for your increased misery this year when you realize that they really are worse now than they've been in quite a while. Like the logs, mosquito eggs will lie patiently for years, waiting for the rejuvenating effects of water.

Traditional Spring rains will always prompt a "flash hatch," but when those moist periods combine with the water levels we're seeing now, the infestation can reach plague-like proportions. The remoistened insect eggs, tough enough to survive several years of desiccation, are dragged back into biting life from the dried banks and lowlands of this swampy region and add incredible numbers to the already daunting bug population.

Speaking of dry, I realize we're getting dangerously close to that overly-technical InFisherman level of entertainment. Just realize that those bugs you thought were squelched by the arid quality of last Spring will, like the radiated bodies in Night of the Living Dead, come back to feast another day.

This "high water" doesn't help fishing much, either. Here we're simply discussing math. The numbers of catchable fish haven't increased since March, but the amount of space they have to wander around in certainly has. Like the old adage about "fishin' in a rain barrel" suggests, fish are easier to catch in a confined area, and since the April thaw, this particular barrel has grown considerably.

This won't be a monumental change, but will rear its head on a long-term, statistical basis and will affect the more specific nature of muskie and bass fishing more than the generalized character of walleye angling.

The even bigger picture suggests, ironically, that "high water" bodes well for future fishing, as the newly-covered land mass drops quite a fresh potential into the food chain, allowing for better survival rates on younger fish, and creating the possibility for a tightly-clustered quarry in the next low water situation. But that's the future; we're mired in today.

And yes, despite the fact that your useable shorefront may have dwindled a bit from the rising waters, you still owe taxes on that submerged part, regardless of how long it may remain unmowable.

And that new dock you put in last Spring that looked so ridiculously high that you actually attached a ladder to the end for the purpose of getting in and out of your boat on the average August afternoon? Well, watch out when you're down there with your pike pole pushing huge chunks of driftwood away from the pilings while some pleasure boater comes roaring by, because the wake might splash up through the dock slats and stain the bottom couple inches of your new khakis with dirty river water.

Your best bet is to roll your pants up or simply go dig out a pair of those socially taboo "high waters" to wear until the lake levels retreat a little. Remember to wear some thick white socks to keep the mosquitoes from biting your ankles. I think you'd look pretty smart.

Land Uses: Footprints On The Earth

Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District recently announced the winners in three divisions of its conservation essay contest. The Northern Watch and Thief River Falls Times will publish the first place essays as guest editorials, beginning with today's senior division winner written by Luke Miller, 17, a junior at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

The essay by junior division winner Paul Crank, a student in seventh grade at Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls, will be published in the Wednesday, June 9 edition of the Times. First place entry in the elementary division, written by 10-year-old fifth grader Sarah Cronk, also a student at Our Saviour's Christian Academy, will be published in the June 12 edition of the Northern Watch.

We are pleased to publish these essays as an encouragement to students to write creatively, and we congratulate the Pennington SWCD for its interest in sponsoring the essay contest again this year.

LAND USES: FOOTPRINTS ON THE EARTH
by Luke Miller

As a teenager, a person starts needing spending money. This results in a search for a job. In Thief River Falls, there aren't many jobs fort teens under the age of 16. I found a lawn mowing job through one of my dad's friends. After mowing the yard for a year, I began taking on more and more lawn mowing jobs. These in turn opened opportunities for landscaping jobs. When I mow or landscape, I am actually helping the environment by detouring erosion and enhancing the earth's beauty.

In addition to mowing, one of my favorite hobbies is hunting. When a person hunts, he utilizes various types of land, depending on what is being hunted. In deer hunting, a person needs a wooded area. When hunting waterfowl, a person focuses on a swamp, river or lake. These are a few of my own personal uses of land. There are many ways people use land—some benefit the land and others cause all of us great concern.

Many people give little thought to the land. They see it every day, yet they don't really look at it unless they have a purpose in mind. It is difficult for them to enjoy the land in its natural state.

A farmer might look at a section of land and picture the rich topsoil. He sees a beautiful bumper crop of wheat, golden ripe and ready to harvest. He imagines his profit and what that could mean for his family's financial situation.

A snowmobiler, on the other hand, might look at the same land and imagine it covered with snow. He sees himself speeding over the pillow-like drifts which glisten in the sunlight. He imagines the thrill of his ride and the enjoyment of the sport.

Yet still, a developer might visualize the same section of land with a multiple housing complex. He sees a towering structure, stately and picturesque against the setting sun. He, like the farmer, imagines the generated income.

All of these people have something in common the land.

Whenever people use the land, they leave footprints. Some of these footprints are harsh, as though muddy boots have tramped through a clean house. Footprints like these are destructive, made as a result of selfish and thoughtless actions. These footprints may be left on the land for several million years.

Other footprints are as gentle as those left by a kitten walking across a blanket. Footprints like these are kind, a result of intentional and careful planning. These footprints might barely be visible after only a short time.

According to the 1998 Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts education committee, "nearly every human activity uses the land." It is, therefore, virtually impossible for a person to live on this earth and not affect the land.

Just as the farmer pictures the abundant crop, each person should imagine what our earth would be like without fields of grain and productive farmland.

"Minnesota has approximately 18.6 million acres of prime farmland, but every day, public and private interests make decisions that affect the use of this land. Since all people are dependent upon the wise management of prime farmland, we should also be concerned about its preservation."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture in its 1992 National Resource Inventory states that a significant change in Minnesota land occurred between 1982 and 1992. During this time, areas of crop land, forest land and pasture land were converted through urban development. Most land is classified as either agricultural or developmental. However, it is a known fact that people decide how land is used through manipulation or management in order to satisfy their personal wants or needs.

The specific characteristics of the land frequently dictate the best use of the land. Prime farmland has physical characteristics that allow for crop production, forest land or pasture land. Similarly, wildlife lands have characteristics that support wildlife habitat. Certain areas of Minnesota have lost wildlife lands and wildlife habitat due to land conversion.

While statistics show that prime farmland and wildlife habitat are being lost, there are also some benefits to conversion through urban development. For example, the building of housing complexes, apartments or businesses on poor farmland converts this land into something more productive. This has helped the economy by giving jobs to many unemployed people. It has also helped by providing homes for people on land that would have had little or no other use.

When I first started my lawn mowing jobs, they were just for money; now they are for something more important. I enjoy working with the land and take pride in helping older people who can't mow their own yards. In my personal experiences, I have practiced walking gently on the earth. By hand weeding gardens and flower beds, mulching the grass and landscaping possible high erosion areas, I can have a positive affect on the land. I'm leaving kitten footprints on the earth's blanket.

Todd and Kathy Johnston herd leads DHIA in April 2

Dairy herd of Todd and Kathy Johnston led the Red Lake-Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of April, according to Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, supervisors.

The Johnston herd of 65 cows, 91 percent of which were in milk, averaged 76 pounds of milk, 2.5 pounds of butterfat and 2.3 pounds of protein.

Northwest Agricultural Experiment Station had the second and third place herds. The small cow herd, numbering 67 animals, was 88 percent in milk and averaged 73 pounds of milk, 2.5 pounds of butterfat and 2.4 pounds of protein for second place in the association. The large cow herd of 41 animals, 90 percent of which were in milk, averaged 71 pounds of milk, 2.6 pounds of butterfat and 2.3 pounds of protein.

Walter Bros. Farm was in fourth place as 87 percent of its 255 cows were in milk and averaged 69 pounds of milk, 2.3 pounds of butterfat and 2.2 pounds of protein.

Fifth place went to Warren Malwitz Dairy where 90 percent of the 112 cows were in milk and averaged 66 pounds of milk, 2.0 pounds of butterfat and 2.0 pounds of protein.

Other herds in the top 15 included the following in descending order with number of cows in the herd, percentage in milk and pounds of milk, butterfat and protein listed respectively:

Wayne Veitleson (3X), 173, 86%, 64, 2.4 and 2.0; Wesley Bring, 32, 100%, 64, 2.1 and 1.9, Gary and Polly Bakken, 30, 87%, 62, 2.2 and 2.0; Morlyn and Deb Ornquist, 46, 80%, 60, 2.2 and 1.8; and Tom and Diane Kolstoe, 45, 89%, 60, 2.2 and 1.8;

Also Tom Willett, 51, 82%, 60, 2.1 and 1.8; Leonard and Marge Geske, 46, 87%, 60, 2.0 and 1.8; Steve Nelson, 62, 97%, 60, 1.9 and 1.8; Greg Zak, 44, 89%, 59, 2.0 and 1.8; Beyer Farms (tie), 75, 88%, 58, 2.1 and 1.8 and Gary and Grant Gulickson (tie), 55, 91%, 58, 2.1 and 1.7.

Herd averages are adversely effected by the number of dry cows in the herd since averages are calculated over all cows in the herd on test. If there are many dry cows in the herd, averages may be low even if those in production are high producers.

Birth mother of Lafayette grad meets daughter for graduation

(Continued from Page 1) been asked how many children she has, she responds by saying, "I have five children, four sons and a daughter I gave up for adoption."

Over the years Lutheran Social Services acted as a go-between as Judy sent letters and photographs and received photographs of Beth in return. Judy says, "I was always so thankful for anything they would send," and when a fire destroyed her family's home, she was particularly grateful when the photographs of Beth were quickly replaced.

Still the intermediary, Lutheran Social Services (LSS) forwarded the birthday card and letter that Judy sent Beth in January. In the letter, Judy suggested that should Beth ever wish to contact her she could do so through the agency.

Judy was at her place of employment as a data specialist when a social worker from LSS called to say that Beth had responded and that the letter would be forwarded to her.

A few days later, Judy received another call at work. It was Shannon, calling to tell his mother that she had received mail from Red Lake Falls. That was the first time she knew of Beth's whereabouts. Judy's boss allowed her to take the time to go home and get the letter.

In her letter, Beth told Judy that her parents had suggested that she invite her to her high school graduation. Unable to think clearly, Judy was ecstatic about the fact that she would meet Beth when she graduated from high school next year, and it took a co-worker to bring her to the realization that she would be meeting Beth in a few short weeks.

When Judy called Beth to acknowledge her letter, Russell Coenen answered the phone and said that his daughter was outside washing the car. Before she spoke to Beth, Judy visited with her father and was impressed by his cordiality.

Subsequent telephone conversations and an exchange of photographs further familiarized the two women, preparing them for the day when they would meet face to face.

"I was nervous," Beth says when talking about how she felt before meeting Judy, someone she says she had "always wondered about."

As she drove the approximately 360 miles to Thief River Falls, Judy admits to being edgy too, hoping that Beth would accept her outgoing personality and "big hair."

When Judy, Shannon and Joyce reached the Best Western, Judy called Beth who said, "I'll be right there." Everyone's jitters intensified as Beth drove the 17 miles between her home and Thief River Falls.

The meeting brought a myriad of emotions. Beth not only met her birth mother, but a brother and grandmother. Judy learned that the daughter she'd said goodbye to 18 years ago had grown into a young woman who loves all kinds of animals and enjoys reading and drawing.

Judy, Shannon and Joyce attended graduation exercises in Red Lake Falls and were guests at Beth's reception at the Coenen home. Cameras flashed as dozens of photographs were taken to record the occasion.

One cannot go any further without appreciating the generosity and love exhibited quietly and graciously by Beth's parents, Russell and Inez Coenen. "Her parents did a great job," Judy says as she also acknowledges that they gave Beth a much better life than she would have been able to 18 years ago.

The definition of commencement is beginning, and Beth has made plans for her post high school life.

This month she makes a trip to Faribault where she will continue to become acquainted with Judy and Shannon and meet Judy's husband, Jose, and her three half brothers, 14-year old Raymond, 12-year-old Chad and 7-year-old Adam, who are, according to their mother, "dying to meet Beth." Grandparents Joyce and Roger Walker live in Cannon Falls where Beth will meet Roger and a host of aunts, uncles and cousins. Her birth mother is the sixth of eight children.

Currently, Beth is looking for a job and plans to study cosmetology at Northland Community and Technical College this fall.

Beth also revealed that if she has a daughter of her own someday, she would like to name her Angela Christine, the name that Judy gave her. If that dream becomes a reality, Beth will have the opportunity to understand the love that a parent feels for his or her child . . . whether it be a child of the womb or child of the heart.

GREENBUSH RACE PARK

by Bob Hultgren

A great night of racing was highlighted by three roll-overs Friday (May 27) at the Greenbush Race Park.

The most spectacular of the rolls occurred during the 15-car, 15-lap Super Sport Feature. With just two laps to go, a group of cars racing for third through sixth place charged hard into Turn Four. Mike Rehm of Middle River was charging from fifth place when he drove his No. 51 car high and fast into the turn. Rehm piloted his car right onto the front retaining fence, and with his high rate of speed, the momentum lifted his car into the air and rolled it 3 1/2 times down the front straightaway. Rehm was checked by the EMT's at the track and walked back to the pits under his own power.

The other two incidents occurred during the Mini-Sprint Feature. The first roll occurred eight laps into the race when Cory Olson spun his car in Turn Four. Merrick Hietala, who was following close behind, ran into the Olson car and flipped. Hietala's car sustained mainly wing damage, and there were no injuries. One lap later, in the same location on the track, it was Olson himself who got sideways and was hit by another car. This time it was Olson who rolled his car and had to be towed from the track.

Even without the roll-overs, the night was packed with exciting racing. Track officials worked hard to try to keep the track from going dry slick. Weather conditions were against them, with temperatures around 80 and a strong south wind at race time. While the track appeared to develop only one good groove, it did hold up throughout the night's racing action.

Shannon Gust of Strathcona used the fast outside groove to race to the feature win in the Wissota Modified final. Gust started on the outside of the second row, but quickly went to the front, and despite a couple of caution flags, ran strong, held on and won. Nolan Olmstead, who started in the second row with Gust, finished second. The biggest surprise of the Modified final was the lack of success of Greg Ferris of Emo, ON, who won the season opener a week earlier. He started 13th in the Friday feature and finished tenth.

If "rubbins" racing, then the Wissota Superstocks did a whole lot of racing Friday. The final was marred with a series of yellow flags. The first flying in the first lap when a lone car spun in Turn One, while five cars stacked up on Turn Four. The incident caused quite a bit of sheet metal damage to the cars involved. The next caution flew during the following lap when the nose cone of a car involved in the first-lap incident flew off and landed on the straightaway. Caution flags also flew in laps 8 and 11. Dean Forst of Thief River Falls jumped to a quick lead when the green flag dropped, but by the time Forst hit Turn Four, he had spun and a half-dozen cars passed him – taking him out of contention for the second straight week. Kevin Sexton of Winnipeg took the point and never looked back. Sexton, making his first start of the season at the track, was challenged on the final two laps by Bob Shafer of Bemidji. However, Shafer was unable to make a pass, and settled for second place. John Halvorson of Warren had a good ride, starting tenth and finishing third.

The new Super Sport Class provided the excitement with the roll-over by Rehm. With a substantial amount of clean-up needed following the incident, flagman Steve Litzinger called the race with two laps to go. Two racers from Manitoba, Roger Fiola and Dan Gregoire, have raised the level of competition in the class, with Fiola picking up his second consecutive feature win. Gregoire finished second. Dave Meyer of Thief River Falls started on the pole, but was unable to keep up with either of the Canadians and was third when the race was stopped.

Rick Bates of Badger won his second consecutive Mini-Sprint final. Bates was never challenged fro the lead. For the second consecutive week, one of the races who strongly competes with Bates, Robbie Peterson of Middle River, was missing because of engine trouble.

It was a big weekend for Richard Jacobson of Wannaska. Friday night he won the Outlaw Street Feature. Saturday he got married. Jacobson won both the Outlaw Street heat and feature race, starting on the pole and quickly taking control for his first win of the season. Jade Fredrickson, who won the previous week, finished second. Bryon Berger of Badger, last year's points champion, was third.

Annual MN State Park Open House Sunday

Annual Minnesota State Park Open House will be held across the state Sunday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Each year the Department of Natural Resources invites the public to visit Minnesota's state parks for free on the first Sunday in June. In addition to enjoying some of nature's most beautiful natural resources, visitors can take part in events that many parks schedule in connection with the open house.

Whether they like to picnic, bike, hike, fish or just enjoy the out-of-doors, visitors will find a wide range of activities available at Minnesota state parks. Visitors may pick up a free copy of the new state park brochure and the summer edition of the State Park Traveler newspaper that gives complete information about facilities, events and programs in all Minnesota state parks. Parks are open from 8 a.m to 10 p.m. daily, seven days a week.

Andy Janisch named most valuable player on TRF tennis squad

Andy Janisch was named the most valuable player when the the Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team handed out post-season awards Tuesday.

Janisch was also presented with the Prowler Award by head coach Troy Hanestad.

Other special varsity awards went to Matt Dimich, Rookie of the Year; and Roy Unbehaun, most improved.

In addition, Janisch (doubles) and and Darin Bjerknes (singles) were recognized as the Prowlers' leading point-producers this spring.

Junior varsity honors went to Jason Blakely, most improved, and Rick Mattila, Coaches Award.

Bailey Nordin and Matt Lutovsky were named Thief River Falls captains for the 2000 season.

Athletic letters went to seniors Tom Fogarty, Matt Winjum, Josh Cahalan, Allen Bolar, Janisch, Bjerknes, juniors Jonathan Lofgren, Nordin, Lutovsky, sophomores Joe Broten, Unbehaun, and freshmen Jason Swenson, Mike Kimball, and Dimich.

Thieves will not field a baseball club this year

Howard Dalager, who served as manager of the Thief River Falls amateur baseball team the past three seasons, said the Thieves will not field a team in 1999 due to lack of interest on the part of the players.

Thief River Falls' latest attempt to sustain an amateur baseball program lasted five years. It was a struggle finding players to fill out a line-up last summer, noted Dalager, who said recently that no attempt would be made to organize a team this year.

Nordics' Nick Wilcox is newest addition to Northland basketball

Nick Wilcox of Marshall County Central has signed a letter of intent to play basketball at Northland Community and Technical College next year.

The 6-3 forward averaged 10.5 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2 assists per game as a senior in 1998-99. He shot 49 percent from the field, 60 percent at the free throw line and 30 percent from 3-point range while being named to the All-North Border Conference team.

"Nick is a versatile basketball player with good athletic ability," pointed out Northland men's basketball coach Rick Nikunen. "We will use him at the small forward position, where he can take advantage of his ability to shoot the mid-range shot. Nick is a hard-worker and we look forward to having him in our program."

Triple Event at Thief River Golf Club delayed a week

Triple Event tournament scheduled today (Saturday) at the Thief River Golf Club has been set back a week to June 12 because of wet course conditions.

NCAA Division I will include four Lincoln graduates next year

It was pointed out to The Times/Northern Watch sports department that four Lincoln High School graduates will be involved in NCAA Division I athletic programs during the 1999-2000 school year.

It was reported in a recent story that three former Prowlers will be playing at the Division I level next year – Kyle Sanden, who will be a junior co-captain of the University of Minnesota men's basketball team; along with 1999 Thief River Falls graduates Nicole Kopari (University of Minnesota women's track and field) and Wade Chiedo (University of Alaska-Anchorage men's hockey).

But that listed excluded Beth Goddard, a sophomore on the Bemidji State University women's hockey team that now plays at the Division I level.

Introduction to Rydell Refuge on Sun., June 6

What's going on at the Rydell Refuge? What can you really do out there? When is it open to the public? Can groups use the facilities for meetings? What kind of wildlife can be seen at the Refuge? Answers to these questions and much more will be provided at a public program at 2 p.m. June 6th at the Rydell Refuge Visitors Center.

Paul Soler of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will present an overview of the history of how the Rydell Refuge came into existence back in 1992, highlight improvements that have been made on the Refuge thus far and review additional plans for future management of the Refuge.

The Rydell Refuge is part of the National Wildlife Refuge System which includes over 500 national wildlife refuges in all 50 states. Ten national wildlife refuges exist in Minnesota. The Rydell Refuge encompasses 2,120 acres which is a diverse mosaic of wetlands, mixed stands of hardwood trees, conifer plantations, grass meadows, and cropland. Protecting wildlife, improving habitat and involving people are the guiding principles for future management of the Refuge.

Habitat restoration that has been done and future restoration plans will be reviewed. Much of this is visible via the network of trails that has been developed at the Refuge for visitors to use. About seven miles of trails have been developed with 3 miles of these trails being paved for better accessibility. Trails can be used for wildlife observation, photography, and other uses. Hiking, bicycling, and roller blading are allowed on the trails. No pets are allowed on the trails.

Other visitor services such as checking out binoculars or snowshoes in the winter will be noted plus upcoming programs for this summer. A birding checklist for the Rydell Refuge, posters and free handouts available at the Visitors Center on a variety of natural resource topics including hummingbirds, bluebirds, bats and more will be mentioned. Volunteer opportunities through the Friends of the Rydell Refuge Association and the Friends Gift Shop operated out of the Visitors Center will also be covered.

This program is free and open to the public. To get to the Rydell Refuge go 3 miles east of Mentor or 3 miles west of Erskine on U.S. Hwy. 2 and turn south on Polk Co. 210 about 2.5 miles to the Refuge entrance sign and main gate. If arriving from the south, turn north off of Polk Co. 41 onto Polk Co. 210 and go about 3.5 miles north and turn left at the Refuge entrance sign. For more information contact the Rydell Refuge at (218) 687-2229 or Wayne Goeken at (218) 574-2622.

Farmers need to report acres by July 15

Due to staffing and large volume of work, the Marshall County FSA is asking all producers to please call and set up an appointment to report their acres. Please do not walk in the office without an appointment, the office just cannot handle walk-ins on acreage reports due to other program activity.

Producers are reminded that the deadline for certifying their 1999 crop acreage is Thursday, July 15. Maps have been mailed to all operators in Marshall county. Producers are asked to fill in the maps that we mailed out with the crops and acres and bring them into the office during their scheduled appointment.

Even though acreage reports are voluntary, we encourage producers to continue reporting, as most future programs, like CRP, will rely on cropping history being filed to determine a producer's and land eligibility. Acreage reports are required for the following purposes: Land enrolled in CRP; Producers with plantings of fruits and vegetables FAV); producers wishing to take out 99 CCC grain loans and LDP's, and eligibility to receive benefits for non-insured crops (NAP).

Acreage reports filed after the 15th will be accepted but at a cost to the producer. The cost for a late filed acreage report is $20 for the first field and $10 for each additional field.

Questions about acreage reporting should be directed to FSA. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday; or call 218-745-4251.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be sure that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

More Sewing and Cooking

So what does a teacher of Family and Consumer Science (the successor in educationese to home economics) do when she isn't teaching young people to cook and sew?

"I like to cook," she said, "and I love to sew. Lately I have taken a more intense interest in quilting and I would like to learn more about it."

How about a favorite food?

"I guess that would be Juneberry pie," she said. "In a good berry producing year Ron and I will pick and freeze 20 to 25 quarts of Juneberries, and they make great pie. I also freeze or can a lot of garden produce. Last year I made 70 pints of salsa."

If cooking is a passion for Linda, overeating must not be. She keeps trim by eating balanced meals and exercising, including a four-mile walk starting at 5:45 a.m. nearly every day. When weather is bitterly cold, the walks follow a route through the hallways at MCC.

She also has assisted with 4-H club work, including judging at County fairs in Roseau and Thief River Falls and has been a parent facilitator in the Early Childhood Family Education program. Since she started teaching at MCC she has been advisor for the Future Leaders of America (formerly Future Homemakers of America) chapter and this year she was faculty advisor for the junior-senior prom.

Church Volunteer

"And I help out as much as I can at Ron's church," she said. "I'm not a member—I'm Catholic—but I volunteer to work with cooking and meal serving quite a bit at his church, Bethlehem Lutheran."

Ron and Linda have a son, Kane, a four-year-old who attends preschool classes at Newfolden. The family also includes four of Ron's children from a previous marriage —Natalie and Jeff in Minneapolis; Greg, a freshman at Bemidji State University; and Nick, who will be a senior at Woodbury high school in St. Paul next fall.

Life Has Many Teachers

In accepting the Teacher of the Year award from the MCC chapter of Education Minnesota, Mrs. Ueland said the selection made her think of all the lessons which have influenced her life. She mentioned Miss Ketchum, but also her parents, her husband, her five children, her colleagues at MCC and even the fire which destroyed her place of employment.

"That morning as I stood with many of you in front of this building and watched it burn to the ground, I thought life at MCC was over," she said. "What I didn't realize then was that even fire could be a teacher. The way that this community bonded together and fought to rebuild this school is something I will never forget and which will always make me proud.

"The integrity and just plain grit of the people in this community reminded us all that a school building, like any other building, is constructed of wood and stone which can be totally destroyed. But a community like MCC is built of the spirit of the people inside that building, and fire cannot destroy the hard work and character of those people.

"Those who come through the doors of this building every day, especially my students, teach me very important lessons. My students have taught me to work hard, to take care of one another and to laugh. I am eager for the opportunity to continue teaching—and learning—here at MCC."

Philosophy of Education

In her formal Philosophy of Education prepared for the state Teacher of the Year competition, Mrs. Ueland touched on several key areas.

"Teachers must believe that all students can learn," she wrote. "The challenge is to determine by what means each student is best able to learn.....Children cannot be made to fit into a classroom. The climate of the classroom needs to be flexible. It needs to provide a variety of methods for delivering information so that every child has a chance to learn."

She also points out the importance of a well-managed school and classroom where students are shown the limits from the beginning and enforcement is consistent. "Time spent on discipline is time taken away from teaching and learning," she said.

"Real teaching happens when you establish a bond with students and an appreciation for each other. What you teach and who you teach is the passion behind education. You cannot be an inspirational teacher without those two passions. Students easily recognize teachers who love to teach. When students feel that the learning is useful to their lives they will be ready and eager to learn. Teaching should help them learn the skills to be successful in an ever-changing world."

Students Agree

Students agree, according to a letter written by senior Danielle Rockstad, who has been a student in a variety of Mrs. Ueland's classes for five years.

"She not only does her lessons," Danielle wrote, "she takes special measures to make the class pertain to the real world....The reason that she is able to do everything that she does, I believe, is because she is so dedicated. Any task given to her is carefully thought out, planned and done to perfection...She is one of the main reasons that I have chosen to go into teaching. I only hope that one day I can be as great a teacher as I have known Linda Ueland to be."

"In the final analysis," Mrs. Ueland writes in her philosophy, "the most important things that your students learn from you as a teacher cannot be delivered in a nice, neat package, nor can they be measured by a pencil-and-paper test. The most important things that teachers teach children are the lessons of life.

"A student will tell you that a good teacher is one who cares about kids. We model to students what it's like to be human. A good teacher cannot help but become emotionally attached to students. Once that bond is established the learning can be endless."

Allison Widner prepares for Miss Minnesota competition

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Allison Widner of Stephen, Miss Thief River Falls 1998-99, will be breaking new ground when she takes part in the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Program June 13-19. This year the state event will take place at Ritsche Auditorium on the campus of St. Cloud State University. For 50 years the state contest had been held in Austin.

There are 15 contestants for the Miss Minnesota title this year with the winner to advance to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, NJ. Allison is contestant number five and in the preliminary competition will present her talent number Thursday, June 17, and appear in swimsuit and eveningwear on Friday, June 18.

The final competition will be on Saturday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. The top eight finalists will be named and will compete in all phases of competition. Reigning Miss Minnesota is Megan West.

Talent Is a Piano Solo

A piano student for 13 years, including study at the University of North Dakota where she has completed her sophomore year as a student in the nursing program, 20-year-old Allison will use a piano solo for her pageant talent number. She will play an excerpt from Khatchaturian's Tocatta—the same number she used in winning the talent division of the Miss Thief River Falls competition last year.

Allison is no stranger to piano competition, having won the talent division and being named first runner-up at the 1997 Miss Marshall County pageant, winning the Scott's Music piano competition in Grand Forks, ND, and earning a superior rating in the National Piano Festival. She was selected as outstanding band and choir member at Stephen-Argyle high school and named to the list of 100 best sophomores at the University of North Dakota.

Active In Athletics

She lettered in basketball, volleyball and track in high school, was a Northern Lights conference All-Conference player in basketball and named to the All-State academic basketball team in 1997. She was also a Girls State delegate in 1996, was church organist for six years, editor of the school yearbook, salutatorian of her graduating class and participated in five community theatre productions.

Allison's family includes her parents, Neil and Leslie, and four brothers and sisters: Thomas, 19, a sophomore at NDSU; James, 17, a senior at Stephen/Argyle high school; Lisa, 12, a seventh grader; and Steven, 7, a second grader.

Made Many Appearances

During her reign as Miss Thief River Falls, Allison has made a number of appearances as a good will representative of the community. Her first official function was to appear in the parade for An American Festival, followed shortly thereafter with appearances as visiting royalty at the Miss Marshall County and Miss Middle River pageants.

During the Pennington County Fair she braved storm clouds, a severe weather warning and heavy rain prior to Bullride '98 where she was transported through the mud by four-wheeler to assist with the mutton bustin' competition. She helped organize the young sheep riders, handed out prizes and selected the winners in the "Best Dressed" category.

Allison was interviewed on stage at the Marshall County Fair amateur talent contest, awarded trophies at the 47th annual 3-D tournament conducted by the Thief River Falls Archery Club, rode in the 24th annual Goose Festival parade in Middle River and performed for the 85th annual Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce banquet.

She also performed for the mother-daughter banquet at the Eagles club in Thief River Falls and participated in the Miss Minnesota Pageant workshop at the Kelly Inn in St. Cloud April 10 and 11.

As a new part of the Miss Minnesota program this year, she participated in a video taping session during the workshop. A 90-second video, which is intended to personalize the contestant for the audience, will be shown prior to the talent performance at the state

Piano solo will be the talent presentation of Allison Widner, Miss Thief River Falls, at the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Program next week in St. Cloud. Allison will begin the week-long program on Sunday afternoon, compete in preliminary talent competition Thursday evening and preliminary swimsuit and evening wear competition Friday evening. Eight of the 15 contestants will be selected for the final competition Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Ritsche Auditorium on the St. Cloud State University campus. Allison's piano solo will be an excerpt from Khatchaturian's "Tocatta."

Jamie Kalsnes enters Miss T.R.F. pageant

Jamie Kalsnes

(This is the second in a series of informational articles regarding candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The official Miss America Preliminary Pageant will be conducted Saturday, June 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

School, church and community activities while attending both high school and Northland Community and Technical College didn't cause Jamie Kalsnes to neglect her studies. In addition to honors at Lincoln high school where she graduated this year, she earned 4.0 highest honors at NCTC as a post secondary options student.

Jamie, 18, is the daughter of Ken and Janeen Kalsnes and has two younger brothers, Derek, 16 and Andrew, 12. Her dad is an engineer at Arctic Cat Inc. and her mom is program director at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home.

After receiving her AA degree from NCTC, Jamie will attend Moorhead State University where her goal is to graduate with honors in elementary education with minors in math and special education. Her pageant talent number will be a dramatic reading.

A member of the National Honor Society chapter at Lincoln since she was a sophomore and an academic letter winner for three years, she was also elected to the Phi Theta Kappa honorary fraternity at NCTC where she was co-secretary of the student senate.

As a sophomore she won top prizes at the local and regional science fairs and a blue ribbon at the state science fair. She also participated in Key Club where she won the service award and won recognition from the Academic Boosters and American Association of University Women.

Citizens Forum on rural crisis held on June 14

A Citizens' Forum on the Social and Economic Crisis in Rural Minnesota will be held on Monday, June 14, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. In Pennington county, the program will be from 7 to 8 p.m. and a local forum will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. following the live broadcast. Individuals interested in participating in the live program are asked to come at 6:30 to be in place prior to the broadcast. This local forum is open to the public at no charge and will be held in the county board meeting room, lower level of the courthouse in Thief River Falls. Anyone interested in participating, should call the Pennington County Extension office at 683-7030 to register, so that adequate seating and refreshments will be available.

The following news release from the University of Minnesota Extension Service explained the event:

"We keep hearing about a crisis in rural Minnesota — more and more farmers are getting out of farming, small town businesses are selling out, agribusiness jobs are dwindling, people are moving to larger cities, community infrastructures are struggling to carry on. Is this really happening? What is the impact of all this on our community?

"The impact this 'rural crisis' has on our community is very real. Even though we do have a diverse economic base (agriculture, manufacturing, health care and educational facilities), we are not immune from the fallout of declining infrastructures around the state. We rely on many outside resources and customers to keep our community healthy.

"Consider these 'what if' impacts on our community:

• What happens to our economy when local dairy producers can't find a company to haul their milk?

• What happens to our economy when people don't have the income to shop in our stores, use our recre-

Tribal Council okays $27 million expansion

Tribal Council of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians, which owns and operates the River Road Casino southeast of Thief River Falls, has approved a $27 million expenditure for expansion and development of its gaming operation site.

Items that will be included in the development have not been formally announced pending further discussion and arrangements with planners and architects. That information is expected to be formalized and released soon.

Underway at the present time is an addition to the casino which will provide a 200-seat buffet. Work on the addition started about a week ago and completion is projected for as early as mid-July.

Marv Hanson, a member of the Red Lake Band who has extensive experience in the gaming industry— most recently at Foxwood, the nation's largest casino—has recently been hired as the gaming manager at River Road Casino and is working aggressively with the tribal council in the expansion effort.

The tribal council has recently purchased acreage west of Highway 59 in the area of the recently-installed casino sign and projections are for construction of a gas station and convenience store on that site. Other expansion and development is expected to take place in the immediate vicinity of the present casino.

Allison Widner prepares for Miss Minnesota competition

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Allison Widner of Stephen, Miss Thief River Falls 1998-99, will be breaking new ground when she takes part in the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Program June 13-19. This year the state event will take place at Ritsche Auditorium on the campus of St. Cloud State University. For 50 years the state contest had been held in Austin.

There are 15 contestants for the Miss Minnesota title this year with the winner to advance to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, NJ. Allison is contestant number five and in the preliminary competition will present her talent number Thursday, June 17, and appear in swimsuit and eveningwear on Friday, June 18.

The final competition will be on Saturday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. The top eight finalists will be named and will compete in all phases of competition. Reigning Miss Minnesota is Megan West.

Talent Is a Piano Solo

A piano student for 13 years, including study at the University of North Dakota where she has completed her sophomore year as a student in the nursing program, 20-year-old Allison will use a piano solo for her pageant talent number. She will play an excerpt from Khatchaturian's Toccata—the same number she used in winning the talent division of the Miss Thief River Falls competition last year.

Allison is no stranger to piano competition, having won the talent division and being named first runner-up at the 1997 Miss Marshall County pageant, winning the Scott's Music piano competition in Grand Forks, ND, and earning a superior rating in the National Piano Festival. She was selected as outstanding band and choir member at Stephen-Argyle high school and named to the list of 100 best sophomores at the University of North Dakota.

Active in Athletics

She lettered in basketball, volleyball and track in high school, was a Northern Lights conference All-Conference player in basketball and named to the All-State academic basketball team in 1997. She was also a Girls State delegate in 1996, was church organist for six years, editor of the school yearbook, salutatorian of her graduating class and participated in five community theatre productions.

Allison's family includes her parents, Neil and Leslie, and four brothers and sisters: Thomas, 19, a sophomore at NDSU; James, 17, a senior at Stephen/Argyle high school; Lisa, 12, a seventh grader; and Steven, 7, a second grader.

Made Many Appearances

During her reign as Miss Thief River Falls, Allison has made a number of appearances as a good will representative of the community. Her first official function was to appear in the parade for An American Festival, followed shortly thereafter with appearances as visiting royalty at the Miss Marshall County and Miss Middle River pageants.

During the Pennington County Fair she braved storm clouds, a severe weather warning and heavy rain prior to Bullride '98 where she was transported through the mud by four-wheeler to assist with the mutton bustin' competition. She helped organize the young sheep riders, handed out prizes and selected the winners in the "Best Dressed" category.

Allison was interviewed on stage at the Marshall County Fair amateur talent contest, awarded trophies at the 47th annual 3-D tournament conducted by the Thief River Falls Archery Club, rode in the 24th annual Goose Festival parade in Middle River and performed for the 85th annual Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce banquet.

She also performed for the mother-daughter banquet at the Eagles club in Thief River Falls and participated in the Miss Minnesota Pageant workshop at the Kelly Inn in St. Cloud April 10 and 11.

As a new part of the Miss Minnesota program this year, she participated in a video taping session during the workshop. A 90-second video, which is intended to personalize the contestant for the audience, will be shown prior to the talent performance at the state

The event will include an open house at the church on Saturday, and a centennial worship service, catered dinner and special program followed by refreshments on Sunday. The Leader-Record

Kittson county growers luck out

Hallock - According to reports from Kittson County Farm Service Agency's director Kelly Turgeon, most of the small grains in Kittson county have been planted.

He said also that the majority of row crops are in the ground, and while some isolated areas have not been planted because of river flood grounds and excessive moisture, Kittson county is in good shape in comparison to other counties nearby. Kittson County Enterprise

Nicotine patches free to Polk co. quitters

Crookston - Free nicotine patches were recently made available to Polk county residents who wish to quit smoking. Wellness Works is partnering with area health care providers, the Minnesota Partnership for Action Against Tobacco and McNeil, the makers of Nicitrol.

Those who attended a class on June 10 at Polk County Public Health, met the criteria, and made a commitment to quit received a free six-week patch kit.

While there there were no financial eligibility requirements for receiving the free patch kits, the program was targeted at those whose health insurance does not cover the cost of nicotine replacement therapy. Crookston Daily Times

Bagley grad to bring Marine Corps Band to all school reunion

Bagley - It's no coincidence that the U.S. Marine Corps Band is coming to Bagley for the all-school reunion which begins June 30. The band's director, Warrant Officer Lauren LaVine, is a 1993 graduate of Bagley High School.

In order for the band to play in Bagley, certain requirements had to be met with sponsors agreeing to provide lodging, meals and ground transportation for the band's 50 members. Farmers Independent

Excellence runs in the Jenson family

Hallock - Brothers Bruce and Jerry Jenson were recently named Administrators of Excellence by the Minnesota Association of School Administrators at its spring conference.

Bruce is the superintendent for Kittson Central Schools, and Jerry is the superintendent for the Lake City Schools.

Although there are other examples of members of the same family holding leadership positions in Minnesota school districts, this is the first time the MASA has honored two siblings with the same award at the same time. The brothers were independently nominated and selected for the award by different regional committees—at opposite ends of the state. The Messenger

Jamie Kalsnes enters Miss T.R.F. pageant

Jamie Kalsnes

(This is the second in a series of informational articles regarding candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The official Miss America Preliminary Pageant will be conducted Saturday, June 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

School, church and community activities while attending both high school and Northland Community and Technical College didn't cause Jamie Kalsnes to neglect her studies. In addition to honors at Lincoln high school where she graduated this year, she earned 4.0 highest honors in NCTC as a post secondary options student.

Jamie, 18, is the daughter of Ken and Juneen Kalsnes and has two younger brothers, Derek, 16 and Andrew, 12. Her dad is an engineer at Arctic Cat Inc. and her mom is program director at Johnson's Riverside Boarding Home.

After receiving her AA degree from NCTC, Jamie will attend Moorhead State University where her goal is to graduate with honors in elementary education with minors in math and special education. Her pageant talent number will be a dramatic reading.

A member of the National Honor Society chapter at Lincoln since she was a sophomore and an academic letter winner for three years, she was also elected to the Phi Theta Kappa honorary fraternity at NCTC where she was co-secretary of the student senate.

As a sophomore she won top prizes at the local and regional science fairs and a blue ribbon at the state science fair. She also participated in Key Club where she won the service award and won recognition from the Academic Boosters and American Association of University Women.

Citizens Forum on rural crisis held on June 14

A Citizens' Forum on the Social and Economic Crisis in Rural Minnesota will be held on Monday, June 14, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. In Pennington county, the program will be from 7 to 8 p.m. and a local forum will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. following the live broadcast. Individuals interested in participating in the live program are asked to come at 6:30 to be in place prior to the broadcast. This local forum is open to the public at no charge and will be held in the county board meeting room, lower level of the courthouse in Thief River Falls. Anyone interested in participating should call the Pennington County Extension office at 683-7030 to register, so that adequate seating and refreshments will be available.

The following news release from the University of Minnesota Extension Service explained the event:

"We keep hearing about a crisis in rural Minnesota — more and more farmers are getting out of farming, small town businesses are selling out, agribusiness jobs are dwindling, people are moving to larger cities, community infrastructures are struggling to carry on. Is this really happening? What is the impact of all this on our community?

"The impact this 'rural crisis' has on our community is very real. Even though we do have a diverse economic base (agriculture, manufacturing, health care and educational facilities), we are not immune from the fallout of declining infrastructures around the state. We rely on many outside resources and customers to keep our community healthy.

"Consider these 'what if' impacts on our community.

Tribal Council okays $27 million expansion

Tribal Council of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians, which owns and operates the River Road Casino southeast of Thief River Falls, has approved a $27 million expenditure for expansion and development of its gaming operation site.

Items that will be included in the development have not been formally announced pending further discussion and arrangements with planners and architects. That information is expected to be formalized and released soon.

Underway at the present time is an addition to the casino which will provide a 200-seat buffet. Work on the addition started about a week ago and completion is projected for as early as mid-July.

Mary Hanson, a member of the Red Lake Band who has extensive experience in the gaming industry—most recently at Foxwood, the nation's largest casino—has recently been hired as the gaming manager at River Road Casino and is working aggressively with the tribal council in the expansion effort.

The tribal council has recently purchased acreage west of Highway 59 in the area of the recently installed casino sign and projections are for construction of a gas station and convenience store on that site. Other expansion and development is expected to take place in the immediate vicinity of the present casino.

Coat show a first for Polk county museum

Crookston - A black silk opera coat will be among the 30 or so coats shown by collector Mary Bollinger at a coat style show at the Polk County Museum in Crookston at 2 p.m. today (Saturday, June 12).

About a hundred years ago, the long opera coat was very fashionable and featured a cut away bottom to allow for the voluminous skirt also popular at the turn of the century.

Some of Bollinger's coats are well over a hundred years old, including one that belonged to an immigrant from Norway who came to the United States in 1863. Made of buffalo hide, the coat weighs about 85 pounds.

The show is open to the public and will be followed by coffee served in the museum auditorium. Crookston Daily Times

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

We're having a rummage sale this weekend and I've been looking for recipes that I can make ahead of time so nobody has to stop and cook. Here are some I've come up with that you might like to try too.

A bowl of this in the fridge will be easy for anybody to just grab and eat for lunch or whenever they're hungry, and there should be plenty for everyone:

HEARTY MACARONI SALAD

2 cups cubed cooked chicken
2 cups cubed cooked ham
2 cups cooked salad shrimp
1 (7 ounce) box macaroni shells, cooked and drained
1 celery rib, diced
1/4 cup diced green pepper
1/4 cup diced sweet red pepper
1/4 cup diced onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Dressing:
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons fresh minced dill or 1 teaspoon dill weed

In large bowl, toss chicken, ham, shrimp, macaroni, celery, peppers, onion, salt and pepper.

In small bowl, mix dressing ingredients well. Pour over salad and toss. Cover and chill 3 or 4 hours. (Serves 10-12 people.)

It might also be a good idea to have a crock pot filled with this mixture and a good supply of hamburger buns and chips at hand:

SLOPPY JOES

2 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 onion, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1 can tomato soup
1/4 cup ketchup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
3 cups chopped celery

Brown beef. Remove from pan and drain and add celery and onion to pan. Simmer celery and onion in meat drippings until tender. Remove and drain.

Add all other ingredients to meat and vegetables and simmer at least 1 hour.

Since I've already bought the ham for the salad, I can use some of it to make a couple of these for our busy breakfasts that I'm sure will be eaten on the run (unless we decide to hit the fast food place again):

HAM 'N' CHEESE PIE

1 cup diced cooked ham
3/4 cup shredded Swiss cheese
5 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
3/4 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons chopped onion
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 cup milk
1/4 cup biscuit mix
2 eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

In greased 10 inch pie pan, layer ham, Swiss cheese, bacon, cheddar cheese, onion and green pepper.

Place remaining ingredients in blender in order given and blend for 30-40 seconds. Pour over ingredients in pie pan - DO NOT STIR.

Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes or until set and lightly browned. Let stand 15 minutes before cutting. (Serves 6-8 people.)

These will be tasty and eye-opening with the breakfast pie and also great for snacking:

GINGERBREAD MUFFINS

1/4 cup soft margarine or butter
1/4 cup molasses
1 egg
1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup hot water
Raisins

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Blend margarine and sugar fluffy. Blend in molasses and egg. Beat.

Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with hot water. Add raisins.

Spoon batter into muffin cups, filling 2/3 full. Bake 12-15 minutes.

These fudge bars will be great to have on hand to give everyone lots of energy to keep going with the rummage sale:

CHOCOLATE CRISPIE BROWNIES

4 eggs
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup butter
1 cup flour
1 cups chopped nuts

Melt chocolate and butter.

Beat eggs light. Add sugar and vanilla and beat thick.

Add chocolate mixture to egg mixture and beat smooth. Add flour and mix thoroughly.

Spread in buttered 9x13 inch pan. Sprinkle with nuts.

Bake at 325 degrees for about 30 minutes or until done. Cut warm and remove from pan.

Ignorance Is Bliss

Those were the good old days, the days when the June walleye transition from the Big Traverse to Little Traverse was simply a matter of seasonal protocol. Fishing action slowed a bit in the south so the fleet moved north to put a little pressure on a school more recently aroused by the warming spring trends.

This geographic change posed no real problems for the standard guide monologue; in fact, a change was welcome. Pine and Curry Islands, Piping Plover, the Gap and Zippel Bay tales can only be rehashed for several May weeks before the tedium is apparent in the teller's tone. The changeover to a new area and its own unique anecdotal nature can add life to the monotonous spiel a launched river might spit out between sticky gobs of chewing tobacco and the occasionally slipped four-letter exclamation.
